Board of Trade, Whitehall,
May 21, 1863.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Note from the Turkish Ambassador at this Court, enclosing a copy of a notification issued by the Porte respecting the conditions to be observed in regard to merchandize brought from the interior of Turkey to the coast for exportation, and of which the following is a translation:—

Merchandize arriving at a port of embarkation may be privately warehoused (emmagasinée à domicile) without deposit of duty, provided a declaration be made stating the amount of consumption duty, and that the merchandize is intended for exportation.

Should a merchant fail to make such a declaration he will be required—

1. At once to export the goods, or
2. To deposit them in the Customs' warehouses, in case such warehouses are provided for the purpose, in which event the goods will not be required to pay "ardié" duty unless withdrawn for internal consumption, or
3. To deposit them in a private warehouse, having two keys, with the right of the Customs' authorities to place upon it their seal, or
4. To deposit the amount of Customs' consumption duty, the difference between which and the export duty will be restored in the event of the exportation of the goods.

If the merchant confines himself to furnishing simply the above declaration, he will be obliged to export the goods within six months, or he will be compelled, after the lapse of that period, to adopt one of the above specified four conditions. Otherwise the goods will be regarded as consumed in the country, and the merchant will be required to pay the internal consumption duties, the interest being calculated at the rate of one per cent. per month upon the amount of the said consumption duties, from the date of the declaration to the day of payment.

Should the owner of goods destined for exportation be desirous of giving such declaration and not be known to the Customs' authorities, such declaration must bear the guarantee of another merchant, of any Nationality, to the satisfaction of the Customs' authorities.
