

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday September 29, to Saturday October 3, 1761.

St. James's, September 29.

THE following Address of the Lord Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum, the Deputy Lieutenants, and Justices of the Peace of the County of Middlesex, and City and Liberty of Westminster in the said County, has been presented to His Majesty by his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, Lord Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of the said County: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lord Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum, the Deputy Lieutenants, and Justices of the Peace of the County of Middlesex, and City and Liberty of Westminster in the said County.

Most gracious Sovereign,

SHARING in that unfeigned Joy, which at present so sensibly affects the Hearts of all British Subjects! animated by that Duty and Affection we owe to your Sacred Majesty! and warmed by the most lively Sentiments of Gratitude! We your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, most respectfully approach your Throne, with the sincerest Offerings of Congratulation on your Majesty's Marriage with a Princess, adorned with Accomplishments which render Her worthy to be the Consort of the King of Great Britain; An Event enriched with every Prospect of Happiness, and prefiging every Advantage to our Country; as it gives us just Reason to hope that our latest Posterity will partake of the Blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's most auspicious Government.

Permit us therefore to pray, that from this illustrious Union, these Kingdoms may be blessed with a Race of Princes, inheriting the Virtues of their Royal Parents; who may deliver down, to the Extent of Time, the Religious and Civil Rights of a free and grateful People.

And we beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that nothing shall be wanting on our Part, to preserve that Peace, and good Order; and to promote that Piety, and Virtue, which for the Happiness of your People, and to your own Glory, have ever been the favourite Objects of your Ambition. And as National Happiness depends on National Piety and Virtue; We doubt not, but such distinguished Examples of both from the Throne, will spread their happy Influence to the remotest Parts of your Kingdoms.

The following Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common-Council, of the City of Exeter, has been presented to His Majesty by John Walters and John Tuckfield, Esqrs. their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common-Council, of the City of Exeter, in Chamber assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

GRACIOUSLY to permit your ever faithful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common-Council of your City of Exeter, joining in the universal Acclamations of your People, to express the Transports of their unfeigned Joy, and offer up, at your Throne, their most dutiful and most respectful Congratulations, on this most interesting Occasion of your auspicious Nuptials.

We beg Leave to add our most ardent Prayers to the Great Author of all Blessings, that your Majesty's Patriot Virtues, and unwearied Labours, in promoting the Welfare, and providing for the Security of these your Kingdoms, may be rewarded with the most entire Conjugal Felicity, and with every domestick Comfort: That your Majesty's superior Talents and amiable Qualities, together with the celebrated Virtues of your Royal Consort, may be transmitted down through a long Series of your illustrious Progeny, to be a continual and uninterrupted Source of National Happiness to the most distant Posterity.

Sealed in Chamber, with our Common Seal, this 26th Day of September, 1761.

The following Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Commonalty, of the City of Lincoln, has been presented to His Majesty by Coningsby Sibthorp, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Commonalty, of the City of Lincoln, in Common-Council assembled, filled with a due Sense of the many Blessings derived to us from your Majesty, embrace this Opportunity of joining with the general Acclamations on your Royal Nuptials, with a Princess distinguished by every Virtue and amiable Endowment, and, by this Means, the Welfare and Happiness of your People, rendered stable and permanent to Posterity.

Permit us, Sire, at the same Time, to congratulate you on your Coronation; that Compact with your Subjects, which, under the Divine Providence, will ever prove the best Security to your Majesty's Sacred Person, and the Succession in your illustrious House.

A Spirit of Harmony and Virtue, and a National Capacity felicitates this Island under your Auspices; in whose Reign, and for Ages to come, by a continued Exertion of that Spirit, the British Empire will hold the Balance of Power, and give Laws to Europe.

May you long live to enjoy in Conjugal Felicity, with a Progeny of Princes, a Kingdom and People cordially united in the Principles of Loyalty, Affection, and dutiful Attachment to your Royal Person and Government.

Given under our Common Seal at the Guildhall of the City of Lincoln aforesaid, the twenty-sixth Day of September, in the First Year of your Majesty's Reign,

The following Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens, of the City of Hereford, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Oxford, their High Steward, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens,