HER MAJESTY'S Most Gracious SPEECH to both HOUSES of PARLIAMENT.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I HAVE called you together at this unusual period of the year, in order that by your assistance I may take such measures as will enable Me to prosecute the great War in which we are engaged with the utmost vigour and effect.

This assistance I know will be readily given; for I cannot doubt that you share my conviction of the necessity of sparing no effort to augment My Forces now engaged in the Crimea. The exertions they have made, and the victories they have obtained, are not exceeded in the brightest pages of our history, and have filled Me with admiration and gratitude.

The hearty and efficient co-operation of the brave troops of My Ally the Emperor of the French, and the glory acquired in common, cannot fail to cement still more closely the Union which happily subsists between the two Nations.

It is with satisfaction I inform you that, together with the Emperor of the French, I have concluded a Treaty of Alliance with the Emperor of Austria, from which I anticipate important advantages to the common Cause.

I have also concluded a Treaty with the United States of America, by which subjects of long and difficult discussion have been equitably adjusted.

These Treaties will be laid before you.

Although the prosecution of the War will naturally engage your chief attention, I trust that other matters of great interest and importance to the general welfare will not be neglected.

I rejoice to observe that the general Prosperity of My Subjects remains uninterrupted.

The state of the Revenue affords Me entire satisfaction; and I trust that by your wisdom and prudence you will continue to promote the progress of Agriculture, Commerce, and Manufactures.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

In the Estimates which will be presented to you I trust you will find that ample provision has been made for the exigencies of the Public Service.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I rely with confidence on your patriotism and public spirit. I feel assured that in the momentous contest in which we are engaged you will exhibit to the World the example of a united People. Thus shall we obtain the respect of other Nations, and may trust that, by the blessing of God, we shall bring the War to a successful termination.

HIS Grace the Duke of Newcastle has this day received Despatches and Enclosures, of which the following are Copies, addressed to His Grace by Field-Marshal the Lord Raglan, G.C.B.

No. 110. Before Sebastopol,
MY LORD DUKE, November 23, 1854.

THE Russian advanced posts in front of our left attack having taken up a position which incommoded our troops in the trenches, and occasioned not a few casualties, and at the same time took in reverse the French troops working in their lines, a representation of which was made to me both by our own officers and by General Canrobert, a detachment of the 1st Battalion Rifle Brigade, under Lieutenant Tryon, was directed on the night of the 20th to dislodge the enemy; and this service was performed most gallantly and effectively, but at some loss both in killed and wounded, and at the cost of the life of Lieutenant Tryon, who rendered himself conspicuous on the occasion, was considered a most promising officer, and held in the highest estimation by all.

The Russians attempted several times to re-establish themselves on the ground, before daylight on the 21st, but they were instantly repulsed by Lieutenant Botrelhier, the senior surviving officer of the party, and it now remains in our possession.

Brigadier-General Sir John Campbell speaks highly of the conduct of the detachment, and of Lieutenant Bouchier and Lieutenant Cuninghame, and he laments the death of Lieutenant Tryon, who so ably led them in the first instance.

This little exploit was so highly prized by General Canrobert that he instantly published an "Ordre Général," announcing it to the French Army, and combining, with a just tribute to the gallantry of the troops, the expression of his deep sympathy in the regret felt for the loss of a young officer of so much distinction.

Nothing else has occurred since I had last the honour to address your Grace.

The weather is again very bad, and steady rain is constantly falling.

I inclose the nominal List of Killed and Wounded at the Battle of the Inkerman, and a Return of the Casualties that have occurred in the trenches to the 20th instant. I have &c.,

RAGLAN.

His Grace the Duke of Newcastle,

No. 112.

Near Sebastopol,

MY LORD DUKE,

November 28, 1854.

In the Despatch which I addressed to your Grace on the 23d instant, I reported the gallant conduct of a detachment of the 1st battalion Rifle Brigade, and its occupation of an advanced position, which it continued to retain notwithstanding the repeated efforts of the enemy to re-establish themselves upon it.

On the night of the 22d and on the following morning, shortly before daylight, the Russians renewed their endeavours to get possession of the ground they had been driven from, but they were repulsed on each occasion in the most spirited manner, in the first instance by a detachment of the 4th Foot, under Lieutenant Patrick Robertson, and a working party belonging to the 57th Regiment; in the last instance by the detachment of the 4th Foot alone.

Brigadier-General Eyre speaks in the highest terms of the conduct of these troops, and particularly that of Lieutenant Robertson, whose former distinguished service at the Cape, coupled with that he displayed in the present affair, fully entitle him to be considered an officer of much promise.

There has been no movement of importance on the part of the enemy. The weather has been very bad, and the camp and the country are, in consequence of the rain, in a most unsatisfactory state.

The men are, however, endeavouring, and with some success, to shelter themselves with the stones that are found in the vicinity of the encampment, and every effort is making to provide them with the materials for hutting themselves, but the condition of the roads renders this a matter of extreme difficulty.

It is gratifying to me to be able to assure you that, notwithstanding their privations, their exposure to the weather, and the constant labour required of them, they exhibit the same cheerfulness, the same ardour in the discharge of their duty, as they have manifested throughout the extensive operations in which they have been engaged.

I inclose the Return of Casualties up to the 26th instant inclusive.

The defences of the Inkerman position, notwithstanding the frequent interruptions from the weather, are making considerable progress.

I have, &c.,

RAGLAN.

His Grace the Duke of Newcastle,

ADMIRALTY, December 11, 1854.

THE following Despatch has been received at the Admiralty from Vice-Admiral Dundas, Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Mediterranean and Black Seas:—

(Copy.)

No. 615.
 SIR,

*Britannia, off the Katscha,
 November 22, 1854.*

I BEG you will lay before the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty a copy of a letter

I have received from Captain the Hon. S. T. Carnegie, of the Tribune, detailing the proceedings of that ship, the Highflyer, and the Lynx, during their late cruize.

The attack on, and destruction of, the enemy's force and battery appear to have been planned and executed with skill and judgment. The uncertain and heavy weather prevented further operations on the coast; indeed, it was with great difficulty that Captain Carnegie got the people off after destroying the tower and battery, although perfectly smooth sea when they landed.

I have, &c.

(Signed) J. W. D. DUNDAS,
 Vice-Admiral.

To the Secretary of the Admiralty,

Enclosure in No. 615.

*Her Majesty's ship Tribune,
 Straits of Kertch, November 17, 1854.*

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you that on the forenoon of Sunday the 12th instant, whilst standing in for the coast of Circassia, about 10 miles to the N.W. of the Fort of Anapa, guns were observed to be fired from a large Martello Tower, situated at a spot which commands the coast road from Anapa to Kertch, and which is marked on the charts by the word "Dshemetie." Her Majesty's ships Tribune, Highflyer, and Lynx, stood in as far as the depth of water would allow them; anchored at a distance of 900 yards from the beach, and opened a fire upon the place, which in a short time compelled the garrison to leave it.

Some of the seamen and marines were immediately landed, and completed the destruction of the place by fire.

The tower, with two guns, ammunition, &c., was blown up under the direction of Captain Moore, of Her Majesty's ship Highflyer, and I regret to add that in the performance of this service that officer was slightly, and Lieutenant M. E. Smithett, of Her Majesty's ship Tribune, severely wounded by the explosion.

The landing was effected without trouble, but the surf rose with such rapidity afterwards that it was with difficulty our boats were enabled to rejoin their ships.

The officers who landed behaved with skill and ability: and I wish to bring under your notice the exertions of Captain Moore, Lieutenant Luce, commanding the Lynx, Lieutenant M. E. Smithett, of Her Majesty's ship under my command, and Lieutenant Armytage, of the Highflyer, whose conduct in getting the boats over the surf was most conspicuous.

I have, &c.

(Signed) S. T. CARNEGIE,
 Captain.

Vice-Admiral Dundas, C.B.,
