"And whereas Your Majesty was graciously pleased by Your Orders in Council bearing dates the 27th day of May 1921, and the 10th day of August 1921, to sanction, inter alia, the grant of an allowance of 2s. 6d. a day to ratings of the Writer Branch and Victualling (now Supply) Branch serving as Captains' Clerks in Ships of Captains in command of Torpedo Craft Flotillas:

And whereas by Section 29, Sub-section 5, of the said Act it was provided as follows:—

"This Act shall come into operation on the 1st day of July 1915:

"Provided that His Majesty may, by Order in Council, from time to time postpone the coming into operation of this Act for such period, not exceeding on any occasion of postponement one year, as may be specified in the Order":

And whereas His Majesty deems it expedient that the provisions of the said Act should be further postponed:

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, in pursuance of the powers vested in Him by the above-recited provision and of all other powers Him thereunto enabling, doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that the provisions of the Merchant Shipping (Convention) Act, 1914, shall be postponed from coming into operation until the 1st day of January 1924.

IMPERIAL SERVICE MEDAL.

The notice regarding Arthur Henry Blackmore, George Holt Boothroyd, Edwin Potter, Frederick William Twinn, and James William Walsh, in Gazette No. 13911 of the 20th April 1923, is hereby cancelled, it having been subsequently ascertained that these persons died before the date of the awards therein notified.

Whitehall, 29th May 1923.

His Majesty The KING has been graciously pleased to award the Edward Medal in Silver to Bert Craig in the following circumstances:—

On 14th November 1922, in the course of operations at Nixon's Navigation Colliery at Mountain Ash, Glamorganshire, a workman named Jones was completely buried by a heavy fall of stones and rubbish. Four other men were present at the time, and made some attempt to get Jones out, as, although they could not see him, they could hear him moaning. Further falls, however, took place, and the four men, considering the risk too great, retreated under cover.

At this moment Bert Craig, another workman at the Colliery, arrived on the scene, and hearing of what had happened at once ran to where Jones was buried and began to remove the stones. In spite of his appeals for help, the other men present hung back until the falls ceased, but they then came to Craig's assistance, and Jones was extricated. All the time falls were taking place, and within two minutes of Jones being pulled out so large a fall took place that both he and Craig would certainly have been killed.

Craig's action was a very gallant one, and he undoubtedly saved Jones's life. He was working under conditions of very great danger, and his conduct appears even more gallant in view of the fact that he suffers from the result of a severe bullet wound in the head, and any blow might have been fatal.

Whitehall, May 29, 1923.

The KING has been pleased to give and grant unto Cecil Arthur Seymour Sewell, Esq., of the Royal Pages College, Bangkok, His Majesty's Royal licence and authority to wear the Insignia of the Third Class of the Order of the Crown of Siam, which Decoration has been conferred upon him by His Majesty the King of Siam in recognition of valuable services rendered by him.
