

Admirals and Commodores of the First Class may wear epaulettes with their frock and great coats, and on such occasions the cocked hat and sword must also be worn.

Jackets.—All Officers may wear on board their ship, a round jacket, without skirts, with their respective arrangement of buttons and distinction lace, double breasted for the Military Branch, except Midshipmen, Masters' Assistants, and Cadets, who are to wear single breasted jackets, the same as the Civil Branch.

Caps,—are to be of blue cloth, the diameter of the top to be eight inches, with a black mohair band $1\frac{1}{2}$ inch wide. Admirals and Commodores of the First Class, and Officers of the Civil Branches ranking with them, to have the peak embroidered all round in Gold; Commodores of the Second Class, Captains and Commanders, and Officers of the Civil Branches ranking with them, the peak embroidered on the front edge only; and all other Officers a plain peak.

The Military Branch to be distinguished by the embroidery on the peak, which is to be of oak leaves, and a device placed in the front of the cap, consisting of a crown embroidered in gold and silver, and a silver anchor surrounded by gold laurel wreaths.

The Civil Branches by plain embroidery, and the same device embroidered in gold. The peaks of all caps not embroidered to be of patent leather; when embroidered, to be of blue cloth bound with patent leather.

Round Hats.—Officers, during bad weather, when on board their ships, may wear a round black hat, with a narrow black band and buckle, and a black silk or leather cockade, with a loop of gold lace half the width of the broad lace on their dress coats, or, if they have no lace on their coats, of black silk ribbon. Midshipmen, Masters' Assistants, and those ranking with them and Cadets, to have a loop of gold twist.

Belt.—The sword belt to be worn over the coat.

The new Regulations may be adopted at once by Officers requiring uniforms, and they are to come into full force after 1st January 1861.

My Lords desire that the Commander-in-Chief, and the Captains of Her Majesty's ships, will prevent any Officer serving under their command from deviating in any way whatever from the foregoing Regulations.
