A Definitive Treaty between the Generals in Chief of his Britannic Majesty, and of his Catholic Majesty, as per the following articles.

I. There shall be from this time a cessation of hostilities on both sides of the river Plata.

II. The troops of his Britannic Majesty shall retain for the period of two months, the fortress and place of Monte Video, and as a neutral country there shall be considered a line drawn from San Carlos on the west, to Pando on the east, and that there shall not be on any part of that line, hostilities committed on any side, the neutrality being understood only that the individuals of both nations may live freely under their respective laws, the Spanish subjects being judged by theirs, as the English by those of their own nation.

III. There shall be on both sides a mutual restitution of prisoners, including not only those which have been taken since the arrival of the troops under Lieutenant-General Whitelocke, but also those of his Britannic Majesty's subjects captured in South America since the commencement of the war.

IV. That for the promptest dispatch of the vessels and troops of his Britannic Majesty, there shall be no impediment thrown in the way of the supplies of provisions which may be requested for Monte Video.

V. A period of ten days from this time is given for the re-embarkation of his Britannic Majesty's troops to pass to the north side of the river La Plata, with the arms which may actually be in their power, stores, and equipage, at the most convenient points which may be selected, and during this time provisions may be sold to them.

VI. That at the time of the delivery of the place and fortress of Monte Video, which shall take place at the end of the two months fixed in the second article, the delivery will be made in the terms it was found, and with the artillery it had when it was taken.

VII. Three officers of rank shall be delivered for and until the fulfillment of the above articles by both parties, being well understood that his Britannic Majesty's officers, who have been on their parole, cannot serve against South America until their arrival in Europe.

SIR,

Canal of Miserala, July 3, 1807.

I have the honour to report to you, for the information of the Lieutenant-General Whitelocke, that the advanced corps under my command, consisting of three companies of the 95th light battalion, 36th and 88th regiment, with two three, and two six-pounders, advanced from the position I had taken up in front of the village of the Reduction, and after making a considerable detour from the badness of the roads, I crossed the Chuelo at the Chico pass, from thence I continued my route, though very strongly inclosed, and difficult ground, till the head of the column arrived at the junction of the two roads, about five hundred yards from the canal of Miserala. At the same moment that we discovered the enemy, they commenced a heavy though after the first round not well directed fire of shot and shells, my artillery having been left in the rear, under the protection of three companies of Brigadier General Lumley's brigade, owing to the inability of the horses to bring it up at the same rate at which the infantry marched. I directed an immediate attack to be made on their left flank with the bayonet, which was executed by Brigadier-General Crauford in the most perfect manner with his brigade, and he was so well seconded by the gallantry of Lieutenant Colonel Pack, and Major Travers, the officers and men of the 95th, and light battalion, that in five minutes the enemy's force, though strongly posted behind hedges and embankments, gave way, leaving about sixty killed and seventy prisoners, with all their artillery, consisting of nine guns, one howitzer, three tumbrils with limbers complete.

I beg to state that the conduct of every officer and soldier engaged was admirable; and that I am under great obligations to Brigadier-General Lumley for his exertions to take a share in the action, but which alone the exhausted state of his regiments, from the severity of the march, prevented. Immediately after I formed, I found that he had taken a good position on the right of the light brigade to support it in case of re-attack.

I am happy to add our loss has been but trifling, fourteen rank and file killed, five officers and twenty-five rank and file wounded. The exact returns I have not been able to obtain.

I have the honour to be, &c.

Major-General.

Lieutenant-Colonel Torrens, Military Secretary.
