WHITEHALL, May 14, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:—

To The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Governors of the Benevolent Society of Saint Patrick.

May it please your Majesty.

WE, the Governors of the Benevolent Society of Saint Patrick, with a renewed assurance of our devotion to your Majesty's throne and person, venture to approach your Majesty with the humble offering of our respectful congratulations on the recent happy union of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with a Princess gifted with qualities so well adapted to adorn the exalted station she has been called upon to fill.

It is not possible, we are fully conscious, for us to give utterance to any words which can justly express the feelings of deep interest and affectionate loyalty with which this happy event has been regarded by the entire people; but, as the representatives of an Institution most deeply indebted to the gracious favour of your Majesty, and your Majesty's royal house, we deem it our privilege, as well as our duty, to offer this humble but sincere assurance of our participation in the National joy.

That the bright promise of happiness afforded by this auspicious union may, by the Divine blessing, be most fully realized, and that your Majesty may long be spared to see your royal children the objects of the respectful attachment of a devoted people, and the emulators of the virtues of their illustrious parents, is the fervent prayer of your Majesty's loyal Subjects.

DARNLEY, President.

E. J. BAINBRIDGE, Treasurer.
