Treasury Chambers, London S.W.1.

24th May 1960.

THE Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury hereby give notice that, at a Trial of the Pyx begun at Goldsmiths' Hall in the City of London on the 1st day of March and concluded on the 13th day of May 1960, the following Verdict of the Pyx Jury was delivered to the Queen's Remembrancer, viz.:

We, whose names are hereunder written, having been sworn on the 1st day of March 1960 before the Queen's Remembrancer at Goldsmiths' Hall in the City of London, made the following assays and trials of Her Majesty's coins which, according to accounts produced by the officers of the Royal Mint in London, were coined in the said Mint from the 1st day of January 1959 to the 31st day of December 1959, both dates inclusive, in accordance with the Coinage Acts 1870 to 1946 (hereinafter called "the Acts") and were set aside and placed in the pyx of the said Mint as prescribed by regulations made under the Acts.

1. We ascertained the number of coins in each packet produced to us and that such number corresponded with the number which the officers of the Mint represented the packet to contain.

2. a From each of the fourteen packets of gold coins we took four sovereigns, amounting altogether to fifty-six sovereigns.

(b) We weighed separately each of the said sovereigns so taken and we ascertained that it was within the variation allowed under the Acts from the standard weight thereby prescribed and we found that such sovereigns were on the whole within such variation, being one thousandth part of an ounce +0.001 above standard weight.

(c) We then melted such sovereigns into an ingot and assayed such ingot comparing it with the standard trial plate of gold produced by the Board of Trade, and we found that such ingot was within the variation allowed under the Acts from the standard fineness thereby prescribed, the amount of variation from standard fineness being minus four hundred-thousandth parts —0.00004.

d) We weighed in bulk the residue of the coins remaining in the packets of gold coins and we ascertained that they were on the whole within the variation from standard weight allowed under the Acts being thirty thousandth parts of an ounce (+0.030) above standard weight.

(e) We then took from such residue five sovereigns and weighed and assayed them separately, and we found that such sovereigns weighed respectively the first 123.302 grains, the second 123.330 grains, the third 123.275 grains, the fourth 123.281 grains and the fifth 123.267 grains, and that therefore the first of such sovereigns was twenty-eight thousandth parts of a grain (+0.028) above, the second fifty-six thousandth parts of a grain (+0.056) above, the third one thousandth part of a grain (+0.001) above, the fourth seven thousandth parts of a grain (+0.007) above and the fifth seven thousandth parts of a grain (—0.007) below standard weight.

(f) We then assayed separately the last mentioned sovereigns and we found the millesimal fineness of such sovereigns respectively to be, the first 916.62, the second 916.69, the third 916.71, the fourth 916.61 and the fifth 916.70, and that therefore the first of such sovereigns was four hundred-thousandth parts ( $-0.00004$ ) below, the second three hundred-thousandth parts ( $+0.00003$ ) above, the third five hundred-thousandth parts ( $+0.00005$ ) above, the fourth five hundred-thousandth parts ( $-0.00005$ ) below and the fifth four hundred-thousandth parts ( $+0.00004$ ) above standard fineness.

3. (a) We found that the silver coins in the said pyx weighed in all not more than twelve ounces troy.

(b) We weighed in bulk such silver coins and we ascertained that they were on the whole within the variation allowed under the Acts from the standard weight thereby prescribed, being one thousandth part of an ounce ( $-0.001$ ) below standard weight.

(c) We then assayed such silver coins comparing them with the silver trial plate produced by the Board of Trade, and we found that they were on the whole within the variation allowed under the Acts from the standard fineness thereby prescribed, the amount of variation from standard fineness being plus five ten-thousandth parts ( $+0.00005$ ).

4 (a) We found that the cupro-nickel coins in the said pyx weighed in all more than twelve ounces troy and we took one or more coins from each packet of cupro-nickel coins.

(b) We weighed each twelve ounces troy (at standard weight) of cupro-nickel coins so taken out and ascertained that the amount of its variation (if any) from standard weight was the amount recorded in respect thereof in the schedule hereto, and that each twelve ounces troy was therefore within the variation from standard weight allowed under the Acts.

(c) We then assayed separately cupro-nickel coins weighing in all twelve ounces troy (at standard weight) comparing them with the copper trial plate and the nickel trial plate produced by the Board of Trade, and we found that the coins assayed were on the whole within the variation allowed under the Acts from the standard composition thereby prescribed, the amount of the only variation from standard composition being minus one tenth of one per centum ( $-0.1\%$ ) of copper.

(d) We weighed in bulk the residue of the coins remaining in the packets of cupro-nickel coins and we ascertained that they were on the whole within the variation from standard weight allowed under the Acts, being two ounces and four hundred and forty-seven thousandth parts of an ounce ( $+2.447$ ) above standard weight.

Dated the 13th day of May 1960.

THE SCHEDULE

One weighing of twelve ounces troy showed no variation from standard weight; four such weighings showed variations of two, nine, fifteen and twenty-two thousandth parts of an ounce ( $+0.002$ ,  $+0.009$ ;  $+0.015$  and  $+0.022$ ) respectively above standard weight; one such weighing showed a variation of two thousandth parts of an ounce ( $-0.002$ ) below standard weight.
