Westminster, January 19.

THIS Day His Majesty came to the House of Peers, and being in His Royal Robes seated on the Throne with the usual Solemnity, Sir Septimus Robinson, Knt. Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a Message from His Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their Attendance in the House of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, His Majesty was pleased to make the following most gracious Speech.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

IHAVE so often assured you of My sincere Disposition, to put an End to the Calamities of War, and to restore the Publick Tranquillity, on solid and lasting Foundations, that no impartial Person either at Home, or Abroad, can suspect Me of unnecessarily kindling a new War in Europe. But, it is with Concern, I acquaint you, that, since your Recess, I have found Myself indispensably obliged to declare War against Spain. The Causes are set forth in my Publick Declaration on this Occasion; And therefore I shall not detain you with the Repetition of them. My own Conduct, since My Accession to the Throne, as well as that of the late King, My Royal Grandfather, towards Spain, has been so full of Good-will, and Friendship; So averse to the laying hold of several just Grounds of Complaint, which might have been alledged; And so attentive to the Advantages of the Catholick King, and his Family; That it was Matter of the greatest Surprize to Me, to find, that Engagements had, in this Conjunction, been entered into between that Crown, and France; and a Treaty made, to unite all the Branches of the House of Bourbon, in the most ambitious, and dangerous Designs against the Commerce, and Independency, of the rest of Europe; and particularly of My Kingdoms.

Whatever Colours may be endeavoured to be put upon these Injurious Proceedings of the Court of Madrid, I have nothing to reproach Myself with: And, though I have left nothing untried, that could have prevented this Rapture, I have thought it necessary to prepare against every Event. I therefore rely on the Divine Blessing on the Justice of My Cause; The zealous, and powerful, Assistance of My faithful Subjects; And the Concurrence of My Allies, who must find themselves involved in the pernicious, and extensive, Projects of My Enemies.

I leave these Considerations with you, full of the justest Confidence, That the Honor of My Crown, and the Interests of My Kingdoms, are safe in your Hands.

[ Price Three Pence. ]

AT the Court at St. James's, the 14th Day of December, 1761.

The KING's most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS His Majesty was graciously pleased by His Royal Proclamation bearing Date the Twenty Second Day of July last, to promise and declare, (amongst other Things) That the Bounties of Five Pounds for every able Seaman, and of Thirty Shillings for every ordinary Seaman, should be paid to every such able and ordinary Seaman, not above the Age of Fifty, nor under the Age of Twenty Years, who should, on or before the Twelfth Day of September last, enter themselves to serve in His Majesty's Royal Navy, either with the Captains or Lieutenants of His Majesty's Ships, or the Chief Officers on Board such Tenders as should be employed for raising Men for the Service of the Royal Navy. And that a Bounty of Thirty Shillings should be paid to every able bodied Landman not above the Age of Thirty Five, nor under the Age of Twenty Years, who should, on or before the said Twelfth Day of September, in like Manner voluntarily enter themselves to serve in His Majesty's Royal Navy; and that a Reward of Two Pounds for every able, and Thirty Shillings for every ordinary Seaman, should be paid to any Person who should discover any Seaman or Seamen who should secret themselves, so that such Seaman or Seamen should be taken for His Majesty's said Service. And whereas the Time limited for paying the said Bounties and Rewards hath been extended to the Twelfth Day of this Instant December; And it being judged expedient for His Majesty's Service, that the same should be continued for some longer Time; His Majesty, with the Advice of His Privy Council, doth therefore order, and it is hereby accordingly ordered, that the Time limited for Payment of the said Bounties and Rewards, be prolonged and extended from the said Twelfth Day of this Instant December, to the Thirty First Day of January next inclusive. Whereof all Persons concerned are to take Notice, and govern themselves accordingly.

St. James's, January 19.

The following Address of the Sheriff, Nobility, Gentlemen and Clergy of the County Palatine of Lancaster, has been presented to His Majesty by Sir Ellis Cunliffe, Bart. one of the Representatives in Parliament for the Borough of Liverpoole, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Sheriff, the Nobility, Gentlemen and Clergy of the County Palatine of Lancaster.

CONDESCEND, most gracious Sovereign, to accept our dutiful and sincere Congratulations on the happy and auspicious Event of your Majesty's Marriage; riage; an Event, which, we trust in God, will render your Majesty the happiest of the Kings of this World, and be productive of a long Series of Blessings to your People. We acknowledge your Majesty's Wisdom in chusing, for the Partner of your Throne, a Princess descended from Illustrious Progenitors, equally distinguished for their steady Adherence to the Principles of Reformed Religion, and their firm Attachment to your Majesty's Royal House. Permit us therefore to applaud and felicitate your Choice of such a Princess, more distinguished by virtuous Accomplishments than any other Considerations, and for whose personal Merit nothing upon Earth, but the Possession of your Majesty's Royal Heart, can be a suitable Compensation.

Great Sir, victorious, as you are, in a War, undertook and carried on in Behalf of the Rights of your Majesty's faithful Subjects, may you still continue to be victorious, till your Enemies accept of such a Peace, as may establish the Honour of your Crown, the Welfare of your People, and lasting Tranquillity amongst the neighbouring Nations; and may your Majesty long live and flourish in the Enjoyment of all true Glory; blessing your People and blessed by them; universally admired; happy in your own, and in the Virtues of your Royal Consort; and more and more happy in seeing a numerous Offspring, possessed of all the amiable and valuable Qualities of their Royal Parents, to deliver down your Memory to future Generations, and to perpetuate (so long as this World will admit Perpetuity) the Commerce, the Prosperity, the Civil and Religious Liberty of Britons.

The following Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Carnarvon, has been presented to His Majesty by Sir John Wynne, Bart. Representative in Parliament for the Borough of Carnarvon, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Carnarvon.

PERMIT us, most gracious Sovereign, to approach your Royal Presence, and with Hearts animated with Joy, to offer our most humble and sincere Congratulations, upon the late glorious and happy Events, for the Prosperity of these your Kingdoms.

Your Majesty's Royal Nuptials, and Coronation, are Events that complete the Blessings we enjoy under an auspicious Reign, and are convincing Proofs of your Majesty's great Wisdom, by having fixed your Choice on a Princess endowed and accomplished with every Virtue, every amiable Quality, that can contribute to your Majesty's Felicity, and the Honour and Prosperity of Great Britain; from which we may flatter ourselves, succeeding Generations will hereafter be blessed with a Race of such Princes, as those, under whose Reigns we have for some Years, and at this Time, find our Liberties, our Religion, and every Branch of our Constitution defended with the greatest Glory, and protected in the most Sacred Manner.

May your Majesty's Felicity remain ever undisturbed; may your happy Reign continue long and glorious, exceeding in Happiness (if possible) the most sanguine Wishes of your grateful and affectionate Subjects.

Leicester House, January 19.

The following Address of the Merchants and Principal Inhabitants of the Port of Whitehaven, has been presented to her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales by Sir James Lowther, Bart.:

Which Address her Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously.

To her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales,

The humble Address of the Merchants and principal Inhabitants of the Port of Whitehaven.

May it please your Royal Highness,

AS your Royal Highness hath given the noblest Proof of your Zeal for the Happiness of your Son, our most gracious Sovereign, by your Maternal Care in seasoning His youthful Mind with those Princely Virtues, which now make Him the Darling of His People, and give Him the brightest Figure among the Princes of Christendom; so we doubt not but it will give your Royal Highness the highest Satisfaction, to find His Majesty paying the greatest Regard to those noble Principles imbibed in His Youth, in the Choice of a Consort of His Royal Dignity, adorned with every Virtue that can give Lustre to a Crown, or add to the Happiness of domestic Life.

From this important Event, we build the surest Prefages of His Majesty's increasing Happiness, and of the Happiness of the Nation, in being governed by a Race of virtuous Princes, descended from this auspicious Marriage, to the remotest Periods of Time. On which glorious Prospect, which cannot but diffuse a Joy and Complacency through the Mind of every British Subject, we heartily congratulate your Royal Highness.

The following Address of the Noblemen, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Linlithgow, has been presented to her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales by the Hon. Charles Hope-Weir, Esq; their Representative in Parliament: Which Address her Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously.

To her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales.

THE Noblemen, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Linlithgow, beg Leave to congratulate your Royal Highness upon the most auspicious Event of His Majesty's Nuptials.

May Heaven bestow every Blessing of the Marriage State upon the Royal Pair; and long may your Royal Highness enjoy the Satisfaction of beholding that domestick Happiness.

By Appointment of the Meeting at Linlithgow, the 8th of December, 1761.

Ch. Hope-Weir.

The following Address of the Freeholders and Heritors of the Shire of Haddington, has been presented to her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales by Andrew Fletcher, jun. Esq; their Representative in Parliament: Which Address her Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously.

To her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales,

The humble Address of the Freeholders and Heritors of the Shire of Haddington.

MAY it please your Royal Highness, to accept the sincere Congratulations of the Freeholders and Heritors of the Shire of Haddington, upon the joyful Event of His Majesty's Royal Nuptials with a Protestant Princess, endued with every amiable Virtue.

May your Royal Highness long live to enjoy the happy Fruits of your Maternal Care, which has given such universal Satisfaction to the whole Nation, and is so conspicuous in the shining Virtues of our most beloved Sovereign.

His Majesty's early Compliance with the Wishes of His People has raised and elevated their Prospect of Felicity, while they behold a Queen, who will emulate your great Example.

Signed by Appointment of the Meeting, the 23d of November, 1761.

James Hamilton, Præses.

The following Address of the Provost, Baillies, and Counsellors of the Town of Hadingtoun, has been presented to her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales by Sir Hew Dalrymple, Bart. her Representative in Parliament: Which Address her Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously.

To her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales.

May it please your Royal Highness,

TO permit us, the Provost, Baillies, and Counsellors of the Town of Hadingtoun, in Common Council assembled, to congratulate your Royal Highness on the happy Celebration of His Majesty's Nuptials with an amiable and illustrious Princess.

May your Royal Highness live to see a Race of Princes descended from their Majesties, and formed upon their great Example, who shall reward their pious Care, in their Education, with the same Ground of Parental Joy which the King hath afforded yourself.

Signed in their Presence and by their Appointment, by Hadingtoun, Dec. 3, 1761.

Ja. Lundie, Provost.

Magdebourg, Jan. 5. We hear Prince Henry has moved his Quarters from Barnitz to Hoff, near Ochatz; and that every thing continues quiet in Saxony.
