Edinburgh Gazette.

Published by Authority.

FROM FRIDAY, MAY 21. TO TUESDAY, MAY 25. 1802.

ST JAMES'S, MAY 19, 1802.

The following address has been presented to the King, and received very graciously.

To the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the city of Edinburgh, beg leave to approach the Throne with grateful acknowledgements of your Majesty's parental regard for your people, in restoring the blessings of peace.

We cannot, however, look forward to the enjoyment of that repose which your Majesty has procured for us, without expressing our conviction of the unavoidable necessity which engaged your Majesty in war, and our admiration of the wisdom and firmness with which your Majesty supported a contest, involving equally the security of the Throne and of the people.

It gives us satisfaction to think, that your Majesty's ancient and loyal city of Edinburgh seconded, to the best of its power, your Majesty's generous efforts in defence of the nation; and we trust, and venture to assure your Majesty, that your faithful subjects of this city will endeavour, by habits of industry and good order, to improve to the best advantage the tranquillity which your Majesty has restored.

We congratulate your Majesty on the bravery and conduct exhibited by your forces by sea and land, and on that determination with which your subjects armed themselves at home, to defend their country from foreign and domestic foes. In this spirit we recognise the best pledge of the permanency of that invaluable Constitution, under which this nation enjoys that liberty which others have in vain endeavoured to find in other forms of Government.

We pray to Almighty God that the peace may produce all the advantages which we know your Majesty intended for your people, and that by its long continuance, it may give full scope for your Majesty to follow out those measures for advancing the prosperity of the Empire which have uniformly distinguished your reign.

Long may your Majesty live to enjoy the thanks and blessings of your people; and may the evening of your life, invariably dedicated to the service of God and to the happiness of your subjects, be undisturbed either by foreign war or by domestic faction.

Signed by appointment, and in presence of the Magistrates and Council, in absence of the Lord Provost, this twelfth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and two.

By NEIL MACVICAR, Prefes.

[The Gazette contains 19 other addresses on the Peace from different Counties and Towns in England.]

ST JAMES'S, May 19, 1802.

Ceremonial of the Knighthood and Investiture of Major-General Eyre Coote, Knight of the most Honourable Military Order of the Bath.

The Knights, and the officers of the Order, attended in the Privy Chamber in their mantles, collars, &c. and proceeded from thence, after the levee, into the Sovereign's presence, making the usual reverences, in the following order:—

The Gentleman Usher of the Order, in his mantle, chain, and badge, bearing the scarlet rod.

The Register and Secretary of the Order, in his mantle, chains, and badges.

Deputy Bath King of Arms, in the Mantle, Chain, and Badge, and bearing the Sceptre of Bath; carrying the ribbon and badge of the Order on a crimson velvet cushion.

The Genealogist, in his mantle, chain, and badge, Knights Companions

Right Honourable Sir William Fawcett,

Lord Grey, of Howick,

Right Honourable Sir William Hamilton,

His Royal Highness the Duke of York, First and Principal Companion.

Then, by his Majesty's command, Major-General Eyre Coote was introduced into the presence between Lord Grey and Sir William Fawcett, the two Junior Knights Companions present, preceded by the Gentleman Usher of the Order, with reverences as before.

The Sword of State was thereupon delivered to the Sovereign by Sir William Hamilton, the Second Knight in seniority present, and Major-General Eyre Coote, kneeling, was knighted therewith.—Then his Royal Highness the Duke of York, the Senior Knight, presented the ribbon and badge to the Sovereign, and his Majesty put them over the new Knight's right shoulder; who being thus invested, had the honour to kiss the Sovereign's hand, and the procession returned to the Privy Chamber in the order as aforesaid.

This ceremony was performed in his Majesty's closet, several of the Great Officers of the Court and Foreign Ministers being present.
