NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(No. 5.)—FRANCE—NORTH COAST.

Red Light on the Sénéquet Rock.

THE Minister of Public Works in France has given notice, that on and after the 20th day of February 1861, a light will be exhibited on the tower recently built on the Sénéquet rock, in the Déroute passage, about six miles north of Regneville, on the west coast of the Department of La Manche.

The light will be a fixed red light, placed at an elevation of 55 feet above high water, and should be visible from the deck of a ship in clear weather at a distance of 10 miles.

The tower stands in lat.  $49^{\circ} 5' 32''$ , long.  $1^{\circ} 39' 49''$  West of Greenwich.

West Coast—Change in the Biarritz Light.

Also, that the Biarritz light, which now revolves once every 30 seconds, will be changed to a light revolving every 20 seconds, showing alternately a white and red face, which should be visible in ordinary weather at a distance of 22 miles.

Biarritz light tower stands about  $2\frac{1}{2}$  miles south-west of the entrance of the river Adour, in the south-eastern part of the Bay of Biscay, lat.  $43^{\circ} 29' 38''$  N., long.  $1^{\circ} 33' 19''$  West of Greenwich.

Mediterranean—Lights at the Port of Cette.

Also, that on and after the 15th day of February 1861, the following changes will take place in the position of the lights of the port of Cette, on the south coast of France, in the Mediterranean.

1. The great fixed light of the port will be changed to the tower recently built in the centre of St Louis mole head. It will be placed at a height of 105 feet above the mean level of the sea, and should be visible from the deck of a ship, in an ordinary state of the atmosphere, at a distance of 15 miles.

The tower, which is 88 feet high, stands in lat.  $43^{\circ} 23' 50''$  N., long.  $3^{\circ} 42' 1''$  East of Greenwich.

2. The two small lights vertical on the sea-mark near Fort Richelieu will be changed to the south-west angle of that fort, at about 840 yards W. by N.  $\frac{1}{4}$  N. of the mole-head light, so as to form with it leading lights for the eastern entrance of the harbour. These lights, which will be elevated 272 feet above the level of the sea, will be visible at a distance of 4 miles in ordinary weather; but they blend and appear as one light when beyond the distance of a mile and a-half.

They will be replaced at a later period by lights which will be established, one on the extremity of the Frontignan Jetty, the other on the north-east pier head of the detached Briselame or Breakwater which shelters the entrance of the port.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(No. 7.)—PACIFIC—VANCOUVER ISLAND.

Flashing Light on the Race Rocks.

THE Colonial Government at Vancouver Island has given notice, that on or about the 1st January 1861, a light would be exhibited from a light-house recently erected on the Race Rocks in Juan de Fuca Strait, at the south-east extreme of Vancouver Island.

The light is a flashing white light, showing a bright flash every ten seconds, placed at an elevation of 118 feet above the level of the sea at high water, and should be seen in clear weather from the deck of a ship at a distance of 18 miles.

The illuminating apparatus is dioptric, or by lenses of the second order. The tower stands in lat. 48° 17' 30" N., long. 123° 32' 15" West of Greenwich.

Directions for Esquimalt and Victoria Harbours, by Captain Richards, R.N.

The Race Rocks Tower can be distinctly seen at the distance of 12 miles. On nearing it vessels should round it at a distance of from half a mile to a mile; the outermost danger is a rocky patch of 5 feet, lying S.E. by E., between 3 and 4 cables from the Great Race.

On rounding the Race Islands, Fisgard Island fixed light will be seen, and should be steered for, on a bearing N.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W., which will lead clear of the reef extending a short distance off Albert Head. Keep the bright light in full view; if a vessel gets too far to the westward it will appear dim, and shortly become shaded or green, when she should immediately steer out to the eastward, until it again shows bright.

This precaution is especially necessary on account of the tides, which, during springs, run as much as 6 knots in the neighbourhood of the Race Rocks; the ebb runs almost in a direct line from Haro Strait to the Rocks, and sets between them and the shore; there are also tide races in the vicinity, dangerous for boats or small craft.

When to the northward of Albert Head, and desiring to anchor in Royal roadstead, a vessel should bring Fisgard Island light to bear N. by W., when she will have 10 fathoms good holding ground; or, if desired, she may stand to the westward until the light becomes shaded green, when she should immediately anchor.

Entering Esquimalt Harbour the light should be left from one to two cables' lengths on the port hand, and when it bears S. by W. at a convenient distance, a ship may anchor in 7 fathoms, or stand into Constance Cove if preferred. When the light bears N.W. by W. it changes from bright to red, and shows the latter colour within the harbour.

Entering Esquimalt from the eastward, the light should not be steered for until it shows bright, which is the mark for clearing Brothly Ledge and the Scrogg Rocks; when the light changes from red to bright, it leads about half a cable clear of the Scrogg Rocks.

The course for the entrance of Victoria Harbour, after rounding the Race Lighthouse, is N.  $\frac{1}{4}$  E. (allowing for tides), and when Fisgard Island light changes from bright to red a vessel will be scarcely a mile from the shore.

Ships, however, above the size of coasters, unless acquainted with the neighbourhood, are recommended not to run for Victoria Harbour at night, when they would not be able to enter; but rather to anchor in Royal roadstead for daylight. With S.E. winds and stormy weather a ship should invariably run into Esquimalt Harbour, which she can do with great facility by the assistance of the light on Fisgard Island.

[The bearings are magnetic. Variation 22° 4' in 1861.]

By Command of their Lordships,

JOHN WASHINGTON, Hydrographer.

Hydrographic Office, Admiralty, London,

19th February 1861.

This Notice affects the same Admiralty Charts as named in the Fisgard Island Notice, No. 6.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(No. 8.)—GULF OF ST VINCENT.—SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

Change of Light on Glenelg Jetty.

THE Marine Board at Port-Adelaide, South Australia, has given notice, that on and after the 1st day of December 1860, a permanent green light would be exhibited at the outer end of Glenelg Jetty, Gulf of St Vincent, instead of the red and white occasional light hitherto shewn.

The light is a fixed green light, elevated 29 feet above the level of the sea at high water, visible in all directions seaward, and should be seen from a distance of 6 miles.

The position of the light is in lat. 34° 59' 30" S., long. 138° 33' E. of Greenwich.

Vessels anchoring off Glenelg Jetty should bring the light to bear E. by N., and anchor in not less than 5 fathoms. Coasters may approach the end of the jetty very closely; but care should be taken to avoid a shoal patch on an oyster bank lying about a mile to the southward of the Township. There is a depth of 10½ feet at the end of the jetty at low water of spring tides.
