

Lord Frederick Campbell, Representative in Parliament for Rothefay, Inverary, &c. being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Magistrates and Common-Council of the City of Glasgow.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE the Provost, Baillies, and City Council of Glasgow, in Common-Council assembled, humbly beg Leave, in Behalf of this your faithful and loyal Corporation, to approach your Majesty's Throne, and with the most unfeigned Joy, to congratulate the auspicious Birth of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and the happy Recovery of your most Amiable and August Consort the Queen.

Permit us, at the same Time, with most grateful Acknowledgments to the Supreme Being, to felicitate your Majesty on the late most signal Success of your Arms in the Conquest and Reduction of the Havannah and its Dependencies: An Event, which will render a Reign, already greatly illustrious, memorable to all future Ages. May your Majesty's domestick Joys and Felicity be permanent, and increase with your Years: May his Royal Highness long be preserved to inherit and emulate the Virtues of his illustrious Progenitors; and late, very late, may he fill the Throne of Britain, and reign over a free, loyal, happy, and united People.

May Heaven continue to direct your Majesty's Councils, and to animate your Fleets and Armies; and may the unparalleled Successes with which it has pleased God to bless your Majesty's Arms during this just and necessary War, terminate in an equitable, glorious, and lasting Peace.

Signed in Presence, and by Appointment,
Glasgow, Oct. 21, 1762. Arch. Ingram, Provost.

The following Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgeses, and principal Inhabitants of the Borough of St. Albans, having been transmitted by James West, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, to the Earl of Egremont, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgeses, and principal Inhabitants of your ancient Borough of St. Albans, beg Leave to offer to your Majesty our most sincere Congratulations on the Birth of a Prince, and on the Safety and Recovery of the Queen.

Sensible, as we are, of the Blessings, which the Accession of your Majesty's illustrious House to the Throne, has secured to these Kingdoms; and of the Happiness we enjoy under your Majesty's auspicious Reign, we must feel the highest Satisfaction on an Event, which promises us all that was wanting to complete our Happiness, the Continuance of it to our Posterity, under a Race of Princes descended from your Majesty.

May the Virtues, that adorn your Majesty, descend with your Crown, to all our future Sovereigns, and insure the Liberties, the Religion, and the Laws of your happy People, to the most distant Generations.

The following Address of the Steward, Bayliff, and principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Cirencester, has been presented to His Majesty by James Richard, Esq; one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Steward, Bayliff, and principal Inhabitants of the ancient Borough of Cirencester.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE humbly beg Permission to assure your Majesty, that, as none of your Subjects are more dutiful and loyal, none can be more rejoiced than we are at those important Events, the Birth of the Prince, and the perfect Recovery of the Queen. The Prosperity of our Sovereign being inseparably connected with that of his People, every Instance of it, whether publick or private, must be the Joy of Millions. Ardent beyond Expression is our Prayer, that the Life of the Prince may be long and happy; and most pleasing is our Prospect, that he will be trained up to every Accomplishment, and every Virtue that can render him a distinguished Ornament and Blessing to these Nations.

Allow us to congratulate your Majesty not only on your Felicity in the tranquil Scenes of domestick Life, but on the military Glories of your Reign. The expeditious Recovery of Newfoundland ought not to be forgotten in your Royal Presence; much less the amazing Reduction of the Havannah, with its Fleet and immense Treasure.

The Wisdom, of your Majesty's Councils in planning the last mentioned Enterprize; the Conduct, the Unanimity, the Gallantry of your Officers by Sea and Land, with the invincible Spirit and Perseverance of your Forces, in carrying it into Execution, are beyond all Praise.

It hath long been familiar to France to be humbled by British Valour. The Temerity of Spain is now severely chastised, and that Nation ought to be convinced, that the British Lyon is not to be provoked with Impunity.

We pretend not to be Masters of a political Balance, in which to weigh the Advantages that may be expected in a Treaty, against the Expences and Acquisitions of Conquest: But we please ourselves with the Hope, that the Ends of a just War will be fully secured; and a Peace established, that shall be equitable as well as glorious, in order to be safe and lasting.

The following Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Cardigan, has been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and devoted Subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Cardigan, approach your Throne with joyful Hearts, and with the deepest Sense of Gratitude to that merciful Providence, which has blessed your Royal Bed with an Heir apparent to these your Dominions.

May the same Providence permit, that he may live and be happy; That the Seeds of a virtuous and useful Education, sown by the Care of his Royal Parents, may ripen into a glorious Harvest; That he may form his Morals by the Standard of their Perfections, and his Mind by the Example of their Wisdom; That at the fatal Hour, when his Royal Father must pay the Debt of Nature, in Favour both with God and Man, he may catch the falling Sceptre, and ascending the Throne of his Ancestors, perpetuate that System of Rule, the End of which may be justly termed, the Happiness of Mankind.

The