Notice of Letters of Publication, and of the Sale of the Lands and Estate of BOISDALE, in the Parish of South Uist, and Shire of Inverness.

IN the Process of Ranking and Sale at the instance of THOMAS DAVIDSON, Esquire, Surgeon in the Honourable East India Company's Service, formerly residing at Glassmount in the County of Fyfe, and now residing in Kirkaldy, against HUGH MACDONALD, Esquire, of Boisdale and Others, his Creditors, The Lords of Council and Session (First Division) by Interlocutor dated the 3d and signed the 5th day of July 1838, granted warrant for Letters of Publications and Sale of the Lands and estate of Boisdale in the County of Inverness, belonging to the said Hugh Macdonald, as described in the title-deeds, and in the Memorial and Abstract, at the Upset Price of £21,600 Sterling, and the property to be exposed to Public Roup and Sale, within the Parliament or New Session House at Edinburgh, before the Lord Ordinary officiating on the Bills for the time, upon Wednesday the 14th day of November next, between the hours of two and four in the afternoon.

JUDICIAL SALE

The ESTATE of BOISDALE.

To be Sold by public Roup within the Parliament or New Session House at Edinburgh, before

The Estate of Boisdale, in the County of Inverness, consisting of the South part of the Island of South Uist, the Island of Eriskay, and adjacent small isles.

The extent of the estate, according to a plan and measurement made out by William Bald in 1805, is 2038 94 Scots acres of arable land, and 7050 70 Scots acres of pasture moor and lochs, making a total of 9089 64 Scots acres. Since that date, however, much additional land has been brought into cultivation. There is a large Modern Mansion-house on the property, with walled garden and extensive and substantial offices.

The free Proven rental of the estate is	£1042 15 8
From which, deduct for anticipated reduction in consequence of the fall in the value of Kelp.	242 15 8
	£800 0 0

27 years purchase of which amounts to £21,600, at which sum the estate is to be exposed to Sale.

There have been about 230 tons of Kelp of excellent quality annually manufactured on the estate, from which, in former years, large profits were derived; but in bringing out the above free rental of £800, not only have all profits from kelp been left entirely out of view, but likewise, as above stated, a sum of £242 15 8 has been deducted from the actual proven rental of the land on account of the anticipated fall of rents in consequence of the low price of Kelp obliging the Tenants to abandon the manufacture of that article.

The fishings of cod, ling, and herrings, around the estate, are well known to be extremely productive and valuable; and with the advantage of many convenient harbours, would, if turned to proper account, prove a source of great profit. At Loch Boisdale, which forms part of the northern boundary of the property, there is a harbour and natural quay, to which vessels of any tonnage may resort, and there is a large Store-house erected near this harbour.

The Estate is intersected with excellent Roads, lately made; and a large extent of waste land could, with facility and at small expense, be redeemed and brought into cultivation. From the great extent of Sea-Coast, the supplies of Shell-Sand and sea-weed are inexhaustible. There is easy communication with the Clyde and other places of trade, and the great increase of Steam navigation is every year bringing the estate into more direct and constant communication with the mainland.

The property holds of a subject superior, and the teinds are valued and nearly exhausted.

Upon the whole, this property, with the unusual facilities for profitable improvements, which it possesses, forms an eligible subject for investment as can any where be met with.

The articles of Roup, titles of the estate, and copies of the Memorial and Abstract, will be seen at the office of the Depute-Clerk of Session, and all farther particulars will be communicated on application to William Robertson, Junior, Esquire, W. S. 17, Royal Circus, Edinburgh, the Common-Agent in the Sale, or to Mr. M'Rae at Askernish, in South Uist, the Judicial Factor on the estate.
