From Tuesday December 9, to Saturday December 13, 1760.

St. James's, December 13.

THE following Address of the Lord Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of the County of Middlesex, the Deputy Lieutenants, and Justices of the Peace of the said County, and of the City and Liberty of Westminster, was presented to His Majesty by his Grace the Duke of Newcastle the Lord Lieutenant, attended by the Earl of Kinnoull, and the Right Honourable the Lord Carpenter; by Sir William Beauchamp Proctor, Bart. and George Cooke, Esq; Representatives for the said County, the Honourable Major General Cornwallis, one of the Representatives of the said City and Liberty, and by a great Number of the Deputy Lieutenants, and Justices of the Peace of the said County, City and Liberty.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

Most gracious Sovereign,

YOUR Majesty's most faithful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum, the Deputy Lieutenants, and Justices of the Peace of the County of Middlesex, and City and Liberty of Westminster, in the said County, beg Leave, in the most dutiful Manner, to express our Sorrow and Concern for the sudden Death of your Royal Grandfather, our late most gracious Sovereign; a King, whose glorious Reign will make a most shining Figure in the British History; and transmit his Name, with lasting Renown, to succeeding Ages.

This Loss could not be repaired, or the Nation's Grief alleviated, but by the Blessing of your Sacred Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors. On which Occasion, with Hearts full of Joy, we most sincerely congratulate your Majesty; and most earnestly pray to God, that your Reign may be long, happy and prosperous. That those rare Excellencies of Mind, which your Majesty has so early discovered, may gather Strength and Vigour, from Year to Year, and be productive of that Gratitude, Confidence, and Affection, from your own Subjects; and that Weight, Honour, and Influence Abroad, which ever have been, and always must be, the Effect of the united Blessings of Piety, Virtue, and Magnanimity, in a British Sovereign.

And permit us, Great Sir, to give you the sincerest Assurances of our Zeal and Attachment to your Majesty's Sacred Person and Government. And that our constant Attention shall be employed to secure to our Fellow Subjects, as far as in us lies, those Rights, Liberties and Privileges, which your known Love for Justice, and the admirable Constitution of your Kingdoms, gives them so just a Title to. And we assure your Majesty, that our utmost Efforts shall be exerted to produce that Peace, Decency, and good Order, so much the Object of your Majesty's Wishes; and at the same Time to discountenance and suppress all Vice and Immorality, by a candid, diligent and impartial Execution of the Laws.

Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously: They had all the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand: And His Majesty at the same Time was pleased to confer the Honour of Knighthood upon Henry Cheere, Esq; one of the Deputy Lieutenants, and a Justice of the Peace for the County of Middlesex, and for the City and Liberty of Westminster.

The following Address of the Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Cirencester, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable Lord Bathurst; Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble and unanimous Address of the Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Cirencester, in the County of Gloucester.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE humbly beg Leave to approach your Royal Person, to mingle our Grievs with those of your Majesty on that mournful Event, the sudden Death of your illustrious Grandfather, our late excellent Monarch; in whom the great and the amiable Qualities were most happily blended; whose Wisdom and Fortitude, whose Justice and Clemency, will endear his Name to all future Ages; and the Glories of whose Reign will be conspicuous among the splendid Ornaments of History. We most sincerely lament him, and distant Nations will join in lamenting him, as not only the common Father of his own Subjects, but, under Providence, the Assertor and the Champion of Europe's Rights and Liberties.

Permit us at the same Time to congratulate your Majesty on your happy Accession to the Imperial Throne of these Realms, and to the Government of a free, prosperous, united and loyal People. We who have been honoured with the Presence of your Royal and August Parents, cannot help entertaining a peculiar and most affectionate Veneration for your Majesty, and thinking ourselves as it were peculiarly concerned in your Prosperity and Glory. What could comfort us under a Sense of our late inestimable Loss, but the Elevation of a Prince, who is equally formed to govern, to bless and to charm adjoining Nations? We pay our respects, not merely to your supreme Rank in the Community, but likewise to those Virtues and Endowments, from which even that Rank will derive Ornament and Lustre. Your engaging Character when Prince of Wales, formed by a most accomplished Princess; your late Royal Declaration, that you glory in the Name of Briton; your esteeming the Loyalty and Affection of your People the most permanent Security of your Throne; your accepting the Services of a constitutional Militia; your Promise of Encouragement to Military Merit; your magnanimous Resolution to support your Allies, and prosecute the War with Vigour; your tender Concern for the unavoidable Burdens of your Subjects; and your truly Royal Purpose to protect their Trade, to maintain inviolable their Civil and Religious Liberties, and countenance the Practice of Piety and Virtue: These are Omens of our national Happiness, will render your Majesty the Delight of these Kingdoms, the Admiration of the World, and the Favorite of an all-ruling Providence. 'Tis a great Felicity, of your Majesty's Government, that you are enthroned in the Hearts of the most unanimous Subjects, whose only Contention it is, who shall be most ardent in their Expressions of Loyalty, and their Regards for the common Good.

The recent Successes of the British Arms we joyfully and devoutly acknowledge; and are highly pleased with the Reflection, that the singular Humanity with which they have been attended, renders our Victories rather a Happiness than Misfortune to the Inhabitants of the conquered Countries. The Abilities and Valor of your Majesty's General Prince Ferdinand;

Ferdinand; the enterprising Ardor of the Hereditary Prince; the usual Intrepidity of your British Officers and Forces, may well despise the impotent Efforts of the French, and triumph over superior Numbers.

The Genius, the Heroism, the rapid Movements of your great Ally, the King of Prussia; his invincible Perseverance and Spirit, and his most amazing Exploits, tho' contending with half Europe in Arms, will hardly obtain Credit when related in distant Ages. 'Tis our fervent Prayer, that your Majesty's Enemies, and those of your Confederates, may be soon and effectually humbled; that your Life may be long, prosperous and glorious; that the choicest Blessings, which Providence has ever bestowed on the best and most favored Kings, may distinguish and adorn your Majesty's Reign; and that, through all the Revolutions of Time, the same Blessings may attend your Royal Descendants, as Monarchs of these happy Realms.

The following Address of the High Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Deputy Lieutenants, Gentlemen and Clergy of the County Palatine of Chester, has been presented to His Majesty by Samuel Egerton and Thomas Cholmondeley, Esqrs. Representatives in Parliament for the said County, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Justices of Peace, Deputy Lieutenants, Gentlemen and Clergy of the County Palatine of Chester, purposely assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's dutiful and faithful Subjects, the High Sheriff, Justices of Peace, Deputy Lieutenants, Gentlemen and Clergy of your County Palatine of Chester, do, with a Loyalty ever inherent in this ancient and honourable Palatinate, beg Leave humbly to express a deep Concern for the Loss of your August Grandfather, our invested Prince-ly Earl, and late most glorious Monarch, who having long blessed these Nations with such amiable and eminent Qualities, as will distinguishingly grace the British Annals, was called from us, full of Days, and full of Glory.

Much, indeed, is this Event alleviated, since we can now present to your Majesty our bounden Allegiance, together with zealous Congratulations, on your happy Accession to the Imperial Crown of these Kingdoms; and let us offer likewise our most ardent Wishes, that you may long and prosperously reign over your duteous, ample, and hereditary Realms.

It is also a powerful Consolation, that we have undoubted Assurances of your Majesty's innate Goodness, and excellent Disposition, as likewise of your great Attainments in the Science of Government, founded upon the wisest Maxims, and deduced from the best Examples. This Proficiency happily evinces, that what, in other Potentates, has usually been the late Production of tedious Experience in you, blooms forth the early Acquisition of undissipated Youth.

Most pleasingly may we further reflect, that your Royal Mind has been more immediately formed after that illustrious Pattern, whose righteous Sceptre paternally guarded our excellent Establishment and much-envied Constitution.

How abundant also are our auspicious Hopes, with respect to the Security of the Publick Weal, from your Majesty's gracious and affectionate Declarations to both Houses of Parliament. These have afforded the highest Satisfaction to us at home, and will soon diffuse the like Sensations through distant Provinces, the valuable Appendages of your far-extended Empire.

We shall now gratefully and dutifully add, that your Sacred Majesty, who, with the Throne of your Ancestors, inherit every Regal Virtue, and already reign in the Hearts of a united and faithful People; may entirely depend, that this loyal Palatinate will ever exert its utmost Efforts in Support of your Majesty's Person and Government.

Given under our Hands at Northwich in the said County Palatine, the twenty-eighth Day of November, 1760.

The following Address of the Bailiffs, Recorder, Principal Burgeses, Commonalty and Free Burgeses of the Borough of Eye, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable Earl Cornwallis, Recorder of the said Borough: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bailiffs, Recorder, Principal Burgeses, Commonalty, and Free Burgeses of your ancient Borough of Eye, in the County of Suffolk, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bailiffs, Recorder, Principal Burgeses, Commonalty, and Free Burgeses of your said Borough of Eye, most humbly beg Leave to condole with your Majesty upon the great and afflicting Loss of your Royal Grandfather; who, by the Spirit and Success of his military Operations in almost every known Part of the World, and by the Lenity and Justice of his Government at home, had attained the greatest Perfection of all Royal Felicity, that of being a Terror to his Enemies, and the Delight of his own Subjects.

Our unfeigned Sorrow, upon this melancholy Event, will best inform your Majesty how sincerely we congratulate ourselves upon your Accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms; as we cannot but assure ourselves of a Continuance of the same Blessings under a Prince of the same hereditary Virtue and Moderation.

We ought not, as good Subjects, to be too desirous of any Addition to these Blessings; and yet the Evidence of your Majesty's great and princely Virtues, at so early an Age, affords us the most pleasing of all Expectations, that Time and Length of Days will enable you to complete whatever may be wanting for the real and lasting Advantage of these Kingdoms.

We therefore conclude our most ardent Wishes, both for your Majesty's true Glory, and the Happiness of your Kingdoms, by beseeching the Almighty to grant you a long and prosperous Reign over a free, virtuous and grateful People.

Given under our Common Seal, this Twenty-sixth Day of November, One thousand seven hundred and sixty.

The following Address of the Mayor and Burgeses of the Borough of Bodmyn, has been presented to His Majesty by Sir William Irby, Bart. and George Hunt, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor and Burgeses of the Borough of Bodmyn in the County of Cornwall, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor and Burgeses of the Borough of Bodmyn, in Common Council assembled, beg Leave to condole with your Majesty on the Death of our late most gracious Sovereign; a Prince so greatly distinguished by the Lustre of his Virtues, and the Glory of His Reign, that His Memory will be ever dear to these Kingdoms,

But your Majesty's faithful Subjects are less sensibly affected by this melancholy Event, when they turn their Eyes on your Majesty, and behold in your Royal Person a Prince formed by the Example of your Illustrious Grandfather, and an Heir to His Crown and to His Virtues.

Animated with the warmest Sentiments of Zeal and Attachment to your Majesty, and sensible of the Blessings we shall enjoy under your auspicious Reign, we beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty, on your happy Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors; and our most fervent Prayers are offered up to the Almighty, that He may grant your Majesty a long and glorious Reign over a grateful and obedient People.

Given under our Common Seal this twenty-fourth Day of November, in the First Year of your Majesty's Reign.

The following Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Borough of Elgin, having been transmitted by James Robertson, Provost of the said Borough, to the Right Hon. the Earl of Holderness, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burrough of Elgin, North-Britain.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town-Council of Elgin, beg Leave humbly to approach your August Throne, and condole with your Majesty on the Death of our late most excellent King, your Illustrious Grandfather, upon whose Head the Crown flourished with so much Splendor, and who truly was the Father of a rich and happy People. Permit us also, most gracious Sovereign, to offer you our most hearty and sincere Congratulations on your happy Accession to the Throne of these Realms; and to express the joyful Hopes we entertain of being free and prosperous under your wise and mild auspicious Government. Your Majesty's gracious and declared Resolutions to preserve the Constitution in Church and State, to promote and encourage the Practice of Virtue, and to discourage all Manner of Vice and Immorality, give us the most unfeigned Joy, answers the most sanguine Hopes and Expectations, which the Nation had long ago conceived of your Princely Virtues, and place your Majesty very high in the Affections and Esteem of all your good Subjects. As for our Part, we shall take Pleasure in endeavouring, as far as our Influence extends, to execute the good Laws, so warmly enforced by your Royal Authority; and we pray the Almighty, the Father of Lights, to inspire your Councils continually, and to bless your sacred Majesty with a long, glorious, and happy Reign; that you may be greatly successful in promoting the important Interests of Religion and Virtue, which your Majesty has so much at Heart; and may ever be the Guardian of the Laws and Liberties of a loyal, united, and grateful People.

Signed by Appointment,

Ja. Robertson, Provost.

The following Address of the Aldermen, Recorder, Coroner, Capital Burgesses, Assistants, and Common Council of the Borough of Bury Saint Edmund, has been presented to His Majesty by the Lieutenant of the County of Suffolk: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

While your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Aldermen, Recorder, Coroner, Capital Burgesses, Assistants, and Common Council of the Borough of Bury Saint Edmund, in the County of Suffolk, humbly beg Leave to acknowledge and tender our true Allegiance, and faithful Obedience, so justly due to your Majesty; and condole the great and unknown Loss of our late most gracious Sovereign your Royal Grandfather, whom it has pleased the King of Kings to call to His heavenly Mansion: But though his sacred Person is removed from this earthly Throne, yet his glorious and immortal Memory will ever remain dear to us.

Permit us, Royal Sir, to congratulate you on your happy Accession to the Throne of these your native Kingdoms, to which we have the Blessing to belong, and which you received by lawful Title, and undoubted Right of Inheritance.

Your Accession, proclaimed amidst the joyous Acclamations of your happy People, called forth every other Demonstration of Gladness; it soon spread itself, and flew around your Kingdoms, carrying remedial, healing Wings, alone sufficient to alleviate and assuage the Minds of your sorrowing People, deeply affected by a Loss, not easily, or soon, to be forgot.

The many noble and real Virtues you plentifully imbibed in your Youth, were so carefully cherished, and so properly cultivated in your princely Mind, that they became early conspicuous to every discerning Eye; they have now transpired freely; are become well known, and amply confirmed to us by your Majesty's most gracious Speech and Declarations, filled with so much Cordiality and kind Affection to your loving Subjects, as must denote you the darling Father of your Country.

Your expressed Resolutions to adhere to, and strengthen our excellent Constitution; and to continue your Subjects in the full Enjoyment of their Rights and Liberties, both Ecclesiastical as well as Civil; have firmly fixed, and cemented the Hearts of your united loving People in their vowed Loyalty, so as not to be in the Power of Envy or Perfidy ever to unrivet.

The signal Victories obtained by our late, and now your Majesty's Forces, both by Sea and Land, in Conjunction with your faithful Allies, acting under the wise and prudent Conduct, with the assisting Councils of a steady Ministry, studiously using a disinterested Zeal for the publick Good, are Events we recount with Pleasure.

Give us Leave, Great Sir! as you are left engaged in a just and necessary War, to assure your Majesty, we will (to the utmost of our Abilities) cheerfully contribute to the necessary Expence of it, hoping to retain our valuable Acquisitions, and strenuously to support our further lawful Claims.

Your Majesty's expressed Regard for publick Merit in your Officers, we humbly beg Leave to observe as a most noble Princely Resolve; and your kindly noticing the Usefulness of your Militia, are Circumstances so animating and encouraging, that (if Occasion should require) we hope, and doubt not, but they will be found of equal and undistinguished Zeal for the Protection of your Majesty's most sacred Person and Government, persevering to the last in the Welfare of their Country, and as steadily attached to our present happy Establishment.

We cannot omit returning our most humble and hearty Thanks for your Majesty's most gracious Proclamation against Vice, Profaneness, and Immorality; a Proclamation highly worthy all due Consideration from the highest to the lowest of your Subjects; and permit us to assure you, that we will, at all Times, and upon all Occasions, both in our Judicial, and other Proceedings, endeavour to excite and preserve Loyalty and Unanimity in your Subjects; and use our utmost Efforts to enforce a due Observance of your Royal Proclamation, to the End it may have its religiously designed, and intended good Effect.

We have only to add, that as the present heavy Weight of Government has devolved upon your Majesty, it shall be our earnest, and constant Prayer, that the Divine Goodness may make your Burden light, your Reign over a free and grateful People, easy, long and glorious, and your Race ever to continue on the Throne.

And further, that you may be enabled, under the Protection of His Almighty Arm, to restore to these Kingdoms, in due Time, the Blessings arising from a firm, honourable, and lasting Peace.

Given under the Common Seal of the said Borough the twenty-ninth Day of November, in the First Year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Third, by the Grace of God of Great Britain, France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, Anno Dom. 1760.

The following Address of the Alderman, Recorder, Capital and Secondary Burgesses of the Town and Corporation of Wokingham, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Hon. the Lord Henry Beauclerk: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Alderman, Recorder, Capital and Secondary Burgesses of the Town and Corporation of Wokingham, in the Counties of Berks, Berks and Wilts, and within your Majesty's Forest of Windsor.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

Permit us, your Majesty's ever dutiful and loyal Subjects, to approach your Royal Person with Hearts deeply afflicted for the Loss of our late most Excellent Sovereign, whose mild and gentle Sway, during the Course of a long, and for the latter Part of it, most glorious Reign, will ever be remembered with Honour and Regret.

But when we see this great, this National Loss, repaired by the Accession of your Majesty to the Throne, who, feeling for your People's just Affliction, have given us the most endearing and gracious Assurances of Protection, we cannot be so insensible as not to feel, or so ungrateful as not to acknowledge ourselves to be the same happy People we were before.

Protestations of unshaken Loyalty and Fidelity are the only Returns we can make, for the gracious Earnests your Majesty hath been pleased to give of your Royal Care and Protection of us: These Returns we make with unfeigned Hearts; and being convinced, that the Religion, Laws, and Liberties of these Kingdoms, which have been so steadily guarded and protected by all the Princes of your Royal House, depend on the Continuance of your Majesty's Sacred Life, and of the Crown in your illustrious Family, we shall not cease to offer up our Prayers for the first, and to exert our utmost Powers and Abilities in the Support and Defence of the latter of these great, essential, and invaluable Blessings.

Given under our Common Seal the second Day of December, in the Year of our Lord, 1760.

The following Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Capital Burgesses and Assistants of the Borough of Lostwithiell, has been presented to His Majesty by Thomas Jones, Esq; Mayor, accompanied by the Right Hon. Lord Edgecumbe, Recorder, and Thomas Pitt, Esq; one of the Capital Burgesses of the said Borough, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Capital Burgesses and Assistants of the Borough of Lostwithiell in the County of Cornwall.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE the Mayor, Recorder, Capital Burgesses and Assistants of the Borough of Lostwithiell, humbly beg Leave to condole with your Majesty upon the great Loss these Nations have sustained in the Death of our late dread Sovereign of glorious Memory; a Loss under which nothing could have supported us, but the happy Accession of your Majesty to the Throne of your Ancestors; an Event for which we are sincerely thankful to the Divine Providence, and, with the utmost Duty and Allegiance, beg your Majesty to accept our Congratulations thereon.

Your Majesty comes to the Crown, with the Love and Veneration of a free and loyal People, who have, in your first gracious Declaration in Council, as they have long had in your Princely Virtues, the fullest Assurance of their future Happiness under the Influence of your Majesty's Government.

Upon this Occasion, we beg Leave, with all Duty and Humility, to assure your Majesty of our inviolable Attachment to your Sacred Person and Government; and that our most fervent Prayers and ardent Wishes will ever be for your Majesty's long and glorious Reign over a dutiful and affectionate People.

Given under the Common Seal of the said Borough, the Second Day of December, One thousand seven hundred and sixty.

The following Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs and Burgesses of the Corporation of Abingdon, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgesses of your Corporation of Abingdon, in Common Council assembled, beg Leave to join in the general and unfeigned Concern, which every good Subject must have felt on the Loss of your Majesty's Royal Grandfather, our late most gracious Sovereign: An Event, which nothing could alleviate the Misfortune of in the Minds of a grateful People; but the Prospect of your Majesty's gracious and just Government of this your native Kingdom.

This Blessing, assured us by your Majesty's earliest Declaration to your People, has justly filled the Minds of all honest Men, with the highest Sense of Joy, on your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne of your Royal Ancestors.

This Blessing, continued to us by your Majesty's firm and invariable Attention to the Civil and Religious Rights of your People, cannot fail of uniting the Hands and Heart of every Briton, in the Support and Defence of your Majesty's Sacred Person and Government; the best and surest Protection of our own Rights and Liberties.

Permit us therefore, most gracious Sovereign, in our humble Station, to assure your Majesty of a zealous and steadfast Adherence in the Principles of true Loyalty, and due Obedience to your Government, contributing as much as in us lies, by Practice and Example, to render your Majesty's auspicious Reign mild, and respected at home, your Power dreaded and courted abroad. And to secure to your Majesty the highest and most permanent Happiness of a great and good King, the united and grateful Obedience and Support of a free and powerful People.

Given under our Common Seal, the 27th of November, in the Year of our Lord, 1760.

The following Address of the Bailiff, Recorder, and Burgesses of the Borough of Bewdley, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Bailiff, Recorder and Burgesses of the Borough of Bewdley, in the County of Worcester.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bailiff, Recorder and Burgesses of Bewdley, in Common-Council assembled, humbly beg Leave to condole with your Majesty on the Loss of our late most gracious Sovereign, under whose long and glorious Reign these Kingdoms enjoyed the greatest Blessings.

Permit us, at the same Time, great Sir, to congratulate you on your Accession to the Throne of your illustrious Ancestors, and of your native Country.

That Wisdom, that Greatness of Mind, and that Regard for Religion and Virtue, which so eminently distinguish your Sacred Majesty, ensure to us, all the Happiness that a dutiful, loyal and affectionate People can enjoy under the best of Kings.

May that good Providence which hath blessed us with so gracious a Prince, grant your Majesty a long, happy and prosperous Reign over us.

Given under our Common Seal this 25th Day of November, 1760.

The following Address of the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, and Justices of the Peace of the County of Dumbarton, has been presented to His Majesty by the Hon. Lieutenant General John Campbell, their Representative in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Unto the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, and Justices of the Peace of the County of Dumbarton.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, and Justices of the Peace of the the County of Dumbarton, beg Leave humbly to approach your Throne, and to join with the rest of our Fellow-Subjects, in the most sincere and dutiful Congratulations, on your Majesty's happy Accession to the Crown; and, at the same Time, to express the deep Sense we have of the Loss which your Majesty and this Nation have sustained, by the Death of your Royal Grandfather; whose gentle, humane, and equal Rule, will ever be remembered with Gratitude; and, under whose auspicious Reign, the British Name has arrived at the highest Pitch of Dignity and Grandeur.

But it must alleviate our Grief, on this Occasion, that we are still to be governed by a Prince of that Illustrious House, which, under God, has been the great Mean of preserving our happy Constitution in Church and State.

Your Majesty's early Declaration made in Council, of your tender Affection for your native Country, and your Resolution to make it the Business of your Life, to promote, in every Thing, the Glory and Happiness of your Kingdoms, must warm the Heart of every British Subject, with the most lively Gratitude.

May your Reign be long and prosperous, over a loyal and free People; and may a Prince never be wanting in your August Family, to succeed to the Imperial Crowns of your Majesty's Kingdoms to latest Posterity.

Signed in Presence of the Meeting, by
Ja. Colquhoun, Preses.

The following Address of the Bailiff, Jurats, Free-men and Inhabitants of the Town and Port of Seaford, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Hon. Lord Viscount Gage and James Peachy, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bayliff, Jurats, Freemen, and Inhabitants of the Town and Port of Seaford in the County of Suffex.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bayliff, Jurats, Freemen, and Inhabitants of the Town and Port of Seaford in the County of Suffex, beg Leave to join with the rest of our Fellow Subjects, in condoling with you on the Death of our late Sovereign, the most glorious and best of Kings, and in congratulating your Majesty on your happy Accession to the Throne of these Realms.

The many Princely Endowments, which so eminently shine forth in your most Sacred Person; the virtuous and noble Examples of your great Ancestors and Relations, instilled into your Majesty from your Infancy, by the Precepts and Care of your Royal Parents: Your Education among a free and happy People, joined with your own gracious Declarations from the Throne, give us the clearest, and most pleasing Prospect, that the Religious and Civil Rights and Liberties we now enjoy, which in great Measure took their Rise from the Establishment of the Crown in your Illustrious House, will be continued and increased during your most auspicious Reign, to the Happiness and Grandeur of these, and the Admiration of all other Nations.

That the Divine Providence, by whose Assistance our Fleets and Armies have been hitherto crowned with a stupendous Series of Victories and Successes, may continue His Blessings to us till the present just and necessary War, wisely advised, and bravely carried on, may soon be terminated by a lasting and honourable Peace: That your Majesty may long reign over us, and that there may never be wanting a Prince of your Royal Blood to inherit the Crown of these Kingdoms, will be our most fervent Prayers and Wishes.

Given under our Common Seal the second Day of December, 1760.

The following Address of the Constables and Inhabitants of the Borough of Lewes, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Constables and Inhabitants of the Borough of Lewes, in the County of Suffex, justly affected with the deepest Sense of Sorrow for the sudden and unexpected Death of our late most Gracious Sovereign, beg Leave, in all Humility and Duty, to approach your Royal Person, to express our unfeigned Sentiments of Condolence on this melancholy Event; and, at the same Time, to congratulate your Majesty on your happy Accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms, amidst the universal Acclamations of a free and grateful People.

When we reflect, Great Sir! on the mild and auspicious Government of your Majesty's Royal Ancestor, we cannot but observe with Pleasure, that no Period of Time affords an Instance when Britons ever enjoyed their Civil and Religious Rights in a larger Extent; and we cannot sufficiently admire your Majesty's Goodness, for the many gracious Declarations from the Throne, full of Affection and Regard for your People: These Considerations must ever render dear to us the Memory of your Royal Predecessor, and furnish us with the most confident and pleasing Expectations, that those Laws and Liberties, which have been so dearly purchased by our Ancestors, and are become the Objects of Envy and Admiration to other Nations, will, under the Protestant Succession in your Majesty's Illustrious House, ever meet with the surest and best Protection.

Thus, animated by the warmest Affections and Loyalty for your Majesty's Person and Government, we beg Leave to make a Tender of our earnest Wishes, that your Majesty may long and happily reign in the Hearts of your faithful Subjects: And that the same Divine Providence, which hath hitherto so wonderfully preserved this Nation, and given us Victory in the Day of Battle, may always continue to direct your Majesty's Councils and Endeavours, and enable you to procure for your People the Blessings of a lasting Peace.

Given under our Common Seal, the 3d Day of December, 1760.

The following Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen and Capital Burgesses of the Borough and Town of Barnstaple, has been presented to His Majesty by George Amyand, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

Permit us, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen and Capital Burgesses of your Borough and Town of Barnstaple, in Common Council assembled, to tender to your Royal Person our Tribute of dutiful and cordial Condolence on the Death of our late Sovereign, of whose invaluable Loss, the deep impressed Gratitude, for the many Blessings enjoyed under his gracious Government, and the universal Tears of a whole Nation, are the clearest Expressions. For as alive he reigned entirely over the Hearts and Affection of a free People, so his Sacred Memory will for ever live in their grateful Minds.

But to indulge our Grief too far, would be repining at the Dispensations of all-wise Providence, who has now called your Majesty (before possessed of His Royal Virtue) to the Possession of your Grandfather's Throne, we therefore hasten to join the joyful Voice of Congratulation on your auspicious Accession, your gracious Declaration, and your taking hold on the Reins of Government with such a considerate and awful Sense, promise the most felicitating Consequence in your Majesty's future Exercise of it.

A Prince, that, not only by Birth, but by his tender Care, proves the Father of His Country, will naturally maintain all the just Rights of his People, and thereby constantly merit, and as certainly secure, their most dutiful Affections.

We repose ourselves entirely on your Majesty's Assurances,

Assurances, for adding whatever may, to your great Wisdom, seem wanting to complete the Happiness and Glory of these Kingdoms; not in the least doubting but, by the vigorous Efforts of your Council, your Majesty will put an honourable and lasting Period to the present necessary War.

In this, and all other your Royal Undertakings, as with uncommon Condescension, your Majesty requests the Assistance of every honest Man; so are we highly confident, you will never want that Assistance, nor yet the unfeigned Prayers of every good Man, daily offered up, that the King of Kings, whose Service and Church, at your Stepping into the Throne, you made the first Object of your Attention and Encouragement, may crown His chosen Servant with a long, prosperous, and glorious Reign.

The following Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Bailiffs, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Freemen of the Town of Youghal, having been transmitted to His Grace the Duke of Bedford, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Bailiffs, Aldermen, Burgesses and Freemen of your antient and loyal Corporation of the Town of Youghal, in the Kingdom of Ireland, humbly beg Leave, in the most dutiful and respectful Manner, to condole with your Majesty on the Death of your late Royal Grandfather; and though we are most sincerely affected with the deepest Sorrow at that great Loss, permit us, most gracious Sovereign, to acknowledge, that our Hearts are filled with an inexpressible Joy at your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne of your Royal Ancestors.

A Corporation entirely descended from an English Colony, who have, for some Centuries, distinguished themselves by their unshaken Loyalty, and Attachment to the glorious Constitution of their Ancestors, cannot but be particularly happy in having a Sovereign to reign over them, who, animated by the tenderest Affection for his native Country, has most graciously declared, that he will make it the Business of his Life, to promote, in every Thing, the Glory and Happiness of these Kingdoms, and to preserve and strengthen the Constitution both in Church and State.

These early Instances of your Majesty's Goodness and Concern for the Happiness and Welfare of your People (which promise them all the Blessings that can flow from a Mind truly great) call upon us for the highest Returns of Affection, Duty and Zeal to your Majesty; and as we are fully convinced that our own Interest and Preservation are inseparable from your Majesty's, we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that we will, with our Lives and Fortunes, be always ready to support and defend your Majesty's Person and Government.

May your Majesty's Crown long sit with Ease and Glory on your sacred Head, and may it ever descend to one of your Majesty's Illustrious House to the remotest Posterity.

Given under our Common Seal, this Twenty-eighth Day of November, in the First Year of your Majesty's Reign.

The following Address of the Bishop, Dean and Canons, Archdeacon, and Clergy of the Diocese of Ely, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Canons, Archdeacon, and Clergy of the Diocese of Ely.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, Dean and Canons, Archdeacon, and Clergy of the Diocese of Ely, beg Leave to approach your Royal Presence, and to express our deep Concern for the Death of our late most gracious Sovereign; a Prince, who in the Course of a long Reign, constantly made the Laws the Measure of His Power, and directed all His Thoughts and Actions to the Welfare of His Kingdoms. This ought to endear His Memory to His Subjects of all Ranks, particularly the Clergy, for the Protection and Favour they enjoyed under His auspicious Government.

We should have felt this severe Loss much more sensibly, if it had not pleased God, (by whom Kings reign) to alleviate our Concern by your Majesty's happy Accession to the Imperial Throne of these Realms; and with Hearts full of Joy we most sincerely concur in the unanimous Congratulations of your faithful Subjects.

It affords us the fairest Prospect of general Felicity, that your Majesty, under the wise and tender Inspection of an Illustrious Princess, has been trained up from your earliest Years in the right Principles of Religion and Virtue; and we may justly promise ourselves, that your Majesty's personal Example of Piety and Virtue cannot fail of having the most beneficial Influence on the Minds and Manners of the whole Nation.

It is from this happy Disposition that your Majesty has been graciously pleased to begin your Reign with a Royal Proclamation, to enforce the Authority of the Laws against Vice and Immorality; and we cannot but hope, that the Magistrates, from your Royal Example, as well as from a Sense of their Duty, will be effectually excited to a vigorous Execution of the Laws, for the farther Promotion of publick Peace and Happiness amongst us.

We most humbly beg Leave, upon this Occasion, to give your Majesty the most solemn Assurances, that on our Part we will faithfully and earnestly endeavour to do our Duty, by inculcating, upon all committed to our Charge, Affection and Loyalty to your Person and Government, ardently praying, that your Majesty may be blessed with a long and happy Life, and your Reign distinguished in the British Annals with Renown and Glory, equal to the most Illustrious of your Majesty's Predecessors.

The following Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church, and Clergy of the Diocese of Chester, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church, and Clergy of the Diocese of Chester.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church, and Clergy of the Diocese of Chester, humbly beg Leave to testify our sincere Condoleance on the Death of our late most gracious Sovereign your Royal Grandfather, whose just and wise Administration has produced, under the Favor of Heaven, such accumulated Blessings, and such an Extent of Glory to these Nations, as must warm the Hearts of the present Generation with the highest Gratitude, and will demand the faithful Acknowledgments of latest Posterity.

At the same Time permit us, Sir, to express the unfeigned Joy we feel arising from a lively Sense of the Goodness of Providence, which, under so severe a Dispensation, hath placed your Majesty on the Throne of these Realms.

We are not, even in these remote Parts of your Majesty's Kingdom, Strangers to the native Integrity of your Heart, to your ardent Love of Truth and Religion, or to the Benignity and gracious Affability of your Disposition: Virtues by which you have already secured the Confidence and Affection of an united People: And we promise to ourselves the most important Effects on every Rank of your Subjects,

from

from Authority thus animated by so illustrious an Example,

Permit us to assure your Majesty, that, in the Discharge of our sacred Function, we will never be wanting, in our publick or private Instructions, to impress upon the Minds of those who are committed to our Care, Sentiments of conscientious Obedience to the Laws, of the firmest Attachment to your Government, and of the highest Veneration for your Royal Person: And our constant Prayers shall be offered to the Throne of Grace, that you may be enabled to sustain the arduous Task that is devolved upon you; that you may have long and uninterrupted Happiness in this World, and a Crown of Glory in that which is to come.

The following Address of the Mayor, Recorder Capital Burgeffes, Assitants, and other Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Wareham, has been presented to His Majesty by John Bond, Esq; their Recorder, and Edward Drax, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Capital Burgeffes, Assitants, and other Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Wareham.

Most Gracious Sovereign,
YOUR Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Capital Burgeffes, Assitants, and other Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Wareham, beg Leave to condole with your Majesty on the Death of your Royal Grandfather, truly sensible of the Blessings enjoyed under His auspicious Government.

From the Fame of your early Virtues, your Majesty's loyal Subjects were led to hope for a Continuance of those Blessings, which they had so long enjoyed; Blessings resulting from a steady Adherence to our present free and happy Constitution. How are our Wishes anticipated, our Hopes realized, by your Majesty's most gracious and repeated Assurances of maintaining that Constitution in every Part inviolate?

Joy and Transport must fill every Breast, and Gratitude compels us to implore the Divine Being, that every Blessing may attend your Royal Person and Government.

May your Majesty long enjoy that highest of all earthly Felicities, that Felicity which will continually flow from a Consciousness in your Royal Breast, of giving Happiness to Millions.

Given under our Common Seal this Third Day of December, 1760.
