INDIA-BOARD, August 15, 1853.

A DISPATCH has been this day received at the East India-House from the Governor-General of India in Council, enclosing the Notification of which the following is a Copy:-

NOTIFICATION.

Fort-William, June 30, 1853.

In the Proclamation by which the Province of Pegu was annexed to the British Dominions in the East, the Governor-General in Council declared that he desired no further conquest in Burmah, and was willing to consent that hostilities should cease.

Therefore the Burman troops were everywhere withdrawn; the King was dethroned by his brother, the Mengdoon Prince; and an Envoy was sent from Ava to sue for peace.

The Burman Envoy, confessing their inability to resist the power of the British Government, and submissively soliciting its forbearance, announced his willingness to sign a treaty in accordance with the Proclamation, objecting only to the frontier being placed at Meeaday.

The Government of India, while it maintained its undoubted right to fix the frontier where it has been placed, at the same time gave signal proof of the sincerity of its desire for the renewal of friendly relations between the States; for, in the hope of at once concluding a Treaty of Peace, the Governor-General in Council consented to withdraw the frontier from Meeaday, and place it. in strict conformity to the most literal wording of the Proclamation, immediately to the northward of Prome and Tounghoo, cities which have been described at all times as within the northern limits of Pegu, in the official records of transactions between the States.

But when this concession was offered, the Burman Envoy, wholly receding from his previous declarations, refused to assent to any Treaty by which a cession of territory should be made,

Thereupon the negotiations were at once broken off; the frontier of the British Territories was finally fixed to the north-west of Meeaday and Tounghoo; and the Envoy was directed to quit the camp.

The Envoy proceeded to the capital, whence he has now conveyed to the Government of India the sentiments and proposals of the Court of Ava.

The King expresses his desire for the cessation

The King announces that," Orders have been issued to the Governors of districts not to allow the Burmese troops to attack the territories of Meeaday and Tounghob, "in which the British Government has placed its garrisons," Further more, the King has set at liberty the British subjects who had been carried prisoners to Aya; and he has expressed his wish that " the merchante and people of both Countries should be allowed, in accordance with former friendship, to pass up and down the river, for the purposes of trading.

Mindful of the assurance he gave that hostilities would not be resumed so long as the Court of Ava refrained from disputing our quiet possession of the province of Pegu, the Governor-General in Council is willing to accept these pacific declarations and acts of the King as substantial proof of his acquiescence in the proposed conditions of peace, although a formal treaty has not been concluded.

Wherefore the Governor-General in Council permits the raising of the river blockade; consents to the renewal of former intercourse with Ava; and now proclaims the restoration of peace:

The Army of Ava will no longer be maintained on the war establishment. At the same time, a force will be permanently retained in Pegu, amply adequate for its defence, and fully prepared for the event of war.

The Governor-General in Council, while he announced the successive events of the war, has gladly seized each fitting occasion for bestowing promptly on the several officers whose services were mentioned with distinction, the cordial thanks and approbation of the Government of India.

His Lordship in Council deems it unnecessary now to repeat in detail acknowledgments of individual merit that are still so recent; but he cannot close the record of this war without again conveying to the Services generally an assurance of the admiration with which he has viewed the combined exertions, whereby, under God's good providence, the supremacy of our power in the East has once more been asserted and upheld.

A full and fitting recognition of the services of Her Majesty's Naval Squadron belongs to a higher authority than his. But the Governor-General in Council begs leave to offer to Commodore Lam-bert, to the officers, seamen, and marines who have been employed on the coast of Burmah, and more especially to the officers and crew of H.M.S. Fox, an acknowledgment of the deep obligation which the Government of India owes to them, for the gallantry, the good conduct; the unflinching endurance, and ready cheerfulness, with which they have performed the harassing duties, by which the Government of India has profited so largely.

With sentiments of equal cordiality the Governor-General in Council once again renews to Major-General Godwin, and through him to Brigadier-General Sir John Cheape, to Brigadier-General Steel, and to all the officers and non-commissioned officers and soldiers of the Armies of Bengal and Madras, who have been serving in Pegu, his best and truest thanks for the courage, the fortitude, and steady discipline, which they have exhibited on every service in which they have been employed

To Captain Lynch, and to the officers, seamen, and marines of the Indian Navy, and, at the same time, to the officers and men of the Bengal Marine, and to the commanders and crews of the River Flotilla, the Governor-General in Council desires to offer the assurance of his full approbation, and of his entire appreciation of the exertions and privations they have undergone in the course of the trying duties in which they have been engaged.

In testimony of the sense that is entertained of the services and conduct of the combined force, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that a donation of six months' batta shall be issued to all officers, non-commissioned officers, and men of the several Naval and Military Forces that have been employed during the progress of the war with Burmah.

And it shall be the further care of the Governor-General in Council to bring these services and conduct under the special notice, and recommend them to the most favourable consideration of Her Majesty's Government, and of the Honourable Court of Directors.

By order, &c.

J. P. GRANT,

Officiating Secretary to the Government of India.
