

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday February 7, to Tuesday February 10, 1761.

St. James's, February 10.

THE following Address of the Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen, and Clergy of the County of Suffolk, has been presented to His Majesty by Thomas Thorrowgood, Esq; Sheriff, and John Affleck and Rowland Holt, Esqrs. their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the Sheriff, Justices of the Peace, Gentlemen and Clergy of the County of Suffolk.

May it please your Majesty,

TO permit us to condole with our Fellow-Subjects on the sudden Loss of your Royal Grandfather, our late Illustrious Sovereign, whose Reign, as well by the Benefits of many peaceful Years, as the glorious Successes of the present War, will ever stand distinguished in the Annals of Great Britain.

So just a Subject of recent Grief awakening past Affliction, makes our Tears to stream afresh upon the Ashes of Frederick Prince of Wales; in whom we had fondly treasured up Consolation against the Day of that Calamity, which we now deplore. But it hath pleased the Great and Wise Disposer of all Events, to repair both these Losses, by ordaining you to succeed to the Imperial Throne of these Kingdoms. We therefore now congratulate your Majesty on your happy Accession, and ourselves on the Assurances of National Prosperity; Assurances warranted to us by the Sanctions of your Princely Character, your early Patronage of Virtue, and Discouragement of Immorality. These, the happy Prefages of a great and glorious Reign, cannot fail to derive innumerable Blessings on your Kingdoms, and make you rule in the Affections of an united and grateful People. We, for our Part, deeply sensible that every Thing dear to us depends on your auspicious Government, humbly offer your Majesty the Service of our Lives and Fortunes in the Support of it. May the Great God, by whom Kings reign, hear our Prayers, and accomplish our Wishes, by protecting you in this just and necessary War; by crowning your Victories with an honourable Peace; and by adding to your Majesty accumulated Honours, and Length of Days.

The following Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Freemen of the Corporation of Carrickfergus, having been transmitted to his Grace the Duke of Bedford, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Freemen of the ancient and loyal Corporation of Carrickfergus in the Kingdom of Ireland.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and faithful Subjects, the Mayor, Sheriffs, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Freemen of this ancient and loyal Corporation, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty upon your happy Accession to the Imperial Crown of these Kingdoms.

The long continued Prosperity, which we have enjoyed under the wise and good Government of your Majesty's most Illustrious Family, makes us not in the least doubt of the Continuance of every Blessing under your Majesty's most auspicious Conduct.

As this Place, for near six hundred Years, was the chief Strength, and almost the only Support of the English Interest, in the Northern Parts of this Kingdom; so it hath been eminently distinguished, and royally rewarded with many and great Privileges by most of your Majesty's Predecessors, which we most gratefully acknowledge, and are truly thankful for.

But not any Instance of Royal Bounty or Kingly Favour doth more deeply affect us, than the late gracious Act of Goodness and Condescension of your Majesty, in relieving the Distresses which we suffered by the French, when they landed last Year in this Kingdom.

Truly sensible of your Majesty's Favour and Munificence, we loudly proclaim our Acknowledgments of them, and shall ever shew ourselves most ready and willing to venture Liberty, Life, and every Thing that is dear to us, in Defence of your Person, and in Support of your Government, most unfeignedly wishing to your Majesty an happy and prosperous Reign of Plenty and Security to all your Subjects, and of Victory and Triumph over all your Enemies.

May it last, and may it shine.

Dated at Carrickfergus, Jan. 16, 1761.

The Address from the High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Principal Inhabitants, of the County of Brecon, inserted in last Saturday's Gazette, was presented to His Majesty by Thomas Morgan, Esq; Lieutenant, and Representative in Parliament, for the said County. And,

The Address from the Bailiff, Recorder, Aldermen, and Common Council, of the Town of Brecon, inserted in the said Gazette, was presented to His Majesty by Thomas Morgan, jun. Esq; their Representative in Parliament; and signed by John Hughes, Bailiff of the said Town.

Leicester