

ADMIRALTY-OFFICE, June 22, 1821.

IN order to prevent inconvenience to individual Officers, as well as to his Majesty's Service, the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty think it necessary to remind the Officers of his Majesty's Navy and Royal Marine Forces, that they cannot receive their half-pay for any period during which they may be absent from this kingdom without their Lordships' leave; and that Officers who may wish to remain abroad, beyond their original leave, should take care to apply for a renewal thereof in due time, so that such application may be received at this office prior to the expiration of the former leave, as (unless very special circumstances can be stated in any particular case) no half-pay can be paid for any period of absence abroad which shall not be covered by their Lordships' leave.

All applications either for original leave, or for a renewal thereof, whether made through agents or otherwise, must be written by the Officer himself, and addressed to the Secretary of the Admiralty. Officers who may not employ an agent, may have the public fees on their letters of leave deducted from their half-pay, on specifying their desire to that effect in the letter asking for the leave.

This regulation will take effect from this date with regard to all Officers hereafter applying for leave; and from the first of January next with regard to Officers now abroad on the Continent of Europe or North America, and after the first of July 1822 with regard to Officers in other parts of the world.

J. W. CROKER.

THE Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty being desirous of increasing the number of Chronometers for the use of his Majesty's Navy, and of encouraging the improved manufacture of that important article, do hereby give notice, that a depot for the reception of Chronometers is opened at the Royal Observatory of Greenwich, where the makers will be permitted to deposit their Chronometers, in order to their being tried, and ultimately, if they should be found worthy of selection, purchased for the use of the Navy, or of being disposed of by the proprietors to private purchasers.

And for further encouragement, their Lordships will purchase, at the end of each year, the Chronometer which shall have kept the best time, at the price of £300, and the second best, at the price of £200, provided that there have been above ten Chronometers in the competition, and that the said best Chronometers shall keep their rates within certain limits to be hereafter stated; the other Chronometers their Lordships may purchase as they may think proper, at such sums as may be agreed upon with the makers. And their Lordships have reason to expect, that their annual rate of purchase for some years to come will be not less than ten Chronometers in each year.

Every facility will be afforded to the makers who may place their Chronometers in the depot, for disposing of any of them to private purchasers; and every information will be afforded to purchasers as to the rates of going of the Chronometers, of which a strict account will be kept under the direction of the Astronomer Royal and Board of Longitude.

The further conditions and regulations connected with this arrangement may be learned of the Astronomer Royal at Greenwich, or of the Hydrographer of this office.
