Published by Authority.

FROM FRIDAY, JANUARY 2. TO TUESDAY, JANUARY 6. 1801.

AT the Court at St James's, the 1st of January 1801,
PRESENT,
The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

HIS Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, His Royal Highness the Duke of York, His Royal Highness the Duke of Clarence, His Royal Highness the Duke of Kent, and His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, having taken their respective places, as usual, at the Council Board, the Lords and others, now of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and who were then present, were, by His Majesty's command, sworn of His Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council for the united kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

At the Court at St. James's, the 1st of January 1801,
PRESENT,
The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

THIS day the Great Seal of Great Britain being delivered up to His Majesty by the Right Honourable Alexander Lord Loughborough, Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, the same was defaced in His Majesty's presence; and His Majesty was thereupon pleased to deliver to His Lordship a new Great Seal for the united kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and to direct that the same be made use of (pro tempore) for sealing all things whatever which pass the Great Seal.

STEPH. COTTRELL.

BY THE KING—A PROCLAMATION.

Declaring his Majesty's Pleasure concerning the Royal Style and Titles appertaining to the Imperial Crown of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and its Dependencies, and also the Ensigns, Armorial Flags, and Banners thereof.

GEORGE R.

Whereas by the first article of the articles of Union of Great Britain and Ireland, ratified and confirmed by two Acts of Parliament, the one passed in the Parliament of Great Britain, and the other in the Parliament of Ireland, and respectively intituled, "An Act for the Union of Great Britain and Ireland," it was declared that the said kingdoms of Great Britain and Ireland should upon this day, being the 1st day of January, in the year of our Lord, 1801, for ever after be united into one kingdom, by the name of "The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland;" and that the Royal Style and Titles appertaining to the Imperial Crown of the said United Kingdom and its Dependencies, and also the Ensigns Armorial, Flags, and Banners thereof, should be such as we, by our Royal Proclamation, under the Great Seal of the said United Kingdom, should appoint; we have thought fit, by and with the advice of our Privy Council, to appoint and declare that our Royal Style and Titles shall henceforth be accepted, taken, and used, as the same are set forth in manner and form following; that is to say, he same shall be expressed in the Latin tongue by these words:—"GEORGIVS TERTIVS, Dei Gratia, Britanniarum Rex, Fidei Defensor." And in the English by these words: "George the Third by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland King, Defender of the Faith." And that the arms or ensigns armorial of the said United Kingdom shall be quarterly, first and fourth, England; second, Scotland; third, Ireland; and it is our will and pleasure that there shall be borne therewith, on an escutcheon of pretence, the arms of our dominions in Germany ensigned with the Electoral bonnet. And it is our will and pleasure that the standard of the said United Kingdom shall be the same quartering as are heretofore declared to be the arms or ensigns armorial of the said United Kingdom, with the escutcheon of pretence thereon, heretofore described: and that the Union flag shall be azure, the crosses saltires of St Andrew and St Patrick quarterly per saltire counter changed argent and gules: the latter fimbriated or the second; surmounted by the Cross of St George of the third, fimbriated as the saltire. And our will and pleasure further is, that the style and titles aforesaid and also the arms or ensigns armorial aforesaid, shall be used henceforth, as far as conveniently may be, on all occasions wherein our royal style and titles and arms or ensigns armorial ought to be used.—But, nevertheless, it is our will and pleasure, that all such gold, silver, and copper monies as, on the day before this first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and one, were current and lawful monies of Great Britain, and all such gold, silver, and copper monies as shall, on or after this day, be coined by our authority with the like impressions, until our will and pleasure shall be otherwise declared, shall be deemed and taken to be current and lawful monies of the said United Kingdom in Great Britain; and that all such gold, silver, and copper monies as, on the day before this first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and one, were current and lawful monies of Ireland, and all such gold, silver, and copper monies as shall, on or after this day, be coined by our authority with the like impressions, until our will and pleasure shall be otherwise declared, shall be deemed and taken to be current and lawful monies of the said United Kingdom in Ireland; and all such monies as shall have been coined for and issued in any of the dominions of the said United Kingdom, and declared by our proclamation to be current and lawful money of such dominions respectively, bearing our style or titles or arms, or ensigns armorial, or any part or parts thereof, and all monies which shall hereafter be coined and issued, according to such proclamations, shall continue to be lawful and current money of such dominions respectively, notwithstanding such change in our style, titles, and arms, or armorial bearings respectively as aforesaid, until our pleasure shall be further declared thereupon.—And all and every such monies as aforesaid shall be received and taken in payment in Great Britain and Ireland respectively, and in the dominions thereunto belonging after the date of this our proclamation, in such manner, and as of the like value and denomination as the same were received and taken before the date hereof. And it is also our will and pleasure that the several dies and marks, which have been used to denote the stamp-duties, and all other stamps and marks and instruments, which before the issuing of this our proclamation, shall have been in actual use for any public purpose, and in which our Royal stile and titles, or our arms or ensigns armorial, or any parts or part thereof respectively, may be expressed, shall not, by reason of this our proclamation, or any thing therein contained, be changed or altered, until the same may be conveniently so changed or altered, or until our pleasure shall be further declared thereupon: but that all such dies, stamps, marks, and instruments respectively, bearing our royal stile and titles, or arms or ensigns armorial, used before this first day of January one thousand eight hundred and one, or any parts or part of such stile, titles, or of such arms or ensigns armorial, shall have the like force and effect, as the same had before the said first day of January instant.

Given at our Court at St James's, the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and one, in the forty-first year of our reign.—GOD SAVE THE KING.

Westminster, Dec. 31. 1800.

This day his Majesty came to the House of Peers, and being in his royal robes, seated on the throne with the usual solemnity, Sir Francis Molyneux, gentleman usher of the black rod, was sent with a message from his Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their attendance in the House of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, his Majesty was pleased to give the royal assent to

An act for raising a certain sum of money by loans or Exchequer-bills for the service of the year 1801, and for appropriating the supplies granted in this session of Parliament.

An act to remove doubts arising upon the construction of an act of this session of Parliament, intituled, "An act for granting bounties on the importation of wheat, barley, rye, oats, pease, beans, and Indian corn, and of barley, rye, oat, and Indian meal, and wheaten flour, and rice.

An act to prevent, until the sixth day of November 1801, and from thence to the end of six weeks from the commencement of the then next session of Parliament, the manufacturing of any fine flour from wheat or other grain, and the making of any bread solely from the fine flour of wheat; and to repeal an act, passed in the thirty-sixth year of the reign of his present Majesty, for permitting bakers to make and sell certain sorts of bread, and to make more effectual provision for the same.

An act to prohibit, until the first day of October 1801, and from thence to the end of six weeks next after the commencement of the then next session of Parliament, any person or persons from selling any bread which shall not have been baked twenty-four hours.

An act to permit, until the first day of October 1801, the importation of Swedish herrings into Great Britain.

An act for allowing, until the fifteenth day of October 1801, the use of salt duty free in the preserving of fish, in bulk or in barrels; for protecting persons engaged in such fisheries from being impressed into his Majesty's service; for discontinuing the bounty payable on white herrings exported; and for allowing a bounty on pickards now cured, whether exported or sold for home consumption.

An act for further continuing, until six weeks after the commencement of the next session of Parliament, several acts, made in the thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth years of his present Majesty's reign, and in the last session of Parliament, for empowering his Majesty to secure and detain such persons as his Majesty shall suspect are conspiring against his person and government.

An act for further continuing, until the first day of August 1801, an act, made in the thirty-seventh year of the reign of his present Majesty, intituled, "An act for the better prevention and punishment of attempts to seduce persons serving in his Majesty's forces by sea or land from their duty and allegiance to his Majesty, or to incite them to mutiny or disobedience.

An act for continuing, until six months after the conclusion of a general peace, three acts made in the thirty-third and thirty-eighth years of his present Majesty's reign, for establishing regulations respecting aliens arriving in this kingdom, or resident therein, in certain cases.

An act for taking an account of the population of Great Britain, and of the increase or diminution thereof.

An act to explain, amend, and render more effectual the several acts made in the thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth years of the reign of his present Majesty, and in the last session of Parliament, for the redemption and purchase of the land tax.

An act for extending the time for the payment of certain sums of money advanced by way of loan to several persons connected with and trading to the islands of Grenada and St Vincent.

An act to indemnify such persons as have omitted to qualify themselves for offices and employments, &c.

An act for explaining and amending an act, passed in the last session of Parliament, intituled, "An act for erecting a Lazaret on Chetney Hill, in the county of Kent, and for reducing into one act the laws relating to quarantine, and for making further provision therein," as far as regards the payment of the tonnage duty in the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, Sark, or Man.

An act to revive and continue, until the expiration of six weeks after the commencement of the next session of Parliament, and amend so much of an act of the last Parliament, as relates to the reducing and better collecting the duties payable on the importation of starch; and to continue, for the same time, several laws relating to the enabling his Majesty to permit goods to be imported into this kingdom in neutral ships; to the authorising his Majesty to make regulations respecting the trade to the Cape of Good Hope; and to the preventing offences in obstructing, destroying, or damaging ships, and in obstructing seamen and others from pursuing their lawful occupations.

An act for allowing the importation of undressed hemp from any of the countries that lie within the limits of the exclusive trade of the East India Company free of duty.

An act to authorise his Majesty to appoint commissioners for the more effectual examination of accounts of public expenditure for his Majesty's forces in the West Indies during the present war.

An act for making the port of Amsterdam in the Island of Curacao, a free port.

An act for continuing, until the first day of June 1801, the several acts for regulating the turnpike roads in Great Britain which expire at the end of the present session of Parliament.

After which his Majesty was pleased to make the following most gracious Speech:

"My Lords and Gentlemen,

"I cannot close this Session of Parliament without returning you my particular acknowledgments for the distinguished industry and zeal with which you have applied yourselves to the interesting object which, at the commencement of the Session, I most especially recommended to your attention. It has been my earnest wish that nothing should be omitted, which could tend to relieve the pressure occasioned by the present dearth of provisions, and to insure a sufficient supply till the produce of the next harvest can be brought into use.

"The diligence with which your inquiries have been conducted, has afforded you the best means of ascertaining the true circumstances of our present situation; and the extensive measures which you have wisely adopted in consequence, for diminishing the consumption of grain, and procuring an increased supply, will, I doubt not, be found productive of the most salutary effect.

"Much, however, must depend on the disposition which will, I am confident, be manifested by all those who have the means of carrying into execution my solemn recommendation and injunction, issued at your desire, for the adoption of economy in the use of those articles which are necessary to the subsistence of the poorer classes of my subjects.

"The time fixed for the commencement of the Union of Great Britain and Ireland, will necessarily terminate your proceedings on this important subject; but I am persuaded that the consideration of it will be resumed with the same zeal and temper, on the first meeting of the Parliament of the United Kingdom.

"The early period which I have appointed for that meeting, will afford a speedy opportunity of completing whatever you may have necessarily left unfinished, and of considering what measures may tend further to alleviate the pressure on my people, or to prevent the danger of its renewal.

"Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

"I thank you for the readiness with which you have granted the supplies necessary, under the present circumstances, for the public service.

"My Lords and Gentlemen,

"The detention of my subjects in the ports of Russia, contrary to the most solemn treaties, and the imprisonment of British sailors in that country, have excited in me sentiments, in which you and all my subjects will, I am sure, participate.

"I have already taken such steps as this occasion indispensably required; and it will afford me great satisfaction, if they prove effectual; but if it shall be necessary to maintain, against any combination, the honour and independence of the British Empire, and those maritime rights and interests on which both our prosperity and our security must always depend, I entertain no doubt, either of the success of those means which, in such an event, I shall be enabled to exert, or of the determination of my Parliament and my people, to afford me a support proportioned to the importance of the interests which we have to maintain."

Then the Lord Chancellor, by his Majesty's command, said:

"It is his Majesty's command, That the Proclamation declaring his Majesty's most gracious intention that the Members of Parliament composing this Parliament should be the Members of the Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, on the part of Great Britain, and that the said Parliament should be assembled on the 22d day of January next, be delivered in full Parliament, and now read, which closes the present Session."

BY THE KING—A PROCLAMATION,

FOR A GENERAL FAST.

GEORGE R.

We, taking into our most serious consideration the heavy judgments with which Almighty God is pleased to visit the iniquities of this land, by a grievous scarcity and dearth of divers articles of sustenance and necessaries of life; moreover taking into our most serious consideration the just and necessary war in which we are engaged, for the maintenance of the independence of our Crown, for the defence of the commerce, and of the rights and liberties, civil and religious, of our subjects; and trusting in the mercy of Almighty God, that, notwithstanding the fore punishment which he hath laid upon us and upon our people, he will, if we turn to him in due contrition and penitence of heart, not only withdraw his afflicting hand, but moreover graciously bless our arms, both by sea and land, have therefore resolved, and do, by and with the advice of our Privy Council, hereby command, That a Public Fast and Humiliation be observed throughout that part of our kingdom called Scotland, on Thursday the 12th of February next: that both we and our people may humble ourselves before Almighty God, in order to obtain pardon of our sins; and may, in the most devout and solemn manner, send up our prayers and supplications to the Divine Majesty, for the removal of those heavy judgments which our manifold sins and provocations have most justly deserved, and under which we at this present time labour; and for imploring his blessing and assistance on our arms, and for restoring and perpetuating peace, safety, and prosperity, to us and our dominions: And we do strictly charge and command, that the said public Fast be reverently and devoutly observed by all our loving subjects in Scotland, as they tender the favour of Almighty God, and would avoid his wrath and indignation; and upon pain of such punishment as we may justly inflict on all such as contemn and neglect the performance of so religious and necessary a duty. Our will is therefore, and we charge, that this our proclamation seen, ye forthwith post to the Market Cross of Edinburgh, and all other places needful, and there, in our name and authority, make publication hereof, that none pretend ignorance; and our will and pleasure is, that our Solicitor do cause printed copies hereof to be sent to the sheriffs of the several shires, stewards of stewartries, and bailiffs of regalities, and their clerks, whom we ordain to see them published; and we appoint them to send copies hereof to the several parish churches within their bounds, that upon the Lord's Day immediately preceding the day above-mentioned, the same may be published, and read from the pulpits, immediately after divine service.

Given at our Court at St James's, the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and one, in the forty first year of our reign.
GOD save the KING.

NOTICE

To the CREDITORS of JOHN GRAHAM, Manufacturer in New Town of Paisley.

AT a Meeting of the Creditors of the said John Graham, held at Paisley upon the 11th day of January current, being the first lawful day after his second examination in terms of the statute, he made a proposal of Composition to the Creditors, and offered caution thereon; which offer and security the Meeting declared themselves satisfied with.

The Trustee on the said John Graham's sequestrated estate has therefore appointed another Meeting of the Creditors to be held within the house of John Orr, vintner in Paisley, upon Tuesday the 27th of January current, at one o'clock afternoon, for the purpose of deciding upon the foresaid offer; of which this intimation is given to all concerned.
