St. James's, February 5.

The following Address of the Lord Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum, Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Westmorland, having been transmitted by Sir James Lowther, Bart. Lieutenant of the said County, to the Earl of Halifax, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

Most gracious Sovereign,

PERMIT us, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum, Justices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of your County of Westmorland, assembled at the General Sessions of the Peace held at Appleby on the Tenth, and by Adjournment at Kirkby Kendal on the Fourteenth Day of January, 1763, to offer to your Majesty our most humble and sincerest Congratulations on the Return of Peace.

Infligated by Humanity, we rejoice at the Period put to the Calamities of War; but, as Lovers of our Country, how much more ardent is our Joy, when we find, that your Majesty's wife Councils have improved your glorious Successes to secure to your Subjects more solid Advantages, arising from a Peace as honourable to the British Nation, as the Events of War have been prosperous, and from extended Empire inexhaustible in Sources for augmenting Commerce.

When we consider our Enemies, divested of their Possessions in every Quarter of the Globe, by repeated Victories which have raised these Kingdoms to the Summit of Glory, acknowledging our Superiority, and relinquishing, by the Terms of Peace, every Claim that gave Rise to the late War; strips of their extensive Possessions on the Continent of North America, and our Settlements there so effectually secured from Encroachments and Disturbances by an incontestible Boundary, as to be enabled to open to their Mother Country unbounded Resources of Wealth; our Fisheries so greatly extended, and those of France restrained, that, by increasing our Commerce, they must add to our Naval Power, our surest Bulwark; our Possessions in the West Indies increased by so many new and valuable Acquisitions, without prejudicing our former Settlements there; our Territories in the East Indies so greatly extended, and strongly established, with such Restrictions on the Settlements of our Enemies, as must for ever preserve to us a Superiority; the Acquisition of the Gum Coast in Africa, and the Establishment of our Trade in the Bay of Honduras, so very important to the Manufactures and Commerce of this Nation; our Satisfaction arises to the highest Pitch of Gratitude to your Majesty, for your Wisdom and Goodness in securing these great and valuable Advantages to your People, so much beyond what, in former Negotiations, have been thought attainable, while you had additional Difficulties to surmount from an unprovoked War with Spain, and the pernicious and avowed destructive Union of the House of Bourbon: A War, which is no less the Admiration of the present Age, than it must be the Wonder of Posterity, from the vigorous and effectual Prosecution of it in those Parts where our Enemies
