The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by an Act passed in the Session of Parliament held in the twelfth and thirteenth years of the reign of Her Majesty, intituled the "Passengers' Act, one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine," it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by any Order in Council to be by Her made, with the advice of the Privy Council, to prescribe such Rules and Regulations as to Her Majesty may seem fit, for preserving order, and for securing cleanliness and ventilation on board of passenger ships proceeding from the United Kingdom to any port or place in Her Majesty's possessions abroad, and the said Rules and Regulations

And whereas it is expedient to revoke an Order in Council made at a Court held at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, on the fifteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and forty-eight, in virtue of the provisions of an Act (now repealed) passed in the 11th year of the reign of Her Majesty, intituled "An Act to make further provision for one year, and to the end of the then next session of Parliament, for the carriage of passengers to North America," and to make a new Order in Council which shall extend to passenger ships proceeding from the United Kingdom, not only to North America, but to any port or place in Her Majesty's possessions abroad, out of Europe, and not being within the Mediterranean Sea;
