Admiralty Office, August 14.

Extract of a Letter from Commodore Keppel to Mr. Cleveland, dated in Belleisle Road, the 28th of July, 1761.

I Yesterday received Letters from Sir Thomas Stanhope in Basque Road, Extract of which I here inclose you. The Enemy's second Attempt to remove the Ships attending the Demolition of the Works upon Aix, has been as ineffectual and disgraceful to them as their first was. The indefatigable Pains and skilful Manner in which Capt. Chaplen, of the Furnace Bomb, has directed the Destroying the Enemy's Fortifications and Works upon the Island, has been such, that it would be Injustice in me not to acquaint their Lordships of it. The Whole is now finished, or within a Day of being so, when it will be unnecessary to keep the Ships any longer so near the Island; and the Enemy may then, if they please, take a View of the Ruins.

Extract of a Letter from Sir Thomas Stanhope, to Commodore Keppel, dated in Basque Road, July 22, 1761.

YESTERDAY Morning, about Eight o' Clock, the six Prames that were in the Passe des Filles, attended by some Row-Gallies, and a great Number of Launches, crowded with Men, dropt down upon the first of the Ebb, and placed themselves between the Isle D'Enet and Fort Fouras, from whence they played on our Ships in Aix Road, with twelve Mortars, and upwards of seventy Pieces of heavy Cannon, till past Two o' Clock; when the Receipt on they had met with from His Majesty's Ships obliged them to retire with Disgrace to their former Station.

I herewith inclose you the Report of Captain Parker, of His Majesty's Ship Buckingham, who directed the Operations on this Service.

Extract of a Letter from Captain Parker, of His Majesty's Ship Buckingham, to Sir Thomas Stanhope, dated in Aix Road, July 22, 1761.

AT Seven o' Clock Yesterday Morning, the Enemy's six Prames, loosed their Topfails, and got under Way, attended by some Row-Gallies, and a Number of large Boats and Launches full of Men. They stood towards us with a Land-Wind; in a close line a-head; and from that Motion; and the Number of Men, I judged they intended to attack us with Resolution; but they soon hauled their Wind, and brought up in a regular Line upon the Shoals, about two Gun-Shots from us, and at a Quarter past Nine began to bombard. In less than Half an Hour they got the Distance cract, and we veered away, to be out of the Range of their Shells; but we found that when we veered, they weighed Anchor; dropped with the Tides, and still preserved their Distance: On which, all the Ships hove a-head, expecting that they had neared us so much as to bring them within Reach of our Cannon, and we imagined that several of our Shot struck them. At half an Hour after Eleven, our own Long-Boats, and those of the Ships in Basque Road, came to assist us; and the Ebb-Tide being almost spent, we prepared to warp nearer the Enemy: About the same Time the Actæon, Fly, and Blaft Sloop, joined us: The two latter I ordered to keep under Sail, and the former to range along the Prames, and to give them her Broad-side as she passed, in order to amuse them, and draw their Attention from the Boats employed in carrying out Warps, and from throwing Shells at the Line of Battle Ships, many of which fell as near as was possible without touching.

At half past Twelve the Actæon ran aground on the Tail of the Pall Bank: The Boats were immediately dispatched with Stream-Anchors and Hawfers to her Assistance, and about Two o'Clock she floated. This Accident prevented all the Ships from warping, except the Nassau, who was directed to cover the Actæon; and she laid out Warps, which obliged five of the Prames (the Tide of Flood now making) to retreat to their former Moorings, and the other to get under the Cannon on the South Point of Oleron. During the Bombardment, Captain Chaplen threw from the Furnace thirty-two Shells, which were extremely well directed. This Morning one of the five Prames dropped with the Flood above the Men of War in the River.

Before I conclude this Letter, I must beg Leave (in Justice to Captain Ourry) to acquaint you, that he executed my Orders with the greatest Bravery and Resolution, and shewed a Spirit and Address becoming the Character of a British Officer:

The Actæon had four Men killed, and one wounded, and a great Part of her Rigging cut. One of the Fore-Puttock-Shrouds, and the Mizzen-Top-sail Braces of the Buckingham, were shot away. One of the Enemy's Shells fell under the Nassau's Counter, lifted the Ship a little, drove in two Trunnels, and shook her whole Frame. Several Shells fell also very near the Monmouth and Buckingham. We are now certain of the Weight of Metal which the Prames carry, one of their Shot being on Board the Actæon, and weighs upwards of thirty-eight Pounds.

Admiralty-Office, August 15.

Captain Elphinton, of His Majesty's Ship Richmond, gives an Account, in his Letter dated in Yarmouth Roads the 6th Instant, That, during the Time he was on the Coast of Norway, he took a French Privateer called Le Faucheur, with six Carriage and eight Swivel Guns, and 40 Men, commanded by M. Artu, with one Ranfomer on board.

Berlin.

Berlin, August 2. General Laudohn having received a Reinforcement of five Regiments, entered Silesia by Wartha and Peterwaldau. Upon this, the King of Prussia's Army decamped from Pultzen the 21st of July, and marched to Sigroth. The Army continued its March the 22d towards Munsterberg, where General Brentano, with his Corps, had come to occupy a Camp for the Austrian Army. His Prussian Majesty ordered the Enemy's Cavalry to be attacked, who were immediately dislodged from the Camp, and from the Town of Munsterberg; and, on this Occasion, the Prussians made 150 Fouriers Prisoners. The Austrian Army encamped on the Heights of Lobedau, about half a German Mile distant from Patschkau. The 23d, the King of Prussia marched with his Army to Giesmanndorff, distant about Half a German Mile from Neisse. On the 28th, his Prussian Majesty's Head Quarter was still at Giesmanndorff. The Enemy continued encamped near Patschkau, the King of Prussia having, by the Celerity of his Marches, prevented them from joining the Russian Army, which had left, on the 25th, the Camp of Namslau, and was drawing more and more towards the Higher Silesia. General Knoblauch, who commands at present the Corps which opposes the Russians, is advanced as far as Ohlau; and General Ziethen, with his Corps, is posted at Mucheln. General Romanzow remains quiet in the Camp of Coelzin, waiting for the Arrival of the Fleet, which, on the 17th, was dispersed, and greatly damaged by a Storm. Letters of the 25th from Dantzick say, that the Fleet was not then got together; that a Transport, with 220 Men, had perished; and that several others had been driven ashore. On the 19th of July, the Swedes passed the Peene at Pribesee. Lieutenant Colonel Goltz, in retiring with the small Garrison at Demmin, lost an hundred Men at Malchin; and at Damgarten the Enemy made a Lieutenant and 20 Hussars Prisoners; but Colonel Belling, having joined Lieutenant Colonel Goltz at Malchin, attacked the Enemy on the 26th at Verchen, made thirty Prisoners, and killed a great Number of them, among whom are three Officers. Colonel Belling afterwards occupied the Post of Treptow, where he continues to make Head against the vast Superiority of the Enemy. Some Battalions of the Garrison of Stettin are marched to his Assistance. By Letters of the 27th of July from Schlettau, we are informed, that nothing remarkable had then happened in Saxony. On the 16th, General Lascy was encamped at Gros Dobritz, about a German Mile distant from Großen Hayn; his advanced Posts extended along the Banks of the Elbe as far as Strehlin. The Prussian Detachment of Light Troops, in the Neighbourhood of Torgau, has been reinforced; and, a few Days ago, they surprized one of the Enemy's Posts, consisting of one Officer and twelve Men of the Regiment of Lowenstein. The Army of the Empire, under the Command of General Serbelloni, have quitted the Camp at Reichenbach, and have occupied that of Kenneburg in the Country of Altenbourg. A detached Corps of that Army, under the Orders of Generals Nauendorff and Klefeld, had taken a Camp at Poenig; but upon the Approach of Colonel Kleist, who was detached the 25th, General Nauendorff retired in the Night with so much Precipitation, that Colonel Kleist made but one Officer and ten Men Prisoners. Marshal Daun has still his Head Quarter at Dresden; and his Army occupies the Camps of Plauen and Deppoldiswalda, except the Corps of General Lascy, at Gros Dobritz. Generals O'Donel and Sincere are returned with three Regiments to Dresden, from the Frontiers of Silesia.

Hambourg, August 7. Last Night we received the News, that the King of Prussia had, by his Motions, obliged General Butterlin, who was at Namslaw, to return back towards Wartenberg, upon the Confines of Poland. That his Majesty was yet at Geismandorff; and General Laudohn at Patschkow; and, from the King's Position, it would prove extremely difficult for the Russians to join the Austrians.

Stockem, August 8. Last Night we were alarmed, about Six o'Clock, by the Appearance of a small Body of Light Troops from the Allied Army; there were not Thirty Men. However, they surprized, attacked, beat, and dispersed the Austrian Guard of about Seventy Men, that were here to protect about Sixty-five Pontons, the greatest Part mounted on their Carriages, and ready to march. They burnt the Pontons, and a small Magazine belonging to the French, and then marched towards Lonnaken.

This Party, as the Soldiers said, was commanded by the Chevalier de Donceel, who is lately entered into the Service of the Allied Army.

Hague, August 11. Prince Ferdinand's Head Quarters were still at Buren on the 5th. The Prince of Soubize marched on the 4th to Herlohn and Menden, towards the Rhine. The Hereditary Prince had a smart Skirmish with his advanced Corps, on the 28th ult. in which Prince Frederick of Brunswick received a small Contusion in his Right Arm. Marshal Broglio, by our last Accounts, was encamped between Dribourg and Warbourg. General Luckner had attacked his Rear Guard at Lipsprink, and destroyed the Corps of Volontaires de Broglio. Count Lutace was employed in observing General Luckner at Blomberg. A Body of 16 or 18 Battalions, and as many Squadrons, under Lieutenant General de Steainville, had taken post between Vrecken and Heddinghausen; but Prince Ferdinand attacked him on the 5th, and, after an Action of three or four Hours, dislodged him from his advantageous Position, and obliged him to abandon the Pass of Stadtbergen. The French were fortifying Hoxter.

By the last Letters from Silesia, which are of the Beginning of this Month, the King of Prussia, upon the Russians turning towards Breslau, had made a Motion towards Neustadel, where he made General Ziethen join him. He afterwards left that General there, and marched himself to Opperndorff. General Laudohn was at Johannisberg; the Russian Grand Army in the same Position beyond the Oder; and General Czernichew at Bernstadt. In different Skirmishes which had happened, the Prussians had taken several Officers and Soldiers Prisoners.

DR. JAMES's Powder for FEVERS, and other Inflammatory Distempers; published by Virtue of His MAJESTY's ROYAL LETTERS PATENT, will remove (as has been experienced in many Thousand Cases) any continual acute Fever in a few Hours, though attended with Convulsions, Light-headedness, and the worst Symptoms: But if taken in the Beginning of a Fever, one Dose is generally sufficient to perform a Cure. *

It is likewise a most effectual Remedy for all internal Inflammation, Pleurifies, Quincies, acute Rheumatisms, and the Lowness of Spirits, and Uneasiness proceeding from slow and latent Fevers, which are generally mistaken for Vapours and Hysterics; it is extremely effectual in the Small-Pox, Measles, and St. Anthony's Fire; and a single Dose remarkably stops the Progress of a Cold, and certainly prevents the ill Consequences arising from that very common Disorder, the Source of almost all Distempers.

This Powder (which is a very safe and pleasant Medicine to take,) is sold by J. Newbery at the Bible and Sun in St. Paul's Church Yard, London; and by J. Hoey, jun. in Skinner Row, Dublin; at 2s. 6d. the two Doses, with good Allowance to those who buy it for charitable Uses, or to sell again.

* See a Dissertation on Fevers, and other Inflammatory Distempers, sold at the Places above-mentioned. Price 6d.
