From Saturday December 6, to Tuesday December 9, 1760.

Westminster, December 9.

HIS Majesty came this Day to the House of Peers, and being in His Royal Robes seated on the Throne with the usual Solemnity, Sir Henry Bellenden, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a Message from His Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their Attendance in the House of Peers. The Com-mons being come thither accordingly, His Ma-jesty was pleased to give the Royal assent to,

An Act for the Support of His Majesty's Household, and of the Honour and Dignity of the Crown of Great Britain.

An Act for granting an Aid to His Majesty by a Land Tax, to be raised in Great Britain, for the Service of the Year One thousand seven hundred and sixty one.

An Act for continuing and granting to His Majesty certain Duties upon Malt, Mum, Cyder, and Perry, for the Service of the Year One thousand seven hundred and sixty one.

The following Address of the Bishop of St. David's, the Chantor and Chapter of the Cathedral Church, and the other Clergy of that Diocese, has been presented to His Majesty by the most Reverend Father in God the Archbishop of Canterbury: Which Ad-dress His Majesty was pleased to receive very gra-ciously.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Sub-jects, the Bishop of St. David's, the Chantor and Chapter of the Cathedral Church, and the other Clergy of that Diocese, most humbly beg Leave to express to your Majesty our deep Concern for the Loss of our late Excellent King, and our very great Joy for your Majesty's Accession to the Crown of this Realm, which has been honoured with your Birth.

The Declarations your Majesty has been pleased to make against all Impiety and Immorality, and in Favour of Virtue, of true Religion, and of our Na-tional Constitution in Church and State, excite in our Hearts the warmest Sentiments of Gratitude; and will encourage as well as oblige us to be diligent in all Things that become our Profession. We will earnestly endeavour to impress on the Minds of the People under our Charge, a constant Sense of their Duty to God, with a suitable Respect for your Majesty's Royal Person and Authority. We will cultivate, both in ourselves, and in them, an un-feigned Disposition to act with Zeal for the Service of your Majesty, and the Public, on all Occasions that require it: And we will be assiduous in our Prayers to God, that He will grant such Success to your Majesty's Counsels and Arms, as may produce an honourable Peace; and that He will cause all other Blessings to descend upon your Majesty during the whole Course of a very long and illustrious Reign.

The following Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church, and Clergy of the Diocese of Bangor, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Bangor, being introduced by the Lord of His Ma-jesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean, and Chap-ter of the Cathedral Church, and Clergy of the Diocese of Bangor.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE the Bishop, Dean and Chapter and Clergy of the said Diocese of Bangor, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, having a deep Sense of the great Loss which these Kingdoms have sustained by the Death of our late most gra-cious Sovereign, humbly beg Leave to express our Sorrow on that sudden and unexpected Event.

But as it hath pleased Almighty God so to afflict us at this critical Juncture, nothing could administer greater Consolation, than the Proofs which we have already experienced, of your Royal Virtues. Suffer us then to congratulate your Majesty on your Ac-cession to the Imperial Crown of these Realms, and particularly to declare the sincere Joy which we receive from the Assurances your Majesty has gra-ciously condescended to give your Subjects of an early Care not only to preserve the Constitution both in Church and State, but also of your Majesty's Reso-lution to discountenance Vice and Immorality, and to encourage the Practice of every Christian Virtue.

From so auspicious a Commencement of your Ma-jesty's Reign, we cannot but expect the most happy Consequences: And we gladly embrace this Op-portunity of publicly assuring your Majesty, that our utmost Endeavours shall not be wanting to incul-cate the Necessity of the Christian Faith, the Practice of its Doctrines, and a true Notion of the Blessings we enjoy under the Supremacy of your Sacred Ma-jesty, for whose long Life and happy Reign we offer up our fervent and daily Prayers.

The following Address of the Lord Lieutenant, Nobility, High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Gen-tlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Northumberland, has been presented to His Majesty by Robert Bewicke, Esq; High Sheriff of the said County, being introduced by the Lord of His Ma-jesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously; and to confer the Honour of Knighthood on Robert Bewicke, Esq; the High Sheriff, and Lancelot Allgood, Esq;

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Lieutenant, Nobil-ity, High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Gentle-men, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Northumberland.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Su-jects, the Lord Lieutenant, Nobility, High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Northumberland, humbly beg Leave to approach your Throne, with our most unfeigned Congratulations on your Majesty's happy Accession to the Imperial Crown of these Realms; and, at the same Time, to condole with your Majesty on the great Loss which these King-doms have sustained by the Death of your Royal Grandfather; whose long and happy Reign will be remembered with Reverence and Gratitude, as long as Magnanimity, and Firmness of Spirit, Equality and Justice in the Execution of Government, and an invariable Attention to the Laws, and the Religion, and Liberties of His Subjects, are reckoned amongst the most eminent Virtues of a Sovereign.

In the Midst of our Grief for this Melancholy Event, it is our Consolation to behold the Throne filled by a Prince who has given so clear and early Proofs of His Attachment to the real Welfare of His Subjects; and from whose Royal Virtues we have a cheerful and certain Prospect of the Continuation of all those invaluable Blessings which the Accession of your Majesty's Illustrious House to the Dominion of these Realms, secured to us, and we trust will secure to our latest Posterity.

Permit us, Sir! to congratulate your Majesty on your ascending the Throne of your Ancestors at a Period, when, by the Wisdom and Maturity of its Councils, the Valour and Activity of its Fleets and Armies, and the Unanimity and Consent of all its Parts, the British Nation stands in a more illustrious and respectable Situation than any former Age can boast of; and when, at the same Time, that the Justice of your Majesty's Cause prevails over your Enemies in all Quarters of the Globe, we alone are secure at home from all the Calamities of War, and happy in all the Blessings of Peace.

We can, with the greatest Truth, assure your Majesty of the Zeal and unalterable Affection of the County of Northumberland to your Majesty's Royal Person, Family and Government; and that it is our most sincere and ardent Wish, that the Almighty may continue to crown your Majesty's Arms with all imaginable Success, and may prolong your Majesty's most auspicious Reign over a free, loyal, grateful, and unanimous People.

The following Address of the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Dublin, having been transmitted to His Grace the Duke of Bedford, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Dublin, at Michaelmas Term, One thousand seven hundred and sixty.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects humbly beg Leave to represent to your most Sacred Majesty, the deep Affliction we are moved with for the Loss of your Royal Grandfather, our late most gracious Sovereign, which nothing could alleviate, but the just Consideration of your Majesty's succeeding to the Throne of the British Kingdoms; a Prince born among us, educated under the Care, influenced by the Example, and inheriting the Virtues of one of the best of Kings; who made the Prosperity and Happiness of His People His greatest Glory, and whom the Divine Providence was pleased to bless with Length of Days, and unexampled Success in that just and necessary War he was engaged in.

May the same Divine Goodness continue our Happiness, which we have so just a Prospect of, by granting to your Majesty a long and a prosperous Reign over us; and may we ever have a Branch of your Majesty's Royal Family, to continue those most invaluable Blessings which we enjoy, unto our latest Posterity.

The following Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacons and Clergy of the Diocese of Bath and Wells, has been presented to his Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacons and Clergy of the Diocese of Bath and Wells, beg Leave humbly to approach your Royal Presence, with Hearts full of unfeigned Sorrow and Condolence, upon the great and affecting Loss, which your Majesty, this Nation, and Europe in general, have sustained, by the Death of your Royal Grandfather, whose Memory will be always dear to us, and transmitted to our Posterity with the highest Honour.

So melancholy and afflicting an Event, at so critical a Juncture, would have been insupportable, had it not pleased the Divine Providence to give us a Prince of the same illustrious Line, the undoubted Heir of His Virtues as well as Dominions, born and educated amongst us, and thereby fully instructed in, and attached to our Laws and happy Constitution, to rule over the Hearts as well as Persons of a dutiful and grateful People; and we cannot but look upon it as the surest Omen of a most auspicious Reign, that your Majesty has been pleased to give us so gracious and early Assurances, that it is your fixed Purpose and invariable Resolution, to adhere to, and strengthen our excellent Constitution in Church and State, and to countenance and encourage the Practice of true Religion and Virtue.

That so beneficent and pious a Declaration may not fail of producing the best and most salutary Effects, permit us with all Humility to assure your Majesty, that we will on our Parts approve ourselves signal Examples of Zeal and Affection to your Sacred Person; that we will make it our constant Employment, in our respective Stations, to instill sound Principles of Religion, Loyalty and Virtue, into the Minds of those committed to our Charge: And lastly, Sir, that we will offer up our daily Supplications to Almighty God, to grant you a long and prosperous Reign over us; and that after our present just and necessary War, shall by your Majesty's wise Counsels have been happily concluded with Justice to the British Nation, and your good and faithful Allies, you may many Years enjoy the blessed Fruit thereof, in a safe, honourable and lasting Peace.

The following Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacons, and other Clergy of the Diocese of Chichester, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacons, and other Clergy of the Diocese of Chichester, do with all Humility beg Leave to condole with your Majesty upon the Death of our late Excellent Sovereign, under the mild and wise Administration of whose Government these Nations have long flourished in Freedom, Commerce, and Security, and in the full Enjoyment of all those Civil and Religious Rights, which form the Happiness and Prosperity of a People.

Permit us likewise to congratulate your Majesty upon your happy Accession to the Crown of these Realms; a Crown worn with Lustre by your late Royal Progenitors, and now adorned with those many publick and private Virtues, by which your Majesty has been so early and eminently distinguished, and which cannot fail of raising the just Returns of Honour, Obedience, and Affection throughout all your Kingdoms.

We acknowledge, with Hearts full of the warmest Duty and Gratitude, your Majesty's most gracious Declaration, that you are resolved to preserve and strengthen the Constitution both in Church and State. By these auspicious Beginnings, this affectionate Regard to the Interests of your native Country, we are fully satisfied, that the Happiness of your Subjects will be the great Object of your Care; and do humbly desire to offer the strongest Assurances of our Reverence for your Sacred Person, of our Fidelity and Zeal in the Support of your Government, and of our Constancy and Vigilance in taking every Opportunity of inculcating the same loyal Principles among all those, with whom, in our several Stations, we are more immediately concerned.

May that God, whom you constantly and devoutly serve, preserve you a long and shining Example of sincere Piety, and the purest Morals, exercised and maintained in the highest Station; make you a blessed Instrument in the Hands of His Providence, to promote the same Virtuous and Religious Principles among among your Subjects, to establish the Peace of your Country upon a durable and sure Foundation, and to dispense to a grateful and happy People, every other Blessing of a glorious and successful Reign.

The following Address of the Bishop, the Dean and Chapter, the Archdeacon, and other Clergy of the Diocese of Rochester, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, the Dean and Chapter, the Archdeacon, and other Clergy of the Diocese of Rochester.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most faithful and dutiful Subjects, humbly beg Leave to condole with your Majesty upon the Death of your Royal Grandfather of glorious Memory.

We beg Leave at the same Time to express our Sense of the peculiar Favour of Heaven, in giving us for His Successor a Sovereign, whose many great and good Qualities fill us with the strongest Hopes, that not only our happy Constitution both in Church and State will be carefully preserved, but that your Royal Example will greatly contribute to encourage Religion and Virtue, and to discourage all Manner of Vice and Profaneness.

It is our sincere and earnest Prayer to Almighty God, that, after a long Life spent in the Practice of every Duty of a Christian and a King, your Majesty may be rewarded in that future State, where only compleat Happiness is to be found, and where those will meet with the greatest Rewards, who shall most have promoted the true spiritual and temporal Interests of Mankind.

The following Address of the Bishop, the Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Norwich, the Archdeacons and Clergy of the Diocese of Norwich, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, the Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Norwich, the Archdeacons and Clergy of the Diocese of Norwich.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, the Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Norwich, the Archdeacons and Clergy of the Diocese of Norwich, humbly approach your Majesty, as our only adequate Relief, under that deep Concern with which we are affected by the sudden Death of our late most gracious Sovereign, your Royal Grandfather: The Death of a good King, especially if it happens unexpectedly, is, in the ordinary Course of Things, severely felt by his People in the Distractions that attend it; but the wise and merciful Disposer of all Events had armed us beforehand against this alarming Event, by the secret Preparations of His Providence; and it was at last directed by Him to happen at such a Juncture, and in such a Manner, that it hath in Fact added fresh Vigour to the national Spirit of Union, and put your Majesty at once into the intire Possession of your Kingdoms, and of the Hearts of all your Subjects.

This providential Concurrence of Circumstances, distinguishes your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors, by a signal Mark of the Divine Favour; and our most sincere Congratulations to your Majesty, upon this joyful Occasion, spring from the same Consideration; which so plainly points out your Majesty to us, as destined by Heaven to be a Dispenser of Blessings to your People.

The Life of your Majesty's Royal Grandfather was extended beyond the ordinary Limits of Morality; and towards the illustrious Conclusion of His long, mild, and just Reign over us, He saw His Fleets and Armies every where victorious abroad, and his Subjects at home with one Mind, seconding his vigorous Measures of Government. He saw your Maesty, the Heir of his Crown, under the maternal Eye and Care of an admirable Princess, adorned with all those Accomplishments, that both incline and qualify your Majesty to carry the true Happiness of a free Protestant People to a Height which it hath never yet reached. Then, and not till then, the good old King, full of Honour and inward Satisfaction, was delivered from the Anxieties and Labours of an earthly Crown, in so instantaneous a Manner, that the common Enemy of our Peace had no Room so much as to frame a Hope of deriving any Advantages from our Misfortune: And we have no other Way of paying the Debt of Sorrow to our departed Sovereign, than by mixing it with the Voice of Joy; for the greatest of all public Blessings is restored to us in your Majesty, before we could perceive that we had lost it.

Indeed it fills us with an inexpressible Warmth of Loyalty and Duty towards your Majesty, when we reflect, that the Foundations of national Strength and Prosperity are deeply and firmly laid in the very Frame and Temper of your Royal Mind; in your most tender Affection for this your native Country; in your declared Resolution to preserve and strengthen the Constitution both in Church and State; and in those Sentiments of Piety and Goodness which are the ruling Principles of your Majesty's Conduct. It is from the Influence of those Sentiments that your Majesty encourages every good Man to look upon you, as his Friend and Patron: It is by the Efficacy of those Sentiments, with the Blessing of God upon them, that your Majesty's whole Deportment in the Bloom of Life, and amidst all the Snares and Allurements of Pleasure, hath been not only blameless but exemplary. This Deportment exhibits to us the most amiable, and, at the same Time, the most awful Character of which human Nature is capable. For such a Character is a vital, permanent Proclamation from the Throne against Vice and Profaneness, operating directly upon the Heart, and both seen and read of all Men.

To fashion the Nations under them by their Example, is the great Prerogative of Kings; and when the Example of a virtuous King assimilates the Manners of a Nation to his own, he exercises the noblest Prerogative that even a Crown can confer upon him. From hence we may expect, what we cannot expect from any other human Means, that the Dissoluteness of the Age will be gradually checked, and a Contempt of the Gospel of Christ, upon which the Basis of our whole Constitution rests, become as unfashionable as it is contrary to the Laws of God, and of our Country. This blessed Change will render our ministerial Labours more efficacious; and the Prospect of it both requires and animates us to persevere in them more abundantly.

And if our fervent and constant Prayers to God are heard, your Majesty, in the Course of a long and prosperous Reign, will be a chosen Instrument in the Hand of Providence, for introducing among your People that most important Union which is still wanting, and which, in Proportion as it is introduced, will greatly assist your Majesty in your unwearied Endeavours to promote the Glory and Happiness of your Kingdoms, a national Union in the Belief and Practice of true undefiled Religion, and in the Exercise of every private and social Virtue.

The following Address of the Dean and Clergy of the Island of Guernsey, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Dean and Clergy of the Island of Guernsey.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Dean and Clergy of your Majesty's Island of Guernsey, with all Humility, beg Leave to present to your Majesty our most respectful Compliments of Condoleance and Congratulation.

If ever there was a Time when Addressees were made to speak the genuine Language of the Heart, it may, with the strictest Regard to Truth, be affirmed of the present Conjuncture, when the Vicissitudes of Grief and Joy have, with irresistible Force, penetrated the inmost Recess of every true British Heart.

When we reflect on the sudden and unexpected Death of that Great, that Glorious Prince, who was so long the tender Father of His People, and Guardian of our Laws and Liberties, Religious and Civil: That Prince by whom our ancient martial Spirit has been revived, and the Glory of our Nation raised to the most exalted Pitch of Dignity and Honour; who can refrain from joyning in that solemn, mournful Exclamation, How are the Mighty Fallen!

But through the thick Gloom of Sorrow, a cheerful Gleam of Light breaks in upon us, and makes us elate with Joy, when we behold a second Golden Branch immediately shoot forth. This leads us to adore the Goodness of Providence in thus raising up for us a Prince, whose early Dawn discovered the most amiable Virtues in the Bud, which, with growing Years, have gradually unfolded into stronger Charms, and at length shine forth with redoubled Lustre on the Throne, the Imperial Throne of Great Britain.

And may the Great God of Heaven, who has thus placed your Sacred Majesty on the Throne of your Ancestors, long preserve and keep you, as a Blessing to your happy People; and so prosper the Wisdom and Firmness of your Majesty's Councils, that you may soon obtain the ardent Wish of your Heart, a safe, honourable, and lasting Peace.

Given under the Seal of this Deanty, at a Court held this Twenty-fifth Day of November, One thousand seven hundred and sixty.

The following Address of the Protestant French Refugees, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Au Roi.

Sire,
DAignez permettre aux Protestans François Réfugiés, Vos fidèles Sujets, de s'approcher de votre Personne Sacrée, pour s'acquitter du juste devoir que leur dicte des coeurs entièrement dévoués à Votre Majesté.

En vénérant avec gratitude la mémoire de Votre Auguste Aïeul, ils bénissent le Ciel de Votre avènement au Trône que ses vertus honorèrent, & que décorent celles que Votre Majesté y fait monter avec elle; l'Homme, le Chrétien, le Roi y sont assis. Garants heureux! du bonheur de vos peuples, du triomphe de la Religion, & de la Piété; de la gloire de Votre Règne; & en particulier de la bienfaisante & généreuse protection que notre Refuge & nos Eglises trouvent toujours auprès de Votre Trône, & que nous supplions Votre Majesté de nous faire trouver dans son coeur.

Les nôtres, Sire, pénétrés de vos bontés, ne cesseront de prier le Ciel, de verser ses plus précieuses bénédictions sur votre Personne Sacrée, & de lui accorder un Règne, qui dure autant que leur reconnaissance, leur fidélité, leur zèle, & leur amour.

The following Address of the Mayor, Jurats, and Commonalty of the Town and Port of Dover, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Hon. the Earl of Hardwicke: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Jurats, and Commonalty of the Town and Port of Dover in the County of Kent.

Most Gracious Sovereigns,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Jurats, and Commonalty of the Town and Port of Dover in the County of Kent, beg Leave, in the most dutiful Manner, to condole with your Majesty on the Loss of our late most Excellent Sovereign your Illustrious Grandfather, whose Virtues must ever be remembered by His Subjects with the highest Gratitude, for the uninterrupted Enjoyment of all their Civil and Religious Liberties, under his most gracious Protection.

Permit us, Sir, at the same Time, to congratulate your Majesty upon your happy Accession to the Throne of your Royal Ancestors, and to express our sincere Acknowledgments for the early Assurances your Majesty was pleased to give your Subjects, of securing to them every Blessing which a free People could hope to enjoy.

We beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that upon all Occasions we shall be ready to give the strongest Proofs of that Duty and Affection to your Royal Person and Government, which a loyal and grateful People owe to the best of Kings.

We most sincerely pray, that your Majesty's Reign may be long and glorious; and that by your Majesty's Wisdom and Firmness, we may soon enjoy the Fruits of this prosperous War, in the Blessings of an honourable and lasting Peace.

Given under our Common Seal the first Day of December, in the Year of our Lord, One thousand seven hundred and sixty.

The two following Addresses of the Provost, Magistrates and Town Council of the City of Stirling, and of the Provost, Magistrates and Town Council of the Burgh of Innerkeithing, have been presented to His Majesty by Francis Holburne, Esq; being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates and Town Council of your City of Stirling.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's very dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Provost, Magistrates and Town Council of your Ancient City of Stirling, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on your Accession to the Imperial Throne of Great Britain, France and Ireland.

We reflect on the awful Event of the Death of your illustrious Grandfather, our late most gracious Sovereign, with the highest Esteem and Gratitude to his Memory; who, possess of all Princely Virtues, made his Subjects happy through a long and glorious Reign; and secured to your Majesty the peaceable Succession to the Throne of these Realms.

We humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that we shall ever contribute our utmost Efforts in Defence of your Majesty's Sacred Person and Government, and of the Protestant Succession, as established by Law in your illustrious and regal House.

May the present Constitution acquire additional Strength under your Majesty's auspicious Government.

May your Reign be long and prosperous over a loyal and free People.

And may your Majesty ever be blest with such wise and patriot Ministers as have lately, under the Auspices of your Royal Grandfather, enlarged the Sway of the British Sceptre.

Done at Stirling in the Council Chamber, and appointed to be signed in our Name, by our Prefes, the Twentieth Day of November 1760 Years.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates and Town Council of the Burgh of Innerkeithing.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Provost, Magistrates and Town Council of Innerkeithing, beg Leave to condole with your Majesty on the Death of our late most gracious King; and, at the same Time, to congratulate your Majesty on your happy Accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms; and to assure your Majesty of our inviolable Attachment to your Person and Government; and that we shall obey your late

Royal

Royal Proclamation for encouraging of Piety and Virtue, and preventing and punishing of Vice, Profaneness, and Immorality, by putting the Laws therein mentioned in Execution.

In our Distress and Grief for the Loss of so good a King, we comfort ourselves with the most delightful Prospect, under your most auspicious Reign, of enjoying these invaluable Privileges, which were so happily preserved, and further secured and improved, under the Reigns of your Royal Great-Grandfather, and Grandfather.

It is, and shall always be, our earnest Prayer, that Almighty God may crown your Fleets and Armies with Victory; and enable you soon to conclude an honourable and lasting Peace; and bless your Majesty with Length of Days, and Prosperity, while you enjoy these Kingdoms; and, in the End, that you may receive a Crown of Glory that fadeth not away; and that the Crown of your Kingdoms may ever descend to one of your Majesty's Royal Family, to latest Posterity.

Signed in our Name, at our Appointment, and in our Presence, at Innerkeithing, the 24th Day of November, 1760 Years, by

The following Address of the Guild or Brotherhood of Masters and Pilots Seamen of the Trinity House of Kingston upon Hull, has been presented to His Majesty by Sir George Montgomery Metham, one of the Representatives in Parliament for the Town of Kingston upon Hull, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Guild or Brotherhood of Masters and Pilots Seamen of the Trinity House of Kingston upon Hull.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE do most humbly beg Leave to approach your Majesty's Royal Person, to condole with you for the Death of your late dear Grandfather, our most gracious Sovereign Lord King George the Second, whose Memory, for His shining Virtues, and mild Government, will never be forgot.

And permit us also to come into your Majesty's Presence, to offer our sincere Congratulations on your Majesty's Accession to the Throne of Great Britain, to reign over a People united in Sentiments and Affection to your Majesty's Person and Government.

And we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that we will, upon all Occasions, make our Duty and Loyalty appear, by doing every Thing in our Power, as Maritime Subjects, for the Security and Preservation of your Majesty's Person and Dominions, by cheerfully contributing to enable your Majesty with Vigour to carry on the present just and necessary War, till your Enemies be forced to an honourable, safe, and lasting Peace.

Given under our Common Seal, the Twenty-eighth Day of November, One thousand seven hundred and sixty.

The following Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, and principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Ashburton, has been presented to His Majesty by John Harris, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, and Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Ashburton, in the County of Devon.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

Amidst the general Congratulations on your Majesty's Accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms, happily established in your August House by that best of Titles, the Suffrages of a free People, we the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders, and Principal Inhabitants of the antient Berough of Ashburton, beg Leave to express our Sense of this important Event.

The many and various Blessings we enjoyed during the Course of His late Majesty's long and prosperous Reign, could not fail to excite in us a sincere Regret for the Loss of a Prince, from whose general Regard to our Rights, Liberties and Interests, we derived those Blessings. But instead of indulging a fruitless, though natural Regret, we turn our Thoughts towards your Majesty, and rejoice in the Prospect of every national Felicity, which we have so much Reason to expect from your Majesty's acknowledged Wisdom and Virtue. The one, we trust, must have long since convinced your Majesty, that the Good of the People, necessarily including that of their Sovereign, is the only true End of Government; the other must warmly attach your Majesty to that End; and both will, at all Times, lead your Majesty to distinguish and pursue the properest Measures to attain it.

We esteem your Majesty peculiarly fortunate in being called to rule the British Empire, at a Time when its Genius seems to controul that of every other Nation, its Arms are every where triumphant, its Commerce extended every where, and every where well protected, and its internal Tranquility firmly secured.

We doubt not of your Majesty's constant Attention to whatever may preserve and improve those Advantages. We trust, that the Influence of that noblest of Characters, a Patriot King, will raise, in all Ranks and Orders of Men, Public Spirit on its only rational Foundation, Private Virtue; and we hope that Divine Providence favouring your Majesty's Efforts, will bless your Majesty with a long Enjoyment of that Godlike Satisfaction, the making and seeing a whole People happy.

The following Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council and Burgeses of the Borough of Totnes, has been presented to His Majesty by Browse Trist and Richard Savage Lloyd, Esqrs. their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Common-Council and Burgeses of the Borough of Totnes, in the County of Devon.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council and Burgeses of the Borough of Totnes, in the County of Devon, beg Leave to approach your sacred Person, to condole with your Majesty the sudden and unexpected Death of your Illustrious Grandfather, whose Name will be revered by every true Briton to the latest Posterity.

The Loss which this Nation hath thereby sustained at this critical Juncture would have been irreparable, had it not been happily compensated by your Majesty's immediate Accession to the Throne.

Permit us, therefore, to congratulate your Majesty, on succeeding your Royal Grandfather to the Imperial Crown of these Realms, in full Possession of the Hearts of all your People.

The early Assurances of your Majesty's Declaration sufficiently convince us how much you are endowed with the Princely Virtues of your Royal Ancestors, what a sincere Affection you have for this your native Country, and for all our civil and religious Rights:

Animated therefore, most Gracious Sir, with steady Zeal for your Majesty's Person and Government, we most humbly pray that your Reign, so happily begun, may be blessed with Length of Years, and with the Loyalty and Unanimity of all your Subjects.

That the various and eminent Victories already obtained under Divine Providence over the inveterate Enemies of Great Britain, by the Wisdom of your Majesty's Councils, and the Intrepidity of your Fleets and Armies, may be still carried on and increased by

by such further Successes as will induce them speedily to submit to the Terms of an honourable and lasting Peace; that the Remainder of your Majesty's Reign may be crowned with Ease and Tranquility; and that there may never be wanting one of your Royal Line to reign over a free and obedient People, is our ardent Wish.

Given under our Common Seal of the said Borough.

The following Address of the Mayor and Capital Burgesses of the Borough of Lyme Regis, has been presented to His Majesty by Henry Fane, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Worshipful the Mayor and Capital Burgesses of your Ancient Borough of Lyme Regis in the County of Dorset, in Council House assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your said Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, humbly beg Leave to approach your Royal Person, to condole with your Majesty for the great Loss which this Nation has sustained by the Death of your Royal Grandfather, whose Name will be ever dear to all your British Subjects; and at the same Time to congratulate your Majesty upon your happy Accession to the Throne of these Realms, which, by a proper Exertion of our Naval Force, are extended beyond what could have been imagined.

And as your Majesty inherits the Crown of your native Country, as well as all the Royal Virtues and Princely Endowments of your Ancestors; and from your Majesty's Royal Purpose and Resolution to countenance Religion and Virtue, and to discountenance Vice, Immorality and Profaneness; to maintain the Toleration inviolable; to pursue the same wise Measures to push on the War with the utmost Vigour against our most inveterate and perfidious Enemies the French, and their Allies; to maintain and strengthen our Navy; to protect and extend our Trade; and to support his most glorious Majesty the King of Prussia; we have the greatest Hopes and Expectations that your Majesty will have a long and glorious Reign over a free and happy People, ever ready to support your Majesty's Person and Government with their Lives and Fortunes, to the End your Majesty may, in due Time, be enabled to make a lasting and honourable Peace.

Given under our Common Seal, the First Day of December, in the First Year of the Reign of King George the Third, and in the Year of our Lord, One thousand seven hundred and sixty.

The following Address of the Gentlemen, Freeholders, and others of the County of Peebles, has been presented to His Majesty by John Dickson, Esq; their Representative in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Gentlemen, Freeholders, and others of the County of Peebles.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Gentlemen, Freeholders, and others of the County of Peebles, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty upon your auspicious Succession to the Throne of these Kingdoms.

It was with the deepest Concern we felt the afflictive Loss Great Britain sustained by the Death of our late most gracious Sovereign, of glorious Memory, whose Reign had proved one continued Series of the most benign and happy Endeavours to promote the Good, preserve the Liberty, and raise the Glory of these Nations.

But it is with the most grateful Sense of the pecular Goodness of Divine Providence, that we behold his Throne filled by your Majesty, whose filial Piety; whose Regard to Religion, Justice, and Learning; whose just Views of the Liberties of Mankind, and tender Love of your native Dominions, secure to us the Continuance of those Blessings we have enjoyed under your Royal Ancestors.

That it may please God to preserve your Majesty for the happy Exertion of those Abilities as a King, which you have displayed as a Prince: That these Realms may flourish under the Government of a Sovereign, whose Knowledge of their happy Constitution, and real Interest, is only exceeded by His Zeal to strengthen and maintain them: That your wise Councils and Patriot Intentions may attain their laudable and desired End; and, that your Subjects, sensible of their own Felicity, may steadily support your Majesty in every Undertaking, are the firm Expectations and fervent Prayers of us your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful Subjects.

Peebles,
Nov. 29,
1760.

Signed by Appointment, and in Presence of the Meeting,
J. Vassmyth.

The following Address of the Mayor, Jurats, and Commonalty of the Town and Port of Hythe, has been presented to His Majesty by Sir Thomas Hales, Bart. and William Glanville, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Jurats, and Commonalty of the Town and Port of Hythe in the County of Kent, in Common Council assembled.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE the Mayor, Jurats, and Commonalty of the Town and Port of Hythe, beg Leave to express our Sorrow for the sudden and lamented Death of your late glorious Grandfather.

We congratulate your Majesty on your Accession to the Throne of these Realms, at a Time when wise and steady Measures have raised the British Name to the highest Pitch of Reputation.

May the Almighty Power vouchsafe such a Continuance of these Successes, as may hasten the Conclusion of a safe and honourable Peace.

May He grant your Majesty long to reign in the Hearts of a loyal and united People; and that there may never be wanting one of your Royal House to be the Guardian of the Liberties of Europe in general, and this Nation in particular, from Civil and Religious Tyranny.

Given under the Common Seal of the said Town and Port, the second Day of December, in the First Year of your Majesty's Reign.

The following Address of the Principal and Masters of the University and King's College in Old Aberdeen, having been transmitted by Jo. Chalmers, Principal of the said University, to the Right Hon. the Earl of Holderness, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Principal and Masters of the University and King's College in Old Aberdeen.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE the Principal and Masters of your Majesty's ancient University, humbly beg Leave to approach your Royal Presence, to condole the Death of your Illustrious Grandfather, our late most gracious Sovereign, and to express the high Sense which we have of the invaluable Blessings these Nations have enjoyed under the Government of a Prince, whose Memory will be revered to latest Ages.

Permit us at the same Time to congratulate your Majesty's Accession to the British Crown, amidst the united united Acclamations of a free and happy People. When we see a Prince trained up under the vigilant Eye of his Royal Predecessor, formed upon his Example, and Heir of his Virtues, giving such early Expressions of his Zeal to maintain the Liberties of his Subjects, to restore the Tranquillity of Europe, and to promote Religion and Virtue by his Example and Authority, it opens to us a pleasing Prospect of a glorious and happy Reign.

It shall be our constant Study, to cultivate in the Minds of the Youth under our Care, such Principles of Religion and Loyalty, as may lead them to just Sentiments of the Happiness, which these Kingdoms enjoy under so excellent a Constitution, and so wise and just an Administration.

May Almighty God inspire your Royal Breast with Increase of all Princely Virtues, and bless your Majesty with a long and prosperous Reign; and may the British Sceptre to latest Posterity be swayed by a Prince of your Illustrious House, so distinguished for defending the Protestant Interest, and protecting the Liberties of Mankind.

Signed in Name of the University, by Jo. Chalmers, Principal.

DR. JAMES'S Powder for FEVERS, and other Inflammatory Distempers, published by Virtue of His MAJESTY'S ROYAL LETTERS PATENT, will remove (as has been experienced in many thousand Cases) any continual acute Fever in a few Hours, though attended with Convulsions, Light-headedness, and the worst Symptoms: But if taken in the Beginning of a Fever, one Dose is generally sufficient to perform a Cure.

It is likewise a most effectual Remedy for all internal Inflammation, Pleurisy, Quincies, acute Rheumatisms, and the Lowness of Spirits, and Uneasinesses proceeding from slow and latent Fevers, which are generally mistaken for Vapours and Hysterics; it is extremely effectual in the Small Pox, Measles, and St. Anthony's Fire; and a single Dose remarkably stops the Progress of a Cold, and certainly prevents the ill Consequences arising from that very common Disorder, the Source of almost all Distempers.

This Powder (which is a very safe and pleasant Medicine to take) is sold by J. Newbery at the Bible and Sun in St. Paul's Church-yard, London; and by J. Hoey, jun. in Skinner Row, Dublin; at 2s. 6d. the two Doses, with good Allowance to those who buy it for charitable Uses, or to sell again.

* See a Dissertation on Fevers, and other Inflammatory Distempers, sold at the Places above-mentioned. Price 6d.

For the Teeth, Scurvy in the Gums, and Tooth-ach.

TWO Tinctures of known and established Reputation, which have been long successfully used by the Nobility and Gentry, both of this Kingdom and of Ireland, and for which His Majesty has been pleased to grant His Royal Letters Patent, are sold by the Patentee, THO. GRENOUGH, Apothecary, at the King's Arms and Pestle and Mortar in Ludgate-street; and by J. NEWBURY, at the Bible and Sun in St. Paul's Church-yard, over-against the North Door of the Church, Price 1s. a Bottle.

The Tincture for Preserving the Teeth, cleanses and takes off all their Foulness, renders them white and beautiful, fastens such as are loose, prevents their Decaying; and entirely cures the Scurvy in the Gums.

The Tincture for the Tooth-ach removes the most raging and violent Pain in a few Minutes, without either corroding the Teeth or affecting the Gums.

The great Demand for the Tinctures having induced several Persons to attempt to counterfeit the same, (some of whom are now under Prosecution) the Publick are desired to observe, that for the Future the Patentee will inscribe his Name on a Label on each Bottle, in the following Manner, T. GRENOUGH, and none but what are so inscribed are genuine.

Whereas Mr. Thomas Owtrem, of Dronfield in the County of Derby, did, on the 29th Day of May 1759, convey all his real Estates and Coal Mines to Mr. Anthony Gallimore and Mr. William Manley, both of Chesterfield aforesaid, as Trustees thereof, for Payment of his Debts then due, many of which Debts have been since paid off and discharged; Notice is hereby given, that the said Trustees intend to meet on the 23d Day of December Instant, at Eleven o'Clock in the Forenoon, at the Angel Inn in Chesterfield aforesaid, to pay the Remainder of the said Debts so far as the said Trust Estate will extend; and at the same Time give up their said Trust: And such of the said Creditors of the said Thomas Owtrem as shall not then, or before that Time, deliver in an Account of their said Demands to the said Trustees, will be excluded the Benefit of the said Trust.
