Naples, July 30.

THE 24 instant, appeared in our Bay, and in sight of this City, 20 French Men of War, and as many Gallies, and the next day took a Genouise laden with Corn; till the 27, they continued plying in the Bay, and the general apprehension was, they would have attempted to burn the 16 Spanish Men of War that are here, who were therefore haled close under the Castles; and the Prince of Montefarchio, Admiral of the Fleet, accompanied with several of the Nobility, was himself on board the Ship that always bears the Admiral: but the 28, the Enemy stood off to Sea again, and hapned to meet with several Barks laden with Corn, coming in hither, which they took. From Messina they write, That the Spanish Gallies had taken a French Man of War of 20 Guns, on the Coast of Galabria. We are now assured, that the Spanish Men of War will sail in three or four days at farthest, the Seamen having orders to repair on board within two days, on pain of death.

Vienna, Aug. 8. We are told of a considerable Sum of Money that is preparing here, to be sent to General Montecuculi, for the use of the Army. The States of Bohemia have made his Imperial Majesty a Present of 100 000 Florins. From Po'and our Letters tell us of the small appearance there seems to be of a Peace, unless the Poles will submit to the terms proposed by the Cham of Tartary on the part of the Grand Signior, viz. That the Poles shall for ever quit their pretensions to Caminiec, and the whole Ukraine; which hitherto the King appears resolved not to do.

Hamburg, Aug. 16. The Elector of Brandenburgh continues with his Army at Swan, having sent for his heavy Cannon from Magdeburg, which have hitherto remained there. From Copenhagen they write, That the King would begin his journey to the Army the 20 instant, having put his Fleet, which together with ten Dutch Men of War consists of 32, in a posture to sail. The Danish Forces in these parts have in the mean time enlarged their quarters, which some of them have taken in the Villages belonging to and near this City. The 11 instant, 2000 Brandenburgh Horse came very near to Wisnar, and notwithstanding the Town fired upon them, took some Cattle away from under the walls.

Strasburgh, Aug. 9. The 7 and 8 instant, the Imperial Army passed the Rhine over our Bridge, and encamped in the Riperschaw; and General Montecuculi caused three Bridges to be laid over the little River Preusch, with intention to pass it, and so enter into the Lower Alsatia, and attack Hagenaw, where the French have a great Magazine. This morning the Troops of the Circles have likewise passed the Rhine, and are joined with the Imperialists, who, we hear, are passing the Preusch. The French Army is at present encamped at Blobsheim, about a League and half from hence. The Major-General Kilmanseck coming from Bon, was some days since taken by the French, he not knowing of their being come on this side the Rhine. The French have great Magazines at Saverne and Hagenaw, and in the latter is a Garison of 2000 Men.

Ditto, August 12. The ninth instant, the Imperial Army decamped from Rupershaw, passed the River Preusch, and joined the Troops of the Circles, commanded by the Duke of Saxen-Lawenburgh, at Bischenheim, being about 4500 Men. It was believed that Gen. Montecuculi would have marched directly to Hagenaw, and have besieged it, but he on the sudden changed his march, and took it directly towards the Enemy, with intention to put himself between them and the succors they expected from Saverne, and to cut off all communication between them, the said City of Saverne, Hagenaw, and Strasburgh; and accordingly, on the 10 instant, General Montecuculi took his Head-quarter at Wolfsheim, his Army stretching from thence to Eckoltzheim, not being above a League from the Enemy, so that we may expect to hear of some farther Action between the two Armies. We are told that the Governor of Saverne, has caused the Suburb of that City to be burnt down, in order to the better defence of the place, in case of an attack.

Cologne, Aug. 16. We have Letters here dated the 11 instant, from the Imperial Camp, which said, that the Army lay then encamped along the River Preusch from Schafoltzheim to Eckoltzheim between the French and their Towns of Saverne and Hagenaw; That the French were encamped at Bolsenheim, between the Rhine and the River Ill, where they fortified themselves. General Montecuculi had once thought, as is said, to attack Hagenaw, but that resolution was altered, it being judged better to advance directly towards the French, and either oblige them to a Battel, or else to retreat out of Alsatia, before the arrival of the Prince of Conde, and the recruits that come with him. And since we have Letters of the 12 instant from Strasburgh, which say, That upon the march of the Imperialists, the French had passed the River Ill, and were advanced to Geysspitzen, and Glockelsberg, to meet them; so that it was expected at Strasburgh, there would within few days be another Engagement between the two Armies. The French Army, at the coming away of these Letters, was commanded by the Duke de Duras.

Mons in Haynault, Aug. 13. Two thousand Horse, who Convoyed the Prince of Conde on his way towards Alsatia, are returned, and have rejoined the Army commanded by the Marechal de Montmorency, which continues near Aeth.

Luxemburgh, Aug. 15. We have certain advica, That the Marechal de Crequi seeing his Army totally routed, and out of a posture to rallie again, had taken his way towards Treves; for that he heard the Governor there, the Count de Vignory, had been a day or two before killed by a fall, and accordingly got into the place; the Besieged, in the absence of the Confederates, (when drawn off in order to their fighting Crequi;) made a Sally upon those Troops which remained before the place in a certain Retrenchment with the Confederates Baggage;
