TUESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1860.

PALACE OF HOLYROOD,
August 7, 1860.

THIS Morning, at Eight o'Clock, Her Most Gracious Majesty The QUEEN, accompanied by His Royal Highness The PRINCE CONSORT, and the Royal Family, and Suite, arrived at Her Majesty's Royal Palace of Holyrood.

On Her Majesty's arrival a Royal Salute was fired from the Guns of the Castle.

ADMIRALTY, August 1, 1860.

DESPATCHES, of which the following are Copies, have been received by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty from Commodore William Loring, C.B., Senior Officer of Her Majesty's Ships and Vessels at the Australian Station:—

No. 19. Her Majesty's Ship Iris, Auckland, April 27, 1860.

SIR,—I HAVE the honour to forward, for the information of my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, copies of reports which I have received from Captain Cracroft, of Her Majesty's Ship Niger, relative to the proceedings of a part of her crew employed on shore at Taranaki, at the requisition of His Excellency the Governor of New Zealand.

The capture of the pah, as described in his letter No. 10, was, on the part of Captain Cracroft, his officers and men, a most dashing and judiciously timed affair.

His Excellency Colonel Gore Browne informs me that it was most opportune. The death of several of the most troublesome of the Taranaki Chiefs, and of a considerable number of their followers, served not only to damp the ardour of the rebellious tribes, but also to avenge some cold-blooded murders which these very people had committed only a few days previously.

And it is now known that, under God's providence, this success was also the means of saving the lives of a detachment of the Colonial Volunteers whom the Maories had beleaguered in a neighbouring house, and whose ammunition was almost expended.

Captain Cracroft has not mentioned his own personal share in the affair, but I learn that his coolness on that and on other occasions was most conspicuous, and that he did not undertake this very hazardous service in a spirit of headstrong gallantry, but from a deliberate conviction that it was necessary that the attempt should be made, and therefore it was done, and done most successfully.

Under these circumstances I trust that their Lordships will authorise me, in accordance with the request of Captain Cracroft, in his letter No. 11, to decorate William Odgers, leading seaman, with the Victoria Cross. These Maori natives are by no means a contemptible foe,—man to man they are equal to ourselves; and in the storming of the pah it could only have been by eager and determined gallantry that success could have been attained.

I also beg to call their Lordships' attention to his letter No. 12, enclosing a letter from the Colonel in command of the troops in another part of the field, and also a letter from Colonel Gold, Commanding-in-Chief.

Lieutenant W. H. Blake's conduct, as Senior Lieutenant of Her Majesty's Ship Niger, has been uniformly correct and efficient, and whilst on shore, in command of fifty-five seamen, he has shown himself a gallant leader.

I much regret to state that his wound is of a serious nature; and I beg very respectfully and strongly to recommend him to the notice of their Lordships as an officer whose conduct has rendered him worthy of promotion.

I have, &c.,

WILLIAM LORING, Commodore.

To the Secretary of the Admiralty.

No. 10. Her Majesty's Ship Niger, Taranaki, New Zealand, March 31, 1860.

SIR,—AT 1 P.M., on the 28th instant, I received the enclosed requisition from Colonel Gold; you are aware through my letter of proceedings, No. 8, that 55 men belonging to this ship, under the command of the first Lieutenant, were already landed to assist in the defence of the town, but as the case appeared urgent, and the weather was fine, I did not hesitate in complying with it, and landed at 2 P.M. with the force detailed in the margin.

* Lieut. A. J. Villiers, Mr W. W. Smyth, Acting Mate, Mr S. Gassiot, Midshipman, Mr W. C. Karlslake, Midshipman, Dr W. Patrick, Surgeon; Mr W. H. Hyde, Assistant Paymaster.—Officers, 7; Seamen, 43; Marines, 10.—Total, 60, with a 24-pounder rocket.

2. We had scarcely taken up a position pointed out to me by Colonel Gold, when intelligence arrived that Colonel Murray was hard pressed by the natives, and short of ammunition, and Colonel Gold requested me to advance to his support. I therefore proceeded to the Omata Blockhouse, about four miles on the great South Road, from whence I was enabled to obtain a good view of the country, and of a pah constructed on the crown of a hill, about a mile beyond, which displayed flags, and from which a continual fire of musketry was kept up upon Colonel Murray's force on my right; here I found Lieutenant Blake, first Lieutenant of the Niger, just brought in, dangerously wounded by a ball through the breast.

3. I immediately sent Mr W. H. Hyde, Assistant Paymaster, doing duty as my aide-de-camp, to inform Colonel Murray of my arrival; and as it was half-past five, and there was only half an hour's daylight left, I determined to attack this pah at once.

4. Accordingly I planted the 24-pounder rocket tube about 700 yards from it, and, after a few discharges, the men stormed the pah under a heavy fire, in the most gallant style,—William Odgers, leading seaman, doing duty as my coxswain, being the first man in it; and having captured the flags, and destroyed everything living in the trenches, as far as could be ascertained in the dark, I returned to the blockhouse.

5. In performing this service I am thankful to say that I had only four men wounded, which may be in some measure accounted for by the rapidity of the attack, taking the enemy completely by surprise, and giving no time for the usual Maori tactics, while the increasing darkness also favoured our small force, and prevented a good aim being taken by their sharpshooters.

6. It was impossible for me to estimate the number opposed to us, nor could their exact loss be ascertained,—16 dead were counted inside the entrenchment, 11 or 12 were lying in the road outside; but no doubt many of the wounded succeeded in crawling away unobserved.

7. After a short rest at the blockhouse I returned to town, placed the wounded in military hospital, and re-embarked my men, as I did not consider the ship safe without them, at this exposed anchorage.

8. I cannot speak too highly of the conduct of all engaged in this sharp and decisive affair, more especially the conduct of William Odgers, leading seaman, to which I shall bring your more particular notice in another letter.

9. I beg to enclose the Surgeon's report of casualties in the party landed. I have, &c.,

(Signed) P. CRACROFT,
Captain and Senior Officer in New Zealand.
Commodore Wm. Loring, C.B.,
Senior Officer.

No. 11. Her Majesty's Ship Niger, Taranaki,
New Zealand, March 31, 1860.

SIR,

WITH reference to paragraph No. 4 of my letter No. 10, 1860, I beg leave most respectfully to lay before you a statement of the conspicuous gallantry of William Odgers, leading seaman, upon the occasion of the capture of the pah, in having been the first to enter it, in the face of the heavy fire opened upon us.

He also assisted in hauling down the enemy's colours, in which act of daring, which was performed under my own eye, three other men equally participated, viz—Robert Glanville, captain foretop, William Older, A.B., and William Clarke, supernumerary marine, belonging to the Iris, carrying your broad pendant.

And I should wish to submit for your consideration whether all these men are entitled, equally with William Odgers, to the decoration of the Victoria Cross, and if not, then I should beg leave to recommend William Odgers for it, as being the most deserving, for the reason first mentioned.

It would be proper to add that Robert Glanville and William Clarke were both severely wounded in the pah.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) P. CRACROFT,
Captain and Senior Officer in New Zealand.

No. 12. Her Majesty's Ship Niger, Taranaki,
March 31, 1860.

SIR,

REFERRING to my letter No. 10, of this date, reporting the service upon which Lieutenant W. H. Blake, Senior Lieutenant in charge of a detachment of seamen and marines, had been employed with the force under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Murray, 65th Regiment—

I have now the honour to enclose a letter and its enclosure, received from the Lieutenant-Colonel, expressing his high sense of the gallant conduct of Lieutenant Blake at the Action at Omata, on the 28th instant, in which that officer was dangerously wounded, as also of the steady good conduct of the petty officers, seamen, and marines, upon this occasion, under Mr C. B. Theobald, Midshipman, upon whom the command had devolved.

In requesting you to bring the gallant conduct of Lieutenant Blake to the favourable notice of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, I beg to recommend him to their Lordships as a most zealous active officer, who has always merited my entire confidence, and is well worthy of promotion.

The name of Lieutenant Blake has been before mentioned to their Lordships in Despatches, as being the Senior Lieutenant present at the destruction of a formidable Chinese piratical stronghold and junks, in March 1859.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) P. CRACROFT,
Captain.
Commodore Wm. Loring, C.B., &c., &c.

New Plymouth, March 31, 1860.

SIR,

I CONSIDER it due to you to express the high sense I entertain of the gallant services rendered by Lieutenant Blake, and the officers and men of Her Majesty's Ship Niger, who formed part of the force under my command, employed against the rebel natives at the village of Omata, on the 28th instant.

I was myself an eye-witness of the steadiness with which the gallant blue jackets advanced in skirmishing order over a difficult piece of country, compelling their opponents to retire before them; and, from the information that has reached me since, their force told severely.

I beg to add that it was with extreme regret that I beheld their gallant leader taken to the rear, dangerously wounded. My regret was the greater, from the feeling of friendship I entertained for that officer, occasioned by the perfect cordiality which existed between us on all matters of duty, since he has been attached to the garrison under my command.

I beg further to inform you that the men of the Niger, when ordered to retire, displayed the same steadiness under the command of Mr Theobald, who seemed to possess the coolness of a veteran.

I herewith enclose a return of casualties in the Naval Brigade.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) G. F. MURRAY,
Brevet-Lieutenant-Colonel.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Major Stokes, the British Commissioner of the European Commission of the Danube, enclosing a copy of a new provisional tariff* which has been adopted by the Commission, fixing the charges to be levied at the Sulina mouth on vessels navigating the Danube from and after the 1st September next.

The charges in question include the pilotage, lighthouse, and river improvement dues, and have been fixed according to the tonnage of the vessel, and to the depth of water at the bar, at rates varying from 75 centimes per ton for vessels of more than 30 and of less than 100 tons, to 3 francs 25 centimes for vessels of more than 300 tons, requiring more than 15 feet of water; the average charge for the present being computed by the Commission at 1 franc 50 centimes, the depth of water obtained this season being estimated at only 12 feet.

A reduction of 40 per cent., representing engine-room, &c., is to be made for steamers.

Further information respecting the arrangements to be definitively adopted will be made public as soon as received.

WAR-OFFICE, August 3, 1860.

THE Queen has been graciously pleased to signify Her intention to confer the Decoration of the Victoria Cross on the undermentioned Officers of Her Majesty's Indian Forces, whose claims to the same have been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, in consideration of their gallantry and Distinguished Conduct during the operations of the Expeditionary Force in Persia in 1856-57, as recorded against their several names; viz. :—

Regiment.	Rank and Name.	Act of Bravery for which recommended.
20th Bombay Native Infantry	Captain John Augustus Wood Date of Act of Bravery, 9th December 1856	On the 9th of December 1856, Captain Wood led the Grenadier Company, which formed the head of the assaulting column sent against Bushire. He was the first man on the parapet of the fort, where he was instantly attacked by a large number of the garrison, who suddenly sprang on him from a trench cut in the parapet itself. These men fired a volley at Captain Wood and the head of the storming party, when only a yard or two distant from that Officer; but, although Captain Wood was struck by no less than seven musket balls, he at once threw himself upon the enemy, passed his sword through the body of their leader, and, being closely followed by the men of his company, speedily overcame all opposition, and established himself in the place. Captain Wood's decision, energy, and determined valour, undoubtedly contributed in a high degree to the success of the attack. His wounds compelled him to leave the force for a time; but, with the true spirit of a good soldier, he rejoined his Regiment, and returned to his duty at Bushire before the wounds were properly healed.
3d Bombay Light Cavalry	Lieutenant and Adjutant Arthur Thomas Moore, and Lieutenant John Grant Malcolmson Date of Acts of Bravery, 8th February 1857	On the occasion of an attack on the enemy on the 8th of February 1857, led by Lieutenant-Colonel Forbes, C.B., Lieutenant Moore, the Adjutant of the Regiment, was, perhaps, the first of all, by a horse's length. His horse leaped into the square, and instantly fell dead, crushing down his rider, and breaking his sword as he fell amid the broken ranks of the enemy. Lieutenant Moore speedily extricated himself, and attempted with his broken sword to force his way through the press, but he would assuredly have lost his life had not the gallant young Lieutenant Malcolmson, observing his peril, fought his way to his dismounted comrade through a crowd of enemies, to his rescue, and giving him his stirrup, safely carried him through everything out of the throng. The thoughtfulness for others, cool determination, devoted courage, and ready activity shewn in extreme danger by this young Officer, Lieutenant Malcolmson, appear to have been most admirable, and to be worthy of the highest honour.

HER Majesty has also been graciously pleased to signify Her intention to confer the Decoration of the Victoria Cross on the undermentioned Seaman of the Royal Navy, whose claim to the same has been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, in consideration of an Act of Bravery which he performed in the recent operations against Rebel Natives in New Zealand, as recorded against his name; viz. :—

Name and Rank.	Act of Bravery for which recommended.
William Odgers, Leading Seaman of Her Majesty's Ship Niger. Date of Act of Bravery, 28th March 1860.	On the 28th of March 1860, William Odgers displayed conspicuous gallantry at the storming of a Pah during operations against Rebel Natives in New Zealand, having been the first to enter it under a heavy fire, and having assisted in hauling down the enemy's colours.
