Admiralty, 9th October 1918.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve the award of the Albert Medal to

Charles Davie Millar, Leading Seaman, O.N. 218811, in recognition of his gallantry in the following circumstances:—

On the 29th June 1918 an outbreak of fire occurred on board Motor Launch No. 483 whilst refuelling alongside the jetty at Pembroke Dock, the fire being caused by the ignition of an overflow of petrol from the hose.

Leading Seaman Millar, H.M.S. "P.C. 51," who was walking up and down the fore-castle of his ship, on seeing the flames break out on the upper deck of the motor launch, immediately slid over the bows of his craft on to the motor launch, rushed aft, and removed the primers of the depth charges. He then forced his way through the flames and kicked the hose overboard, getting his clothes ignited as he did so. Having extinguished his burning clothing by jumping overboard, he climbed in-board again and assisted in getting the motor launch in tow.

This man displayed initiative and disregard of danger, and by his prompt action he probably averted a serious accident. Had the depth charges detonated, very great damage would have been done and lives undoubtedly lost.
