THE following Address of the Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Suffex, has been presented to His Majesty by Thomas Pelham and John Butler, Esqrs. their Representatives in Parliament, accompanied by the Dukes of Richmond and Newcastle; the Earl of Egremont; the Bishop of Chichester; the Lord Abergavenny; and several of the Principal Gentlemen of the said County; who had all the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand; being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Suffex.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's ever dutiful and loyal Subjects, truly sensible of the many Blessings, which we enjoyed under the just and well-ordered Government of our late most gracious Sovereign, your Majesty's Royal Grandfather, beg Leave to offer this Tribute of our Sorrow, on the Occasion of His sudden and unexpected Death: And, at the same Time, to congratulate your Majesty on your Accession to the Throne, and to testify our Joy in having a King to rule over us, who is not only descended from the Blood of so illustrious an Ancestor, but who, from His earliest Age, has given the most convincing Testimonies of being the Inheritor of all His Royal Virtues.

From those Virtues, wisely exerted by your Royal Grandfather, resulted Consequences of the greatest Importance both to Himself and to His People: The Trade and Commerce of the latter were extended, His own Dominions were enlarged, and the Glory of the Kingdom was raised to a greater Height than had been known before, in any the most flourishing Times of the British Nation. And the Prospect of like Virtues in your Majesty's Royal Person, gives us the strongest Grounds to hope for a Continuance of the same Blessings under your Majesty's most auspicious Reign.

Your Majesty's most Gracious Declaration from the Throne has confirmed us in these our Hopes, and added to these Hopes a firm Confidence in your Concern for the Interest and Welfare of your Subjects. And your Majesty may be assured, that, with the greatest Cheerfulness, we shall hazard our Lives and Fortunes for the Support of that Prince, who makes it His Care to protect our Religion, our Laws, and our Liberties; Blessings, in the Opinion of Britons, of higher Estimation than even Life itself.

And happy from our Confidence in your Majesty's Affection, we shall zealously concur in the Promoting of those Measures which may tend to advance the Happiness of your Majesty; and shall never cease to pray, that you may long continue to reign over a dutiful and loyal People; and speedily obtain the wished-for Satisfaction, of seeing your Kingdoms in full Peace.

Given under our Hands at Lewes, the fifteenth Day of January, 1761.

The

The following Address of the Nobility, High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of York, has been presented to His Majesty by James Shuttleworth, Esq; High Sheriff of the said County, being introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Holderness, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Nobility, High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of York.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of York, beg Leave to condole with your Majesty upon the Death of our late most Gracious Sovereign, your Royal Grandfather; and to express our deep Sense of the Divine Goodness, which has so graciously provided for that affecting Event, in the Person of your Majesty, whom we heartily congratulate upon your happy Accession to the Throne.

Not content with answering the warmest Wishes of your People, your Majesty studies to prevent them; devoting your early Cares to the Happiness of the Publick, and establishing your Imperial Throne upon the firm and solid Foundations of universal Confidence and Esteem.

To the Maintenance of that noble System, which your Majesty has declared your Resolution to support, we owe the Security of our Lives and Fortunes, the Protection of our Trade and Commerce, and many glorious and important Conquests; Blessings, which are no where more sensibly felt, no where more gratefully acknowledged, than in this extensive and opulent Country, whose Honour it is to have stood foremost on the most Critical Occasions, in that Glorious Cause, which your Illustrious House is destined to support, the Cause of the Protestant Religion and Liberty.

That gracious and tender Concern, which your Majesty has designed to express for the Burthens of your Subjects, induces us to bear our Share of them with the utmost Cheerfulness, being fully convinced, that nothing can produce an honourable and advantageous Peace, but a wise and vigorous Prosecution of the War; And we securely intrust every Thing that is most dear and valuable to Mankind, in the Hands of a Prince, who has the most perfect Attachment to the true Interest of Britain, and labours to preserve and strengthen its Excellent Constitution.

May the Divine Providence soon enable your Majesty to defeat the obstinate and cruel Schemes of Tyranny and Ambition: May your Royal and Generous Cares for the Publick Good be attended with Length of Days, and the constant Affections of a grateful People; and may the Crown of these Kingdoms ever continue in your Illustrious House for the Preservation of the Protestant Religion, and the natural Rights of Mankind.

The following Address of the President and Fellows of the Royal College of Physicians in Edinburgh, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Holderness, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the President and Fellows of the Royal College of Physicians in Edinburgh.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the President and Fellows of the Royal College of Physicians in Edinburgh, beg Leave, with all Humility, to join in the general Voice of your People in testifying our sincere Joy, and in expressing our most hearty Congratulations upon your Majesty's happy Accession to the Throne of these Realms.

Extremely sensible of the great Loss we have sustained by the Death of your Royal Grandfather, we condole with your Majesty and the Nation on that mournful Event: But our Minds are necessarily turned from that Subject, by the Prospect we have of immediately enjoying the utmost Happiness and Glory under your Majesty's auspicious Government.

From these Dispositions that appeared so early in your Majesty, and are so fully expressed in your Majesty's late gracious Declarations, we are fully confident, that under your Reign Piety and Virtue will be steadily cherished, every Pursuit of Learning and Science protected and encouraged, and a strict Attention given to whatever can promote the Honour and Interest of these Kingdoms.

We of this College relying upon that gracious Protection and Favour from your Majesty, which we have been constantly honoured with by your Royal Predecessors, beg your Majesty will be pleased to accept of this Tender of our Duty and Loyalty. It shall always be our earnest Prayer, that your Majesty's Reign may be long, happy, and glorious, over a People fully sensible of the many Blessings they have derived from your Majesty's Illustrious House.

Signed in the Presence and by Appointment of the College, by

Edinburgh, Dec. 5,

Alexander Dick, President.

1760.

The following Address of the Nobility, High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, Officers of the Militia, and Freeholders of the County of Wilts, has been presented to His Majesty by George Flower, Esq; High Sheriff of the said County, and Sir Robert Long, Bart. and Edward Popham, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the Nobility, High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, Officers of the Militia, and Freeholders of the County of Wilts.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, Officers of the Militia, and Freeholders of the County of Wilts, beg Leave humbly to present our sincere Condolence on the Death of your Royal Grandfather, our late most Excellent Monarch; and the most unfeigned Congratulations on your happy Accession to the Crown of these Kingdoms.

Your Majesty's wise Determination to preserve and strengthen this Constitution in Church and State; to discountenance Vice and Immorality, and promote the Practice of Piety and Virtue: Your endearing Declaration of Affection for your Native Country: Your early generous Disdain of servile Adulation; and the many Instances already given of your Majesty's most gracious Disposition to appear the common Father of all your Subjects, afford us the most pleasing Prospect of a truly Patriot King, reigning in the Hearts and Affections of a free, loyal, and grateful People.

Animated with these Sentiments, we presume to assure your Majesty, that we will, in our several Stations, to the best of our Abilities, concur with your most gracious Intentions, by endeavouring to maintain the salutary Laws of these Realms; and by cultivating that Unanimity, which, under Providence, has been the Security of this Country; so that the sole Contention remaining in these happy Kingdoms, may be one emulous and common Ardour to promote your Majesty's Glory, in essential Union with our common Felicity.

Capt. Ogle, of His Majesty's Ship Aquilon, gives an Account, in his Letter of the 18th Instant, That he had taken and carried into Cork the Sainte Terese, a French Privateer, of 10 Carriage Guns, and 75 Men: And also another Privateer of smaller Force, called the Royal Cantabre.

Admiralty Office, January 30.

Captain Angel, of His Majesty's Ship the Stag, gives an Account in his Letter of the 27th Instant, of his having taken and brought to Plymouth, a French Privateer Cutter, of 10 Guns and 70 Men, called le Comte de Valence, belonging to Boulogne. She had been out ten Days, and taken nothing but a small Sloop belonging to Falmouth, which was ransomed. The Hostage was retaken in her.

Admiralty Office, January 30.

Captain Elphinston, Commander of His Majesty's Ship the Richmond, of 32 Guns, and 220 Men, being on a Cruize upon the Coast of Flanders, received Intelligence the 23d Instant, of a French Frigate, which had the Day before taken and ransomed the Dorothy and Esther, William Benson, Master. Capt. Elphinston immediately went in quest of her, and fell in with her about Eleven o'Clock the same Night. She bore down upon the Richmond for a short Time after being in Sight; but then suddenly hauling her Wind, endeavoured to getaway. Capt. Elphinston pursued, and came up with her about Half past Ten o'Clock the next Morning, when they began to engage, standing towards the Land; and at Half past Twelve, both Ships ran ashore a Longside of each other, still continuing the Engagement for a short Time, when the Enemy fled from their Quarters. The Richmond soon afterwards got on Float, and being drove by the Tide a little to Leeward, the Enemy quitted their Ship, and escaped; but the Ship is entirely destroyed. The French Frigate was called the Felicité, and carried 32 Guns; was bound to Martinico, with a Cargo valued at 30,000 l. Sterling. Her Consort the Harmonie, another French Frigate, of the same Force and Value, was lost coming out of Dunkirk. Capt. Donell, Commander of the Felicité, was killed in the Engagement; and near 100 others of the Enemy were killed or wounded. The Richmond had only three Men killed, and 13 wounded.
