

Edinburgh Gazette.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY.

FROM FRIDAY, AUGUST 23, TO TUESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1822.

HOLYROOD HOUSE—August 24, 1822.

His Majesty has been pleased to direct letters-patent to be passed under the Great Seal of the united kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, for granting the dignity of a Baronet of the said united kingdom to the Right Honourable William Arbuthnot, Lord Provost of the City of Edinburgh, and to the heirs-male of his body lawfully begotten.

MEMORANDUM.

August 24, 1822.

The Earl of Erroll, by the special command of His Majesty, and in virtue of his office of Hereditary Lord High Constable of Scotland, rode upon His Majesty's right hand, in the Procession from Holyrood House to the Castle of Edinburgh, on the 22d instant.

The following Addresses to the King having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Robert Peel, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, were presented by him to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously.

Unto the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful subjects, the Magistrates and Town-Council and Inhabitants of the incorporated Burgh of Mussleburgh, cordially embrace this auspicious occasion of expressing our warmest congratulations upon your Majesty's arrival among your subjects of Scotland. We rejoice to behold the descendant and representative of an ancient race of kings in the country of his forefathers and in the palace of his ancestors.

We acknowledge with proud satisfaction the high honour which, in common with all our countrymen, we derive by this favoured visit from a Monarch whose race is deservedly so exalted among the Sovereigns of the world. As your Majesty is thus highly distinguished abroad, so are you equally conspicuous at home, by the devoted loyalty and attachment of a numerous and grateful people. Scotland has been long pre-eminent in zeal towards your Majesty's government, and in affection towards your Majesty's person. On many a well-tryed occasion, whether by land or by sea, her sons have proved their native hardihood and courage, and their devoted attachment to their constitution and to their king. Gladly do they now unite with heart and tongue in offering to your Majesty an enthusiastic welcome. We trust that the impression which your Majesty may receive on this occasion will be favourable to the character and to the spirit of the people of Scotland. Then may we hope to see the ancient palace of Holyrood visited again and often by our beloved Sovereign, and her halls illumined as of old by the pomp and beauty of a court.

We earnestly beg that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to accept of these our imperfect expressions of joy and of welcome on this happy occasion; and to believe that we feel the sincerest devotion and loyalty towards your Majesty's person and family, as well as an inviolable attachment to the religion, liberty, and laws which we enjoy under our excellent constitution. We pray that your Majesty may be long preserved to be a blessing and protection to the people of this country, who enjoy so much real happiness under the mild and paternal influence of your Majesty's government.

Signed in our name, by our appointment, and in our presence, and the seal of the Burgh is hereto affixed, this 12th day of August 1822.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Brethren of the Lodges in the Southern Province of Free Masonry in Scotland, in Provincial Grand Lodge assembled, with the highest veneration for your Majesty's sacred person and government, beg leave most humbly to approach your Majesty with our warmest congratulations on this your gracious visit to the capital of your ancient kingdom of Scotland. This distinguished mark of your Majesty's regard impresses us with a deep sense of those blessings which, under the paternal sway of your Majesty, we, in common with our fellow-subjects, so largely enjoy. Our affection for your Majesty, and a long experience of the many liberties, both civil and religious, of which we are justly proud, will strengthen our attachment to that glorious constitution by which those liberties are secured to us, and of which your Majesty is the great corner-stone.

As Free Masons, we owe to your Majesty a debt of gratitude, which we can never repay by any exertion, however strenuous; for whilst Free Masonry has been persecuted in foreign countries, and its motives misrepresented, it has found in your Majesty's dominions a safe retreat and a hallowed asylum. This institution, which has for its object the practice of every Christian virtue, has obtained in your Majesty not only a powerful Protector, but a beneficent and enlightened Patron.

Identified as is your Majesty's reign with a continuance of our national and Masonic prosperity, our earnest prayer is, that your Majesty may long fill the throne of your illustrious ancestors, and sway the sceptre over a free, a loyal, and an affectionate people.

WILLIAM MILLER,

Provincial Grand Master.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty,

We, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects,

Price Sevenpence.

the Magistrates and Town-Council of the Royal Burgh of Dunfermline, beg leave to approach your Majesty's throne, declaring our firm and constant attachment to your Majesty's sacred person and your illustrious family and government.

We most sincerely congratulate your Majesty on your happy arrival in the capital of your ancient kingdom of Scotland.

We humbly beg leave to represent to your Majesty, that Dunfermline was for several centuries the place of birth, residence, and interment of many of your Majesty's illustrious ancestors, Kings of Scotland; and that to this day there still remain many relicts of its former magnificence, such as the ruins of the Palace, Abbey, and Cathedral, which the Magistrates and Council humbly submit might be interesting to your Majesty to see, if it were consistent with your Majesty's gracious intentions to honour this ancient town of Dunfermline with a visit.

We conclude with expressing our most earnest wishes for a long, happy, and glorious reign to your Majesty over this free and loyal country.

Unto the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and whole Members of Council, and Inhabitants of your Majesty's Royal Burgh of Stranraer.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and whole Members of Council, and Inhabitants of the Royal Burgh of Stranraer, humbly approach your Majesty, to express to your Majesty our most sincere attachment, and to offer our congratulations on your Majesty's safe arrival in the capital of your ancient kingdom of Scotland.

Deeply sensible of the blessings which we and the kingdom at large have enjoyed under the mild reign of your Majesty, and of your august House, we do not fail most humbly to implore Almighty God, that he may be pleased, in his infinite mercy, long to preserve your Majesty to be the father of your people, and the patron and protector of every thing that can tend to their happiness and prosperity.

Unto the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty, The humble Address of the Chief Magistrate, Bailies, Councillors, and Deacons of Trades of his Majesty's Royal Burgh of Culross.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Chief Magistrate, Bailies, Councillors, and Deacons of Trades of your Majesty's Royal Burgh of Culross, humbly approach your Majesty with our most heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's safe arrival in the metropolis of your Majesty's ancient kingdom of Scotland.

Deeply impressed with the blessings which we and our fathers have enjoyed under your Majesty and your august House, we fervently pray that Almighty God may long preserve your Majesty to be the guardian of the rights and privileges of your subjects,—the enlightened Monarch of a loyal, an affectionate, and a free people.

To his Most Excellent Majesty George the Fourth, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your loyal and dutiful subjects, the United Incorporations of Wrights, Masons, and six other Trades incorporated with them, commonly known by the name of the United Incorporations of Mary's Chapel of the City of Edinburgh, beg leave to approach your Majesty with the most sincere expression of our congratulation and welcome on your Majesty's arrival in your ancient kingdom of Scotland. While we acknowledge with gratitude the inestimable blessings of peace and rational freedom which we have so long enjoyed under the benevolent sway of your Majesty and your illustrious House; we yet feel that all our privileges are enhanced and elevated by your Majesty's actual presence among us; and when we behold a great Monarch once more adorning the palace of our ancient Kings, we cannot but join in the general enthusiasm of loyalty which an event so auspicious, has spread over all ranks in this part of the united empire. In the universal expression of this feeling which now pervades all classes of your Majesty's Scottish subjects, your Majesty will see proofs that cannot be mistaken, both of their general devotion and attachment to your royal person, and of the deep sense which they entertain of the high honour conferred on their native land by your Majesty's memorable visit. That this visit may redound to the happiness and glory of your Majesty; that your Majesty may enjoy every blessing in the free society of your people; that your Majesty may return to the seat of empire with increased energy and health; and that Almighty Providence may long preserve your Majesty to fill the place of your royal ancestors, is our humble but most fervent and ardent prayer.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Brethren of Lodge Greenock St John, No. 176.

May it please your Majesty,

We, the Master, Wardens, and Brethren of Lodge Greenock St John, No. 176, holding of the Grand Lodge of Scotland, being in full Lodge assembled, would most sincerely beg to approach your Majesty to offer our congratulations on your visit to Scotland; and to evince those sentiments of loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's person, family, and government, which we always entertain and cherish.

We hail with joy the period, so near at hand, when your Majesty will, for a time, preside over and hold your Court in the Scottish metropolis; and although distant therefrom, we feel as men and as brethren the great honour thus conferred on your Scottish subjects.

We are proud in being the subjects of a great, wise, and mighty monarch, whom we trust God will long preserve to reign in peace and prosperity over a free, a loyal, and a happy people; and to preside over a Lodge, whose study it is to evince a brotherly affection for all mankind; which is the earnest prayer of your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Brethren of Lodge Greenock St John, No. 176.

Unto the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty,

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Members of the Medical and Chirurgical Association of Greenock.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Members of the Medical and Chirurgical Association of Greenock, impressed with sentiments of the deepest veneration for your Majesty's sacred person, embrace the earliest opportunity of humbly offering our heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's arrival in your Kingdom of Scotland.

Conscious of the blessings, civil and religious, which we have the happiness to enjoy under your Majesty's protection; remembering with gratitude the paternal care and affection you have have so uniformly manifested to your people; and relying on the wisdom and energy of your Majesty, we look forward, with confidence to the speedy and complete restoration of the prosperity of our country.

That patronage which your Majesty has hitherto so liberally extended to the arts and sciences cannot but command our grateful acknowledgements, while we anticipate the certainty of their rapid advancement under the fostering influence of your Majesty's gracious protection.

We unite with our countrymen in humbly, yet joyfully, presenting this offering of our love and gratitude to a Sovereign who so deservedly reigns in the affections of his people.

May the Almighty Disposer of all good abundantly bless your Majesty, and long preserve you to reign over a loyal, a free, and a happy people.

Signed and sealed in the name and by the appointment of the association, by our President, at Greenock, the 16th day of August 1822 years.

To the KING'S most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Society of Solicitors in the Supreme Courts of Scotland, incorporated by royal charter, participating in the heartfelt joy diffused through all ranks by your Majesty's presence, humbly beg leave to offer our warmest congratulations on your Majesty's arrival in the metropolis of this ancient kingdom.

Visited for the first time by a Monarch of the illustrious House of Brunswick, it is most gratifying to your Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects in this part of your Majesty's dominions to behold in your Majesty's royal person the lineal descendant of their ancient Scottish Kings.

Deeply impressed with a grateful sense of the blessings we enjoy under the mild and paternal, yet firm and effective government of a Prince whose chief happiness consists in promoting that of his people, we beg leave humbly to lay at the foot of your Majesty's throne this assurance of our loyalty and devoted attachment to your Majesty's royal person and government, and to that excellent constitution, which, administered in all its purity under your Majesty's auspices, insures to us the impartial administration of just and equal laws, and that full measure of rational liberty which alone is consistent with the structure of civilized society.

To his Most Gracious Majesty George the Fourth, King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland,

The humble and dutiful Address of the Nine Incorporated Trades of the Town of Leith.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Members of the Nine Incorporated Trades of the Town of Leith, approach your Majesty, with sentiments of veneration and respect, to tender our most sincere congratulations on your Majesty's arrival in your ancient kingdom of Scotland.

In the breast of every Scotsman your Majesty's visit must excite feelings of gratitude and joy; but we, in particular, never can forget the distinguished honour conferred on us, by your Majesty having, on your arrival in this country, first set foot in your ancient and loyal Town of Leith,—an honour that has raised in our breasts feelings of gratitude, which no circumstance can eradicate.

In such a time as this, when expressions of dutiful congratulation are pouring in from all descriptions of your Majesty's subjects, we are unwilling to obtrude on your Majesty's notice; but we cannot omit the present opportunity of renewing our assurance of loyalty and respect for your Majesty's person and family, and of assuring your Majesty that it is our sincere desire that your Majesty may long enjoy every comfort which this life can bestow, and that a Prince of the illustrious House of Brunswick may continue to the latest posterity to reign over the free, loyal, and happy people of these realms.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates and Council of the ancient and royal burgh of Dysart, beg leave humbly to approach your Majesty with sentiments of the highest respect and attachment, and to offer our sincerest wishes for the welfare of your Majesty's sacred person and the prosperity of the government of these realms.

While we beg to assure your Majesty of the happiness and satisfaction which the gracious and condescending visit of your Majesty to Scotland has afforded us, feelings which must pervade the mind of every loyal subject of this kingdom, we hail your Majesty's arrival amongst us as an event eminently calculated to call forth all those feelings of warm and devoted attachment which distinguish the inhabitants of this your Majesty's ancient kingdom.

In common with your Majesty's other dutiful and loyal subjects, we avail ourselves of the present opportunity, in renewing the assurance of our firm attachment to your royal House, and to the principles of our glorious constitution, under which we enjoy so many distinguished civil and religious privileges; and we pray God, by whom King's reign, long to preserve your Majesty in health and happiness, to reign over a free and loyal people; and that these invaluable privileges may be handed down unimpaired to the latest posterity.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates, Town-Council, Heritors, and Burgesses of the Royal Burgh of Kinghorn, in Head Court assembled, beg leave to congratulate your Majesty on your visit to your Kingdom of Scotland; and to express our wish, that, on such an occasion, the conduct of your Majesty's subjects in this part of the empire will be worthy of themselves, as a free and a loyal people.

We have also to renew to your Majesty the assurances of our loyalty and attachment; and to state our firm conviction, that we have been relieved of many ancient grievances, and that we enjoy many blessings, in consequence of your Majesty's illustrious House having been established on the throne of these realms.

Subscribed in our name and by our appointment, by Robert Whyte, Esquire, our Provost, and John Glass, Esquire, our Oldest Bailie, the Magistrates presiding at the Head Court, and sealed with the Burgh seal, at Kinghorn, on the 10th day of August in the year 1822.

We, the Deacon-Covener, Deacons, and other Office-bearers of the Incorporated Trades of the Royal Burgh of Kirkcaldy, humbly beg leave to lay before your Majesty the assurance of our devoted attachment to your Majesty's most sacred person and government, and to offer our heartfelt acknowledgments for the honour which your Majesty has been graciously pleased to pay to the subjects of this part of your dominions by the present mark of your paternal regard in coming to visit them.

We beg to assure your Majesty, that however humble our situation, as connected with the representation of Scotland, there is no corporate body in your kingdoms more firmly attached to your Majesty's person, family, and government, or which holds in greater estimation the mild and equitable principles which have always swayed the councils of your Majesty, and of the ancestors of your royal House.

Most Gracious Sovereign and Revered Patron,

We, your Majesty's most loyal and faithful subjects, the Master, Wardens, and Brethren of the Lodge of Free Masons St. Andrew, in the city of St. Andrews, beg leave, along with our brethren of the mystic tie, and the rest of our fellow-subjects in Scotland, to approach the throne of the most exalted and beneficent of kings, with the most cordial expressions of loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's person and government, and of congratulations on your Majesty's safe arrival in the metropolis of your ancient kingdom of Scotland.

Sire, We feel ourselves at a loss for language to express our feelings on this auspicious day; but the poet and historian will tell posterity, that your loyal subjects, residing in the heath-clad mountains of Caledonia, and inhabiting the fertile plains along the banks of the Tay, the Forth, the Clyde, and the Tweed, all united in an universal acclamation of joy and gladness, that their beloved Sovereign, the illustrious descendant of a long race of Scottish kings, is now seated in the palace of his ancestors, surrounded by the posterity of those loyal and brave men who, often at the expense of their lives and property, supported the throne, and preserved the liberties of their country.

May the Sovereign of the Universe, by whom kings reign, and at whose command the fair fabric of the creation arose, the pillars of the earth stood up, and the sublime arch of heaven expanded over the terrestrial globe, ever preside over your Majesty's councils. That your Majesty may enjoy a long, a happy, and prosperous reign, over a free, a loyal, and enlightened people, and that when you are divested of the honourable robes which you now wear, you may exchange an earthly for a heavenly crown, is the hearts desire and earnest prayer of, May it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Master and Wardens and Brethren of the Lodge St. Andrew, in the city of St. Andrews.

The most loyal and dutiful Address of the Masonic Lodges of the County of Fife.

May it please your Majesty,

We, the Masters, Wardens, and Brethren of the Masonic Lodges of St. John of Kirkaldy, St. Andrew of Crail, Ceres of Ceres, Elgin of Leven, St. Leonard of Kinghorn, St. Ayles of Anstruther, St. Cyrs of Auchtermuchty, St. Bryce of Kirkaldy, the Eden Operative, the Fifeshire Militia, St. Adrean of Pittenweem, Union and St. John of Dunfermline, Lindores of Newburgh, and St. Regulus of Cupar, in the county of Fife, most dutifully approach your Majesty with the expression of our sincere congratulations on the happy event of your Majesty's visit to this your ancient kingdom of Scotland.

In common with all our fellow-subjects, it is with no ordinary satisfaction that we seize this auspicious occasion to convey to your Majesty, the gracious Patron of our Order, our full participation in those sentiments of dutiful and loyal attachment to your royal person and government which have always eminently distinguished the Brethren of our Order throughout your Majesty's dominions.

We are profoundly sensible of the blessings which we derive from the enjoyment of civil and religious liberty; and we can never forget that these blessings were mainly secured to us and our fellow-subjects by the accession of your illustrious House to the throne of these realms.

We beg most dutifully to assure your Majesty, that we are deeply impressed with a sense of the many advantages which we enjoy under your Majesty's beneficent sway; and we earnestly pray that your Majesty and your royal House may ever continue to rule over a great, a free, and a happy people.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the royal Burgh of Kirkaldy, beg leave humbly to approach your Majesty with sentiments of the most profound loyalty and attachment to your sacred person and government.

We offer our hearty congratulations upon your Majesty's arrival in this your ancient kingdom of Scotland; and while we are sure that in it your Majesty will find yourself surrounded by a loyal and affectionate people, we rejoice to think that that loyalty and affection has been so amply rewarded by the kindness which your Majesty has been graciously pleased to bestow upon them, in honouring the land of their birth with your present paternal visit. It affords us an additional proof of your Majesty's regard and affection, and of that mild and equitable government which has ever distinguished your royal House; and we pray God that your Majesty may be long spared in health to occupy and adorn your illustrious station.

We should have been tempted to solicit the high honour of laying these our sentiments at the foot of the throne, through the medium of a deputation of our number, but for the press of loyalty which your Majesty will necessarily have to encounter amidst the people of this country. This consideration has induced us to transmit this humble tribute of our respect to be laid before your Majesty; and we humbly trust it will meet with your Majesty's gracious reception.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

The Celtic Society, instituted for encouraging the use of the ancient garb of the Highlands of Scotland, and for preserving the characteristics of Highlanders, offer their zealous and humble homage to your Majesty on your arrival in the kingdom of your ancestors. There was a period when the appearance of the Highland garb and weapons in the palace of Holyrood became the prelude to a long train of national misfortunes, one consequence of which, perhaps not the slightest to an ancient and high-spirited people, was the legal prohibition of their ancient habit, and of the arms which belong to it. The paternal goodness of your Majesty's royal father, obliterating all painful recollections of past sorrows and errors, restored to his Highlanders their native dress and their weapons, which had ever been drawn with loyal intentions, though with mistaken views. It is our highest pride to evince that this generous confidence, which we well know was bequeathed to your Majesty by that excellent and venerable parent, our late revered Sovereign, has not been misplaced; and that as we now offer your Majesty our armed attendance in honorary homage, so, when your service requires it, our swords and lives are at your Majesty's command.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Goldsmiths of the City of Edinburgh, incorporated by royal charter, humbly approach your Majesty with sentiments of the most profound respect, and with sincere attachment to your Majesty's person, family, and government.

We are highly grateful for the manifold blessings which we, in common with our fellow subjects, have so long enjoyed under the mild and paternal sway of the House of Brunswick, and in a particular manner for that civil and religious liberty, which is the proud boast and distinction of the people of this country, and in the continuance of which we securely repose, under your Majesty's regard for those sacred principles which raised your illustrious family to the throne of these realms.

We hail your Majesty's arrival in the metropolis of your ancient kingdom, and sincerely and heartily participate in the general joy and satisfaction which your Majesty's gracious presence has diffused through all orders of your Scottish subjects. Although ages have now elapsed since this part of your Majesty's dominions was honoured by a visit of its Sovereign, we may be allowed to assure your Majesty, that the loyalty and affection of your subjects in this land to the King and government, are as ardent and unshaken as in any quarter of the empire, founded as they are upon a deep and sincere conviction of the invaluable and unrivalled privileges which, under your Majesty's constitutional and benign influence, it is our happiness to possess.

That your Majesty may long reign over a prosperous, united, and free people, is the earnest prayer of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Incorporation of Goldsmiths of the City of Edinburgh.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town-Council of the Burgh of Whithorn.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's very loyal and dutiful subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of your royal burgh of Whithorn, humbly beg leave to approach the throne, and offer our sincere and hearty congratulations on your Majesty's safe arrival in your ancient kingdom of Scotland.

Venerating the laws and constitution of our country, we should be insensible, indeed, if we did not embrace the present as a joyful and fitting occasion for expressing our warmest attachment to your Majesty, and to that illustrious House, which, at a most critical period of our history, guaranteed the rights and privileges of the British empire.

That your Majesty may long be preserved, for the purpose of reigning over a brave, free, and happy people, is the prayer of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects.

By order and in name and behalf of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town-Council of the Burgh of Whithorn.

JOHN MILROY, Town Clerk.

May it please your Majesty,

We, the Master, Assistants, and Corporation of the Trinity House of Leith, beg permission to approach the throne with the renewed expression of our attachment and loyalty to your Majesty's person and government.

Long deprived, by our local situation, of the honour and advantage which attend the presence of royalty, it is with no small satisfaction that we greet your Majesty's arrival in the ancient capital of your Majesty's ancestors, to receive the homage and congratulations of an affectionate people, as well as to extend to them that paternal regard upon which they set so high a value.

Attached as we are, in common with our fellow-countrymen, to monarchical government, as recognized by our admirable constitution, and venerating, as we do, the principles of hereditary succession, as established by the law of the land, we give a most cordial and dutiful welcome to your Majesty, now occupying the palace of our ancient Sovereigns, as the first of that illustrious House, which placed the civil and religious liberty of the subject on a firm and secure foundation, who has deigned to honour Scotland with his personal countenance and patronage.

That your Majesty may long reign over the powerful empire, of which the sceptre has been by Divine Providence committed to your hands, and enjoy the love and duty of a happy, a devoted, and an united people, is the prayer of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most devoted and faithful subjects, the Master, Assistants, and Corporation of the Trinity House of Leith.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble and dutiful Address of the Magistrates and Council of the City of Brechin.

May it please your Majesty,

We, the Magistrates and Town-Council of the City of Brechin, as representing the whole community of the said city, beg leave to approach your Majesty, as dutiful and loyal subjects, to express our grateful sense of the happiness we enjoy under your Majesty's paternal care and government.

We also humbly beg leave to offer our unfeigned congratulation, (the universal sentiment of our countrymen), and to hail your Majesty's gracious visit to Scotland with hearty welcome,—happy and propitious to your Majesty and the country.

Permit us only farther to assure your Majesty of our steady loyalty and attachment to your royal House, person, and government, and our determination to support the crown and dignity of these realms.

Signed by appointment of the Magistrates and Council of the City of Brechin, and the corporation seal of the City affixed, this 8th day of August 1822 years.

COLIN GILLIES, Provost.

[Transmitted by Lord Gillies.]

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and affectionate subjects, the Magistrates and Council of the united royal burghs of Fortrose and Rosemarky, eagerly embrace this opportunity of approaching the throne, to renew the assurance of our cordial attachment and unshaken fidelity to your Majesty's person, family, and government, and to unite with the rest of our countrymen in the expression of our gratitude and delight at your Majesty's visit to this part of your dominions; and though at some distance from our metropolis, we consider the honour as paid to the whole of Scotland, by your Majesty's taking up your court at Holyrood-house, the ancient palace of your Majesty's royal progenitors,— an epoch in the history of this country which cannot fail to excite the liveliest emotions in the breast of every Scotsman.

After the lapse of many ages, the people of Scotland have the high satisfaction of seeing among them, and for the first time, a Sovereign of the House of Brunswick, whose dignified character and personal conduct in the government of the empire have secured the affection of all his subjects, and raised the British name to the highest estimation among the surrounding nations it has yet attained.

That your Majesty may long continue so glorious a reign, and that this country may enjoy, under the mild and paternal sway of your Majesty, the same happiness, and continue to possess the invaluable rights and privileges of the British constitution unimpaired, is our ardent wish and prayer.

At Fortrose, 5th August 1822.

[Transmitted by Colonel Mair, the Deputy-Governor of Fort-George.]

To his Most Excellent Majesty, King George the Fourth, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland King, Defender of the Faith, &c.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town-Council of the Royal Burgh of Forres.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town-Council of the royal burgh of Forres, beg leave, at this auspicious juncture, to approach the throne, with the expression of our sincere and ardent congratulations on the presence of your Majesty in the capital of your ancient Kingdom of Scotland.

Impressed with the fullest sense of the many benefits conferred upon our favoured country by your Majesty and your illustrious House, we hail with every fond anticipation this most gracious visit, which we humbly and dutifully hope will conduce no less to the personal satisfaction of your Majesty than to the pride and gratification of your faithful subjects.

That your Majesty may long reign in the hearts of an united and loyal people, and that, under your royal auspices, the British name may be exalted, and the happiness and prosperity of these Kingdoms promoted, we most earnestly pray.

Signed at Forres, this 15th day of August 1822, in our presence, and by our appointment, and the seal of the burgh is hereto annexed, by WILLIAM GRANT, Provost.

[Transmitted by the Honourable Colonel Grant of Grant, M. P.]

To the KING.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the United Associate Presbytery of Edinburgh, beg leave to approach the throne, to express our most cordial congratulations on your Majesty's safe and propitious arrival in the capital of your ancient kingdom of Scotland.

In you, Sire, we behold, with the most heartfelt pleasure, the descendant of our Scottish Kings,—the legitimate successor to their ancient throne,—and the faithful guardian of the constitutional rights and privileges of all your Majesty's subjects.

We deem it a high honour to have this opportunity of acknowledging the share which we, as a religious body, have enjoyed in the blessings of the auspicious reign of your Majesty, as well as that of your predecessors of the illustrious House of Brunswick, which has preserved to us inviolate both our civil and religious liberties. And we hasten to place in your Majesty's hands the solemn pledges of a faithful and inviolable attachment to your Majesty's person and government,—to which not only our inclination and interest, but our avowed principles, and the sacred ties of gratitude and of conscience, bind us.

In these expressions of our devoted attachment to your Majesty's person and government, we faithfully convey the sentiments and feelings of nearly three hundred ministers, settled throughout the kingdom, who compose, with their elders, the Synod of our United Secession Church, but who, from the want of sufficient time to convene them, according to our Presbyterian forms, are prevented, on the present emergency, from that personal expression of loyal attachment to your Majesty, which they would have accounted their honour, their duty, and their pleasure.

Before we retire from your Majesty's presence, permit us, with all humility, to express the satisfaction we feel in being the descendants of forefathers in the ministry, who, along with their people, during a troublesome period of the Scottish history, were the strenuous asserters and defenders, both in the pulpit and in the field, of the rightful claims of the illustrious House of Hanover, in opposition to the rival claims of another family. Nor shall we cease to inculcate the same loyal principles which animated them on all who shall place themselves within the sphere of our public ministrations, and of our private and personal influence.

May the God who giveth salvation to Kings preserve your Majesty in safety in all your excursions by sea and by land. May your Majesty continue to reign in the hearts of a free, an affectionate, and a loyal people. And may your Majesty, at a very late period, be advanced, through the merits and intercession of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, to a throne of Glory in the Kingdom of Heaven.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, at Edinburgh, this 6th day of August 1822 years.

JAMES HALL, Moderator.

[Transmitted by the Moderator.]

Unto his Most Excellent Majesty George the Fourth, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates and Town-Council of your ancient Borough of Dunbar, in common Council assembled, humbly approach the throne, with hearts full of joy and delight, at your Majesty's presence in this your ancient kingdom of Scotland, to express our unvariable attachment to your Majesty's sacred person and government, and most ardent wish, that your Majesty may long fill the imperial throne of these kingdoms, in the full enjoyment of that devoted attachment, with which your Majesty's uniform benignity and exalted virtues have so universally inspired the minds of a loyal and an enlightened people.

Signed in our name and presence, and by our appointment, in the Council House of Dunbar, the 14th August 1822.

WILL. HUME, Provost.

Aberdeen, 6th August 1822.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

We, the Convener, Master of Hospital, Deacons, and other Members of the Seven Incorporated Trades of Aberdeen, would approach your Majesty, and offer the expression of our sincere congratulation on your safe arrival in the capital of your ancient and loyal kingdom of Scotland.

Your Majesty has been the only Monarch who for a long series of years has been graciously pleased to take up your abode in the ancient Palace of a distinguished line of ancestors, and to favour this kingdom with your royal presence. We are, therefore, called on in a particular manner, along with our fellow-subjects in this part of the united kingdom, to express our gratitude for this distinguished honour conferred on our native land.

Scotland will long remember the happy day when your Majesty set a foot on her shores, and gratified her loyal and faithful inhabitants by the presence of their illustrious Sovereign.

We rejoice at the opportunity afforded us of manifesting our respectful attachment to your Majesty's sacred person in our native land; and earnestly pray, that length of days and health in abundance may be granted, to enable your Majesty again and again to repeat a visit to your ancient kingdom.

Signed in name and by appointment of the Seven Incorporated Trades of Aberdeen, in common Hall assembled.

A. HARPER, Convener.

[Transmitted by the Convener.]

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town-Councillors of the Royal and very ancient Burgh of Inverkeithing, assembled in a special Council, beg leave to approach your Majesty's throne with the assurances of our unalterable attachment to your Majesty's sacred person, and to your illustrious family and government.

We embrace with heartfelt joy the opportunity afforded to us by your Majesty's presence in this part of Great Britain, to offer our cordial and heartfelt congratulations to your Majesty on your arrival in the capital of your ancient kingdom of Scotland; and to express our earnest wish, that your Majesty's reign may be long, prosperous, and happy, over a loyal, free, and united people.

Signed in name, and by appointment, of the Magistrates and Town-Council of Inverkeithing.

JA. STUART, Provost.

[Transmitted by the Provost.]

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty;

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Presbytery of Stranraer.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Stranraer, beg leave most respectfully to approach your Majesty with our heartfelt congratulations upon the auspicious occasion of your arrival in this part of your dominions.

We humbly hope that we may be permitted to join with the unanimous voice of our countrymen, in expressing the pleasure and the pride which we feel, when we know that the ancient metropolis of our country, and the ancient residence of her Kings, are honoured with the presence of a Sovereign, whose person is endeared to his subjects by many great and amiable qualities,—a Sovereign of that illustrious family, whose accession to the British Throne has been accompanied with many signal advantages to the people of Scotland; and we rejoice in the persuasion, that the feelings of loyalty with which it has ever been the honour of your Scottish Subjects to regard your Majesty, will derive additional power from those dignified and grateful sentiments and recollections which will flow from your present most gracious and welcome visit.

That your Majesty may long be happy in receiving those genuine expressions of attachment to your person, family, and government, which your subjects in every part of your united kingdom vie with one another in offering before your throne; that you may long continue the beloved Sovereign of a people, united, and free, and happy; and that after a reign of prosperity and glory upon earth, you may obtain that crown of glory which fadeth not away, are the earnest prayers of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most faithful and most loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Stranraer.

Signed in our name, and at our appointment, by WILLIAM ROSE, Moderator.

HOLYROOD HOUSE—August 17, 1822.

The following Addresses were this day presented to the King, which his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.—

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, the Royal Botanic Institution of Glasgow, beg leave to approach your Majesty with our cordial congratulations on your arrival in Scotland, which we hail as one of the most auspicious events in the annals of that ancient kingdom.

Honoured in being the first Society the royal favour has planted here for the cultivation of a science pre-eminently useful in every situation of our country, we rejoice in this opportunity of testifying our devoted attachment to the person, family, and government of your august Majesty, the illustrious patron of all the arts and sciences by which kingdoms flourish.

May your Majesty be graciously pleased to receive our homage.

And that Heaven may long prosper and preserve your Majesty, to rule and cherish a free, a learned, and grateful people, is the fervent prayer of your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the President and Members of the Royal Botanic Institution of Glasgow.

Signed in name and behalf of the said Institution, and their common seal affixed hereto, at Glasgow, the 6th day of August 1822.

HENRY MONTEITH, P.

THOMAS HOPKIRK, V. P.

HY. HOULDSWORTH.

JAMES FYFFE.

JAMES CORKINDALE, M. D.

MONCRIEFF MITCHELL.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your loyal subjects, the Magistrates and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Renfrew, humbly congratulate your Majesty on visiting the Metropolis of this your ancient kingdom of Scotland, and offer our homage, and the assurance of our loyal attachment to your Majesty's person and government.

Dwelling in this your Majesty's ancient barony of Renfrew, at the site of one of the once cheerful habitations of your royal predecessors, we contemplate with veneration the numerous royal pedigree, and feel peculiarly happy in the succession of your Majesty in direct lineage to the dominion of these realms; and fervently pray, that God, the Almighty Creator, may bless your Majesty with long life, health, and happiness, to reign over a free and loyal people.

Signed by our appointment, in our name and presence, by Robert King, Esquire, Provost, and the seal of the burgh hereto affixed, at Renfrew, this 5th day of August 1822.

ROBERT KING, Provost.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign.

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the members of the Incorporated Trade of Cordwainers in the Royal Burgh of Lanark, most humbly beg leave to approach your Majesty, to renew the profession of our devoted attachment to your Majesty's person and government.

We hail with sincere and lively joy your Majesty's gracious visit to your ancient kingdom of Scotland; and while we join in the love and respect, as sincere as they are universal, which are manifested on this occasion by your subjects towards your Majesty, we exult in the knowledge, of which your gracious and peaceful visit is the assurance, that these sentiments are met by a corresponding love and favour in your royal breast.

We fondly hope that your stay among us will be attended with as much happiness and satisfaction to your Majesty as to your subjects; and that it will tend to draw yet closer the bonds of love and duty, by which your subjects are attached to your Majesty.

Signed in name and by appointment of a special meeting of the Incorporation, held at Lanark, the 10th day of August 1822 years.

WILLIAM WATSON Deacon.

Unto his Most Sacred Majesty George the Fourth, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith,

The Address of the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow, beg leave to present ourselves to your august notice, and to offer our hearty welcome on your visit to your Majesty's ancient kingdom of Scotland. Incorporated by your Majesty's royal ancestor, the first Monarch who wore the crown of both the British kingdoms, we are peculiarly called on, at the present occasion, to address your Majesty, while residing in the palace from which our charter emanated more than two centuries ago. In common with our fellow subjects, we rejoice in your Majesty's gracious and wise purpose to visit the various parts of your dominions, to renew in person the assurances of your parental regard to your subjects, and to receive from every rank in Society the most cordial demonstrations of their devoted attachment to your Majesty's person, family, and government.

That your Majesty may long live to enjoy the generous affections and homage of a grateful and loyal people, and may long continue to be venerated as the great head of our political constitution, and the guardian of our civil and religious liberties, has been, and ever will be our ardent prayer.

Signed by the Preses and Visitor, in our presence, and by our authority, the 5th day of August 1822 years, and the common seal of the Faculty affixed hereto accordingly.

JAS. MONTEATH, Preses.

GEORGE MACLEOD, Visitor.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, your Majesty's affectionate and loyal subjects, the Deacon, Collector, Masters, and other Members of the Incorporation of Weavers in the City of Glasgow, beg leave to tender to your Majesty our sincere and dutiful congratulations on your arrival in the capital of your Majesty's ancient kingdom of Scotland.

Fully convinced of the great and lasting benefits which must result to your subjects from your Majesty's gracious visit, we regard it as an additional proof of your Majesty's anxious desire to promote their welfare, and encourage their industry and happiness; and while we, in common with our fellow citizens, regret that it is inconsistent with your Majesty's present arrangements to honour our city with your presence, we trust your Majesty will on some other occasion confer that honour on us, and visit an affectionate and grateful people as frequently as shall be consistent with the necessity for your royal presence in other parts of your Majesty's empire.

In your Majesty's illustrious person we recognize the lineal descendant of a long and royal line of Scottish Princes; and while we, as an incorporation and as individuals, beg leave to assure your Majesty of our unshaken attachment to your Majesty's person and government, we trust that your Majesty's valuable life will be long spared as a blessing to your faithful subjects.

Signed in our name and presence, and by appointment, and the seal of our incorporation is hereto affixed, at Glasgow, the 7th day of August 1822 years.

WILLIAM BUCHANAN, Deacon.

JAS. WILSON, Clerk to the Incorporation.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town-Council of the Royal Burgh of Cupar, in council assembled, beg leave humbly to approach the throne on the present joyful occasion, and to renew the assurances of our unshaken loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's person and government, and at the same time to offer to your Majesty our warmest congratulations on your Majesty's arrival in the capital of your ancient Scottish kingdom.

This distinguished mark of your royal favour and condescension has excited in our minds, in common with all ranks of your Majesty's faithful subjects, one universal sentiment of joy and gratitude,—while it fondly recalls to our recollection those times when this ancient and royal burgh was frequently honoured with the presence of your Majesty's illustrious ancestors.

That this your Majesty's royal visit may be gratifying to your Majesty, and be productive of all those benefits to the kingdom which your Majesty contemplated, and that your Majesty's reign may be long and prosperous, are,

May it please your Majesty,

Our most fervent prayers.

Signed in name and by appointment of the Council, and the seal of the burgh appended, by

ANDREW CHRISTIE, Provost.

To His Most Sacred Majesty George the Fourth, King of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Majesty,

We, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and other Heritors of the County of Moray, beg leave to approach your royal presence, on the auspicious occasion of your Majesty's visit to your ancient dominions of Scotland.

Ardently attached to our country, bound to it by every tie of duty and affection, we feel proud of the honour which your Majesty has conferred upon us, by condescending to grace with the royal presence this ancient and loyal kingdom. We humbly, therefore, beg leave to join the unanimous voice of a delighted people, in welcoming a beloved monarch to the land of his ancestors.

Signed in name, presence, and by appointment of a meeting held at Elgin, on Tuesday the 6th day of August 1822, by

ARCH. DUNBAR, P.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty,
The loyal and dutiful Address of the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and other Members of the Town-Council of the City of Perth, in Common Council assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and other Members of the Town-Council of the City of Perth, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to express our most sincere congratulations on your Majesty's arrival in your ancient kingdom of Scotland. Scotia's Sors hail to her shores, with great delight, the illustrious Monarch of Brunswick's royal House who has first condescended to visit this northern part of his dominions, and will not fail to cherish with gratitude the remembrance of this gracious act of condescension, particularly gratifying to us who inhabit the ancient seat of royalty, and exciting in us the pleasing hope, that upon some future occasion, which we trust is not far distant, Perth may yet have an opportunity of welcoming within her walls the illustrious successor of those Scottish kings who delighted to dwell amongst her inhabitants.

We seize with unfeigned joy the opportunity now afforded of renewing the assurance of our dutiful and unshaken attachment to your Majesty's person, family, and government, and our firm determination to maintain and defend the principles of that glorious constitution, reared by the exertions of our fathers, and supported by the wisdom of ages, which, under your Majesty's mild and paternal government, we enjoy.

We trust your Majesty will be convinced that your Scottish subjects will yield to none in their loyalty and attachment to their King; and we offer up our fervent prayers, that your Majesty may long be preserved in health, as a blessing to these lands, and continue to reign over a free, happy, and loyal people, whose welfare has been your constant solicitude, and whose fame the wisdom and energy of your councils have raised to the highest pitch of political importance.

Signed in presence, in name, and by appointment of the Council, by the Lord Provost, and the City seal appended, at Perth, this 5th day of August 1822 years.

ROBERT ROSS,
Provost and Chief Magistrate.

To his Most Excellent Majesty, George the Fourth, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith,

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Guildry Incorporation of the City of Perth.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Guildry Incorporation of the City of Perth, beg leave to approach your Majesty, to offer our sincere congratulations on your safe arrival in the capital of your ancient kingdom of Scotland.

Impressed, as we are, with the steady, strong, and inviolable attachment to your royal person, crown, and government, which pervades all ranks and classes of your Majesty's subjects, and feeling, as we do, that nothing can prove more highly conducive to the strengthening and perpetuating of their loyalty and attachment, than your Majesty's graciously condescending to appear amongst them, it affords us matter of much regret to learn, that there is cause to fear that your Majesty's arrangements will not permit you, at this time, to visit this part of Scotland. But we will still cherish the pleasing anticipation, that, at no very distant period, your Majesty may be enabled still more widely to diffuse amongst your Scottish subjects the high gratification of being honoured with your august presence, and that this city, for centuries the regal seat of your royal ancestors, will yet again hail within its precincts a Sovereign of these realms.

Accept, most Gracious Sovereign, our renewed and solemn assurances of unalterable loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's royal person, crown, and government,—of our reverence for and obedience to the laws of our country, and of our determined resolution to resist every attempt to subvert our unrivalled constitution.

That your Majesty's health may be preserved, that you may be long spared, a blessing, under Divine Providence, to your dutiful and affectionate subjects, and that the descendants of the illustrious House of Brunswick may continue to sway the sceptre of the united empire to the latest posterity, is our most sincere and fervent prayer.

Signed in our presence and by our appointment, in a General Meeting of the Incorporation, at Perth, the 8th day of August in the year of our Lord 1822.

THOMAS BEATSON, Dean of Guild.

To his Most Excellent Majesty, George the Fourth, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith,

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Wright Incorporation of the City of Perth.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Wright Incorporation of the city of Perth, beg leave to approach your Majesty's throne with our most heartfelt congratulations on your safe arrival in the chief city of this part of your Majesty's dominions.

Most highly would we have felt gratified had your Majesty's arrangements permitted you to honour this part of Scotland with your august presence; but having cause to fear that such will not be the case at this time, permit us, Sire, humbly to express our ardent hopes, that at no very distant period the inhabitants of this ancient city, in former days the seat of royalty, will be enabled to evince, in presence of its beloved Sovereign, the sincere attachment and unfeigned loyalty which pervades every rank and class of your Majesty's subjects.

Be pleased, most gracious Sovereign, to accept of our sincere and solemn assurances of our inviolable loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's person, crown, and government, of our reverence for the laws of the land, and unalterable resolution to resist every attempt to infringe on or subvert our unrivalled constitution.

That your Majesty may be long preserved, a blessing, under Divine Providence, to your dutiful and affectionate subjects, and that the throne of these realms may be filled by descendants of the illustrious House of Brunswick, is our most sincere and fervent prayer.

Signed in our presence, and by our appointment, in a general meeting of the Incorporation, by

THOS. GIBSON, Deacon.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Haddington, in a general meeting assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Haddington, deeply impressed with feelings of respect and veneration for your Majesty, beg leave to approach your royal presence with our warmest congratulations on your safe arrival in this part of your Majesty's dominions.

With our hearts overflowing with joy and gratitude, we now behold our beloved Sovereign in the midst of his loyal subjects in his ancient kingdom of Scotland. We consider this gracious visit as a new and auspicious era in our history; and we receive it as an additional proof of your Majesty's paternal solicitude for the welfare of every portion of the British empire.

We beg leave to take this opportunity of renewing our dutiful assurances of our loyal and affectionate attachment to your Majesty's sacred person and government; and earnestly pray that your Majesty may long be preserved in health, and continue to enjoy the blessing of diffusing happiness and prosperity among a faithful and loyal people.

Signed, as preses, in name and by appointment of the meeting.

TWEEDDALE.

Haddington, 6th August 1822.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates, Dean of Guild, Convener of the Trades, and other Members of the Town-Council of the Borough of Aberbrothock, being deeply impressed with a sense of the high honour which your Majesty's presence is calculated to confer upon our native land, beg leave to approach your Majesty with our most sincere and heartfelt congratulations upon your arrival in this part of your Majesty's dominions.

While we perform the pleasing duty of expressing to your Majesty our sincere attachment to your government, and ardent affection for your family and person, we feel doubly gratified in being afforded the opportunity of doing so upon this memorable occasion, when the spontaneous voice of this kingdom is in unison with our own, and when your Majesty is in the midst of us, to witness and share our enjoyment.

We contemplate the bygone exercise of your Majesty's paternal care of your people with feelings of the deepest gratitude; and we hail this renewed instance of your Majesty's love to this country as a sure pledge of its continuance, being fully satisfied, that the beneficent disposition of your Majesty, and the accumulated experience of past ages, point alike to this conclusion, that the noblest and best support of a throne is in the affections of a people, made happy and grateful by an impartial and benign exercise of regal authority.

That your Majesty may enjoy your present northern excursion, and reap the happy fruits of your benevolent intentions, in the permanent affection of your subjects, and that your Majesty may long reign in health and peace over a free, a loyal, and a happy people, is our sincere wish and prayer.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and by our appointment, and the seal of the Borough affixed, by

JA. MARNIE, Provost.

May it please your Majesty,

The Society of Arts in Scotland, instituted during your Majesty's reign, beg leave to offer their humble congratulations on your Majesty's arrival in their metropolis.

They are encouraged to join in the general enthusiasm of loyalty, not only from the gracious pa-ronage which your Majesty has vouchsafed to the mechanical arts, but from the lustre which these arts have shed over your Majesty's reign. While obscure states have become conspicuous by the peaceful achievements of science, and powerful ones glorious by their military prowess, it has been the singular and happy destiny of Britain to found her greatness upon both, and to be as much envied for the triumphs of her industry, as she has been dreaded for the terrors of her power.

That your Majesty may long live, to foster the ingenuity and enterprise of your people, and to enjoy, in common with the lowest of your subjects, the comforts and luxuries of British industry, is the fervent prayer of this institution.

ATHOLL, President.

Unto the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble and dutiful Address of the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Perth.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Perth, at a general meeting assembled, eagerly embrace the opportunity of your Majesty's auspicious arrival in the metropolis of your ancient kingdom of Scotland, to lay before your Majesty the respectful expressions of our loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's person and government, and to testify our gratitude to your Majesty for your condescension in thus complying with the earnest wishes of the Scottish nation. Should your Majesty's leisure admit of a more extended progress through our country, we can, with confidence, assure your Majesty, that even in the most remote district you will behold your subjects animated by the most anxious and enthusiastic zeal to evince their love and veneration for a Monarch, under whose auspices the arms of the empire have attained to the highest pitch of glory, whose paternal sway has endeared him to his people, and whose descent from the illustrious race, which, from the earliest period of our history, has held the sceptre of Scotland, renders him the object of hereditary respect and attachment.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, in a general meeting of the said County assembled, this 7th day of August 1822 years.

ATHOLL, Preses.

NOTICE

TO THE CREDITORS OF

SANDEMAN TURNBULL, Merchant in Glasgow.

JOHN ROSS, Merchant in Glasgow, hereby intimates, that his appointment as Trustee on the sequestrated estate of the said Sandeman Turnbull has been confirmed by the Lord Ordinary officiating on the Bills: that the Sheriff of Lanarkshire has fixed the 9th and 23d days of September next at 11 o'clock forenoon each day, within the Sheriff-clerk's office, Glasgow, for the public examination of the bankrupt and others connected with his affairs; and that a meeting of the Creditors of the said Sandeman Turnbull is to be held on 24th September next, at two o'clock P. M., within the writing-chambers of Mr W. G. Mack, 44, Hutcheson Street; and that another meeting of the Creditors will be held, at the same place and hour, upon 7th October next, for examining the state of the bankrupt's affairs, electing Commissioners, and instructing the Trustee as to the recovery and management of the estate.

Such of the Creditors as have not already produced their claims and grounds of debt, with oaths of verity, are requested to lodge the same with the Trustee immediately; certifying, that such as fail to make such production betwixt and 25th May next, shall have no share of the first dividend.

JOHN JACKSON, House and Ornament Painter in Edinburgh, hereby intimates, that WILLIAM MITCHELL this day ceased to be his Foreman and Assistant, and has now no concern whatever in the business carried on by the said John Jackson, all connection in business between them being now at an end.

JOHN JACKSON.
