Westminster, November 18.

HIS Majesty came this Day to the House of Peers, and being in His Royal Robes seated on the Throne with the usual Solemnity, Sir Henry Bellenden, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a Message from His Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their Attendance in the House of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, His Majesty was pleased to make the following most gracious Speech.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

THE just Concern, which I have felt in My own Breast, on the sudden Death of the late King, my Royal Grandfather, makes Me not doubt, but you must all have been deeply affected with so severe a Loss. The present critical, and difficult, Conjunction has made this Loss the more sensible, as He was the great Support of that System, by which alone the Liberties of Europe, and the Weight, and Influence, of these Kingdoms, can be preserved; and gave Life to the Measures, conducive to those Important Ends.

I need not tell you the Addition of Weight, which immediately falls upon Me, in being called to the Government of this Free, and Powerful, Country, at such a Time, and under such Circumstances. My Consolation is in the Uprightness of My own Intentions; your faithful, and united, Assistance, and the Blessing of Heaven, upon Our joint Endeavours, which I devoutly implore.

Born and educated in this Country, I glory in the Name of Briton; and the peculiar Happiness of My Life will ever consist in promoting the Welfare of a People, whose Loyalty, and warm Affection, to Me, I consider, as the greatest, and most permanent, Security of My Throne; and I doubt not but their Steadiness in those Principles, will equal, the Firmness of My inviolable Resolution to adhere to, and strengthen, this excellent Constitution in Church, and State; and to maintain the Toleration inviolable. The Civil, and Religious, Rights of My Loving Subjects, are equally dear to Me, with the most Valuable Prerogatives of My Crown; and, as the surest Foundation of the Whole, and the best Means to draw down the Divine Favor on My Reign, it is My fixed Purpose to Countenance, and Encourage, the Practice of True Religion, and Virtue.

I reflect, with Pleasure, on the Successes, with which the British Arms have been prospered this last Summer. The total Reduction of the vast Province of Canada, with the City of Montreal, is of the most Interesting Consequence; and must be as heavy a Blow to my Enemies, as it is a Conquest glorious to Us; The more Glorious, because effected, almost without Effusion of Blood, and with that Humanity, which makes an amiable Part of the Character of this Nation.

Our Advantages gained in the East Indies have been signal, and must greatly diminish the Strength, and Trade, of France, in those Parts, as well as procure the most solid Benefits, to the Commerce, and Wealth, of My Subjects.

In Germany, where the whole French Force has been employed, the Combined Army, under the Wife, and Able, Conduct of My General, Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick, has not only stopt their Progress, but has gained Advantages over them, notwithstanding their boasted Superiority; and their not having hitherto come to a General Engagement.

My Good Brother and Ally, the King of Prussia, although surrounded with Numerous Armies of Enemies, has, with a Magnanimity, and Perseverance, almost beyond Example, not only withstood their various Attacks, but has obtained very considerable Victories over them.

Of these Events, I shall say no more at this Time, because the Nature of the War in those Parts, has kept the Campaign there still depending.

As My Navy is the Principal Article of Our Natural Strength, It gives Me much Satisfaction to receive It, in such good Condition; whilst the Fleet of France is weakened to such a Degree, that the small Remains of it, have continued blocked up by My Ships in their own Ports. At the same Time the French Trade is reduced to the lowest Ebb; and with Joy of Heart, I see the Commerce of My Kingdoms, that great Source of Our Riches, and fixed Object, of My never failing Care and Protection, flourishing to an Extent, unknown in any former War.

The Valour, and Intrepidity, of My Officers, and Forces, both at Sea, and Land, have been distinguished so much, to the Glory of this Nation; that I should be wanting in Justice to Them, if I did not acknowledge It: This is a Merit, which I shall constantly encourage, and reward: And I take this Occasion to declare, that the zealous, and useful, Service of the Militia, in the present arduous Conjunction, is very acceptable to Me.

In this State I have found Things; at My Accession to the Throne of My Ancestors; Happy in viewing the prosperous Part of It; Happier still should I have been; had I found My Kingdoms; whose true Interest I have entirely at Heart, in full Peace: But since the Ambition; injurious Encroachments; and dangerous Designs, of My Enemies, rendered the War both just, and necessary, and the generous Overture made last Winter, towards a Congress for a Pacification, has not yet produced a suitable Return, I am determined, with your cheerful, and powerful, Assistance, to prosecute this War with Vigor, in order to that desirable Object, a safe, and honorable Peace. For this Purpose, It is absolutely incumbent upon Us, to be early prepared, and I rely upon your Zeal, and hearty Concurrence, to support the King of Prussia, and the Rest of My Allies, and to make ample Provision for carrying on the War, as the only Means to bring Our Enemies to equitable Terms of Accommodation.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

The greatest Uneasiness, which I feel at this Time, is in considering the uncommon Burdens, necessarily brought upon My faithful Subjects. I desire only such Supplies, as shall be requisite to prosecute the War with Advantage; be adequate to the necessary Services; and that they may be provided for, in the most sure, and effectual, Manner. You may depend upon the faithful and punctual Application of what shall be granted. I have ordered the proper Estimates for the ensuing Year to be laid before you; and also an Account of the Extraordinary Expences, which from the Nature of the different, and remote, Operations, have been unavoidably incurred.

It is with peculiar Reluctance, that I am obliged at such a Time, to mention any Things, which personally regards Myself. But, as the Grant of the greatest Part of the Civil List Revenues is now determined, I trust in your Duty, and Affection, to Me, to make the proper Provision, for supporting My Civil Government with Honor, and Dignity. On My Part, you may be assured of a regular, and becoming, Economy.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

The Eyes of all Europe are upon you. From your Resolutions, the Protestant Interest hopes for Protection, as well as all our Friends for the Preservation of their Independency; and our Enemies fear, the final Disappointment of their ambitious, and destructive, Views. Let these Hopes, and Fears, be confirmed, and augmented, by the Vigor, Unanimity, and Dispatch, of your Proceedings.

In this Expectation, I am the more encouraged, by a pleasing Circumstance, which I look upon, as one of the most auspicious Omens of My Reign. That happy Extinction of Divisions, and that Union, and good Harmony, which continue to prevail amongst My Subjects, afford me the most agreeable Prospect. The natural Disposition, and Wish, of My Heart, are to cement and promote them; and I promise Myself, that nothing will arise, on your Part, to interrupt, or disturb, a Situation, so essential to the true, and lasting, Felicity of this Great People.

Dublin Castle, November 1.

Yesterday in the Afternoon arrived an Express to their Excellencies the Lords Justices of this Kingdom, with an Account of the Death of our late Sovereign King George the Second, of blessed Memory, and Directions for proclaiming His Royal Majesty King George the Third; and this Morning, at Ten o'Clock, their Excellencies and the Privy-Council met at the Castle, and signed a Proclamation pursuant to the Tenor of that which had been issued in Great Britain, and about Two o'Clock the Lords Justices, and all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Town, with the Lord-Mayor and Aldermen, King at Arms, and other Officers attending the State, first proclaimed His Majesty at the Castle Gate, and afterwards went in Procession through the City, escorted by a Squadron of Dragons, and proclaimed His Majesty at the following Places, viz. at the Tholsel, at Cornmarket, at the Old Bridge, at Ormond Bridge, and at Essex Bridge, with the usual Solemnities. The Great Guns in His Majesty's Park the Phoenix were fired three Rounds, and answered by Volleys from the Regiments quartered there; and the Night ended with Bonfires, Ringing of Bells, and other publick Demonstrations of Joy.

GEORGE ARMAGH. SHANNON.

WHEREAS it hath pleased Almighty God to call to His Mercy our late Sovereign Lord King GEORGE the Second, of blessed Memory, by whose Decease the Imperial Crowns of Great-Britain, France, and Ireland, are solely and rightfully come to the High and Mighty Prince GEORGE, Prince of Wales: We, therefore, the Lords Justices of this Kingdom, and several of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal of this Realm, being here assisted with those of His late Majesty's Privy-Council, and Numbers of other Principal Gentlemen of Quality, with the Lord-Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens of Dublin, do now hereby, with one Voice, and Consent of Tongue and Heart, Publish and Proclaim, That the High and Mighty Prince GEORGE, Prince of Wales, is now, by the Death of Our late Sovereign of happy Memory, become Our Only Lawful and Rightful Liege Lord GEORGE the Third, by the Grace of God, King of Great-Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and so forth; to whom We do acknowledge all Faith and constant Obedience, with all hearty and humble Affection; beseeching God, by whom Kings and Queens do reign, to bless the Royal Prince GEORGE the Third, with Long and Happy Years to reign over us.

Given at His Majesty's Castle of Dublin, the 1st Day of November, 1760.

GOD Save the KING.

By the Lords Justices and Council of Ireland,
A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE ARMAGH. SHANNON.

WHEREAS it hath pleased Almighty God to call to His Mercy our late Sovereign Lord King GEORGE the Second, of blessed Memory, by whose Decree the Imperial Crowns of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, are solely and rightfully come to the High and Mighty Prince GEORGE, Prince of Wales:

We, the Lords Justices and Council, do, by this our Proclamation, think fit to give Publick Notice Mayors, Sheriffs, and other His Majesty's Officers, to Publish thereof to all His Majesty's Subjects, and do Require all and Proclaim, That the High and Mighty Prince GEORGE, Prince of Wales, is now by the Death of our late Sovereign, of happy Memory, become our only Lawful and Rightful Liege, Lord GEORGE the Third, by the Grace of God, King of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and so forth, in all the Cities and Towns Corporate, and Market Towns in this Kingdom; and all Officers, both Civil and Military, and other His Majesty's Subjects, are hereby required to be Assisting in the Performance thereof with all due Solemnity.

GOD Save the KING.

St. James's, November 17.

This Day the following Address of the Governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne was presented to His Majesty by the most Reverend Father in God the Archbishop of Canterbury, accompanied by a great Number of the Bishops, and several other Governors; which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously; and they had all the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne for the Augmentation of the Maintenance of the Poor Clergy.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne for the Augmentation of small Livings, humbly beg Leave to express our great Concern for the Loss of our late gracious Sovereign your Royal Grandfather, to whom we are indebted for repeated Marks of his good Will to this Charity, and our equal Joy on the auspicious Accession of your Majesty to the Throne, from whose Piety, Benevolence and Prudence, every good Work will be secure of every needful Favour.

The First Fruits and Tithes of the Clergy, extorted from them originally by the See of Rome, have, since the Reformation, been paid with Pleasure to our own Princes, the Defenders of our Faith, till they were generously given back, to increase the Maintenance of the poorer Part of Parish Ministers. Providing a suitable Competency for them by this Method will indeed be the Work of Ages: But their Condition, an Act of Kindness which they greatly deserve as well as want, but contributes to procure them that Respect, without which they cannot be useful; and also tends to make Residence more practicable, and publick Worship and Instruction more frequent and regular, which are now in many Places much too rare.

We solemnly assure your Majesty, that we endeavour to conduct this excellent Design, with the utmost Faithfulness and Attention, according to the Rules prescribed us by your Royal Predecessors, and the Lights that we have obtained by diligent Consideration and large Experience. We entirely depend on your Majesty's Goodness to protect us in carrying it on; and your Wisdom to give us further Directions, whenever new Occasions may require them. And we are firmly persuaded, that the whole Body of your Clergy join, with us, in unfeigned Duty and Love to your Majesty's Person, and the highest Esteem of your exemplary Virtues; in the warmest Gratitude for your gracious Promises to preserve and strengthen the established Church, and to discourage all Sorts of Wickedness; and in the most fervent Prayers, that God would grant your Majesty Success in War, and every Blessing of Peace, long Life, and eternal Felicity.

Given under our Common Seal this Eleventh Day of November, in the Year of our Lord, One thousand seven hundred and sixty.

They afterwards waited on the Princess Dowager of Wales, and the Archbishop of Canterbury made their Compliments to Her Royal Highness in a Speech, to which Her Royal Highness was pleased to return a most gracious Answer: And they all had the Honour to kiss her Royal Highness's Hand.

St. James's, November 18.

Yesterday the Right Honourable the Earl of Maclesfield, President, attended by the Council and Fellows of the Royal Society, waited on His Majesty with an humble Address, which was received very graciously; and they all had the Honour of kissing His Majesty's Hand. After which His Majesty was pleased to sign the Book of Charters and Laws of the Society as their Patron.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the President, Council, and Fellows of the Royal Society of London, for improving natural Knowledge.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the President, Council, and Fellows of the Royal Society of London, for improving natural Knowledge, beg Leave to approach your sacred Person, to condole in the most respectful Manner with your Majesty, on the Death of your Royal Grandfather; and, at the same Time, to express our unfeigned Joy, on your Majesty's happy Succession to the Imperial Crown of these Kingdoms.

Shatters as we are with the Rest of our Fellow Subjects, in the general Grief, arising from the great Loss, which the Publick has sustained, by the Death of our late Excellent and Glorious Sovereign, we have the additional Concern of being thereby deprived of a most Gracious Patron, and Generous Benefactor.

We therefore most humbly intreat your Majesty, to take this Society into your Royal Patronage and Protection. And as your Majesty's known Piety, and other eminent Virtues, afford us the most pleasing Prospect of your completely repairing the late national Loss; your Majesty's remarkable Love of Science in general, and particularly of those Branches of it, which are the peculiar Object of our Studies, and the Improvement whereof was the principal Design of our Institution, gives us the most sanguine Hopes, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to comply with this our Request, and honour us with your Royal Name in our Register, as our Patron, among those of your Royal Predecessors.

That your Majesty's Reign may be long, happy, and glorious; and that you may ever rule in the Hearts, as well as over the Persons, of a free, affectionate. and grateful People, is the earnest Wish, and ardent Prayer, of your Majesty's loyal Subjects, the President, Council, and Fellows, of the Royal Society of London.

Given under our Common Seal this Thirteenth Day of November, in the first Year of the Reign of His Majesty King George the Third, and, in the Year of our Lord 1760.

The following Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of Portsmouth, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable Lord Anson: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of Portsmouth, being sensibly affected with the great and sudden Loss of His late Majesty, of glorious Memory, humbly beg Leave to condole with your Majesty, and express our Sorrow upon this melancholy Occasion.

But since Providence hath so amply supplied this Loss, by your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne (which we most heartily congratulate) we think it our Duty to moderate our Grief, and enjoy that pleasing Prospect of Happiness which is opened to our View, under your Majesty's Government.

We therefore humbly offer to your Majesty all the Assurances that can be given of our affectionate Zeal to your Person and Government; not doubting but that your Majesty will continue to support (both in War and Peace) the Reputation of the British Name, already rendered illustrious by the many great and glorious Exploits performed by the British Arms in every Part of the globe, during the Course of the present War.

Dated at Portsmouth, the 15th of November 1760.

The following Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs and Commonalty of the City of York, has been presented to His Majesty by George Fox Lane, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs and Commonalty of the City of York, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Commonalty of your antient City of York, beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty upon your happy Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors, and to express a pious and grateful Regard for the Memory of your Royal Grandfather, our late most Gracious Sovereign, who reigned so long in the Hearts of His Subjects, and merited the glorious Character of Father of his People.

Your Majesty's elevated Mind aspires to the same Object, breathing the tenderest Concern for the true Interests of this Country, which has the Honour of giving you Birth; and for that excellent Constitution, which is the Basis of our Liberties. To Princes acting upon these Principles, the English have ever been dutiful and loyal; and our Hearts, melted with your early and innate Goodness, already overflow with the warmest Affection to your Sacred Person, and the most zealous Attachment to your Government.

These exalted Virtues, which have thus endeared your Majesty to your People, are called forth in the most important and interesting Juncture, distinguished by the most signal Successes Abroad, and the most perfect Unanimity at Home: And, we trust, that your Majesty's Arms and Councils, under the Guidance of the Almighty, are destined to relieve Mankind from the Calamities of War, and to procure for your People a safe and honourable Peace: And we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that we will still most cheerfully contribute, to the utmost of our Abilities, what may be necessary for the speedy attaining so desirable an End.

May your Majesty be blessed with a long and prosperous Reign over an happy and grateful People: May a just Reverence for Religion and the Laws dignify your Government; and may the Protestant Succession continue in your Illustrious House to the remotest Period of Time.

The following Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City of Aberdeen, having been transmitted by the Provost of Aberdeen to the Right Honourable the Earl of Holderness, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates and Council of the City of Aberdeen.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects, the Provost, Magistrates and Council of the City of Aberdeen, beg Leave, with Hearts full of Loyalty, to congratulate your Majesty on your happy Accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms.

Permit us, on this Occasion, first to sympathize with your Majesty on the Loss of your Royal Grandfather, George the Second, our late most Glorious Sovereign; a Prince, who, through a long and illustrious Reign, uniformly pursued the true Interests of His Subject, who always united inflexible Justice with unexampled Clemency, and who was alike incapable of making an unjust Attack upon the Rights of other Nations, and of permitting any to invade, with Impunity, the Rights of his own People.

It is with the greatest Pleasure we observe, that your Majesty has ascended the Throne at a Time when perfect Unanimity prevails at Home, and the British Counsels and Arms triumph every where Abroad. We rejoice in the Assurance, that a King, who has already given so strong Proofs of Regard to the Constitution and Interest of his Country, and displayed in early Youth so many Princely Virtues, will improve the Advantages with which he begins his Reign to the Honour and Happiness of the Nation, and will ever be the Father and the Guardian of his People.

We gladly seize this first Opportunity of assuring your Majesty of our inviolable Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government; and of expressing our hearty Wishes, that Almighty God may grant your Majesty a long and glorious Reign over a People truly sensible of the Blessings they derive from your Majesty's illustrious House.

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most faithful, most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Provost, Magistrates and Council of the City of Aberdeen.

Signed in their Name and by their Appointment,

Aberdeen,

Nov. 6, 1760.

Wm. Davidson, Provost.

The following Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgesses of the Town of Cambridge, has been presented to His Majesty by the Hon. Charles Sloane Cadogan and Soames Jennyns, Esqrs. their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgesses of the Town of Cambridge.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

YOUR ever dutiful and loyal Subjects the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgesses of the Town of Cambridge, beg Leave to express their unfeigned Sorrow and Regret for the Loss of his late most Excellent Majesty, whose unwearied Endeavours to secure the Welfare and Happiness of his Subjects, and invariable Attachment to the Laws and Constitution of his Kingdoms, throughout a long and glorious Reign, justly demand the strongest and most affectionate Acknowledgements from every honest Briton. At the same Time that a grateful Sensibility exacts this small, though honourable tribute, to his Memory, permit us, Sir, likewise to rejoice in the certain Prospect, which your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne gives us, of the Continuance of those invaluable Blessings, our Civil and Religious Rights and Liberties, which were restored and confirmed to these Nations, by their great Deliverer King William, and from Him transmitted, through his faithful Successors, unviolated into your Majesty's Hands, for Protection: Confident of that, and secure of every public Blessing under it, We most humbly assure your Majesty, that our Lives and Fortunes will be ever cheerfully devoted to the Defence of your Sacred Person, and the Support of your Government; upon the Stability of which, we found our surest Hopes of future Happiness.

May you Majesty long live the dreaded Foe and Scourge of Tyranny, and the beloved Guardian of British Independency: And may the grateful Returns of a People as affectionate as free, make your Majesty's Reign easy and glorious to yourself, and terrible to all your Enemies.

Given under our common Seal, the Eighth Day of November, One thousand seven hundred and sixty.

The following Address of the Bailiffs, Burgesses and Commonalty of the Town or Borough of Ludlow, has been presented to His Majesty by Henry Bridgeman and Edward Herbert, Esqrs, their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bailiffs, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the Town or Borough of Ludlow in the County of Salop, in Common-Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bailiffs, Burgesses and Commonalty of the Borough of Ludlow, beg Leave to approach your Majesty with our Congratulations upon your happy Accession to the Throne, and to offer our Vows of unalterable Fidelity and Affection to your Royal Person and Government.

We are sensibly affected and afflicted by the Loss of our late most Excellent King, at a Time when we are engaged in the Hazards of War with the potent and perpetual Enemies of your Kingdoms: But when we behold your Majesty not only possessed of His Crown, but also of His Royal Virtues, and consider the Hereditary Courage of the House of Brunswick, our Fears are no more; we believe ourselves safe under your Majesty's Powerful Protection.

That God Almighty, by whom Kings reign, may establish your Throne; that your Majesty may reign long over a willing and obedient People, and, by Victory in War, restore to them the Blessings of Peace, are the constant Wishes and Prayers of us your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

In Testimony whereof, we have hereunto set our Hands and Common Seal this Tenth Day of November, in the Year of our Lord, One thousand seven hundred and sixty.

The following Address of the Mayor and Commonalty of the Borough of Dunheved otherwise Launceston, has been presented to His Majesty by Peter Burrell, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor and Commonalty of the Borough of Dunheved otherwise Launceston in the County of Cornwall, in Common Council assembled, beg Leave (amidst our Sorrow for the Loss of our late most gracious Sovereign) to congratulate your Majesty on your Accession to the Throne of Great Britain, in the Era of its brightest Lustre.

Under the Auspices of your Majesty, animated by the Example of your Royal Grandfather, what Blessings may we not expect? And, in Return, what Loyalty and Obedience ought not we obsequiously to pay?

The indulgent and tender Love your Majesty affectionately expresses for your native Country, fills our Hearts with the most exalted Joy. Long, long may you reign the Parent, Guardian, and Protector of all your Kingdoms; the Delight, Darling, and Glory of a grateful People; and may the British Crown descend to your Majesty's Posterity, till Time shall be no more.

Given under our Common Seal of the said Borough the Tenth Day of November, 1760.

Sign'd by Order of the Court,

Ja. Tymewell, Town Clerk.

The following Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the Borough of Great Yarmouth, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Hon. Sir Edward Walpole, Knight of the Bath, and Charles Townshend, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses and Commonalty of the Borough of Great Yarmouth, in Common Council assembled.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the Borough of Great Yarmouth, beg Leave most humbly to present our sincere Congratulations, upon your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne.

We could not have discharged this Duty, without expressing the deepest Affliction at the inestimable Loss sustained by your Majesty, your Kingdoms, and the Protestant Cause, in the lamented Death of your Royal Grandfather, whose mild and equal Government at home, and unexampled Success abroad, made this Nation great and happy whilst he lived, and will make his Memory dear to the latest Posterity: But Providence has wisely alleviated this Loss, by making it the Means of opening to us the auspicious Prospect of a Reign as glorious, and as favourable to our Religion and Liberties, as any Reign in the British Annals.

We are encouraged to derive great Comfort from this Prospect, by the Fame of those Virtues, which were early rooted in your Majesty's Heart by your Royal Parents; and though a most melancholy Event deprived your Majesty of one of the illustrious Guides of your tender Years; yet His paternal Cares were so effectually supplied by the Great Princess to whom they devolved, that we have now the Happiness of seeing your Majesty at once possessed of the Throne of your Ancestors, and of the united Affection of your Subjects.

Your Majesty, thus invested with Hereditary Glories and Personal Virtues, will have the most natural Claim to the zealous Allegiance of all your People. It shall be our Endeavour to pay this in its utmost Extent; and permit us to manifest it on the present Occasion, by the most fervent Wishes and Prayers, that your Majesty's Reign may be long and happy, victorious over your Enemies, immortal in the Memory of Posterity, and that we may always enjoy with Gratitude the Blessings, which, we are confident, will be dispensed by a British King of the Illustrious House of Hanover.

Given under our Common Seal, at our Guildhall, this tenth Day of November, 1760.

The following Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Burrow of Drumsfries, has been presented to His Majesty: which Address dress his Majesty has been pleased to receive very graciously.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Burrow of Drumsfries, in Council assembled, beg Leave for ourselves, and in the Name of the whole Incorporation, Humbly to lay before your Sacred Majesty, our most joyful Congratulations, on your Majesty's happy Accession to the Imperial Crown of these Realms; most heartily condoling at the same Time with your Majesty, on the great Loss the Nation has sustained by the Death of our late most gracious Sovereign, your Majesty's Royal Grandfather; the Glory of whose Reign has exceeded the Renown; great as it was, which he inherited with the Scepter of his August Ancestors.

We might have justly feared to be inconsolable, under such an affecting Stroke, at so critical a Juncture, and especially when, aggravated by Reflections on the previous Loss of a Prince, the Heir apparent of the Crown, your Majesty's Royal Father, the Darling of a grateful People, who had long beheld him as the Object of their most flattering Hopes: But we must with Gratitude adore the compassionate Goodness of the Almighty Providence, which has given us the inestimable Blessing of a Prince, to reign over the Hearts of his People, sprung from him, on whom our former Hopes were placed, Born among us, trained up to regard his native Country as the Object of his most tender Affection, and endowed with every noble Virtue and great Accomplishment, at an early Age, giving us the most happy Prospect of a long and prosperous Reign. These considerations alleviate our just Grief for past Misfortunes.

Nor can we enough acknowledge the infinite Obligations our Country owes to the illustrious Princess your Majesty's Royal Mother, whose wife and pious Example has had so great an Influence in forming your Princely Mind; for the Care and Attention she has most successfully bestowed on your Majesty's Education; the happy Fruits of which must raise a lasting Monument of her Royal Highness's tender Concern for the Happiness of this Nation.

The gracious Declaration with which your Majesty began your Reign, that you would make it the whole Business of your Life to promote the Glory and Happiness of these Kingdoms, cannot have failed to make the most grateful Impression on the Hearts of all your loving Subjects.——It breathes forth every thing that can engage our most cheerful Obedience and unbounded Affection.

We rejoice to hear the Support and Assistance of honest Men called for from the Throne; and we should be most unworthy of a Prince, the Sentiments of whose Heart could dictate to him such Language, were we not ready on our Part, to devote our Lives for the Defence of your Majesty's Sacred Person, Crown, and Dignity.——On the Security of those, we place all our Hopes, under God, for the Maintenance and Preservation of our valuable Rights and Liberties, civil and religious, and for the Continuance of the flourishing Trade and Commerce of these Kingdoms; and we trust to see your Majesty's Throne immovable established in that Virtue and Righteousness, which you Yourself have placed as the Pillars of it.

Your Majesty has ascended the Throne, in the Midst of a necessary, and, we thank God, a glorious War, in Defence of the just Rights and Possessions of your Crown and People; but we hope it has been reserved to the Glory of a Reign, the Dawnings of which are so highly pleasing, to secure by a lasting and honorable Peace, what the Wisdom of the Counsels, and the Valour of the Arms of the Nation, have so heroically and successfully contended for.

It is our ardent Vow to Heaven, that the Fountain of all Goodness may most eminently bless and protect your Majesty's sacred Person; prosper and prolong your Reign; may the Crown sit many Years with Ease and Honor on your Royal Head; and when late, very late, exchanged for a Crown of greater Glory, be transmitted, with unfading Lustre, to Princes of your illustrious House to latest Posterity.

Signed by Order and in Presence of the Council, this 8th Day of November 1760.

Robert Maxwell, Provost.
