PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY.

FROM FRIDAY, MAY 20, TO TUESDAY, MAY 24, 1814.

The following Addresses have been presented to his Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses his Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously.—

To his Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

WE, his Majesty's Justices of the Peace, acting in and for the Lower Ward or Division of the County of Lanark, in Quarter Sessions assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness to offer our humble heartfelt congratulations on the late auspicious events, wherein our country has borne so distinguished a part.

With every class of his Majesty's loyal subjects, we lament the continued indisposition of your Royal Father, our revered Sovereign.

To the wisdom and unshaken firmness of his Majesty's counsels, we rejoice in tracing back the causes from which, under Divine Providence, the late unparalleled events have arisen; and we confidently look forward for a happy accomplishment to the same wise and vigorous measures which have been steadily pursued during the administration of your Royal Highness.

At no former period has the character of the British nation stood higher in arms; but to your Royal Highness has been reserved to exhibit the noblest example of friendship towards his Majesty the king of France, the influence of which must extend not only to the subjects of these nations, but to the whole civilized world, and cannot fail to produce reciprocal offices of good will and lasting peace.

Signed, by appointment, and in presence of the Quarter Sessions, at Glasgow, the 10th day of May, in the year 1814.

JOHN LANG, Preses.

[Transmitted by Mr. Lang, the Preses, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To his Royal Highness George PRINCE REGENT.
May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, his Majesty's loyal subjects, the Bailies and Trustees of the Towns of Port-Glasgow and Newark, do humbly beg leave to approach the throne with our hearty congratulations on the successful termination of calamities unequalled among civilized mankind.

To the wise and vigorous measures adopted by his Majesty, and perseveringly followed up by your Royal Highness, is to be ascribed, under the Divine favour, the deliverance of the world from the destructive torrent which had prostrated mighty nations, and threatened the overthrow of all social order, and a return of barbarism and ignorance to all the states of Europe.

We flatter ourselves that the miseries inflicted upon so great a portion of the human race by the revolutionary hydra of France, will serve as a lesson to all, and guard, at least, his Majesty's subjects from the dangerous delusions of anarchy and democracy, while the whole world will view the British constitution of government as the best security of rational freedom which any age or nation has exhibited, worthy of being adopted as the most complete model which human wisdom has devised, and the firmest support of the liberties of mankind.

It will therefore be no small consolation to your Royal Highness, under your filial sorrow for the protracted indisposition of his Majesty, to see the happy conclusion of a struggle altogether unparalleled, in which this country has borne so conspicuous a part.

That your Royal Highness, with all of his Majesty's subjects, may long enjoy the fruits of that peace which the energy and fortitude of his Majesty and your Royal Highness have been the means of restoring, is our sincere and ardent prayer.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, in Council assembled, by me, the eldest Bailie and Chief Magistrate, and the common seal of said Towns hereunto affixed, at Port Glasgow, the 7th day of May 1814, and of his Majesty's reign the fifty-fourth year.

PETER M'FARLANE.

[Transmitted by the Town-Clerk, Mr. Watson, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

Unto his Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the Noblemen, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County Perth, assembled at our annual General Meeting, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the tender of our sincere and heartfelt congratulations on the late glorious and unparalleled events, which promise a happy termination to the arduous contest in which we have so long been engaged.

That tyranny has been annihilated, and that Europe, relieved from the destructive power of insatiable ambition, beholds in every quarter the re-establishment of social order, of liberty, and independence, were alone matter of high exultation: but when we reflect, that these glorious results may, under Divine Providence, be in a high degree ascribed to the undaunted exertions of this mighty empire, directed by our beloved Sovereign and your Royal Highness, we want words to express our triumphant feelings, or the obligations we owe to your Royal Highness, for your unshaken firmness and perseverance in that line of policy which, having saved Britain from the anarchy which desolated Europe, has now raised the British name to the proud eminence on which it is placed by the gratitude of rescued nations. The wisdom of British counsels, and the splendid achievements of British gallantry, have been acknowledged by the voice of united Europe.

While we claim for our own intrepid country, the glory of having shewn the example of unvaried resistance to lawless ambition, we beg leave to express our admiration of the vigour and unanimity with which that example has been followed by his Majesty's august Allies, who from the confines of Europe having pursued their oppressor to the capital of his dominions, have crowned their victorious career by bestowing on emancipated France the blessing of a free constitution, under its legitimate monarch; repressing every feeling of resentment—despising every emotion of revenge.

That lasting peace, rational freedom, and established government, may continue to be the reward of success merited by bravery, by unswerving constancy, and by moderation in the hour of victory; and that your Royal Highness may long enjoy the love and confidence of a free and loyal people, is our earnest and fervent prayer.

Price Sixpence Halfpenny.

Signed by our Preses, in our names, and by our appointment, at Perth, this 30th day of April 1814.

[Transmitted by the Duke of Athol and Mr. Drummond, M. P. for the County of Perth, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

Unto his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of the Land-Tax for the Stewartry of Kirkcudbright, now assembled in our General Annual Meeting, embrace with heartfelt joy this early opportunity of approaching your Royal Highness with the strongest assurances of loyalty and attachment, and with our warmest congratulations on the glorious termination of the struggles of Europe, during which the British empire has stood so pre-eminently.

Trusting in the continued goodness of Almighty God, we anticipate an ample compensation for the calamities of a destructive war, in the blessings of a long and prosperous peace; and we indulge the pleasing hope, that such arrangements will be made by the allied powers, as, under the blessing of Divine Providence, will most effectually secure the independence of nations, and the general happiness of the world.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, at Kirkcudbright, the 30th day of April 1814.

EDWARD BOYD, Preses.

[Presented by Major-General Dunlop.]

Unto his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland,

The humble Address of the Provincial Synod of Glasgow and Ayr.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Ministers and Elders of the Synod of Glasgow and Ayr, met in Synod, while we offer our thanksgivings to God, beg leave, at this interesting crisis, to tender at the foot of the throne our joyful congratulations on the prosperous state of public affairs.

While the internal peace of our country has been preserved, our commerce extended, and the honour of our national character signally displayed, we have beheld with exultation kingdoms rescued from the grasp of a lawless usurper, and the British standard raised in France for the emancipation of its oppressed inhabitants. We bless the providence of God, which has finally led all the legitimate sovereigns of Europe to unite their councils and arms in the glorious cause of national independence.

Adoring the justice of the Supreme Ruler in the judgments brought upon the insolent oppressor, we hail the day on which the allied armies, crowned with victory by the Lord of Hosts, entered Paris, as affording a prospect of the speedy restoration of lawful government to France, and of permanent peace, freedom, and independence to all the surrounding nations.

The world has seen, and history will record, the steadiness of your royal father's councils amidst the threatening consequences of a revolution, which, in the awful judgements of the Most High, convulsed the kingdoms of the earth; and Britain, with grateful admiration, has beheld the vigour and success with which the same wise measures have been pursued under the auspicious administration of your Royal Highness, acting in the name and on the behalf of our venerable and beloved monarch.

While, as the servants of the Prince of Peace, we labour to propagate the pure doctrines of the gospel, for the temporal and eternal welfare of men, it will be our delight, as it is our duty, to inculcate the principles of loyalty, patriotism, and rational liberty, on the portion of his Majesty's people committed to our pastoral care.

That Almighty God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, may soothe the personal affliction of our revered Sovereign, continue to prosper the government of your Royal Highness, bless the Queen, the Princess of Wales, and all the branches of the Royal Family, is the earnest prayer of, may it please your Royal Highness, his Majesty's most loyal and faithful subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Provincial Synod of Glasgow and Ayr.

To his Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, Justices of the Peace, and Community at large of the County of Nairn, beg leave most cordially to congratulate your Royal Highness on the great and glorious success which has crowned the arms of his Majesty and his Allies, overturning the most cruel military despotism which, for upwards of twenty years, disturbed the repose of the world. In approaching your Royal Highness, we beg, with grateful satisfaction, to acknowledge how much we, in common with the rest of mankind, owe to the wise measures and enlightened views displayed since your Royal Highness swayed the sceptre of your august Father; we view, with great delight, the heartfelt satisfaction it must afford to your Royal Highness, to behold so worthy a result to the invincible perseverance and constancy of every class of his Majesty's subjects, in the struggle for the independence of Europe, and in it of the civilized world, giving at length a fair prospect of a happy peace.

It is our particular wish to testify our high sense of the inviolable attachment evinced by your Royal Highness to the British constitution, and to the interests of his Majesty's subjects.

Whilst offering our congratulations upon events which have emancipated Europe from a degrading tyranny, we cannot forget the important trophies of that illustrious commander, whose name shall ever rank high in his country's regard, and whose consummate generalship has so uniformly crowned the British arms with glory, and first led to events which are now the admiration of the world.

That your Royal Highness may long experience the affectionate attachment and regard of a faithful and loyal people, is our earnest prayer.

To his Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, and Justices of the Peace of the county of Berwick, assembled at a general meeting, approach your Royal Highness with our sincere congratulations on the glorious events which have terminated the arduous war in which this nation has been, during nearly twenty years, unceasingly engaged; a war equally memorable by the magnitude of the interests which it involved; by the extent of the resources called into action; by the military prowess with which it has been distinguished; by the perseverance with which it has been pursued; and by the extraordinary rapidity and brilliancy of the successes which have thrown so much lustre on its termination.

As Britons we look with pride and gratitude to the eminent station which our favoured country now holds in the scale of nations. To Britain it has been reserved, under Providence, to be instrumental in arresting the progress of the most deadly evil the world has ever seen, that torrent of revolutionary principles which spread havoc and devastation through the fairest portions of the earth, overturning the ancient laws, levelling the established thrones of Europe, which breaking down every acknowledged barrier, every revered institution; confounding all rights of property, all principles of conduct, threatened, in its ungoverned course, to dissolve the bonds of society, and to replunge the world in the darkness of the chaos from which it had emerged. To Britain did the glory belong of being in the most calamitous times, the rallying point of the oppressed nations of the earth, the asylum of the unfortunate of all countries. Though encompassed by alarming dangers; though the storms and waves of adversity raged around, our distinguished country maintained its post, returning again and again to the combat, with renewed energy and renewed resources; reviving the fainting hopes of Europe; rousing again to action the nations which the iron rod of despotism and the yoke of an usurper had sunk to the earth; and pursuing with them the path, which, under the favour of Heaven, has led once more to glory and freedom.

While we lay before your Royal Highness the expressions of our warmest congratulations on the happy effects which have followed the wisdom, firmness, and vigour of your Royal Highness's councils, we at the same time congratulate your Royal Highness on the cordial co-operation of our noble allies, whose memorable exertions have been so eminently conducive to the advancement of the common cause, and whose heroic exploits have filled Europe with their fame. To the unexampled combination of valour, of wisdom, of confidence, and generosity, which raises the character of the present continental alliance high above all that the history of the world records, is to be essentially ascribed the downfall of the destructive tyranny that was the scourge of every nation; the auspicious restoration which with joy we have seen, of the ancient, the venerable throne of the Bourbons; and the renewal of those ties which now bid fair to unite again the world in the relations of a secure and lasting peace.

We deeply lament the heavy gloom which still clouds the setting days of our beloved Sovereign; and that he, who, during a long and an eventful reign, ruled in the hearts, as over the persons of a grateful people, now shares not in the joy which the late great events diffuse through his kingdom. It is however in the feeling of consolation and confidence, that we look to the splendour which shines around the British throne, under your Royal Highness's government; and in the same feeling, we indulge the earnest hope that your Royal Highness will long continue successfully to sway the British sceptre, giving new increase to the prosperity of this realm; new stability to the foundations of our glorious constitution; and improved strength to those institutions, civil and religious, which have long been the admiration of the world, and which will, we trust, descend unimpaired to the latest posterity.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, by

To his Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT

The loyal Address of the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, other Heritors, and the Justices of the Peace of the County of Inverness, in a General Meeting assembled, held at Inverness the 30th day of April 1814.

WE, his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, other Heritors, and Justices of the Peace of the county of Inverness, approach your Royal Highness with the expression of our warmest congratulations on the great and glorious events which have crowned the arms of his Majesty and of his illustrious allies.

We have lived to see the ultimate triumph of those principles which have guided the energies of this country to an undaunted and persevering resistance, a bold and uncompromising defiance of the insidious artifice and barbarian violence of an implacable foe, which have roused oppressed Europe, have arrested in his course this scourge of the human race, have checked his career to universal empire, and finally hurled him from the highest pinnacle to which successful wickedness ever attained, to a degradation more humiliating than an ignominious death.

From this awful example of the retribution that waits on guilt, we turn to the bright spectacle of the reward of tried virtue and suffering worth; the exiles whom we have cherished and supported, to whom this generous country has been a resting place and sanctuary, now restored to their native land; the return of the legitimate monarch of France to the throne of his ancestors, hailed by a British public with as enthusiastic transport as ever greeted the proudest event of the history of our own country. With what honest pride does every British heart exult in the contemplation of these scenes; we have seen the consummation of that glorious contest, in which this country has borne so conspicuous a share; the struggle of oppressed humanity, victorious over the most detested tyranny that ever enslaved and debased the civilized world.

We hail the return of universal peace, as the result of those able combinations and decided measures which have characterized the administration of your Royal Highness, and of that magnanimous sacrifice of all individual interests to the common cause, which, under the guidance of Divine Providence, have wrought out the salvation of Europe.

Signed, in name and by appointment of the meeting, by

WM. FRASER TYTLER, Preses.

To his Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the Ministers and Elders of the Province of Moray, in Synod assembled.

We, his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, at this important and singularly interesting period, to offer our sincere and heartfelt congratulations, on the recent great and glorious events which have taken place in Europe; events which afford us the prospect of a speedy termination to a long protracted war, undertaken at first, for maintaining our dearest and most invaluable privileges, against the licentiousness of anarchy; and carried on afterwards, to resist the most formidable military despotism that ever threatened the safety of empires, and the order and happiness of civilized life.

It is a proud distinction to the great people over whom your Royal Highness presides, that their exertions and perseverance, during an arduous struggle of more than twenty years, have contributed so materially to revive and confirm the courage of suffering and desponding nations; and that their example, by exciting an emulation in virtue, hath led to a combination of power, by which this most grievous tyranny has been overthrown, and from which we anticipate with confidence, a better order of things; in the re-establishment, in the affections of the people, of thrones that had been subverted; in respect for genuine liberty, and in reverence for religious institutions.

Whilst we look up with gratitude to Almighty God, who "maketh even the wrath of man to praise him, and restraineth the remainder of wrath," and whilst we acknowledge the hand which hath wrought this great deliverance, we are desirous also to avow our conviction, that, under Divine Providence, much of the success of the measures by which this happy change hath been effected, is to be ascribed to the dignified and temperate firmness of your Royal Highness, and to the moderation and enlightened views of those ministers, to whom the direction of public affairs was intrusted.

That the same wisdom and conciliating disposition may continue to prevail in your Royal Highness's councils; and that the same liberal, yet determined spirit, may direct the energies of the British empire against all its enemies, till peace be re-established on an honourable and secure foundation, is the fervent prayer of, may it please your Royal Highness, his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Province of Moray, in Synod assembled.

Signed by appointment, in our name, by JOHN CRUICKSHANK, Moderator.

Elgin, April 26, 1814.

To his Royal Highness, George, Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

We, the Ministers and Elders of the Synod of Angus and Mearns, in Synod assembled, with every sentiment of loyalty to our beloved sovereign, and with the deepest regret that he cannot participate in the general joy of his people, approach your Royal Highness to express our heartfelt congratulations upon the late glorious events, which have filled with wonder, and with gratitude to Heaven, all ranks of his Majesty's subjects. In these events Britons must feel a peculiar and a most delightful interest; because, under Divine Providence, they may be in a great measure ascribed to the wise measures adopted by the government of your Royal Highness, and to the splendid achievements of our gallant countrymen; whilst they seem calculated to extend the influence of those admirable principles of civil and religious liberty, which, supported by the illustrious house of Hanover, have so long secured the prosperity and the happiness of his Majesty's dominions.

That peace may soon be restored to gladden the nations of Europe, and that your Royal Highness may for many years be preserved to enjoy the brighter era about us, we trust, to arise on the world, are, may it please your Royal Highness, our humble and most fervent prayers.
