FRIDAY, AUGUST 3, 1855.

WAR-DEPARTMENT, August 1, 1855.

LORD PANMURE has this day received a Despatch and its Enclosures, of which the following are Copies, addressed to his Lordship by Lieutenant-General Simpson, Commanding Her Majesty's Forces in the East:—

*Before Sevastopol,
July 21, 1855.*

MY LORD,

I HAVE great pleasure to inform your Lordship that the health of the Army has greatly improved; cholera has nearly disappeared, and although more sickness has appeared amongst the Officers, it is not of that character to cause uneasiness.

With reference to the exterior Army, the Russians hold their strong position on the Mackenzie Heights, extending by Aitodor to Albat, with advanced posts by Chouli, Ogenbash, and the strong range of heights overhanging Urkusta and the Valley of Baidar. It is reported they have also a force of artillery and infantry at Alupka. The French have pushed forward the whole of their cavalry into the Valley of Baidar, resting upon the Sardinians, upon the left bank of the Souhai river, and communicating with the French upon the Tchernaya, whilst the high ridge protecting Balaklava is guarded by the Turkish Army.

I purpose sending four squadrons of light cavalry into the Valley of Baidar to-morrow, to protect and afford convoys to the commissariat, for the purpose of bringing in forage and supplies for the use of the Army.

Major-General Markham arrived on the 19th instant, and, agreeable to the instructions conveyed in your Lordship's telegraphic message, I have appointed him to the command of the 2d Division.

Sir Stephen Lushington, K.C.B., having been promoted to the rank of Admiral, has been relieved in the command of the Naval Brigade, by Captain Honourable Henry Keppel. I take this opportunity of recording my sense of the ability and zeal with which he has throughout conducted his arduous and responsible situation of commanding the Naval Brigade, which has rendered such excellent service in our batteries.

I beg also to report to your Lordship that Mr Commissary-General Filder has been obliged to relinquish the command of his important department, and will have to return to England upon the recommendation of a Medical Board.

I inclose the List of Casualties to the 19th instant.

I have, &c.,

JAMES SIMPSON,
Lieutenant-General Commanding.

The Lord Panmure, &c., &c., &c.

His Excellency the Commander of the Forces.

ADMIRALTY, July 30, 1855.

A DESPATCH, of which the following is an Extract, has been received at the Admiralty from Rear-Admiral the Honourable R. S. Dundas, Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Baltic:—

Extract of a Letter from Rear-Admiral Honourable R. S. Dundas to the Secretary of the Admiralty, dated Duke of Wellington, at Nargen, 23d July 1855.

I HAVE the satisfaction of transmitting a copy of a report which I have received from Captain Yelverton, detailing the circumstances under which, with the Cossack, Magicienne, and Ruby in company, he has again availed himself of an opportunity to attack, with good effect, a position occupied by troops of the enemy, assembled in considerable force for the defence of Fredericksham; and I have much pleasure in submitting to their Lordships this additional proof of the zeal and gallantry of the officers and men under his orders, and of their good conduct, especially of Mr H. G. Hale, Mate, and the crew of the Ruby gun-boat.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) R. S. DUNDAS.

Enclosure in Admiral Dundas's Letter.

Her Majesty's Ship Arrogant,
Sir, off the Crops Islands, July 22, 1855.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that on leaving the Fleet I proceeded off the Island of Hogland, where I was joined by the Cossack, Magicienne, and Ruby gun-boat.

Information having reached me that the enemy had sent 3,000 troops to Fredericksham, and were making every possible exertion to put the place in a state of defence, I lost no time in getting there.

I arrived on the afternoon of the 20th, and would have attacked them that evening, but that the Ruby got on shore in examining the intricate channel leading to the town, and it was too late to take the ships in by the time she was off.

Early the following morning I succeeded in getting the ships up to the town, and at 9.40 we opened fire. After an engagement of one hour, the enemy ceased fire, and abandoned their guns, some of which were dismounted.

If I judge by the number of men we saw them carrying away on stretchers, they must have suffered severely.

I am happy to say the injury on our side has been trifling, though our hull bears evidence of the precision with which they fired, but generally speaking their shot fell short.

I regret to say that one man belonging to the Ruby was dangerously wounded by a round shot.

I must not allow this opportunity to pass without mentioning Mr Hale, Mate, Commanding the Ruby gun-boat, who, together with his gallant crew, deserve the highest praise for the way in which they worked and fought their long gun, so close to this, that I had an opportunity of observing the precision of their fire.

One portion of a suburb caught fire and was destroyed, but I am happy to say the town remained uninjured, owing to the strict observance of an order I gave to fire on the fort only.

I beg to enclose a List of Casualties.

I have, &c.,
H. R. YELVERTON,
Captain.

Rear-Admiral the Hon. R. S. Dundas,
