Two steam-boats from Glasgow to Inverary touch at Lochgilp twice or thrice a week; and the establishment of a steam-boat through the Crinan Canal to Fort-William renders the access to this property, both from the east and west, perfectly easy and commodious.

The whole farms are let at present from year to year, so that a purchaser can enter immediately to the whole property.

The estate holds of the Duke of Argyll.
The articles of roup are in the hands of William Pringle, deputy-clerk of Session, (office F. S. P.). The title-deeds and copies of the articles of roup are in the hands of John Russell, C. S., No. 95, George's Street, Edinburgh.

571l. 14s. 7d. 7-12ths; and the feu-duty and public bur-

The situation of the property is beautiful, as commanding a view of the vale of Devon and the south side of the Ochill hills. The river Devon intersects part of the property.
The high roads from Stirling to Alloa and Kinross pass through the property, which is at a distance of only four miles from Alloa, ten miles from Stirling, and about an equal distance from Kinross. From Alloa there is a daily communication with Edinburgh by means of a steam-boat.
The great academy which is now established at Dollar, the immediate adjoining parish, cannot fail to be of great advantage to this and the whole neighbouring properties.

The articles and conditions of sale are in the office of Mr William Pringle, clerk to the action of sale. The title-deeds and a plan of the whole property, memorial and abstract, showing the particulars of the rent, public burdens, and the
