Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the President of the United States of America, to deliver letters from the President.

To which audiences they were respectively introduced by Lord Viscount Palmerston, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and conducted by Sir Robert Chester, Knt. Master of the Ceremonies.

*At the Court at Buckingham-Palace,
March-11, 1841.*

A CHAPTER of the Most Noble Order of the Garter having been summoned for this day, the following Knights Companions, in their mantles and collars, assembled at the Palace, viz.—

Their Royal Highnesses the Prince Albert of Saxe Coburg and Gotha, the Duke of Sussex, and the Duke of Cambridge, his Grace the Duke of Wellington, the Marquess of Anglesey, the Marquess of Hertford, his Grace the Duke of Norfolk, the Marquess of Lansdowne, and his Grace the Duke of Somerset, attended by the under-mentioned Officers, in their mantles, chains, and badges, viz.—the Lord Bishop of Winchester, Prelate of the Order; the Lord Bishop of Oxford, Chancellor of the Order; the Honourable and Reverend the Dean of Windsor, Registrar of the Order; Sir William Woods, Knt. Garter Principal King of Arms; and Sir Augustus William James Clifford, Bart. Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod.

At half-past two o'clock, the Knights Companions were called over by Garter, and, with the Officers of the Order, proceeded into the presence of the Sovereign, in the Throne-room.

The Sovereign, being seated in the Chair of State, the Knights Companions, by Her Majesty's command, took their respective seats at the table, and the Officers stood in their accustomed places.

The Chancellor then signified to the Chapter the Sovereign's royal will and pleasure, that the two vacant stalls in the Royal Chapter of St. George at Windsor be filled; and as, by the Statutes, none but a Knight can be elected, his Grace George Granville Duke of Sutherland was introduced by Garter and Black Rod, and knighted by Her Majesty with the sword of state, and his Grace, having kissed the Sovereign's hand, retired. After which, Robert Marquess of Westminster, was, in like manner, introduced and knighted, with the same ceremonies.

The Knights Companions then proceeded to the election, and the suffrages having been collected by the Chancellor were by him presented to the Sovereign, who was pleased to command him to declare, and he accordingly declared, that the Most Noble George Granville Duke of Sutherland had been duly elected a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

Then, by the Sovereign's command, his Grace was received at the door of the Chapter-room by the Marquess of Lansdowne, and the Duke of Somerset, the two junior Knights Companions present, and conducted between them to Her Majesty, preceded by Garter, (bearing the ensigns of the Order on a crimson velvet cushion) and by Black

Rod. The Duke of Sutherland kneeling near the Sovereign, and Garter on his knee presenting the garter, Her Majesty, assisted by their Royal Highnesses the Prince Albert of Saxe Coburg and Gotha and the Duke of Sussex, the two senior Knights Companions present, buckled it on his Grace's left leg, the Chancellor pronouncing the usual admonition.

Garter next presented, in like manner, the ribband with the George, and Her Majesty, with the assistance of the said two senior Knights Companions, placed the same over his Grace's left shoulder, the Chancellor pronouncing the admonition. The Duke of Sutherland having again kissed the Sovereign's hand, and received the congratulations of each of the Knights Companions, withdrew.

The Chapter then proceeded to a second election, and the suffrages having been collected by the Chancellor, and presented to the Sovereign, the Most Honourable Robert Marquess of Westminster was, by the Sovereign's command, declared duly elected; whereupon his Lordship was introduced and invested with the garter and the ribband and George, in the same manner as the Duke of Sutherland had been, and the like formalities having been observed, the Marquess of Westminster withdrew.

The Chapter being ended, Garter again called over the Knights Companions, who, with the Officers of the Order, retired from the presence of the Sovereign, with the usual reverences.
