WHITEHALL, June 7, 1853.

THE following ADDRESS of Congratulation to the Queen, on the occasion of the Birth of another Prince, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Home Department, for presentation, was presented accordingly to Her Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:—

To The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Faithful States of your Majesty's Island of Jersey.

May it please your Majesty,

THE Faithful States of your Majesty's Island of Jersey, upon the first occasion of their being assembled since your Majesty's happy deliverance of a Prince, desire to give a loyal and dutiful utterance to the feelings entertained by them on that auspicious event, which, while it has increased your Majesty's own domestic joy, has diffused throughout the whole British Empire fresh cause of gratulatory interest in the reign and welfare of their gracious Sovereign.

The States cordially felicitate your Majesty on the present occasion of hope and happiness to your Majesty's illustrious House, the establishment of which in peace, prosperity, and health, is no less congenial to the hearts of the people, than that the Kingdom at large should be maintained in honour and safety under your Majesty's mild and beneficent rule.

The States, as at every other period of England's former history, which has called forth their expressions of respectful attachment to the throne of your Majesty's ancestors, would take this occasion of humbly and affectionately renewing them, and of imploring the Divine Providence to protect from all dangers, and to crown with all blessings, your Majesty and your Majesty's Royal Consort.

And your Majesty's Faithful States, as in duty bound, will ever most humbly pray, &c.

By order of the States,

CHAS. DE STE. CROIX, Greffier.
