Published by Authority.

From Tuesday December 16, to Saturday December 20, 1760.

St. James's, December 20.

THE following Address of the Commission of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, has been presented to His Majesty by Dr. Robert Hamilton, Professor of Divinity in the University of Edinburgh, their Moderator; Dr. George Wilhart, Dr. Alexander Webster, Dr. George Kay, Dr. John Jardine, Ministers of Edinburgh; and Gilbert Elliot, Esq; one of the Lords of the Admiralty, and an Elder of that Church: They were introduced by the Right Hon. the Earl of Holderness, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Ministers and Elders met in the Commission of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, humbly beg Leave to take this first Opportunity of presenting to your Majesty our sincere Expressions of Condolence for the Loss which your Majesty, and the Nation have sustained, by the Death of our late most gracious Sovereign.

When we reflect on the many eminent Virtues which adorned his Character, and the Prosperity we enjoyed under his long and happy Reign, we cannot but be affected with the deepest Concern for the Loss of a Life so valuable and important.

At the same Time we do most thankfully acknowledge the Goodness of God, who raised up a Successor in that Royal Family, which hath been so remarkably the Blessing and Glory of these Kingdoms.

Permit us, Sir, in all Humility, to approach your Sacred Person with our most hearty Congratulations upon your Majesty's happy Accession to the Crown of your Ancestors. The early Discoveries you have given of that Greatness of Mind and Goodness of Heart, which form true Majesty, and ensure the Happiness of a free People; your gracious Declaration, expressing your tenderest Affection for this your native Country, and your Resolution to preserve and strengthen the Constitution both in Church and State, are to us the surest Pledges of the continued Prosperity and Glory of Great Britain, and make us reflect, with Gratitude to Almighty God, upon that happy Period when our Religion and Liberties were secured by the Settlement of the Succession to the Crown in the Illustrious House of Hannover.

Rejoicing with our Fellow Subjects in the Security of all our important Interests under your Majesty's Government, we have a peculiar Satisfaction, and an entire Confidence in the solemn Assurance your Majesty has given us, that you will inviolably maintain and preserve the Rights and Privileges of the Church of Scotland as by Law established.

Bound as we are to your Majesty, by every Tie of Duty and Interest, we beg you to be assured of our unshaken Fidelity, and inviolable Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

Impress with these Sentiments, we shall not fail to inculcate upon the Minds of a loyal People, the Principles of Duty and Obedience to your Majesty, and to use our utmost Endeavours to promote the pious Design of your Royal Proclamation against Profaneness and Immorality.

That the God of all Grace may abundantly bless you with all Spiritual and Temporal Blessings; that your Reign may be long and glorious; that your Throne may be established in Righteousness, and in the Affections of your People; that the Lord of Hosts may continue to bless your Arms, and those of your Allies, with signal Success; that the Calamities of this just and necessary War, may speedily terminate in an honourable and lasting Peace; and that when your Majesty has acted your Part with Honour and Renown as a faithful Servant of God upon Earth, you may shine with the highest Glory in the heavenly Kingdom, are the sincere and fervent Prayers of,

May it please your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most faithful, most dutiful, and most loyal Subjects,

The Ministers and Elders met in the Commission of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

Signed in our Name, in our Presence, and at our Appointment, by Robert Hamilton, Moderator.

Edinburgh, Nov. 19, 1760.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer.

THE Zeal and Fidelity the Church of Scotland express for My Person and Government, in this dutiful and loyal Address, are very agreeable to Me, and I thank them for it: They may depend upon My constant Support and Protection.

The following Address of the Noblemen, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Berwick, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Noblemen, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Berwick.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Berwick, met at the County Town this Day, most humbly beg Leave, amidst the Acclamations of your Subjects, to approach your Royal Presence upon this most interesting Occasion.

We do most sincerely condole with your Majesty upon the Death of our late most gracious Sovereign, your Majesty's Royal Grandfather, whom it has pleased God to take from us, when he was full of Years, and full of Glory; when the Love of his People could receive no Addition, and when the Nation had nothing to desire, but the Establishment of the Prosperity they enjoyed.

Permit us, Sire, at the same Time to congratulate your Majesty upon your Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors. Your Majesty's many Princely Virtues give us the most solid Assurances of national Felicity; and your being born a Briton, essentially compleats the Union of the two Parts of this Island; one great Object of which Union was the Succession of your Majesty's Royal House to the Crown of the united Kingdom.

We have only now to wish, Sire, that your Subjects may be worthy of you, and may deserve, that Providence should long continue to us the Blessing of your Majesty to reign over us: And we beg Leave to offer to your Majesty our most determined Assurances of Duty, Zeal and Obedience.

Signed by Order and Appointment of the Meeting, and in their Presence, at Greenlaw, this Eleventh of December, One thousand seven hundred and sixty Years, by Sir Robert Pringle, of Stutchel, Baronet, their Preses.

Ro. Pringle.

The following Address of the Dean and Faculty of Advocates in Scotland, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Dean and Faculty of Advocates

Advocates in that Part of Great Britain called Scotland.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects, the Dean and Faculty of Advocates in that Part of Great Britain called Scotland, presume to approach your Majesty on your Accession to the Crown of these Realms. Sensible of the Blessings which we so long enjoyed under the wise, just and equal Government of our late Sovereign, we mourn for his Death, and shall ever revere his Memory: He whose chief Glory it was, to rule according to Law, beheld the united Affections and Confidence of his People increase with their Experience of his Virtues, and died full of Days and of Honour, esteemed and lamented by all the Nations committed to his Care.

The Example of your Majesty's Royal Grandfather, and the Precepts of him whose untimely Death we long deplored; your tender Regard for your People; your Knowledge and Love of our invaluable Constitution; your early Resolution to promote Virtue and Religion, and your firm Reliance on Divine Providence, all join in affording us the fairest Prospect of the Felicity of your Reign.

Prompted no less by Inclination than by Duty, we shall in our several Stations do our utmost Endeavours to promote the publick Prosperity, by yielding an uniform and cheerful Obedience to your Majesty's Government, and to the Laws of the Land.

May your Majesty, by a long and happy Administration, distinguished for Wisdom, and every Virtue, become more and more the Darling of your People, and the Support of the Liberties of Europe.

Signed in Name and Presence of, and by Appointment of the Faculty, at Edinburgh, the 3d Day of December 1760, by James Ferguson, Dean of Faculty.

The following Address of the Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Minehead, has been presented to His Majesty by Charles Whitworth, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Minehead in the County of Somerset.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE Your Majesty's most faithful and dutiful Subjects, the Principal Inhabitants of your ancient Borough of Minehead, humbly beg Leave to approach your Royal Presence with Hearts deeply affected for the Loss which we and this Nation in general have sustained by the Death of our late most gracious Sovereign, your Majesty's Royal Grandfather; and, at the same Time, offer our sincere Congratulations on your happy Accession to the Imperial Throne of your Ancestors, which we look upon as filled by the Inheritor of the Virtues of your illustrious House, in the Person of your Sacred Majesty.

Permit us, Great Sir, to present the strongest Assurances of our firm Attachment to your Person and Government, and to acknowledge the high Obligations we are under for your Majesty's gracious Declaration of your Regard for this your Native Country, and our happy Constitution in Church and State.

Our ardent Desires are, that Divine Providence may direct your Majesty's Councils, and that your Fleets and Armies may be blessed with Success in their several Operations, until your Enemies are totally subdued, and your Crown established in Peace; and may your Reign be continued to the utmost Date of human Life, as a Blessing to the Subjects of your extensive Dominions, and the Support of the Protestant Cause throughout Europe; and that a Succession of Monarchs of your Royal Descent may perpetuate these Blessings to our latest Posterity.

The following Address of the Freeholders, Justices of Peace and Commissioners of Supply for the County of Aberdeen, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Freeholders, Justices of Peace and Commissioners of Supply for the County of Aberdeen, for this Purpose assembled at Aberdeen the 28th of November 1760.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WHile we humbly offer a sincere Tribute of Condoleance for the Loss of our late Sovereign, may your Majesty graciously accept our earnest Congratulations on your Accession to the Throne of your illustrious Ancestors.

Happy the Nations, who by Divine Promise may expect to prosper through the exemplary Piety of a magnanimous young Monarch, born no less in the Affection of his People, than in the Heart of his own Dominions.

If Ambition and Avarice prompt our Enemies to persevere in unjust War, we happily know your Majesty commands the affectionate Abilities of a free and united People; a People rich in the powerful Blessings derived from a Sovereign of Fortitude, Moderation and constitutional Regard.

May the Almighty preserve your Life, that your Majesty's Virtue, Wisdom and Magnanimity, thro' this arduous and critical Period, may establish a just and solid Peace;

So shall the distressed People of adverse Powers join their Assent to the loyal Exultation of your Majesty's own Subjects, and enjoy the Blessings of Tranquillity from the acknowledged Superiority of Britain's glorious and native young Sovereign.

Signed in our Presence, and by our Appointment, by, Sir Arthur Forbes, of Craigievar, Baronet, our Præces. Arthur Forbes, Præces.

The four following Addresses of the Magistrates and Counsellors of the Boroughs of Craill, Kihenny, Anstruther Easter, and Anstruther Wester, have been presented to His Majesty: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Magistrates and Counsellors of the Borough of Craill.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

MAY it please your Majesty to deign to listen to us your dutiful and devoted Subjects, the Magistrates and Counsellors of Craill, while we testify the deep Concern with which we are affected on the Death of the late King, your Royal Grandfather, in whose memorable Reign the Commercial Interests of Great Britain were so essentially promoted, her Warlike Genius revived, and her Military Glory re-established.

May it please your Majesty to accept of our humble Felicitations on that Event so important to this Country, your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne of your Ancestors, at so critical a Period, when Europe is desolated with War, and when the Haughtiness of our defeated Enemies has not yet condescended to sue for Peace.

Suffer us to congratulate your Majesty, that at a Juncture, when Firmness and Wisdom are required to guide the Hand of War, the Annihilation of Party-Distinctions amongst your Subjects, has freed your Majesty from the most distant Apprehensions of domestick Troubles, and raised the united Voice of the People to declare, they hope to find in your auspicious Reign, an ample Execution of the Prerogative, the great, the truly Royal Prerogative, that of increasing the Happiness of your Subjects, and of adding Lustre to your Crown.

The Acclamations of your Subjects assure your Majesty, that thoroughly conversant as you are in the Constitution of your native Country; and having adopted the Principles of Liberty, the most amiable Security of Kings, you may ever depend on the utmost Support that Loyalty and Affection can supply.

These,

These, Sir, are the present Sentiments of your applauding Subjects; and from the Firmness of your Majesty's Mind, and from the Moderation and Integrity of your Disposition, they persuade themselves, that your Majesty's Reign will be uniform, equitable, exemplary, and great.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Magistrates and Councillors of the Borough of Kilrenny.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Magistrates and Councillors of the Borough of Kilrenny, intreat your Permission most humbly to offer our Condolence on the Death of His late Majesty, your Royal Grandfather; and to lay at your Majesty's Feet, this respectful Testimony of the Expectations which we conceive, and the Joy with which we are possessed, on the View of approaching Blessings, which this your native Country will reap from your Majesty's Accession to the Throne of these Imperial Dominions.

The Fame of your early Virtues; your Majesty's thorough Knowledge of the Constitution of this Kingdom; your Regard for the Principles of Liberty; and your most gracious Declaration to maintain them, have transported us with the pleasing Prospect, that under your Majesty's firm, though gentle Government, the Civil and Religious Rights of a free and an admiring People, will be inviolably preserved; that cherished by your Royal Patronage, Arts and Sciences will be honoured and improved; that Commerce will flourish, and be protected; that the Morals of your Subjects will be copied from your illustrious Example; and that the latest Posterity, with the highest Sense of Gratitude, will quote the Annals of your Majesty's most auspicious Reign.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Magistrates and Councillors of the Borough of Anstruther Easter.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Magistrates and Councillors of the Borough of Anstruther Easter, humbly beg Leave to offer this sincere Tribute of our Sorrow, and to console with your Majesty for the Decease of your Royal Grandfather, the Monarch of these Realms.

And may it please your Majesty, graciously to accept of our respectful Congratulations on your Accession to the Throne of these Dominions, so peculiarly favoured by Heaven, in conferring on them so distinguished a Blessing at so delicate and critical a Juncture.

Though your Majesty's Armies at Land have been crowned with the most eminent Success; though the Navy of your Enemy, once so much boasted of, exists but in the Name; the Sword is still unsheathed, and the Fate of War not finally decided. The arduous Task of Composing the Passions, and Conciliating the Interests of hostile Potentates: of fixing the Boundaries of your Territories, establishing the Rights of your Subjects, securing their Commerce, and confirming their Happiness by a lasting Peace, is a Glory still reserved for your Majesty's Wisdom, and the Vigour of your Mind; and must be the Summit of Felicity to the Sweetness of your Temper.

Heaven, Sacred Sir, could give nothing greater than the Power, nor better than the Will, to bless Mankind.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Magistrates and Councillors of the Borough of Anstruther Wester.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

MAY it please your Majesty to vouchsafe an indulgent Hearing to us, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Magistrates and Councillors of the Borough of Anstruther Wester, while penetrated with Sorrow for the Loss which your Majesty has sustained, we present this humble offering of our Condolence for the Death of the late

King, your Royal Grandfather, under whose Government, the Glory of the British Arms rose to so conspicuous a Height.

And may it please your Majesty to design to permit us, in the Sincerity of our Hearts, to express the Fulness of our Joy, and to felicitate your Sacred Majesty on your Accession to the Throne of these Imperial Dominions.

The Voice of your native Country, unprompted by Flattery at this Juncture, testifies the universal Sentiments of this free People; when forgetting their former Divisions, and relinquishing their former Animosities and Dissentions, they join in Acclamations on your Majesty's Accession, and, without Hesitation or Reserve, acknowledge, that great are the Expectations which they have formed from that critical and momentous Event.

They behold the Patron of Liberty seated on the Throne, attended by Benevolence, Liberality and Justice; and they with Rapture consider that regal Power, which, under arbitrary Princes, and in despotick Governments, becomes the Scourge and Terror of Mankind, is, in your Majesty's Possession, the Instrument of pleasing and of blessing Millions. Arbitrary Sovereigns may listen to the faint and languid Acclamations of a timid, and a slavish People, and be unfortunately deceived; but your Majesty has learned from your Study of this Constitution, and from the Testimonies of undisssembled Joy, which you have lately received, to know that the happiest Station upon Earth, is that of a Monarch beloved and revered by his Subjects, for the amiable Qualities and Disposition of his Mind.

By the Countenances and Conduct of your People, your Majesty must have discovered that their Professions of Fidelity are the Effusions of Zeal and Affection; and their fervent Declarations of Support in the present important Crisis, are the most cordial Expressions of Veneration and Gratitude that can be uttered by a Country devoted to a most deserving Sovereign.

Done at Anstruther Wester, upon this 28th Day of November, 1760.

The following Address of the Noblemen, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Haddington, has been presented to His Majesty by Sir Hugh Dalrymple, Bart. their Representative in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Noblemen, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Haddington.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Haddington, beg Leave to console with your Majesty, on the great Loss your Majesty and your Kingdoms have sustained by the Death of His late Majesty, your Royal Grandfather.

While, with Hearts full of Gratitude, we reflect on the Blessings we have enjoyed during His long and prosperous Reign, we feel, at the same Time, the sincerest and highest Joy, on seeing his Throne filled by your Majesty, the Heir of His Royal Virtues, as well as of His Dominions.

The early Proofs your Majesty has given of your being possessed of every Virtue, and the Confidence you have been graciously pleased to express in the Afflictions of your Subjects, are to us the surest Pledges, that our Rights and Liberties shall be secure under your Administration.

We beg Leave to assure your Majesty of our firm Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, and will take every Opportunity of exerting our Duty and Zeal to promote your Majesty's Glory, and the Prosperity of your Kingdoms.

Signed in our Name, in our Presence, and by our Appointment, at Haddington, the eighth Day of December, 1760, by Belhaven, Preses.

The two following Addresses have been presented to His Majesty by Sir John Gordon, Representative in Parliament for the County of Cromarty, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects, the Justices of Peace, Freeholders and Commissioners of Supply for the County of Cromarty, beg Leave, with the utmost Sincerity of Heart, to express the deep Affliction of us, and the other Inhabitants of this County, on Occasion of the Death of our late most gracious Sovereign; and with the sincerest Love and Veneration to congratulate the British Dominions, and your Majesty, the Darling of this your native Country, upon your happy Accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms, amidst the joyful Acclamations of a faithful and free People.

The pleasing and well grounded Assurances we have from your Majesty's eminent and Royal Virtues, leave us no Room to doubt of such a benign and gracious Administration as we hoped to have enjoyed under your Royal Father, if it had pleased the great Disposer of all Events to have protracted his Life; and permit us here to express our warmest Gratitude to the illustrious Princess, your Majesty's Royal Mother, for the very distinguished Part she has constantly acted, which enthrones her in the Hearts of your People.

The Care of a great and free People has devolved upon your Majesty, placed for the Reward of your Virtues in that Station, for diffusing Happiness; and we, in a great Measure, already anticipate the Joy and Satisfaction of a Nation truly happy under the Reign of a Sovereign, from whose Affections for his native Country, his most extensive Benevolence, and every Royal as well as private Virtue, the remotest Parts of his Kingdoms must derive many new and ineffimable Blessings, and every Part of them know, whatever is conducive to the Good of the Whole, whether with respect to Religion, Liberty, or publick Virtue, the Security of Property, and the equal Encouragement of all, in whatever Part of the British Dominions they live, or conducive to the Freedom and Liberties of Europe, will be at all Times sure of meeting with your Majesty's Royal Approbation, whose first Act of Government was, a most gracious Solicitation of the Support and Assistance of every honest Man, for Patriotic purposes.

Ever devoted to your Majesty's Service, and ready on every Occasion to manifest our unalterable Loyalty and Attachment to your Majesty's Sacred Person and Government, by every Act of Zeal, Duty and Affection, we shall never cease to put up our most fervent Prayers, That your Majesty may enjoy the Blessings of a long, prosperous and glorious Reign over a happy, most affectionate and grateful People; and that your Posterity may ever inherit the Throne of these Kingdoms, and make you their great Example, as the Defender of Religion and Virtue, both publick and private, and the Supporter and Strengthen of the Constitution and Liberties of this your native Country.

Signed by Appointment, and in Presence of the Meeting, by Captain Adam Gordon, of Ardoch, their Prefes.

Cromarty, Nov. 29, 1760. Ad. Gordon, Prefes.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Justices of Peace, Barons, Freeholders, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Ross, met at Tain this 27th Day of November, 1760.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects most humbly beg Leave to approach your Sacred Person, with our sincere Condoleance for the Loss of our most excellent and gracious Sovereign, your Majesty's Royal Grandfather.

Our Grief, on that melancholy Event, at so very critical a Time, could only be alleviated by the pleasing Prospect of his being succeeded by a Prince conspicuous for the eminent and amiable Virtues of his illustrious Royal Progenitors.

We presume to congratulate your Majesty on your happy Accession to the Throne of these Realms, and we are persuaded, every Briton rejoices with us in the glorious Hope, that your Majesty, our British Sovereign, shall reign in the Hearts of your faithful Subjects, ever ready, with their Lives and Fortunes, to demonstrate their Zeal and inviolable Attachment for your Majesty's most Sacred Person and Government.

May your Majesty's Reign be long and prosperous; and may the British Sceptre continue to be happily swayed by your Royal Descendants, over a free and united People, to latest Posterity.

John Munro, Prefes.

The two following Addresses of the Magistrates and Town-Council of the Burghs of Culrofs and Dunfermline, have been presented to His Majesty by Robert Haldane, Esq; their Representative in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed Chamber in Waiting: Which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Magistrates and Town Council of the Burgh of Culrofs, in Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

May it please Your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's loyal Subjects, the Magistrates and Town Council of the Burgh of Culrofs, in Council assembled, beg Leave, with all Humility, to address your Majesty, and offer our sincere and dutiful Congratulations on your happy Accession to the Throne of your Native Country.

Permit us, at the same Time, to express the deep Sense we have of the severe Loss which we have sustained by the Death of our late most gracious King, your Majesty's Royal Grandfather, whose Memory will be ever dear to a grateful People, and the Loss of whom can only be repaired by the Virtues of His Successor.

The same generous Sentiments, which governed the Conduct of the amiable Prince, from whom you derive your Birth; and the happy Effects of the Guardian Care of that Excellent Princess to whom we owe the perfect Cultivation of these innate Virtues, afford us the certain Prospect of many future Blessings to these Kingdoms, under your Majesty's auspicious Reign.

That the Favour of the Almighty, whose indulgent Providence has bestowed so many Marks of peculiar Care on this Nation, and in a particular Manner, in giving us such a Prince to ascend the Throne of these Realms, may be continued to your Majesty and your latest Posterity; and that you may be enabled to terminate in an advantageous and lasting Peace, this just and successful, though burthenome War, is our constant and fervent Prayer.

Signed by our Appointment, at Culrofs, the first Day of December, 1760 Years, by Robert Geddes, Chief Magistrate.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Magistrates and Town Council of the Burgh of Dunfermline, in Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

May it please your Majesty,

WE the Magistrates and Town Council of the Burgh of Dunfermline, in Council assembled, with Hearts full of the warmest Duty and Affection, beg Leave humbly to address your Majesty, and to join the general Voice of all your People, in this great and united Kingdom, upon this most important and interesting Occasion.

Fortunate in a Circumstance, which animates us with a peculiar Zeal for your Majesty's Person and Government; This your Majesty's Royal Burgh having been long the Favourite Residence of your Royal Ancestors the Kings of Scotland; and honoured noured with the Nativity of that Excellent Princess Elizabeth, through whom the Government of those Realms has been happily established in your Majesty's Illustrious Family.

We feel and sincerely lament the sudden Loss of our late most just and gracious Sovereign: But we also share the Consolation, which springs in every British Heart, from a pleasing Review of His long and happy Reign, and from the certain Prospect of glorious Years to come under the Government of a Prince, who unites the Prudence and Virtues of Age, to the active Spirit and Vigour of Youth.

It is with the utmost Satisfaction we already begin to feel the happy Effects of those noble and generous Sentiments so early implanted in your Royal Breast, by that amiable Prince who gave you Birth; and which have been so happily confirmed by the illustrious Example of his Royal Consort: And on this secure and auspicious Foundation we build the firmest Confidence and Belief, that the same just Principles of Government, the Principles of Moderation and Justice in Peace, and of publick Virtue and Constancy in War, which sustained His late Majesty's long and prosperous Reign to a glorious Conclusion, will continue to animate, and still more illustriously distinguish, the Measures of your Majesty's Administration, and that every publick Blessing, which the best Form of Government in the World, under a wise and virtuous Direction, can produce, will be assured to this powerful Nation, by your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne of your Native Country.

Signed by our Provoest at our Desire, at Dunfermline, the first Day of December, 1760 Years.

Ed. Turnbull, Provoest.

The following Address of the Magistrates and Councillors of the Borough of Pellinweem, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Magistrates and Councillors of the Borough of Pellinweem.

May it please your Majesty,

TO permit us your most dutiful and faithful Subjects, the Magistrates and Councillors of the Borough of Pellinweem,

To condole with your Majesty for the afflicting Loss, which you and the Nation have sustained by the Death of your Royal Grandfather;

And in the most respectful Manner, to congratulate your Majesty on that important Event, your happy Accession to the Throne.

Humanity, the Love of Justice, tempered with Benevolence and Moderation; a Zeal for the Cultivation of Learning, Piety, and Morals, accompanied with a Solicitude for the Preservation of Civil and Religious Liberty; a cautious Prudence to plan, and a Firmness of Mind to execute, are those Qualities, which most adorn a Crown.

And we have been taught, from your Majesty's Education, from the Fame of your Virtues, and from the universal Acclamations of a happy People, to expect, Sir, that these will distinguish and dignify your Reign.

The entire Union of the Hearts and Affections of your Subjects, promises at once Tranquility to your Majesty, and Prosperity to this Kingdom; and the Confidence which they unanimously place in your Majesty's Wisdom, for conducting, with Spirit and Vigour, the various Operations of War, at the most critical Conjunction, we flatter ourselves will induce your faithful Subjects to contribute, with Cheerfulness, the Supplies necessary to insure a glorious and a lasting Peace.

That the Almighty Protector of Kings and Kingdoms may long preserve your Majesty on the Throne of Great Britain, and thereby furnish your Majesty with a lasting Series of Opportunities of gratifying that noblest of all Desires, which glows with Fervency in your Royal Breast, the Desire of rendering your People glorious and happy, is our ardent Prayer.

B

The following Address of the Mayor and Commonalty, Clergy, and other principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Helston, has been presented to His Majesty by Francis Godolphin and John Evelyn, Esqrs. their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor and Commonalty, Clergy, and other principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Helston, in Cornwall.

May it please your Majesty,

TO accept the humble Congratulations of your Majesty's faithful Subjects, the Mayor and Commonalty, Clergy, and other principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Helston, on your Majesty's happy Accession to the British Throne, and at the same Time, in Honour of his heroic Virtues, permit us to drop a Tear of Gratitude to the glorious Memory of your Royal Grandfather, our late Illustrious Sovereign.

It is with the highest Admiration and Joy, that we see the same exalted Virtues implanted in your Royal Breast, already most effectually providing for your own Glory, and the Happiness of your Kingdoms. For, if the Divine Favour be the most fruitful Source of Blessings to a People; if to possess the Hearts of free-born Subjects, be the justest Cause of Glory to a Prince, what new Felicities may we not expect, what unrivalled Lustre must adorn your Crown, whose first Royal Mandate directly tended to secure the one; and whose first endearing Declarations to your Parliament cannot but command the other.

Happy in these early Proofs of your Majesty's affectionate Attachment to your native Country, how shall a grateful People better express their Sense of your Royal Goodness, than by cheerfully contributing their most zealous Efforts to oppose the ambitious Designs of your Enemies, and support the Cause of your faithful Allies? Enemies, who, as if delighted with the Ravages of War, obstinately reject the Offers of Accommodation; for which alone your Majesty's victorious Sword remains unsheathed.

May your Majesty be enabled successfully to accomplish this great End; and after a long and prosperous Reign over this favoured People, may you, still happier than your Glorious Grandfather, transmit your Kingdoms to a Prince of your own illustrious Family in greater Splendour, Wealth and Peace!

Given under our Hands, and the Common Seal of this Borough, the 11th Day of December, 1760.

The following Address of the Bailiff, Burgeses, and Inhabitants, of the Borough of Luggershall, has been presented to His Majesty by Edward Herbert, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Bailiff, Burgeses, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Luggershall, in the County of Wilts.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bailiff and others the Burgeses and Inhabitants of your ancient Borough of Luggershall, beg Leave, in the humblest Manner, to approach your Royal Presence, that we may not be wanting at this Juncture, in our Assurances of the most unfeigned and zealous Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government; and that we, with others, may be permitted to add our Tribute of Condoleance to that united Concern, which has been expressed in these Kingdoms for the Loss of our late Most Excellent Sovereign; a Loss which we equally have felt with the rest of our Fellow-Subjects, jects, and are sensible could not have been alleviated, or repaired, but by such a pleasing Prospect of Felicity, as is presented to us, in the Consideration of so many Princely Virtues, as have manifested themselves from your earliest Years, as well as in the Beginning of this your Majesty's auspicious Reign, and which afford us a well-grounded Hope of being continued, by the Blessing of Providence, to the Honour of your Majesty, and to the Prosperity of your People.

We also beg, Most Gracious Sovereign, that your Majesty will deign to believe that there never will be wanting in any the meanest of us, a grateful and ardent Desire to contribute the utmost of our Power to the Glory and Peace of your Majesty's Government, nor an Ambition to seize every Opportunity which we may have, in our several Stations and Capacities, of distinguishing ourselves among the most dutiful and most affectionate of your Majesty's Subjects.

The following Address of the Nobility, Freeholders, and Heretors of the County of Edinburgh, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Lauderdale, Lord High Sheriff of the said County, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, Freeholders, and Heretors of the County of Edinburgh, humbly beg Leave to condole with your Majesty, upon the Demise of our late most Gracious Sovereign.

With the most grateful Sense of the Blessings we enjoyed under his just, mild, and glorious Reign, we revere his Memory, and deplore his Death.

Our Grief could only be alleviated, our Loss repaired, by the Succession of your Majesty, the Heir of His Kingdoms, His Virtue and Renown.

Permit us then, Sir, with Sentiments of the warmest Loyalty, to congratulate your Majesty upon your happy Accession to the Throne of these Realms, and to declare the firm Confidence we have in your Majesty's great Abilities to support the Dignity of your Imperial Crown, and increase the Happiness of your People.

We beg Leave to express our grateful Sense of your Majesty's most gracious Declaration, to assure your Majesty of our inviolable Attachment to your Royal Person, Family, and Government, and of our steady Resolution to promote, with Ardour and Unanimity, the Glory of your Reign.

With Zeal and Fervency we shall ever pray, That your Majesty may be long preserved the Darling of your Subjects, the Guardian of Liberty, the Pattern and Protector of Piety and true Religion.

Edinburgh, 5th of December, 1760. The Meeting order this humble Address to be signed by their Preses, in their Name.

Ro. Dundas, Preses.

The following Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders, of the County of Gloucester, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders, of the County of Gloucester.

May it please your Majesty,

WE the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders, of the County of Gloucester, humbly presume to approach your Sacred Person, that we may offer our Compliments of Condolence, on the Death of our late most Excellent Sovereign, to whose Glorious Memory we are desirous to pay our due Tribute of Praise and Gratitude; and at the same Time to present to your Majesty, our sincere and united Congratulations, on your Accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms; under whose auspicious Reign (as an Alleviation of our Sorrow) we promise to ourselves not only a Continuance, but an Increase of our Felicity,

Your Majesty has undoubtedly begun your Reign at a very critical and difficult Conjunction; but at the same Time, there is no Advantage to these Kingdoms which we are not encouraged to hope for, from the Contemplation of those Princely Virtues, which you have so early imbibed, and which have been confirmed by the Example of your Royal Grandfather, whose Lois we deplore.

Pleased with the happy Unanimity that now subsists among us, we humbly beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that it shall be our constant Care and Study, to promote its Continuance, and to discountenance every Distinction, except that of a laudable Emulation among your Subjects, in exerting their best Endeavours, to promote the Welfare and Prosperity of the Publick, and to preserve to your Majesty's Person and Government the Hearts and Affections of a free and happy People.

We are sensible of our being engaged in an expensive and necessary War; but as the Cause was just, so our Endeavours to support it will be free and cheerful, till your Majesty shall be able to procure us the Blessings of Peace.

May your Majesty's Reign over us be long and happy, and a shining Example to all succeeding Princes; and may the Crown you possess, with the general Voice and Approbation of an affectionate and united People, descend and continue in your Royal House, till all earthly Crowns shall be no more.

The following Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Anglesey, has been presented to His Majesty by Sir Nicholas Bayly, Bart. their Representative in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most loyal Subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Anglesey, with all Sincerity condole with you upon the Death of your Royal Grandfather, our late gracious Sovereign, of glorious Memory.

At the same Time we do gratefully and thankfully acknowledge, that God, in His great Goodness, has amply repaired this Loss to us, in placing your Majesty upon the Throne of your Ancestors.

In these Times of War and Bloodshed, when the Ruin of the Protestant Interest, and publick Liberty of Europe, is meditating Abroad, and when at Home Religion seemed too much deemed an Imposture, how powerful does the Hand of Providence appear in raising your Majesty, as His Instrument, to carry Deliverance to the one, by the Wisdom and Steadiness of your Councils, and to the other Shame and Conviction, by the true Piety of your Royal Example.

Your Majesty's gracious Intention to support the Religion, the Laws, the Liberties of this your native Country, makes the Happiness of these Kingdoms unspeakable, makes you the great Blessing of the present Age; conscious of the Truth and Integrity of these Intentions, the Hearts of these Nations, as one man, are turned unto you; Faction is abashed; and Disaffection is no more. Under these Circumstances, well may we Britons glory in your Majesty's being a Briton.

May your Reign, in Length and Glory, exceed that of any of your most renowned Forefathers; may it be one continued Flow of Prosperity, and may you always be esteemed the Delight of human Kind.

Magdebourg, November 29. We have received Advice, from his Majesty's Head Quarters at Meissen, That he has detached a Body of about eight thouland Men, in Cavalry, Infantry, and Hussars, under the Command of the Generals Sallern, Ascherleben, and Linden, to march through Thuringe towards Gottingen, and there act in Concert with Prince Ferdinand, in his present Operations against that Place. This Corps was in Motion the 26th; and, it is supposed, will join his Serene Highness's Army the 6th of next Month. Exclusive of this Reinforcement, the King has likewise sent another, of about fifteen hundred Men, drawn from the Garrison of Magdebourg, to General Kielmansegg, who commands a detached Corps of the Allied Army, in the Neighbourhood of Gottingen. We learn, That General Hulsen, being on his March to Chemnitz, the Army of the Empire had retired in the Night of the 21st past towards Hoff in Franconia; and that the Duke of Wurtemberg, upon this Intelligence, had likewise left Weimar the 22d, and had marched to Arnstadt.

and

Hamburg, Dec. 2. We are informed, That the Austrians had evacuated Landshut in Silesia, on the 19th of November, leaving behind them 16,000 Ammunition Loads; besides a considerable Quantity of Forage: That the Russians were now entirely dislodged out of the New Marche; and that General Werner, having been reinforced by Prince Eugene of Wurtemberg, who arrived the 20th past at Schwedt, would likewise soon oblige General Totleben, who yet occupied Coslin and Stolpe, to leave both those Places.

Warbourg, Dec. 4. The Situation of the Troops in these Parts has received no material Alteration lately. Those on the other Side of the Weser, under the Command of Prince Ferdinand, have moved forward, and are now cantoned about Gottingen: His Serene Highness's Head Quarters have been fixed, since the 25th past, at Harste.

There have been several smart Skirmishes on the Side of Gottingen, particularly one on the 29th past at Heydemunden upon the River Werra, which Post Major General Bridenbach, at the Head of the two Regiments of Hanoverian and Brunswick Guards, with a Detachment of Cavalry, attacked; and, having carried it, took Possession of the Town, which was abandoned by the French Detachment, Part of which passed the River in Boats, while the others threw themselves into an Intrenchment which covered the Passage, and which our Troops made several Attempts to force, but without Success. At length, our People being much galled by the Fire from the Enemy's Redoubts on the other Side of the River, General Bridenbach could not carry his Point, and was obliged to fall back into the Town, from whence he retired at Midnight; and the Enemy did not retake Possession of it till Twenty-four Hours afterwards. Our Loss, upon this Occasion, amounted to about 150 private Men: Five of our Officers were killed, and six wounded.

AT the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 17th Day of December, 1760,

The Lords of His Majesty's most Honourable Privy-Council.

This Day the Right Honourable Philip Yorke, Esq; commonly called Lord Viscount Royston, was, by His Majesty's Command, sworn of His Majesty's most Honourable Privy-Council, and took His Place at the Board accordingly.

Whitehall, December 20.

His Majesty has been pleas'd to confer the Honour of Knighthood on Onesiphorus Paul, Esq; of Woodchester in the County of Gloucester, High Sheriff of the said County.

Whitehall, December 16, 1760.

Whereas it hath been humbly represented to the King, that on the 13th Day of this Instant December, between the Hours of Five and Eleven in the Evening, the Dwelling-house of Isaac Pacatus Shard, Esq; at Peckham in the County of Surry, was maliciously attempted to be burned down, by setting Fire to the Bed and Bed-Cloaths of a spare Bed-Chamber, and to the Toilet in the said Room, which stood at such a Distance from the said Bed, as to have no possible Communication with the same; His Majesty, for the better Discovery, and bringing to Justice, the Person or Persons concerned therein, is pleas'd to promise His most gracious Pardon, to any one of them, except the Person who actually set Fire to the said Bed, Bedcloaths, and Toilet, who shall discover his, her, or their Accomplice or Accomplices therein, so as he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

W. PITT.

And as a further Encouragement, I the said Isaac Pacatus Shard, do hereby promise a Reward of One Hundred Pounds to any Person making such Discovery as aforesaid, to be paid on the Conviction of any of the Offenders.

J. P. Shard.

Derby, December 13, 1760.

His Majesty's Deputy Lieutenants for this County have appointed a Meeting to be holden at the George Inn in Derby, on the 26th Day of this Instant December, when all Persons that are qualified and willing to serve as Officers in the Militia for the said County, are desired to attend, and deliver in, or cause to be delivered in, their Names, to such Person or Persons as shall be authorized to receive the same, specifying the Rank in which they are willing to serve.

John Bateman, Clerk to the Lord Lieutenant of the said County.

Navy Office, December 15, 1760.

The Principal Officers and Commissioners of His Majesty's Navy give Notice, that on Monday the 5th of next Month, at Eleven o'Clock in the Morning precisely, they will be ready to treat with such Persons as are willing to supply His Majesty's Yards at Deptford and Woolwich with Braziers Wares on a standing Contract, that they may attend with their Proposals at that Time.
