

St. James's, August 1.

The following Address of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens, of the City of Dublin, having been transmitted to his Excellency the Earl of Halifax, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens, of the City of Dublin, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

PERMIT your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons, and Citizens of the City of Dublin, to be Partakers of that Joy which fills your Royal Breast at this early Manifestation of the Bravery and Ardour of your Troops, so conspicuous in the Reduction of Belleisle; and, with all Humility, to congratulate your Majesty upon so happy and glorious an Occasion.

That Piety towards Almighty God, that Tenderness for your People, and Care of their just Rights, which formed those truly noble and wise Purposes of Government, so graciously declared by your Majesty to be yours, when you took upon you the mighty Charge, were so many sure Pledges to your Subjects that your Majesty's Reign would be Propitious. And that the Divine Providence would be ever present in your Councils, and go forth with your Fleets and Armies, to give Efficacy and Success to all Measures and Attempts by which such Purposes were to be executed.

From the continued Successes of your Majesty's Arms, labouring for Peace, and supported in the glorious Cause, by the united Efforts of a free, brave and generous People, do the Nations new look for their Redress, who with Sadness view their Territories laid waste by a destructive War. A War made necessary, on the Part of Great Britain, by the unjust Ambition of an Enemy, equally Foes to your Majesty's Government, and to the Repose of Europe. Whose unrelenting Obstinacy gives Continuance to those Calamities which their Injustice had occasioned. And who vainly persevere to oppose your Arms, and the general Good, when nothing but their Obstinacy is left to them unconquered.

May your Majesty long live the Terror of your Enemies, and the Kind Father and Protector of your People. By you, may other Princes be taught to reign in the Hearts of their Subjects, and to look for their own Honour, Strength and Glory, in the Freedom and Prosperity of those they are set to rule over. So that the Happiness we hope for and enjoy under your most auspicious Government, may, by your Example, be imparted to many, and extended wide. And that the Nations of the Earth may bless you.

In Testimony whereof, we have caused the Common Seal of the said City to be hereunto affixed, this Second Day of July, One thousand seven hundred and sixty one.

Petersbourg, June 30. On Wednesday last the Empress went to Peterhoff with all her Court. The Fleet sailed from Cronstadt, on Friday last, for Revel: It consisted of 14 Ships of the Line, besides a Frigate, 2 Bomb Ketches, and some Tenders; and it is to be joined at that Place by seven or eight more Ships.

The Imperial Ambassador, Count Esterhazy, is preparing for his Departure.

Warsaw, July 8. General Ziethen has entered Poland with a Body, as is said, of 24,000 Men. He was the 1st Instant at Krosnian. Marshal Butterlin, the Russian General, as soon as he heard of the March of the Prussians, assembled all his Army, and advanced towards Silesia, in order to prevent, by a Diversion, their penetrating farther into Poland. The Head Quarters of the Russians were the 2d Instant at Jarocyn.

Cologne, July 20. Orders have been sent to provide Hospitals here for a great Number of wounded Men, and others at Wesel and Dusseldorff.

Hague, July 24. By our Letters of the 22d Instant from Westphalia, we learn, that Prince Ferdinand's Head Quarters were the 20th still at Hohe-naver. Marshal Broglie had fallen back to Erweite, since his Defeat on the 16th, and sent a large Detachment to Paderborn. Marshal Soubise lay at Haarrang, with his Right to Soest.

There had passed several Skirmishes, in which the Allies had the Advantage. In one of them Prince Henry of Brunswick is said to have been wounded. Colonel Freytag had destroyed a great Convoy of Provisions between Cassel and Warbourg. Major General Luckner forced the Town of Neuhaus near Paderborn the 17th; but, upon the Approach of the above-mentioned large Detachment from the French Army, thought proper to abandon it. He had a very smart Action with the Enemy upon that Occasion, and took 150 Prisoners.

The Duke of Brunswick's Hussars had been upon an Expedition on the Werra, and destroyed two French Magazines at Wanfried, and Eschewege. They were afterwards united to Colonel Freytag's Corps, and set out upon some other Undertaking. The Magazine belonging to the Allies, at Hoxter upon the Weser, of which the Enemy had got Possession, had been retaken.

Admiralty-Office, July 30.

His Majesty has been pleased to appoint the Right Honourable George Lord Anson, Vice Admiral of Great Britain, and Lieutenant of the Admiralty thereof, to be Admiral and Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Fleet.

Schemberg House, July 26.

This Day his Excellency M. Boreel, Ambassador Extraordinary from the States General, had a Private Audience of his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland.

As had likewise M. Zuccato, Resident from Venice.

To which they were introduced by Stephen Cottrell, Esq; Assistant Master of the Ceremonies.

General Post Office, June 1761.
