and, proceeding from the Bar up the House, with the usual reverences, the Writ and Patent were delivered to the Lord Chancellor on the Woolsack, who delivered them to the Clerk of the Parliaments; His Royal Highness then, with his Supporters, went to the table, the rest of the procession standing near and about the table. The letters-patent by which His Royal Highness was created Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester, bearing date the 8th December 1841, and the Writ of Summons to Parliament, bearing date the 5th instant, were severally read by the Clerk of the Parliaments at the table, where His Royal Highness then took the Oath and subscribed the Declaration. After which His Royal Highness was conducted to his Chair on the right hand of the Throne, and His Royal Highness being seated and covered, as usual, the ceremony was concluded, when His Royal Highness received the congratulations of the Lord Chancellor.

His Royal Highness then retired from the House, and being unrobed, was conducted to his Chamber by the Lord Great Chamberlain, the Deputy Earl Marshal, Garter, and Black Rod.

The Knights of Orders wore their Collars.
