TO BE SOLD, IN CUMULO.

By public roup, within the Parliament or New Session-House, Edinburgh, in presence of the Lord Ordinary upon the Bills, on Thursday the 7th July 1814, at six o'clock in the evening.

THE several LIFERENTS of the different locality lands belonging to the Right Honourable Isabella Countess Dowager of Glencairn, being part of the Lordship and Barony of Finlayston, lying in the parish of Kilmalcolm and county of Renfrew, on the banks of the Clyde, two miles distant from Port Glasgow and five from Greenock, as formerly advertised, the yearly rents whereof is 806l. 16s. 9d. 2 1/2 p. And by the calculus made up and depohed to by accountants, the total rise of rent expected upon the expiry of the several leases of certain of the farms of said lands is 183l. 13s. 2d. 10 1/2 p. sterling; and that the calculated value of the current rents is in toto as at Martinmas last 6,935l. 6s. 8d., and the value of the said expected rise of rents on the expiry of certain of the said leases is 703l. 18s. 5d., so making the total value of the said liferents, present and reversionary, 7,639l. 5s. 1d.; which Liferents the Lords have appointed to be exposed at the very low reduced upset price of 3,500l., being little more than four years purchase of the present rental, at which rate the sum total of the liferents will yield upwards of 20 per cent., besides the expected rise of rents; an opportunity is thus given for competition, and a more advantageous investment seldom occurs.

The cess, minister's stipend, schoolmaster's salaries, and other public burdens, are payable by the tenants, except the farms of Blackstone and Broadfield, the tenants whereof are only bound to pay the whole cess, schoolmaster's salaries, and officers dues yearly.

The farms are all accommodated with farm steadings and good roads, and inclosed and subdivided with stone-dikes, and are generally of a dry gravelly soil, well fitted for green crops, and that most improved system of modern cultivation, viz. alternate aration and pasture.

The rental, title-deeds, and memorial and abstract of the prepared state, calculus of the different liferents of said farms, and articles of roup, are in the hands of Mr Elder, deputy clerk of Session; and copies of these, and every information as to particulars, will be furnished by Thomas Peat, W.S. agent in the sale.
