TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1918.

SCOTTISH OFFICE, WHITEHALL.

23rd November 1918.

THE following Address was presented to The King by the Corporation of Edinburgh on the occasion of the visit of Their Majesties The King and Queen, accompanied by His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales, to Edinburgh:—

“May it please Your Majesty, we, the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City and Royal Burgh of Edinburgh, in our own name and on behalf of the whole community, respectfully offer to Your Majesty and to Your Royal Consort Queen Mary in this public assembly, representative of all classes of the citizens, our most cordial welcome on the occasion of Your visit to our City.

“In this great hour in the history of our Country and of mankind, this recognition by Your Majesty at this special time, in the midst of many arduous duties and responsibilities of State, we regard with peculiar satisfaction and as a mark of high honour to the ancient Scottish Capital and to the people of Scotland.

“The announcement of the Armistice on the terms of the Allies has filled our people with profound satisfaction, inspired as they have always been by the justice and righteousness of the cause and the sacred principles involved, and we greatly rejoice under Almighty God at the present glorious outcome of the common efforts and sacrifices in this unprecedented war.

“We gratefully acknowledge the noble example set by Your Majesty and Queen Mary in connection with all war activities throughout the past four years of anxiety and strain, Your unflinching zeal as regards the fighting forces, Your solicitude for the sick and wounded, and Your manifold and unremitting labours for the people in every direction.

“We greatly appreciate and recall with pride the example of national service and devotion to duty of His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales, Duke of Rothesay, whose visit at the present time with Your Majesty is a source of intense gratification to us all.

“We have been touched and impressed by the gracious and kindly acts of Her Royal Highness Princess Mary in many works of charity and mercy.

“We avail ourselves of this opportunity to renew the expression of our sincere and profound attachment and loyalty to Your Majesty's Person and Throne, and we pray for the blessing of Divine Providence upon Your Majesty and upon Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales, and the Royal Family.”

THE KING'S GRACIOUS REPLY WAS AS

"I thank you, my Lord Provost, the Magistrates, Councillors, and Citizens of Edinburgh, for the cordial words with which you welcome Us to your City. The Queen and The Prince of Wales join with Me in this expression of gratitude.

"We are proud that Our eldest Son, who has served with the British Armies in France, Italy, and Egypt, should be with Us to-day.

"We are also touched by your generous allusions to Our dear Daughter, who yesterday started upon a visit to our Hospitals and Women's Work Organisations in France and Belgium.

"Only a few weeks before the War, We were happily residing in Our Scottish Home at Holyrood, and looking forward to the prospect of coming often among Our Scottish People, when the startling events which plunged us into the World War dispelled those hopes: now We are delighted that Our first visit out of London since the cessation of hostilities should be to the ancient Capital of Scotland.

"We have together, in your historic Cathedral, rendered thanks to God for the victory vouchsafed to us and to our Allies. My principal object in being here to-day is to record My admiration of the splendid response made by Scotsmen, not only from the Homeland, but from Our Dominions across the seas, to the Nation's call. Their ready willingness, their zeal and determination to maintain their contributions to the fighting strength of the Empire, have filled Me with unceasing admiration.

"Every theatre of war testifies to the valour and unconquerable spirit of the Scottish Troops. The deeds of the 9th and 15th (Scottish) the 51st (Highland) and 52nd (Lowland) Divisions will live for ever in the honoured pages of history.

"The Seamen of Scotland have played their part in the glorious achievements of the Royal Navy; while the patriotism and endurance of the Scottish Merchant Service and the Fishermen of the East and West Coast, have rendered work of the highest order in the protection of our shores and of our commerce.

"My several visits to the Clyde District—that hive of industry—have made Me more than ever realise the genius of its designers and the skill and activities of its workers, both men and women, and how much we owe to the brains and muscle of Scotland. I am glad that the Lord Provost of Glasgow is with us here to-day.

"As the Sons of Scotland rallied to the Battle-cry, so her Daughters keenly centred their efforts upon the task of providing those Munitions of War which have enabled Our Armies to meet and defeat an enemy equipped to perfection. The Scottish Medical Units and Nurses at home and abroad, by their self-sacrificing works of mercy, have gained the grateful esteem of the world. Truly all classes of the people of Scotland, professional, industrial, and agricultural, have united in upholding the honour and glory of the Empire.

"Through our rejoicing to-day there flows a deep undercurrent of sorrow for those who have sacrificed their lives, or, it may be, both health and strength in the relentless struggle of the past four years. We do not forget them: We never shall forget them. My Government, as you know, proposes to dedicate your ancient Castle, which through the ages has been the symbol of the defence of Scotland, as a memorial to those who have died that we may live.

"The spontaneous and outspoken demonstration of affection and loyalty, with which the Queen and I have been greeted on every side and by all classes, has deeply moved Me. These manifestations have confirmed Me in the unshaken belief that My People were with Me amidst the trials and often changing fortunes of the War.

"It is with the same confidence in them that I look forward, trusting that with God's help, whatever difficulties may confront us will be bravely faced and successfully overcome.

"Our Scottish visits during these past years have necessarily been restricted, but We look forward to their renewal and to the yearly happy sojourn in Our Deeside home.

"From the depths of My heart I thank you for your real Scottish welcome, and I pray that every blessing and prosperity may be granted to your country in the days to come."

BY THE KING.

Whitehall, November 20, 1918.

The KING has been pleased to award the Albert Medal to Lieutenant William Henry Gregory Geake, of the Australian Imperial Force, in recognition of his gallantry in saving life in September of last year. The circumstances are as follows:—

On the 26th September 1917, at about 8 p.m., an explosion occurred in the pressing-room of a munitions inventions experimental station. The room contained 25 lbs. of thermit and 300 lbs. of gunpowder, pressed into rocket heads. Lieut. Geake, whose services had been placed at the disposal of the Ministry of Munitions, and who was standing outside at the time, at once ran into the building, where explosions were still taking place, and helped one man out. He then ran back into the building, passed through the place where the thermit and powder were exploding, and carried out an injured man whom he found under a burning bench. Notwithstanding the fact that he was himself badly burned, Lieut. Geake entered the building a third time, under the mistaken impression that another man was still inside, but was eventually driven out by the fire and explosions.

Lieut. Geake then worked for two hours to alleviate the injuries of the rescued men, one of whom was dying.

Unfortunately, at a demonstration on the following morning, which he attended, although unfit for duty, Lieut. Geake suffered further injuries owing to a premature explosion, three fingers being blown off his right hand, and his right leg being broken and almost severed.
