23. Payment to School Board for purposes of higher instruction.—The governors shall, after the death or demission of office of the said Thomas Scott, continue to pay the annual sum of £30 to the School Board of Dalmeny, under condition that it shall be applied by the said Board in supplement of a teacher's or teachers' salaries for instruction in the higher subjects, or in such other way as the Board shall think fit for the advancement of higher education. But the governors shall not make or continue to make such payment unless the higher branches are taught within the school district to the satisfaction of the governors, and unless the principal teacher in one or other of the schools in the district is a university graduate, or has satisfied the governors of his fitness to teach the higher subjects. These free scholarships shall be awarded on the result of a competitive examination, or as a reward for regularity of attendance, industry and general merit, and good conduct, all to be ascertained by the report of the teachers and otherwise as the governors may determine. Any payment under this clause shall be withdrawn in the case of children who fail to give regular attendance or make satisfactory progress at school.
