GOD Save the KING.

Naples, January 26. His Excellency Mr. Grenville, Ambassador from His Britannick Majesty to the Ottoman Porte, with his Lady and Family, embarked Yesterday in the Afternoon on Board His said Majesty's Ship the Dunkirk, Capt. Digby, for Constantinople.

Florence, Feb. 6. At the Request of the King of Spain, the Pope has lately granted a Licence to the Subjects of that Kingdom to eat Meat four Days in the Week in the ensuing Lent; which became necessary, after the strict Prohibition contained in the Declaration of War of that Court, to introduce Salt Fish into any Port of that Kingdom.

Copenhagen, Feb. 13. Orders are given out here for raising a new Regiment of Hussars of Six Squadrons, of 120 Men each; the Command of which is given to Count Moltke, the Grand Marshal's Second Son.

Hamburg, Feb. 16. We are pretty certainly informed here, that notwithstanding there is as yet no Agreement signed for a Cessation of Arms between the Prussians and Russians, that Orders have, however, been sent, on the Part of both Courts, to cease committing of Hostilities in Pomerania; and that all the Russian Prisoners of War, which were in the Hands of the Prussians, are actually on their March towards Stargard: Nor is there any Exchange to be made, the Russians having promised to set likewise at Liberty all the Prussian Prisoners, which greatly exceed those of the Russians; the latter amounting, in Number, but to between Three and Four Thousand Men, and those of the Prussians to near Eight Thousand.

Hamburg, Feb. 19. We learn, that his Prussian Majesty has ordered all the Recruits, which have been raised in the Principality of Zerbst, to be sent back; and likewise, that his Majesty has returned the Contributions which have been made in that Country: The Inhabitants, however, continue to furnish Forage, &c. upon Payment of ready Money for the same.

The King of Prussia having conferred upon his Aid de Camp, M. de Goltze, the Rank of Colonel, and made him one of his Chamberlains, that Gentleman set out the 10th Instant from Breslaw for Petersburg, Petersbourg, in order to make the proper Compliments of Condolence, on the Part of his Prussian Majesty, upon the Demise of the Empress, as well as of Felicitation upon the Grand Duke's Accession to the Throne of Russia.

Cologn, Feb. 17. This Day the Director General of the Hospitals at Frankfort, was brought hither in Irons, under a Guard, and lodged in the Prison of St. Gereon, being accused of having robbed the French King of a great Sum.

Liege, Feb. 20. The great Quantity of Flour, that has been laid up in the Magazines here, for the Use of the French Army on the Lower Rhine, is soon to be transported from hence to Urmund by Water; and from Urmund to Juliers by Land. The French allow only Thirty Sols a Sack for transporting the Flour to Juliers, whereas it costs the States Seventy Sols a Sack; so the States are obliged to lose Forty Sols by every Sack the French please to send to their Army, which will finish the Ruin of the State, as we have already suffered above Eight Millions of Florins, by the Forage we have been obliged to furnish; by the Passage of their Troops, &c.

Hague, Feb. 26. We hear from Paris, that Marshal Broglie, and his Brother the Count, have been banished to their Estates in the Country; and that the former is deprived, at the same Time, of his Command in Alsace; and the latter of the Government of Cassel. It was not yet certain, to whom the Command of the French Forces in Germany would be given.
