COPY of a Letter addressed by the Earl of Clarendon to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty.*

Foreign Office,
June 26, 1866.

MY LORDS,

HER Majesty being fully determined to observe the duties of neutrality during the existing hostilities between the Emperor of Austria, the King of Prussia, the King of Italy, and the German Confederation, and being moreover resolved to prevent, as far as possible, the use of Her Majesty's harbours, ports, and coasts, and the waters within Her Majesty's territorial jurisdiction, in aid of the warlike purposes of either belligerent, has commanded me to communicate to your Lordships, for your guidance, the following rules, which are to be treated and enforced as Her Majesty's orders and directions.

Her Majesty is pleased further to command that these rules shall be put in force in the United Kingdom and in the Channel Islands on and after the fourth day of July, and in Her Majesty's territories and possessions beyond the seas six days after the day when the Governor or other chief authority of each of such territories or possessions respectively shall have notified and published the same; stating in such notification that the said rules are to be obeyed by all persons within the same territories and possessions.

During the continuance of the present hostilities, all ships of war of either belligerent are prohibited from making use of any port or roadstead in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, or in the Channel Islands, or in any of Her Majesty's Colonies or Foreign possessions or dependencies, or of any waters subject to the territorial jurisdiction of the British Crown, as a station or place of resort for any warlike purpose, or for the purpose of obtaining any facilities of warlike equipment; and no ship of war of either belligerent shall hereafter be permitted to sail out of, or leave any port, roadstead, or waters subject to British jurisdiction, from which any vessel of the other belligerent (whether the same shall be a ship of war or a merchant ship) shall have previously departed, until after the expiration of at least twenty-four hours from the departure of such last-mentioned vessel beyond the territorial jurisdiction of Her Majesty.

2. If any ship of war of either belligerent shall, after the time when this Order shall be first notified and put in force in the United Kingdom and in the Channel Islands, and in the several Colonies and foreign possessions and dependencies of Her Majesty respectively, enter any port, roadstead, or waters belonging to Her Majesty, either in the United Kingdom or in the Channel Islands, or in any of Her Majesty's Colonies or foreign possessions or dependencies, such vessel shall be required to depart and to put to sea within twenty-four hours after her entrance into such port, roadstead, or waters, except in case of stress of weather, or of her requiring provisions, or things necessary for the subsistence of her crew, or repairs; in either of which cases the authorities of the port, or of the nearest port, (as the case may be,) shall require her to put to sea as soon as possible after the expiration of such period of twenty-four hours, without permitting her to take in supplies beyond what may be necessary for her immediate use; and no such vessel which may have been allowed to remain within British waters for the purpose of repair shall continue in any such port, roadstead, or waters, for a longer period than twenty-four hours after her necessary repairs shall have been completed. Provided, nevertheless, that in all cases in which there shall be any vessels (whether ships of war or merchant ships) of the said belligerent parties in the same port, roadstead, or waters, within the territorial jurisdiction of Her Majesty, there shall be an interval of not less than twenty-four hours between the departure therefrom of any such vessel (whether a ship of war or a merchant ship) of the one belligerent, and the subsequent departure therefrom of any ship of war of the other belligerent; and the time hereby limited for the departure of such ships of war respectively shall always, in case of necessity, be extended so far as may be requisite for giving effect to this proviso, but not further or otherwise.

3. No ship of war of either belligerent shall hereafter be permitted, while in any port, roadstead, or waters, subject to the territorial jurisdiction of Her Majesty, to take in any supplies, except provisions, and such other things as may be requisite for the subsistence of her crew, and except so much coal only as may be sufficient to carry such vessel to the nearest port of her own country, or to some nearer destination, and no coal shall again be supplied to any such ship of war in the same or any other port, roadstead, or waters, subject to the territorial jurisdiction of Her Majesty, without special permission, until after the expiration of three months from the time when such coal may have been last supplied to her within British waters as aforesaid.

* Similar letters have been addressed to the Treasury, Home Office, Colonial Office, War Office, and India Office.

4. Armed ships of either party are interdicted from carrying prizes made by them into the ports, harbours, roadsteads, or waters of the United Kingdom, or any of Her Majesty's Colonies or possessions abroad.

I am, &c.,
(Signed) CLARENDON.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
June 28, 1866.*

The Board of Trade have received, through the Austrian Consulate, a notification that, according to a telegraphic despatch received by him, the following additional lights on the Austrian coast have been extinguished, and will remain extinguished during the war, viz. :—

Piave, Porto Malamoco, Chioggia, Mortar, Lagosta, Ragusa.

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
June 29, 1866.*

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Consul at Teneriffe, reporting that vessels from British Ports with foul Bills of Health, must, previously to admission at Teneriffe, perform quarantine at the lazarettos of Vigo or Mahon, and that vessels from British Ports with clean Bills of Health will be subjected to a quarantine of observation of five days in the ports of the Canary Islands.

(1082.)

*Board of Trade, Whitehall,
June 29, 1866.*

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Foreign Office a copy of a note, an extract translated from which is appended below, addressed to the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs by the Prussian Ambassador at this Court, communicating the views of the Prussian Government as to the effect produced by the existing war between Prussia and some of the States of the German Customs and Commercial Union, on the relations existing by virtue of the Treaties of Commerce concluded in the name of the Union.

(Extract.)

By the occurrence of the state of war, the Treaties which existed between Prussia and the Governments now at war with her, therefore also the Zollverein Treaty, are thrown out of operation.

His Majesty's Government is therefore no longer in a position to afford any security for the further observance of the Treaties of the Zollverein with other Powers, by those Powers which are now at war with the Government. Prussia herself, and her allies, will however fulfil these Treaties within the limits of their power to the fullest extent. In particular, they will put no difficulty and no obstacle in the way of the transit of the productions of the Powers which have Treaty relations with them, to the territories of the Government now at war with them, in so far as those productions do not consist of articles contraband of war.

On the other hand, they will allow the productions of the States now at war with them, which are intended for the Powers having Treaty relations with them, to pass through their territory without obstruction.

With the Zollverein Treaty also ceases the operation of the free trade which is established between the Prussian territory and the territories of those Governments now at war with it. The Royal Government can therefore no longer treat goods coming from those territories like native goods as hitherto, but only as foreign goods. Whence it follows that the goods of the Powers having Treaty relations with Prussia, though duty has been paid upon them in those territories, can no longer be considered as nationalised for Prussia, but, when they enter Prussia, must be considered as goods upon which duty has not been paid.

Foreign merchants will therefore do well, when sending goods to Prussia and the countries allied with her, through the territories of the Governments at war with Prussia, to despatch them with permits for the Prussian territory, or those allied with it, respectively.
