Translation of a Letter from his Serene Highness Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick, to his Majesty.

S I R, Warbourg, August 1.
I Have the Honour of acquainting your Majesty with the Defeat of the Reserve under the Chevalier de Mui, who having passed the Dymel at Stadbergen, extended his Corps down the Banks of that River, in order to cut me off from Westphalia, whilst M. de Broglie was advancing with his Main Army towards my Camp at Kalle, and Prince Xavier with his Reserve, on our Left, towards Cassel. Hereupon I determined to leave General Kielmansegge with a Body of Troops at Cassel, for the Protection of that City, and to march myself with the Army the Night of the 30th, in order to pass the Dymel between Liebenau and Dringelbourg; which was happily executed. The Hereditary Prince, who had passed the Dymel on the 29th, to go and reinforce General Sporcke, (who was posted since the 28th between Liebenau and Corbeke) reconnoitred the Position of the Chevalier de Mui, who from the 30th in the Morning was in Possession of a very advantageous Camp between Warbourg and Ochsendorff. It was agreed, that the Prince and M. Sporcke should turn the Enemy's Left, whilst I advanced with the Army upon their Front; which was done with all possible Success; the Enemy being attacked almost in the same Instant by M. Sporcke and the Hereditary Prince in Flank and in Rear. As the Infantry of the Army could not march fast enough, to charge at the same Time, I ordered my Lord Granby to advance with the Cavalry of the Right. The English Artillery got up on a Gallop, and seconded the Attack in a surprizing Manner. All the Troops have done well, and particularly the English. The French Cavalry, tho' very numerous, retreated, as soon as ours advanced to charge them, excepting only three Squadrons, that kept their Ground, but were soon broke. A Part of the English Cavalry then fell upon the Enemy's Infantry, which suffered extremely; and particularly the Regiment of Lochmann Swiss. I ordered an Attack to be made on the Town of Warbourg by the Legion Britannique; and the Enemy, finding themselves thus attacked upon their two Flanks, in Front and in Rear, retired with the utmost Precipitation, and with the Loss of many Men, as well from the Fire of our Artillery, as from the Attacks of the Cavalry. Many were drowned in the Dymel, in attempting to ford it. The Enemy's Loss in Men is very considerable: I cannot exactly ascertain it, but it is supposed, that they have left fifteen hundred Men upon the Field of Battle; and the Amount of the Prisoners, we have made, probably exceeds that Number. We have taken ten Pieces of Cannon, with some Colours. The Loss on our Side is very moderate, and falls chiefly upon the brave Battalion of Maxwell's English Grenadiers, which did Wonders. Colonel Beckwith, who commanded the Brigade, formed of English Grenadiers and Scotch Highlanders, distinguished himself greatly, and has been wounded in the Head.

My Lord Granby, with the English Cavalry, has contributed extremely to the Success of the Day. I charge Capt. Faucitt, his Lordship's Aide-de-Camp, with this Letter, to be delivered to Your Majesty, and to give Your Majesty a more particular Account of the Action from his own Mouth, till I can have the Honour of laying at Your Majesty's Feet a more extensive and circumstantial Relation.

I am, with the most profound Respect,
 Sir,
 Your Majesty's most humble,
 And most obedient

Cousin and Servant,

Ferdinand Duc de Brunswick & de Lunebourg.

Copy of a Letter from the Marquess of Granby to the Earl of Holderness.

My Lord,

IT is with the greatest Satisfaction, that I have the Honour of acquainting your Lordship of the Success of the Hereditary Prince Yesterday Morning.

General Sporcken's Corps marched from the Camp at Kalle to Liebenau, about Four in the Afternoon of the 29th; the Hereditary Prince followed, the same Evening, with a Body of Troops, among which were the two English Battalions of Grenadiers, the two of Highlanders, and four Squadrons of Dragoons, Cope's and Conway's.

The Army was under Arms all Day on the 30th; and, about Eleven at Night, marched off in Six Columns to Liebenau. About Five the next Morning, the whole Army assembled, and formed on the Heights near Corbeke. The Hereditary Prince was, at this Time, marching in two Columns, in order o turn the Enemy's Left Flank; which he did, by marching to Donhelbourg, leaving Klein-Eder on his Left, and forming in two Lines, with his Left towards Doffel, and his Right near Grimbeck, opposite to the Left Flank of the Enemy, whose Position was, with the Left to the high Hill near Offendorff, and their Right to Warbourg, into which Place they had flung Fischer's Corps. The Hereditary Prince immediately attacked the Enemy's Flank; and, after a very sharp Dispute, obliged them to give Way; and, by a continual Fire, kept forcing them to fall back upon Warbourg. The Army was, at this Time, marching with the greatest Diligence to attack the Enemy in Front; but the Infantry could not get up in Time; General Waldegrave, at the Head of the British, pressed their March as much as possible; no Troops could shew more Eagerness to get up, than they shewed. Many of the Men, from the Heat of the Weather, and over-straining themselves to get on, through morassy and very difficult Ground, suddenly dropped down on their March.

General Moityn, who was at the British Cavalry that was formed on the Right of our Infantry, on the other Side of a large Wood, upon receiving the Duke's Orders to come up with the Cavalry as fast as possible, made so much Expedition, bringing them up at a full Trot, though the Distance was near 5 Miles, that the British Cavalry had the Happiness to arrive in Time, to share the Glory of the Day, having successfully charged, several Times, both the Enemy's Cavalry and Infantry.

I should do Injustice to the General Officers, to every Officer and private Man, of the Cavalry, if I did not beg your Lordship would assure His Majesty, that nothing could exceed their gallant Behaviour on that Occasion.

Captain Phillips made so much Expedition with his Cannon, as to have an Opportunity, by a severe Cannonade, to oblige those who had passed the Dymel, and were formed on the other Side, to retire with the utmost Precipitation.

I received his Serene Highness's Orders Yesterday in the Evening, to pass the River after them, with the 12 British Battalions, and 10 Squadrons; and am now encamped upon the Heights of Wilda, about four Miles from Warbourg, on the Heights of which their grand Army is encamped.

M. de Muy is now retiring from the Heights of Volkmissen, where he lay under Arms last Night, towards Wolffhagen. I cannot give your Lordship an Account of the Loss on either Side. Captain Faucitt, whom I send off with this, shall get all the Intelligence he can upon this Head before he sets off.

I am, &c.

GRANBY.

P. S. Saturday Morning Six o'Clock.

As I had not an Opportunity of sending off Capt. Faucitt so soon as I intended, I opened my Letter to acquaint your Lordship, That I have just rejoined the Grand Army with my Detachment.
