

attack. When his platoon was held up by very heavy machine-gun fire and deep snow, and ordered to withdraw, he supervised the evacuation of all the wounded. He set a fine example to all.

66242 Pte. A. Turton, M.M., 2/10th Bn., R. Scots (Sutton Bridge).

On 20th September 1918, when the column commander wanted to regain touch with headquarters, and called for volunteers to row a boat some five miles through the shelled area and minefields, Lance-Corporal Turton immediately volunteered, and was given the despatch, and was also told to note the positions of the mines. In spite of shelling from river craft he steered his boat cleverly through the mines and delivered the despatch and a report on the position of the mines. His cool courage and ability were of very great service.

83709. C/S./M. A. G. S. Vincent, 252nd Coy., M.G. Corps (Colchester).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He volunteered and went on some exceedingly dangerous patrols, bringing back valuable information. All through the attack he set an excellent example to the men.

CANADIAN FORCE.

85697 Bdr. C. H. Colwell, Can. Fd. Arty.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination. He, with three other men at Kur-gomen on 27th October 1918 volunteered to go out with the infantry in the attack on Topsis; and in case of success to man any guns. His party, with four marine artillerymen, when the infantry attack failed and some disorder ensued, refused to retire until ordered, although practically surrounded, and eventually fought his way out, bringing his party back complete.

41013 B./S./M. T. Tomkinson, Can. Fd. Arty.

At Kodema, on 15th December 1918, all the serjeants of the battery being in charge of other guns on other fronts, he acted as No. 1 of the gun employed in this operation with great success and marked courage at a range of 800 yards under heavy rifle and machine-gun fire.

43800 Sjt. C. D. Winegard, Can. Fd. Arty.

For conspicuous gallantry and good work. On 1st March 1919, at Vistafka, heavy enemy shell fire caused an outbreak of fire in the billets, stables, and ammunition dump. He mustered the drivers and spare gunners and saved all the horses and a considerable quantity of ammunition. On 3rd March, at Vistafka, when the enemy had surrounded the position, he with two others formed a patrol, and, crawling to within fifty yards of the enemy outpost, with machine-gun fire forced them to withdraw. This achievement was the result of securing very valuable information.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the award of the Military Medal to the undermentioned lady for distinguished services in the field:—

Miss S. A. Valentine, V.A.D.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 10th and 14th October 1918, tending wounded under heavy fire on ship and shore while attached to the hospital river steamer "Vologjanin." On several occasions her conduct under fire had a marked effect on the morale of jaded troops.
