AT the Council Chamber Whitehall, the 7th Day of November, 1761,

The Lords of His Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council.

WHEREAS Information hath been given to the Lords of His Majesty's most Honourable Privy Council, that a great Number of Journeymen, in the Cabinet and Chair Branches, have lately entered into a Combination to lessen the Hours of their daily Work, and to raise the Price of their Piece Work; and that on Monday the 14th of September last, at Nine of the Clock in the Morning, the Journeymen, in several of the Shops of the principal Cabinet and Chair-makers in London and Westminster, came in Bodies to their respective Masters, and demanded the Lessening their daily Hours of Work, and Raising the Prices of their Piece Work; which being refused, they immediately quitted their Services. That the said Masters have, by all Means, endeavoured to prevail on the said Journeymen to return to their Business, and offered them Protection and Encouragement according to their Merit; notwithstanding which, they hold frequent Meetings at Publick Houses, and raise Subscriptions among themselves for supporting such Journeymen as are unemployed, and for carrying their Demands into Execution; which, if complied with, would increase the Prices of Work, and greatly affect not only the Foreign Trade of those Commodities, but also those that are provided for Home Consumption. — And whereas it hath been further represented, That the said Journeymen Cabinet and Chair-makers, so in Combination, deter and hinder others from working as usual, and threaten them with Death or Maiming, if they do not come into, and assist them in their Demands—In order to put a Stop to such unlawful Combinations and riotous Proceedings—It is hereby Ordered in Council, That all and every His Majesty's Justices of the Peace, Sheriffs, Under Sheriffs, and all other Civil Magistrates whatsoever, do cause the Laws against such Offenders to be immediately put into Execution, and use their utmost Endeavours to put an immediate Stop to such unlawful Meetings and Combinations; and that, in order to prevent the same, they do particularly enquire into the Behaviour of all Masters of Publick Houses, where the said Journeymen assemble and resort, in order to carry on their illegal Practices, to the End that such Prosecutions may be carried on against them, as may be thought just and reasonable, to prevent this great Evil: And their Lordships do hereby Command the respective Justices of the Peace, and other Magistrates, that they do, from Time to Time, transmit an exact Account of what they shall do, pursuant to this their Lordships Order, to one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

W. Blair.

St. James's, November 21.

The following Address of the Archbishop, Bishops and Clergy of the Province of Canterbury, in Convocation assembled, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of London.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Archbishop, Bishops and Clergy of the Province of Canterbury, in Convocation assembled, embrace, with the greatest Pleasure, this first Opportunity of congratulating your Majesty, in a Body, on your Accession to the Throne of your Royal Grandfather, whose Memory will ever be honoured by us; and on your auspicious Marriage to a Protestant Princess of illustrious Extraction, most amiable Accomplishments, and excellent Dispositions.

We return your Majesty our sincerest Thanks for your early Promise, that you will make it the Business of your Life, to preserve and strengthen the Constitution in Church and State. To the Whole of that Constitution we are zealously attached. And our Attachment comprehends the steadiest Fidelity to your Majesty, the deepest Reverence for the Laws of our Country, the tenderest Regard to the Rights of private Judgment, and the truest Value for rational Liberty, in Religious as well as in Civil Concerns.

Permit us also to express our most cordial Acknowledgments of your Majesty's Goodness, in publishing immediately a Proclamation for the Encouragement of Piety and Virtue, and for preventing and punishing Profaneness and Immorality. Your Majesty's constant good Example proves how seriously you have at Heart these inestimable Purposes; and this declared Resolution of discountenancing Wickedness in all Persons of whatsoever Degree or Quality, and distinguishing the Pious and Virtuous by Marks of your Royal Favour, must, as Occasions of acting upon it occur to your Majesty, contribute powerfully to produce that general Reformation in your Dominions, which is so greatly wanted.

For we humbly represent to your Majesty, as we are bound, that the Mildness of our Laws, and the Lenity used in the Execution of them, are Blessings which Licentiousness hath grievously abused; that Intemperance, Debauchery, and irreligious Discourse, abound; that the Worship of God is lamentably neglected; that the Lord's Day is openly disregarded and profaned; and that Books, Pamphlets, and Papers, are vended with Impunity, the plain Design of which, is to make the Gospel of Christ an Object of Scorn, and promote such impious Notions, and flagitious Behaviour, as tend to the Destruction of human Society.

These are Enormities, for which Conscience cannot be pleaded; and which the Wisdom of all States hath judged it necessary to restrain. We firmly trust, that your Majesty's Authority will be exerted, as far as it is requisite, against them; and likewise against the unwearied Endeavours, which the Emissaries of the Church of Rome, presuming on the Indulgence exercised, with a truly Christian Spirit, towards the Members of their Communion, most ungratefully employ, to infuse into the Minds of your Majesty's Subjects, Falsehoods, inconsistent with the fundamental Principles of British Government.

We solemnly assure your Majesty, that we will, each of us in our several Stations, attentively perform whatever is incumbent on us in relation to these Matters; that we will faithfully oppose every dangerous Error, diligently teach every needful Truth, and shew ourselves in all Things Patterns of good Works. We will also, whenever your Majesty shall think it a fit Season, be ready, with much Thankfulness, and Caution against giving Offence, to consider jointly of such Provisions, as may conduce to the better Direction of our Brethren of the Clergy, and the greater Edification of the Flocks committed to our Care.

In the mean Time, we heartily bless God for the many singular Advantages that we enjoy under your Majesty's fatherly Protection: And we earnestly pray Him to give such further Success to your Arms, as may secure a beneficial and lasting Peace; to grant you a long and prosperous Reign over a People striving to be worthy of it; and to crown you with all domestick, as well as publick Happiness in this World, and with eternal Felicity in the next.

They were received very graciously, and all had the Honour to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer.

I Thank you for this very dutiful and loyal Address: The affectionate Expressions which it contains, of your Regard towards the Queen, and your Zeal for the Support and Honour of My Government, are highly acceptable to Me. You may rely upon My constant Resolution to maintain the Excellent Constitution of the Church of England, as by Law established; to discourage Vice and Immorality; and to enforce, by every Method in My Power, all due Obedience to the Precepts of our most Holy Religion.

The following Address of the Magistrates and Council of the Borough of Queensferry in Scotland, has been presented to His Majesty by Francis Holburne, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

This early Accomplishment of the Wishes of your People, will ever be considered as a striking Instance of your constant Attention to their Prosperity, which has so visibly appeared during even the very short Period in which your Majesty has so happily reigned over us. And as the Example of those, who are placed in Stations of Eminence, must greatly influence the Minds of inferior Persons, we flatter ourselves with a Prospect most pleasing to every Well-Wisher to his Country, since it is easy to foresee, that the rising Generation will become better, from the Opportunity now offered to them, of imitating in your Majesty, so amiable a Pattern of every publick as well as private Virtue.

The amazing Success of your Arms Abroad; the Harmony and good Agreement of your Subjects at Home; able Ministers to advise, and valiant Forces to execute, have concurred in proclaiming your Majesty through the World, a Glorious King.

The Social Endearments of domestick Life were only wanting to make your Majesty's Happiness complete. That your Majesty, and your Royal Consort, may, for the Sake of your People, enjoy Length of Days here, and an Offspring arise from the happy Union to continue Blessings to Posterity, are our most earnest Prayers.

Your Majesty's good and wise Reign hath been so Providentially distinguished with such a Series of great and glorious Successes Abroad, and with so many Blessings at Home, that the only remaining Hopes and Wishes of your Kingdoms were, to see the Completion of this desirable Event and Union,

The following Address of the Chancellor, Rector, Principal, Dean of Faculty, and Professors of the University of Glasgow, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Hon the Lord Erroll, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Chancellor, Rector, Principal, Dean of Faculty and Professors of the University of Glasgow.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Chancellor, Rector, Principal, Dean of Faculty and Professors of the University of Glasgow, most humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on the late so much wished for Celebration of your Majesty's Marriage with the virtuous and accomplished Princess, whom your Majesty has chosen for your Royal Consort; an Event so interesting to your Majesty could not be indifferent to your faithful People. The Anxiety, which appeared in every Countenance, while the Queen was detained by contrary Winds, from Landing on the Coast of Great Britain; the general Joy, which broke out in the most hearty Acclamations, as soon as the News of Her Landing was spread over the Country; the eager Curiosity, which prevailed universally, to enquire concerning the personal Accomplishments, and Character of that Princess, on whom your Majesty's domestic Happiness was hereafter in a great Measure to depend; and the unfeigned Satisfaction, so generally and so warmly expressed upon receiving the desired Information; all serve to demonstrate how much your grateful, your now united, and at last happy People, interest themselves in whatever relates to your Majesty.

The Public Prosperity and Happiness must, no doubt, very much depend on what may be the Event of an Union, which is likely to give Birth to the future Sovereigns of Great Britain. But we can venture to affirm to your Majesty, that your faithful People, upon this Occasion, thought little of the Public Interest. They forgot themselves, and were anxious only for the domestic Happiness of their Sovereign. Or if they thought at all, of how much their own Interest might be concerned in this important Event, it was only, that they might have a fresh Reason for expressing their Gratitude and Affection to your Majesty, when they considered, that a Regard to the Tranquillity and Happiness of themselves and their Posterity, was the Motive which had principally directed your Majesty in forming this Alliance; and that while they were altogether occupied with your Majesty's Happiness, your Majesty was sollicitous only about theirs.

The following Address of the Mayor, Jurats and Commonalty of the ancient Town of Winchelsea, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Thomond and Thomas Orby Hunter, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

the ancient Town of Winchelsea, do humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on your Marriage; an Event which tends to promote the Happiness of your People equally with your own.

Your Majesty's Choice, proceeding from the Dictates of your own Wisdom and Prudence, has displayed a shining Example of Piety and Virtue in your Royal Consort, and cannot but Influence the Minds and Hearts of your People with the deepest Gratitude for your paternal Care of them, in the Security of the Protestant Religion.

May your Majesty, and your Royal Consort, our most gracious Queen, be blessed with a numerous Offspring; that a Succession of Princes in your Majesty's Royal House, may never be wanting to transmit to latest Posterity the Felicity we enjoy under your Majesty's auspicious Reign.

Given under our Common Seal the 3d Day of November, 1761.

The following Address of the Mayor and Burgeses of the Corporation of Lymington, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Hon. Lord Harry Powlett, Mayor of the said Corporation of Lymington: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

YOUR Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor and Burgeses of the ancient Corporation of Lymington, rejoice at every Occasion that offers, to express our Gratitude for the great Regard, and unbounded Love, that your Majesty hath ever shewn to us, and all our Fellow-Subjects, beg Leave, on the late, and important Event of your Royal Nuptials, to tender our most humble Congratulations, and to signify how agreeable this great Affair is to us; and how much we applaud your Majesty's Wisdom, in the prudent Choice you have made of a Protestant Princess of high Birth, and of the most exalted Merit, and personal Accomplishments, to be your Royal Consort.

From such an Union, what have not your faithful People to hope for? Happy are we in our present Enjoyments; but happier still, when we look forward, to behold the pleasing and comfortable Prospect of a Continuance to us and to our Posterity.

May an uninterrupted Series of Bliss, and Conjugal Felicity, ever subsist between your Majesty and our most gracious Queen. And may this Royal, and happy Marriage, be productive of a Race of Princes, to perpetuate the Succession of the British Crown to the latest Time, in your most illustrious Line, ever to be distinguished (as their Royal Ancestors were) for their eminent Virtues; Protectors and Defenders of the Protestant Religion, the Liberties, and Rights, of their Subjects, loved and adored by them, and be the Admiration of the Universe, is and ever shall be the constant Wish of us your dutiful and faithful Subjects.

Given at the Town-Hall at Lymington, under the Seal of said Borough, the 7th of November, 1761.

The following Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Town Clerk, Brethren, and Capital Burgeses of the Borough of Derby, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

gion and Rights have been so gloriously protected ; and that the Crown of these Realms may be ever adorned with Descendants from your Majesty and Royal Comfort ; and that they, in Emulation of your amiable and Royal Example, may prove an equal Blessing to their Subjects.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Nobility, Sheriff, Gentry, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Northampton.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, Sheriff, Gentry, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Northampton, beg Leave to tender to your Majesty our most humble and zealous Congratulations on your Majesty's Nuptials ; an Event, in every Respect auspicious ; promising to your Majesty, from the wise Choice which your Majesty has made, of an illustrious and accomplished Princess, to share the Crown of these Realms, every domestic Comfort to soften the Cares of Government, and every additional Happiness that can accrue to a great and good King, blessed with a peculiar Success to all His Measures, and reigning in the Hearts of a free, united, and affectionate Subjects ; and promising to your People, and their Posterity, a wished-for Stability to their Rights and Liberties, and to our excellent Constitution, under a Succession of Princes of your Majesty's Royal House.

Permit us, Sir, to add our cordial Wishes for a long and prosperous Reign to your Majesty and your Royal Consort ; for a Continuance of that Success, which has attended your Majesty's Arms in the just and necessary War in which we are engaged, and for a glorious End to that War, by a safe, honourable, and lasting Peace. So shall we, your Majesty's happy People, be the Envy of all Nations around us ; so shall we, and all our Fellow-Subjects, glory with our Sovereign in the Name of Britons.

While your Majesty has devoted your Youth, and sacrificed your Pleasures, to the Labours of Government, we rejoice to find, that in the only Instance in which you have provided for your private Happiness, you have consulted the most material Interest of your Subjects.

Your Majesty, having chosen a Princess of such distinguished Virtues and Qualities, has established you still more strongly in the Hearts of your People, we rejoice to behold the Royal Character in all its Fullness ; and we receive the best grounded Hopes, that as either Sex has now the Advantage of the most perfect Model in the most conspicuous Situation, that conjugal Fidelity and domestick Union, parental Tenderness and filial Piety, may again revive and flourish amongst us ; that whilst, in publick

Life, by your Majesty's Magnanimity and Wisdom, we are made great People in Commerce and War, in Science and in Laws, we shall, by the Influence of both your Majesties more retired Virtues, be made happy within our own Houses ; that rational Endearment shall take Place of unfocial Dissipation, and that every private Family shall form itself to Virtue and Happiness, by the Example of a Court.

In the very Opening of your Government, you have been congratulated on as many signal Triumphs, as would have given Lustre to the longest Reign : May we now approach your Majesty with Congratulations of a more unmixed Joy, and in which Humanity has nothing to suffer ; may this auspicious Union give Rise to many such Occasions, and may the Blessings which we now enjoy, be extended, by this happy Event, to the latest Posterity.

Elgin, Nov. 3, 1761.

Hague, Nov. 17. The News of the French having abandoned Eimbeck on the 5th Instant was premature: It was not till the 9th at Night, that Marshal Broglio, who had collected his whole Force, upon the Mountain called la Huve, retired from thence, and marched towards Moringen, upon the Route to Gottingen. We have since received the following particulars of the Motions of the Army, under the Command of his Serene Highness Prince Ferdinand, which have occasioned the Retreat of the French.

In the Beginning of November, whilst Prince Ferdinand had his Head Quarters at Ohr, upon the Left of the Weser, Marshal Broglio's Position, upon the Right of that River, was as follows. The Hartz was occupied by 2000 Men: Lieutenant General Stainville encamped at Seesen, with 16 Battalions: Prince Xavier of Saxony at Ganderheim, with 19 Battalions: Marshal Broglio, with 8 Battalions, at Eimbeck, which made the Center; and General Chabo, with 15 Battalions, at Escherhausen. The rest of the Infantry with the Cavalry cantoned in the Villages behind the Camps above specified. To secure at the same Time the Communication with Hesse and Franconia, General Rochambeau was left at Cassel, with 8 Battalions, and the Irish Brigade upon the Eder.

Prince Ferdinand determined to march, if possible, directly to Eimbeck, and to endeavour to prevent the French Army, so dispersed, from collecting in a Body; but that did not succeed, in the Manner that had been wished. The Disposition, made by his Serene Highness for that Purpose, was this. General Luckner was ordered to march, with his Detachment, joined by the Garrison of Wulsenbittel, on the 3d and 4th by Ringelheim and Lutter, so was to be opposite M. Stainville's Corps at Seesen on the 5th, and either to keep him in Check, or to follow him if he marched: The Hereditary Prince was directed to march on the 3d by his Right from Hildersheim, to cross the Leine at Coldingen, and to proceed the 4th to Ahlsfeldt, so as to be able to get Possession of the Huve and Eimbeck on the 5th: The Marquis of Granby was ordered to march the 3d to Coppenbrugge, the 4th to Dusen, and to force the same Day the Post of Cappelnhagen, and to be on the 5th at Wickenfen, so as to block the Defile, which leads from Escherhausen to Eimbeck. His Lordship, after a smart Action, forced the Enemy at Cappelnhagen, and found Means to be at the Hour appointed on the 5th at Wickenfen. These several Corps had been for some Time upon the Right of the Weser: Those upon the Left crossed the River in the following Manner. Prince Ferdinand on the 4th, with the main Body of the Army, which encamped between Pundern and Hasenbeck, Lieutenant General Conway being advanced the same Day to Borgel, and General Scheele to Bremke, who joined, at Halle the 5th in the Morning. The Intention of his Serene Highness was to cut off General Chabo's Corps, which lay at Escherhausen, and he pursued this March for that Purpose on the 5th. M. Chabo finding himself likely to be attacked, left Escherhausen, and marched towards Wickenfen; in order to get to Eimbeck, and join Marshal Broglio: Surprised to find a Body of Troops in his Way, which was that of the Marquis of Granby, he fell back upon the Road to Escherhausen, till he could turn to the Right towards Stad Oldendorp, the only Way left him to escape, and which, without an Accident, he would have likewise found blocked up, and his Retreat entirely cut off. Lieutenant General Hardenberg, who was to have passed the Weser at Bodenwerder on the 4th at Night, so as to have been on the 5th in the Morning at Amelunxborn, upon the Road to Escherhausen, was prevented by the Pontons overturning in a hollow Way, which delayed his Arrival at Bodenwerder, till the 5th, at Seven in the Morning; so that M. de Chabo had the great good Fortune to escape by Dassel to Eimbeck, where he arrived about Twelve o'Clock at Noon, and took Post upon the Huve. The Hereditary Prince was disappointed by this Accident likewise in his Project upon Eimbeck, for he arrived opposite the Huve at Two o'Clock, and was joined by the Marquis of Granby and Lieutenant General Conway at Four in the Afternoon. A warm Cannonading ensued till Night, but Marshal Broglio had had Time to collect so many Troops, that the Hereditary Prince did not think it advisable to attempt to force the Huve under that Change of Circumstances.

Prince Ferdinand encamped at Escherhausen the 5th at Night, where General Hardenberg joined him. The 6th passed in Skirmishes on all Sides with different Success. His Serene Highness on the 7th ordered the Marquis of Granby to march from Wentzen zen to Foorwohle, and the Hereditary Prince to Ammenfen. Marshal Broglio taking this Motion for a Retreat, pursued the Hereditary Prince, but without attempting to attack him. His Brother, Count Broglio, who followed Lord Granby, attacked him, just as he was beginning to encamp at Foorwohle, and drove in his Out Posts; but his Lordship had the Satisfaction, in the Presence of Prince Ferdinand, to repulse the Enemy, and to pursue them quite back to the Huve, with the greatest Spirit and Conduct.

It not being found practicable to attack the Enemy in their present Position on that Spot, Prince Ferdinand therefore resolved to attempt getting round their left Flank, and to put them under a Necessity of attacking him, or of abandoning Eimbeck, and all that Part of the Country. His Serene Highness, after having reconnoitred on all Sides, on the 7th and 8th, marched on the 9th, at Three in the Morning, to the Heights between Mackenfien and Lithorft; the Hereditary Prince to replace Lord Granby at Foorwohle; and General Luckner to occupy the Hereditary Prince's Camp at Ammenfen. The Marquis of Granby was again attacked that Morning upon his Left, before he could march to follow the Army; but his Lordship received the Enemy with the same Spirit as before, and repulsed them with a considerable Loss. Major Frazer distinguished himself greatly upon this Occasion.

Marshal Broglio finding, by his Detachments, which were driven off the Heights of Lithorft, that Prince Ferdinand had gained his Flank, and was partly in his Rear, having it in his Choice to risk an Action, or retire, chose the latter, and went off the 9th in the Night, quitting Eimbeck, and all the adjacent Country.

When Prince Ferdinand crossed the Weser, he sent General Bock with a Detachment to give the Enemy some Uneasiness in Hesse and Waldeck; but we have not yet received any Account of his Operation.

During these important Motions upon the Weser and Leine, the Army under the Prince of Soubise has been employed in taking up its Winter Quarters.

The French have demanded from the Country of Eischfeld and Hohenstein, 400 Cows; 180 had been already delivered to them. The Motive for the Demand is, that the Mice eat up their Magazines.

British Camp at Worwölde, Nov. 8. Since the 3d of this Month we have been constantly under Arms. Our first Operation was the dislodging of the French Corps encamped at Eschershausen, when we were assigned to take them in the Rear, whilst other Corps were to fall upon them in the Flank, and Front. We drove in their advanced Posts, but they would not wait an Attack. We then were ordered to march on towards Eimbeck. When we got to the Neighbourhood of that Place, we found the Hereditary Prince engaged in a Cannonade with the Enemy's Army; but their strong Position made it impossible for his Serene Highness to make any Impression. We remained there that Night, and the next Day; after which we were ordered to march to this Place, which we did in the Night, through a heavy Fall of Snow, and almost impassable Roads. Our Tents were but just pitched, and the Camp formed, when we had a Report from our Out-Posts, that the Enemy was coming down upon us with a strong Body: Our Troops thereupon instantly formed, and advanced, attacked the French with the greatest Spirit, and drove them back, almost to their very Camp; and we had the good Fortune to have our General in Chief, Prince Ferdinand, a Spectator of what passed. Our Corps consisted of the British Grenadiers, and Highlanders, Lord Frederick Cavendish's, Lieutenant General Scheele's, and Major General Pincier's Brigades, Infantry. Colonel Harvey's Brigade, that of Dragoon Guards, commanded (in Major General Douglas's Absence,) by Lieutenant Colonel Johnson of Conway's, and Elliot's Regiment, Cavalry. Scheele's, Cavendish's, and Johnson's Brigades, were under the Command of Lieutenant General Conway. After the extraordinary Fatigue, which the Troops had undergone, their very gallant Behaviour did them the highest Honour and cannot be sufficiently commended. A Body of Chasseurs, who were placed in an advanced Post, under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Maxwell, were first attacked, and retired very properly, the Enemy being greatly superior; but finding themselves supported, they returned to the Charge, and maintained it with the greatest Vigour and good Conduct.
