

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Dean and Faculty of Advocates.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, the Dean and Faculty of Advocates, as constituent members of the College of Justice in Scotland, feel ourselves impelled by the purest sentiments of loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's royal person, humbly and dutifully to offer to your Majesty the assurance of our hearty participation in the general joy diffused amongst our fellow-citizens by your Majesty's gracious presence in this the capital of your Majesty's ancient Kingdom. On this happy occasion, we beseech your Majesty's favourable acceptance of the unreserved tender of our devoted submission and inviolable attachment to your Majesty, in whom we have the proud satisfaction of beholding the descendant of a race of Kings, whose rightful possession of the sceptre of this realm has been coeval with the first foundations of the monarchy.

In thus gracing with your presence the seat of the ancient dominions of your royal House, we are happy in the persuasion that those benignant and paternal feelings of concern in the welfare of this part of your United Kingdom, by which your Majesty has been prompted, will derive their fullest gratification from witnessing that advanced state of national improvement, and of consequent happiness, which this country has attained under the secure, the mild, and the constitutional rule of your sacred Majesty and your royal predecessors. And among the many blessings attendant on that state of general peace and tranquillity which your Majesty's counsels have so eminently contributed to establish, we esteem it not the least, that it has enabled your Majesty to give to your faithful subjects of Scotland the long-desired opportunity of manifesting those sentiments of dutiful and ardent attachment to your Majesty's person and family which we confidently trust will ever continue unaltered and unshaken.

Signed in the name and by the appointment of the Faculty of Advocates, the 17th day of August 1822.

LAUDERDALE, Vice-Dean.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Faculty of Procurators of Paisley, incorporated by Royal Charter, beg leave to approach your Majesty with our sincere and dutiful congratulations on your arrival in Scotland.

We participate deeply in that universal feeling of pride and exultation which is excited among our countrymen by the presence of their Sovereign, —elevated and enhanced as that feeling is, by the consideration that this most gracious visit is made by a Prince, under whose rule the rights and liberties of the subject have been most anxiously preserved; and by whom, amidst unparalleled difficulties and dangers, the greatness and glory of the empire have been upheld and augmented beyond the example of all former times.

In humbly tendering to your Majesty, here, in our own land, an assurance of our ardent loyalty and devoted attachment to your sacred person and august House, we presume to add, that, as natives of the barony of Renfrew, an ancient inheritance of the Stewards of Scotland, we acknowledge a peculiar tie of allegiance and affection towards your Majesty, as the royal representative of that illustrious race.

We fervently pray that your Majesty may enjoy the blessing of health, and that you may long reign over a free, a loyal, and a prosperous people.

Signed in our name, by our Dean of Faculty, and sealed with our corporation seal, at Paisley, the 13th day of August 1822.

ROB. CALDWELL, D. F.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Edinburgh, humbly presume to offer the expression of our most faithful attachment to your Majesty's royal person; and our most sincere and heartfelt congratulations on this joyful occasion of your Majesty's gracious visit to your ancient dominions of Scotland.

Your Majesty being the first sovereign of these realms who has visited Scotland since the union of the kingdoms, affords a special mark of your royal favour and condescension; and will make an indelible impression on the hearts of your Majesty's faithful people in this part of the realm. From the highest to the lowest, there is but one tone of congratulation, one universal voice of gladness and of cordial welcome.

It is a peculiar happiness reserved for us to see your Majesty landing upon our shores, and occupying the ancient palace of your renowned ancestors. It recalls to all true Scotsmen the grateful recollection of old times, when the personal presence of the monarch was wont to animate our forefathers to the noblest acts of valour and patriotism.

Truly grateful for this affectionate mark of your Majesty's royal notice, we shall ever pray that your Majesty's life may be long preserved for the happiness and welfare of the British empire.

Signed by our preses, in our name and by our appointment, at Edinburgh, this 5th day of August 1822 years.

LOTHIAN, P.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

We, the Noblemen, Justices of the Peace, Freeholders, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Roxburgh, humbly beg leave to offer our heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's arrival in your ancient kingdom of Scotland.

Whilst we rejoice in an event which has diffused general satisfaction over this part of your great empire, we cannot but reflect on the manifold improvements in our country since we were last honoured with the presence of our Sovereign; and we gratefully acknowledge, that, under Divine Providence, we chiefly owe the blessings which we enjoy as a nation to the benign government of your Majesty and your august predecessors. But more especially we reflect, with pride and gratitude, on the wisdom and firmness of your Majesty's councils, which, aided by the loyalty, the skill, and the courage of your fleets and armies, brought to a glorious conclusion the most eventful war in which the nation ever was engaged, and established your empire in peace and security.

We justly appreciate the paternal care which has induced your Majesty to visit this remote part of your united empire; and we are happy in assuring your Majesty of the sincere attachment and devoted loyalty of all ranks of your subjects in the district with which we are connected.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, in a County Meeting, at Jedburgh, the 6th day of August 1822 years.

LOTHIAN.

May it please your Majesty,

We, the Magistrates and Town-Council of the royal burgh of Selkirk, for ourselves, and as representing the community of the said burgh, beg leave humbly to approach your Majesty, and to express our most sincere congratulations on your Majesty's visiting this part of the united kingdom. It is most gratifying to us to behold Scotland, and its metropolis, and the ancient house of Holyrood, the palace of an illustrious race of Kings, once more graced by the presence of our Sovereign. That your visit may be equally gratifying to your Majesty,—that your Majesty may always reflect on it with pleasure,—and that you may enjoy a long life of prosperity and happiness, is the sincere wish of your Majesty's loyal subjects, the Magistrates, Town-Council, and community of the royal burgh of Selkirk.

Signed by the Magistrates, by appointment, and in presence of the Council, and the seal of the burgh also affixed in its presence, at Selkirk, the 7th day of August 1822 years.

ANDW. LANG, Chief Magistrate.

THOS. ANDERSON, Bailie.

WALTER HOGG, Dean of Guild.

THOMAS THOMSON, Treasurer.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

We, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Deputy-Lieutenants of the County of Ross, venture to approach your Majesty's most sacred person with the expression of our deepest respect. We congratulate your Majesty upon your most auspicious and welcome arrival in the capital of your ancient kingdom of Scotland, and hail with delight this flattering testimony of your Majesty's confidence in the loyalty of the inhabitants of this part of your dominions. Our national pride is exalted in having among us, in your Majesty's august person, the lineal descendant of our ancient and native race of kings.

Sensible of the manifold blessings which, as a nation, we have enjoyed under the mild and free government of the august House of Brunswick, we fervently pray for a continuance of them under the same happy auspices; and, in a more particular manner, we earnestly pray for your Majesty's personal welfare and safety. We humbly trust that your Majesty's present auspicious visit will prove a blessing to this part of your dominions, and lead to similar and frequent instances of your Majesty's gracious condescension; while, at the same time, we confidently assure your Majesty, that the most perfect loyalty and attachment for your Majesty's person and family pervade the inhabitants of this large and populous county.

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most faithful, affectionate, and devoted subjects.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and by our appointment, by ALEX. FRASER, Preses.

Dingwall, 13th August 1822.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty,

The most dutiful and loyal Address of the Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and other Heritors of the County of Ross.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's loyal and affectionate subjects, the Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and other Heritors of the county of Ross, in a general meeting assembled, beg leave to approach your Majesty with a tender of our most grateful thanks for your Majesty's royal paternal condescension in visiting your ancient kingdom of Scotland.

We gladly embrace this opportunity of congratulating your Majesty on an event which has afforded the most cordial satisfaction to your Majesty's subjects in Scotland, and which we do humbly view as a proof of the estimation in which your Majesty has at all times been graciously pleased to hold the attachment, loyalty, and services of your faithful people in this part of your united kingdom.

That your Majesty's present auspicious visit may lead to similar instances of your Majesty's gracious condescension, which cannot fail of being ever attended with the happiest results; that your Majesty may, under the blessing of Divine Pro-
