[ Price Three-Pepce, ]

Prince Ferdinand's Head Quarters at Saxenbaufen, The French Army, under the Command July 11. of Marshal Broglio, quitted their Camp of Neustadt, the 8th Inflant at Night, and marched towards Franckenberg; fome Time after which, we received Advice, that M. de St. Germain was in Motion, and directed his March towards Brilon and Corbach. Our Army began its March likewife on the 8th, at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon, and arrived in the Morning of the 9th upon the Heights of Braunau, not far from Wildungen. The advanced Corps under the Command of the Hereditary Prince of Brunf-wick, was fent forwards from thence as far as Saxenhausen, after having been reinforced with some Battalions and Squadrons under Major General Griffin. The Army refumed its March on the 10th at Two o'Clock in the Morning : And the fame Morning, the Hereditary Prince advanced from Saxenhaufen towards Corbach, where he found the Enemy already formed: But, judging them to be not yet very numerous, and their whole Force against him not to exceed 10,000 Foot, and 17 Squa-drons, he formed a Defign of driving that Corps back; and thus an Engagement was brought on, and became extremely hot about Two o'Clock in the Afternoon. The Enemy being continually re-inforced with fresh Troops, and having the Supe-riority of Numbers, and a large Artillery, the Prince found it not possible to dislodge them from their Post: And as there was no Necessity of maintaining that which he birgelf occuried (and maintaining that which he himfelf occupied, (our main Army being arrived at Saxenhaulen) and it not being practicable for them to come up in Time to fultain the Hereditary Prince in his Poft; Orders were fent him by Prince Ferdinand to rejoin the Army, Part of which was then formed. Accordingly, the Hereditary Prince made his Difpofi-tions for a Retreat, which was attended with a little Confusion among fome of our Battalions and Squadrons. The Enemy observing this, prefied very brifkly upon our Troops," both with their Ar-tillery and a large Body of Cavalry. Our Battalions would have fuffered confiderably hereby, had it not been for the Bravery of the Hereditary Prince, who putting himfelf at the Head of one of Bland's Squa. drons, and of Howard's Regiment of Dragoons, charged the Enemy fo furioully, as to enable our Infantry to make a fafe Retreat. Fifteen Pieces of Cannon, however, fell into the Hands of the Enemy, which could not be carried off for Want of the Horfes that were killed in the Action. Our Lofs in Men, Killed, Wounded, and Prifoners, may amount to Five hundred. General Count Kielmanfegge diffinguished himself greatly in this Affair, as well well as Major General Griffin, with the two British Battalions of Brudenell and Carr; and particularly one Squadron of Bland's, commanded by Major Mill, and Howard's Regiment of Dragoons : And the Troops in general fhewed great Good-Will and Alacrity. The Heredikary Prince was wounded in the Shoulder, but not dangeroufly; and it is hoped will appear again in a few Days. We are incamped upon the Heights of Saxenhausen, as the French are upon those of Corbach.

General Sporcke is expected to join us foon.
