PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY.

FROM FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, to TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1809.

QUEEN'S PALACE, NOVEMBER 4, 1809.

The following addresses have been transmitted to his Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, and have been presented by him to the King; his Majesty was pleased to receive them in the most gracious manner.

To the KING's most Excellent Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, Council, and Community of the City of Elgin, North Britain, having assembled here this day to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of your Majesty's accession to the throne of these realms, beg leave most sincerely and affectionately to offer our congratulations to your Majesty on this auspicious event, and to testify our unshaken loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's person and government, convinced as we are that our individual comfort and happiness, as well as the prosperity and security we enjoy as a nation in these times of unexampled difficulty and danger, are, under providence, to be ascribed to the justice, moderation, and wisdom of your Majesty's reign. And we earnestly pray that Almighty God may long preserve your Majesty thus to govern a free and happy people, and thus to afford to them, in the person of a beloved Sovereign, the brightest example of private worth, as well as public virtue.

Signed in our name, presence, and by our appointment, by

GEO. BROWN, Provost.

Council-Chamber, Elgin, 25th October 1809.

[Transmitted by the Lord Advocate of Scotland.]

To the KING's most Excellent Majesty:

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City of Old Aberdeen, in council assembled, beg leave humbly to approach the throne with our warmest congratulations on this anniversary of your Majesty's accession and commencement of the fiftieth year of your Majesty's reign over a free, a loyal, and a happy people.

Whilst neighbouring nations have been subjected to a galling and oppressive tyranny, whilst their most sacred rights have been trampled upon, and every consideration of equity has been sacrificed to the views of a boundless and unprincipled ambition; we your Majesty's loving subjects feel deeply impressed with gratitude to the Father of Mercies, that, under your Majesty's mild and paternal government, we continue to enjoy all those privileges that constitute the happiness and pride of free born Britons.

Animated with a lively sense of these inestimable advantages, we beg leave to assure your Majesty of our firm attachment to your Majesty's person, family, and government, and our determination, at all times, to support social order, and faithfully to discharge the duties of our respective stations.

That God may long preserve your Majesty to be the guardian of our religion, laws, and liberties, and a bright example of every public and private virtue, is the fervent prayer of your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the city of Old Aberdeen.

Signed in presence of the Magistrates and Council, and the common seal of the city affixed in their name, and by their appointment, at Old Aberdeen, the 25th day of October, in the year 1809.

WILLIAM JACK, Provost and Chief Magistrate.

[Transmitted by W. Jack, Esq. the Provost.]

To the KING's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble address of the Noblemen, Freeholders, Deputy Lieutenants, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and other Gentlemen of the County of Banff.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Deputy Lieutenants, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and other Gentlemen of the County of Banff, beg leave to approach the throne with sentiments of unshaken fidelity and affection to your Majesty's sacred person and family; and of inviolable attachment to our happy constitution, in church and state.

With emotions of unfeigned joy, we hail this auspicious day, on which your Majesty attains the fiftieth year of your reign, and we presume, on this interesting event, to offer to your Majesty our warmest congratulations.

We review with heartfelt gratitude the mild and paternal government of our patriot King, during a long, arduous, and eventful period; and contemplate, with unceasing admiration, the eminent virtues which shed a lustre on your Majesty's elevated rank.

Amidst the convulsions and revolutions of surrounding states and empires, we, of this highly favoured nation, have much cause to bless the Supreme Disposer of events, and to felicitate ourselves on the stability of your Majesty's throne, and the continued security of our inestimable privileges, civil and religious.

Contrasting the misery of other nations with the happiness of our own, we desire to express to your Majesty, our readiness to maintain, by our most zealous exertions, the honour and dignity of your Majesty's crown, and the dearest interests of our country.

That the Omnipotent Ruler of the Universe may prolong, to the latest period, your Majesty's life and health, for the happiness of your faithful people; that the evening of your days may pass serene and unclouded; and that a race of princes descended from your Majesty's illustrious house, and formed after your example, may wield to latest ages the British sceptre, is our most earnest wish, our most fervent prayer.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, at Banff, October 25, 1809.

FIFE.

[Transmitted by the Right Honourable Sir William Grant, M. P.]

Unto the KING's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble address of the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, Heritors, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, and Inhabitants of Inverness-shire, in a general meeting assembled on the 25th of October 1809.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, Heritors, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, and Inhabitants of Inverness-shire, beg leave most humbly to approach your Majesty's throne, with the most heartfelt congratulations on the commencement of the fiftieth year of your Majesty's reign: deeply sensible of the many blessings which we have enjoyed under your Majesty's government, we return thanks to Almighty God for having so long preserved your Majesty to a dutiful and affectionate people.

We recognize your virtues and the peculiar care of a gracious providence through which, amidst the convulsions which have agitated and still continue to afflict the other nations of Europe, your Majesty has been enabled to preserve to us the inestimable blessings of domestic peace and undivided attachment to our Sovereign, and to the happy constitution through which he reigns, we have one universal sense of the happiness we enjoy, and are unanimous in the unconquerable determination of all ranks and descriptions of men amongst us, to resist every attempt of the foes of your Majesty's empire.

We feel ourselves called on peculiarly to acknowledge your Majesty's paternal care of this part of your dominions, where the national improvements, carried on under your Majesty's auspices, aided by the munificence of your Parliament, will form a lasting and magnificent monument of the liberal policy and enlarged beneficence of your reign.

That the Almighty may long preserve a life so valuable and important, that your Majesty's happiness may increase with your years, and that with your imperial crown, your descendants may inherit your exemplary virtues, are the never ceasing prayers of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, Heritors, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, and Inhabitants of Inverness-shire.

Signed by authority of, and in presence of the meeting, by

A. FRASER, Lovat, &c.

[Transmitted by Charles Grant, Esq. M. P.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Rector, Principal, and Professors of the University and King's College of Aberdeen, impressed with gratitude to Almighty God for the blessings which this nation has so long enjoyed under your paternal care, beg leave to approach the throne, with our warmest congratulations on the commencement of the fiftieth year of your Majesty's reign over a free, a loyal, and a happy people.

When we contemplate the revolutions in empire, and the miseries which other nations have suffered during this eventful period, we cannot but consider the superior happiness enjoyed by your Majesty's subjects, as, in a great measure, owing, under the blessing of Providence, to the character of the sovereign, and to the virtues, public and private, that adorn the throne.

We beg leave to assure your Majesty, that we shall continue to instil into the rising generation, intrusted to our care, along with the truths of science, a love of social order, and affection to the best of Monarchs.

That it may please God to continue his protection to this highly favoured land, and long to preserve your Majesty's valuable life; and that every good work may prosper in your Majesty's hands, are the fervent prayers of, most gracious Sovereign, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Rector, Principal, and Professors of the University and King's College of Aberdeen.

GORDON, Chancellor.

GLENBERVIE, Rector.

RODCK. MACLEOD, D. D. Principal.

[Transmitted by the Right Honourable Lord Glenbervie, Rector of the University and King's College of Aberdeen.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, the Ministers and Elders of the Synod of Dumfries, in synod assembled, beg leave to approach your Majesty with our most sincere sentiments of loyalty and attachment. We embrace the opportunity of our present meeting, when the anniversary of your Majesty's accession to the throne is so near, to express in the most respectful manner the happiness which we feel in the prospect of a day so auspicious, which, if it shall please Almighty God to preserve your Majesty, will see the father of his people entering on the fiftieth year of his reign.

That your Majesty may long reign over a free, a loyal, and a happy people, are the fervent prayers of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most dutiful and most loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Synod of Dumfries.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and at our appointment, by JOHN BROWN, Moderator.

Dumfries, 17th October 1809.

[Transmitted by the Reverend Tho. T. Duncan, Minister of Dumfries.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble address and congratulation of the Chancellor, Rector, Principal Professors, and Masters of the Marischal College and University of Aberdeen.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Rector, Principal Professors, and Masters of your Marischal College and University of Aberdeen, beg leave, with all humility and respect, to present to your Majesty our most lively and sincere congratulations on the commencement of the fiftieth year of your Majesty's reign.

We rejoice, together with the rest of your Majesty's subjects, that it has pleased Almighty God to extend that reign to a period, uncommon in the British history, and even in the annals of mankind. Your realms have experienced all the blessings of a mild and paternal government; and the prolongation of your Majesty's life and reign has ever constituted the fervent wish and prayer of the British people. The astonishing revolutions, which have recently taken place on the continent of Europe, the calamities with which these have been attended, and the subjugation, under a foreign power, of so many states, have evinced, in a striking manner, the peculiar felicity of the nation, which your Majesty has governed nearly half a century; and this contrast furnishes us with abundant matter of gratitude to the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, for the protection vouchsafed to our country, and attaches us more and more to its free and happy constitution of government, of which your Majesty is the head and the protector.

Your Majesty has set to your subjects an engaging example of virtue, and has patronised literature, science, and all those arts, which polish and adorn society. We beg leave to assure your Majesty that we, in this university, under your Majesty's immediate patronage, shall continue to inculcate, on the youth committed to our care, loyalty and attachment to your person and government, and those principles of religion, virtue, and liberty, which, as they are the firmest supports of the throne, are also the grand securities for the happiness of the people, and the only effectual means of insuring the blessing and protection of heaven, whether to nations or to individuals.

That the Almighty Governor of the World may long bless and preserve your Majesty, may add many years of prosperity and glory to your reign, may confer on you an everlasting crown, when the lot of humanity has called you to resign that which your Majesty so happily wears; and never allow to fail a prince of your illustrious house to sway the British sceptre to the latest posterity, is the fervent prayer, may it please your Majesty, of your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Rector, Principal Professors, and Masters of your Marischal College and University of Aberdeen.

AUCKLAND.
