

Foster, Thorpe.

For great courage on the occasion of an explosion at a munitions works. He was three times overwhelmed by falling debris while successive explosions were occurring, but went on with the work of safeguarding the plant.

Fuggle, John Henry.

For courage and presence of mind on the occasion of a serious explosion at a filling factory. Although injured, he remained in a badly damaged building, shutting off steam valves and drawing the fires.

Gadd, Charles Sidney.

For great courage in helping to remove a large quantity of explosive material during a fire at grave personal risk.

Gafford, Emily (Mrs.), Caretaker-Operator, Telephones.

Displayed great courage and devotion to duty during air raids.

Garriock, Andrew Gilbert, Skilled Workman, G.P.O.

For special services of a high degree of merit.

Gemson, Florence Elizabeth.

For great courage in continuing at her work in a telephone exchange, although an ammunition dump was on fire close at hand and shells were bursting all round, some even entering the building.

Gibbons, Robert William, Labourer.

For courage and presence of mind during an air raid.

Gibson, Innes E.

During a period in which he acted as an ambulance driver he incurred much personal danger, and was unflinching in carrying out his arduous duties.

Gibson, James John.

For great courage in helping to remove a large quantity of explosive material during a fire at grave personal risk.

Gittings, Elsie Priscilla, Telephonist.

Displayed great courage and devotion to duty during air raids.

Gleeson, Michael.

During a period in which he acted as an ambulance driver he incurred much personal danger and was unflinching in carrying out his arduous duties.

Godin, Louis.

For great courage in assisting to subdue fires at an explosives Factory in Canada, and in long-continued working in a very dangerous atmosphere.

Gordon, Harry.

For great courage and resource. He remained in a building, filled with poisonous fumes, to carry out a necessary operation at grave personal risk.

Gray, Grace Lizzie (Mrs.), Sub-Postmistress.

Displayed great courage and devotion to duty during air raids.

Green, Arthur.

For courage and devotion to duty, often working long hours in a poisonous atmosphere, though suffering seriously from the effects of gas poisoning.

Green, May.

For great courage in continuing at her work in a telephone exchange, although an ammunition dump was on fire close at hand and shells were bursting all round, some even entering the building.

Gross, Maitland G.

For great courage in assisting to subdue fires at an explosives factory in Canada, and in long continued working in a very dangerous atmosphere.

Hadd, Juliette.

For courage and self-sacrifice at a fire at an explosives factory in Canada. She received severe burns in helping to save another worker and returned to the same work as soon as possible after the accident.

Haigh, Joseph.

For courage and self-sacrifice on the occasion of an accident at a filling factory.

Hancock, William Upton, Assistant Electrical Overseer.

For devotion to duty on the occasion of an accident to a submarine.

Hannaford, James Frederick, Shipwright.

For valuable service, frequently under conditions involving personal risk.

Hansell, Ernest Alban.

For courage and devotion to duty on the occasion of an explosion at a filling factory.

Harcup, Edward, Chargeman of Labourers.

For courage, skill and high example in the discharge of his duties.

Harding, William Denbury, Inspector, Engineering Department, G.P.O.

For highly meritorious performance of duty, entailing work of a dangerous and trying character.

Harrington, George Hayward.

For great courage and resource on several occasions when, at very grave personal risk, he prevented serious accidents at an explosives factory.

Hearl, Ernest John, Laboratory Manager (acting).

For inventiveness and devotion to duty.

Hedde, James.

For courage and devotion in assisting helpless patients and injured persons on the occasion of an air raid.

Henderson, Walter.

For courage and devotion to duty while working on poison gas under circumstances of grave personal danger.

Hermans, Edward, Boiler Cleaner.

For courage and presence of mind in extinguishing a dangerous fire.

Hibbard, Harriet Matilda (Mrs.), Night Supervisor, Telephones.

Displayed great courage and devotion to duty during air raids.

Hills, Arthur, Labourer.

For meritorious service under shell fire at Dunkirk.

Hilton, Charles.

During a period in which he acted as an ambulance driver he incurred much personal danger, and was unflinching in carrying out his arduous duties.

Hindmarsh, A. B.

For great courage and resource at a fire at an explosives factory in Canada. He helped to save valuable records and removed, at grave personal risk, a large quantity of loaded fuses, while explosions were taking place.

Hollett, George.

For courage and high example shown on the occasion of fires at an explosives factory in Canada.