

Prussia, and the Rest of My Allies, and to make ample Provision for carrying on the War, as the only Means to bring Our Enemies to equitable Terms of Accommodation.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

The greatest Uneasiness, which I feel at this Time, is in considering the uncommon Burdens, necessarily brought upon My faithful Subjects. I desire only such Supplies, as shall be requisite to prosecute the War with Advantage; be adequate to the necessary Services; and that they may be provided for, in the most sure, and effectual, Manner. You may depend upon the faithful and punctual Application of what shall be granted. I have ordered the proper Estimates for the ensuing Year to be laid before you; and also an Account of the Extraordinary Expences, which from the Nature of the different, and remote, Operations, have been unavoidably incurred.

It is with peculiar Reluctance, that I am obliged at such a Time, to mention any Thing, which personally regards Myself. But, as the Grant of the greatest Part of the Civil List Revenues is now determined, I trust in your Duty, and Affection, to Me, to make the proper Provision, for supporting My Civil Government with Honor, and Dignity. On My Part, you may be assured of a regular, and becoming, Economy.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

The Eyes of all Europe are upon you. From your Resolutions, the Protestant Interest hopes for Protection, as well as all our Friends for the Preservation of their Independency; and our Enemies fear, the final Disappointment of their ambitious, and destructive, Views. Let these Hopes, and Fears, be confirmed, and augmented, by the Vigor, Unanimity, and Dispatch, of your Proceedings.

In this Expectation, I am the more encouraged, by a pleasing Circumstance, which I look upon, as one of the most auspicious Omens of My Reign. That happy Extinction of Divisions, and that Union, and good Harmony, which continue to prevail amongst My Subjects, afford me the most agreeable Prospect. The natural Disposition, and Wish, of My Heart, are to cement and promote them; and I promise Myself, that nothing will arise, on your Part, to interrupt, or disturb, a Situation, so essential to the true, and lasting, Felicity of this Great People.

Dublin Castle, November 1.

Yesterday in the Afternoon arrived an Express to their Excellencies the Lords Justices of this Kingdom, with an Account of the Death of our late Sovereign King George the Second, of blessed Memory, and Directions for proclaiming His Royal Majesty King George the Third; and this Morning, at Ten o'Clock, their Excellencies and the Privy-Council met at the Castle, and signed a Proclamation pursuant to the Tenor of that which had been issued in Great Britain, and about Two o'Clock the Lords Justices, and all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Town, with the Lord-Mayor and Aldermen, King at Arms, and other Officers attending the State, first proclaimed His Majesty at the Castle Gate, and afterwards went in Procession through the City, escorted by a Squadron of Dragoons, and proclaimed His Majesty at the following Places, viz. at the Tholsel, at Cornmarket, at the Old Bridge, at Ormond Bridge, and at Essex Bridge, with the usual Solemnities. The Great Guns in His Majesty's Park the Phoenix were fired three Rounds, and answered by Volleys from the Regiments quartered there; and the Night ended with Bonfires, Ringing of Bells, and other publick Demonstrations of Joy.

GEORGE ARMAGH. SHANNON.

WHEREAS it hath pleased Almighty God to call to His Mercy our late Sovereign Lord King GEORGE the Second, of blessed Memory, by whose Decease the Imperial Crowns of Great-Britain, France, and Ireland, are solely and rightfully come to the High and Mighty Prince GEORGE, Prince of Wales: We, therefore, the Lords Justices of this Kingdom, and several of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal of this Realm, being here assisted with those of His late Majesty's Privy-Council, and Numbers of other Principal Gentlemen of Quality, with the Lord-Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens of Dublin, do now hereby, with one Voice, and Consent of Tongue and Heart, Publish and Proclaim, That the High and Mighty Prince GEORGE, Prince of Wales, is now, by the Death of Our late Sovereign of happy Memory, become Our Only Lawful and Rightful Liege Lord GEORGE the Third, by the Grace of God, King of Great-Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and so forth; to whom We do acknowledge all Faith and constant Obedience, with all hearty and humble Affection; beseeching God, by whom Kings and Queens do reign, to bless the Royal Prince GEORGE the Third, with Long and Happy Years to reign over us.

Given at His Majesty's Castle of Dublin, the 1st Day of November, 1760.
