PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY.

FROM TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, to FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1809.

At the Court at the Queen's Palace, the 8th of November 1809,

PRESENT,

The KING'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

This day the Right Honourable Charles Manners Sutton was, by his Majesty's command, sworn of his Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and took his place at the board accordingly.

The following address has been transmitted to his Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, and has been presented by him to the King; his Majesty was pleased to receive it in the most gracious manner.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty, The humble address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Inhabitants of the Royal Burgh of Montrose.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Inhabitants of the Burgh of Montrose, assembled in our town-hall to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of your Majesty's accession, beg leave to approach the throne, with sentiments of sincere congratulation, such as cannot but be felt by those who have experienced the many blessings that have distinguished your Majesty's auspicious reign. The long and eventful period during which your Majesty has happily ruled over so great a portion of the world, has been marked by many singular catastrophes. Most of the ancient states of Europe have been overthrown; some by internal disorder, some by external force, and some by mean submission to the enemy, while the fate of those which remain, seems to be full of uncertainty and danger. In the midst of all these difficulties and revolutions, it affords us the highest satisfaction to reflect that your Majesty's arms have been ever found upon the side of justice against oppression. Threatened, as we have been, with unexampled perils, we acknowledge with gratitude the firmness and dignity of your Majesty's councils, by which we see, that while we have triumphed over all the efforts of domestic faction, foreign hostility, we are yet possessed of inexhaustible resources to contend with both.

We are far from insensible, however, to the operations of the same wise policy, as they have been displayed in the internal situation of the country. Under your Majesty's protecting hand, all the arts that improve and embellish life, have advanced with a progress formerly unknown; manufactures have flourished; the wages of labour have increased; and the condition of the labourer as well as of every other class of your Majesty's subjects has been substantially ameliorated. When we survey the many miseries with which it has pleased the Supreme Disposer of events to afflict the other nations of the world, we consider ourselves as peculiarly privileged; permitted as we have been to enjoy in the midst of tranquillity, all the benefits of a free government, equal laws, and an enlarged and growing commerce; nor is it possible to forget the many gracious acts of benignity, by which it has been your Majesty's constant aim to extend these blessings, to strengthen the hands of justice, or to temper the rigour of law, by a just exercise of your constitutional prerogatives.

While your Majesty's paternal cares have thus extended to every branch of domestic policy, they have not been withheld, even from those dependencies of the empire, whose remote position might be supposed to have placed them beyond the sphere of your royal solicitude; we rejoice that your Majesty, feeling experimentally the glory of reigning over a free people, has been at length enabled to abolish the sufferings of that unfortunate race of men, who were doomed to a life of slavery in foreign climes. Such an act has carried the veneration of your Majesty's name to the remotest regions of the globe; and we trust, that it will descend to future ages as an everlasting monument of your Majesty's beneficence.

That Almighty God may long preserve your Majesty, and thus continue to us the many blessings which we have enjoyed, under your mild and parental sway, is our most fervent prayer.

PAT. CRAIGIE, Provost.

Montrose, October 25, 1809.

[Transmitted by James Farquhar, Esq. M. P. for Montrose.]

FOREIGN-OFFICE, NOVEMBER 11, 1809.

A letter, of which the following is an extract, was this day received by Earl Bathurst, his Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, from Lieutenant-Colonel Carol, dated Army of the Left, Camp on the Heights of Tamames, October 19, 1809.

I have the honour to acquaint you, that the army of Marshal Ney, now commanded by General Marchand, advanced on the morning of yesterday, in force ten thousand infantry and one thousand two hundred cavalry, with fourteen pieces of artillery, to attack this army, which was most judiciously posted on these heights.

The enemy divided his force into three columns, which advanced against the right, centre, and left of our line; it soon became evident that the principal object of his attack was to force and turn our left, it being the point in which our position was weakest.

The enemy, at the commencement, gained some advantage of positions on our left, in consequence of the retreat of a small party of our cavalry, destined to cover the left of our line. This success however, was momentary, as the vanguard, led on by Generals Mendizabal and Carrera, charged with the greatest spirit and gallantry, routed the enemy, and retook, at the point of the bayonet, six guns, of which the enemy possessed himself during the retreat of the division of our cavalry. The vanguard in this charge committed great slaughter amongst the enemy, taking from them one eight-pound gun, with a quantity of ammunition. After a long and obstinate contest, the enemy, being unable to gain a foot of ground, began to give way in all points. About three o'clock in the afternoon the enemy betook himself to a precipitate and disorderly flight.

The loss of the enemy, as far as we have been yet able to ascertain, exceeds one thousand in killed and prisoners. The numbers of the wounded must be very considerable.

Our loss has been comparatively very trifling, not exceeding three hundred; one imperial eagle; one eight pounder brass gun; three ammunition waggons; twelve drums, with four or five thousand stand of arms; an immense quantity of ball cartridge; carts of provisions and knapsacks loaded with plunder, fell into our hands.

No language can do sufficient justice to the gallant and intrepid conduct of the troops on this memorable day; it would be impossible to make any distinction in the zeal and ardour of the different corps, for all equally panted for the contest. The vanguard and first division, however, had the good fortune to occupy those points against which the enemy directed his principal efforts, and to add fresh laurels to the wreaths they had acquired in Lugo, St. Jago, and San Payo.

The steady intrepidity displayed by the second division, through whose ranks the party of retreating cavalry passed, and the spirit and promptness with which it pushed forward against the enemy, who had at that moment turned our left, is deserving of the highest approbation.

The entire of the cavalry, with the exception of the party attached to the vanguard, about three hundred, who, from being overpowered, were obliged to retreat, evinced the greatest steadiness and resolution in maintaining the post allotted them, and keeping the enemy's cavalry in check.

It is, however, to be lamented that our cavalry did not find themselves in a situation to enable them to take advantage of the enemy's disorderly flight across the plain between these heights and the village of Carrascalajo, a league in extent: for had five or six hundred horse charged the fugitives, the victory would have been most decisive.

The vanguard of General Ballesteros's division is in sight; we only wait his arrival to pursue, and annihilate the discomfited enemy.

From prisoners we learn that General Marchand proclaimed at Salamanca his intention of annihilating, by two o'clock on the 18th, thirty thousand peasant insurgents: his orders to his army were, on pain of death, to possess itself of the heights by twelve o'clock, as he proposed proceeding to destroy Ballesteros's division, after having dispersed and annihilated this army. The French general certainly appears to have held this army very cheap; judging from his plan of attack, which was far from judicious, but executed, to a certain point, with the greatest bravery, and with that intrepidity which the confidence of success inspires.

Our light troops pursued, and hung on the enemy's rear; several parties of which, amongst whom were two hundred of the regiment of Ballastro, have not returned as yet; having expressed a determination of hanging on the enemy's flanks as long as the cover of the woods afforded a facility of so doing.

The number of the enemy's dead already found and buried amounts to upwards of eleven hundred. Several, no doubt, will be found in the woods.
